Plutonium Is Evil In Pandora's Box

By Mike Finley
University of Minnesota Writer

"You say you're missing something?" the trucking firm dispatcher asks on the phone. "Plutonium-239? Don't worry, it must be around here somewhere. Sometimes things get misplaced. Isn't that some kind of roofing compound or something?"

Plutonium-239 is not a roofing compound, contrary to what the dispatcher in the dramatization thinks. Plutonium is one of the most dangerous substances in the universe. Yet it has been known to get lost under crates of shoes in airports or on trucking docks. As the dispatcher might say, "Mistakes happen."

It is altogether likely that a "mistake" will someday destroy or dangerously contaminate a city. Donald P. Geesaman, associate director of the University of Minnesota's school of public affairs, has been aware of this possibility longer than have most other experts on the subject.

Geesaman spent 12 years at Lawrence radiation laboratory at the University of California, working in the areas of physics and biomedicine. By 1970, he was writing on the hazards of nuclear power, especially the danger of materials diversion.

"Diversion," Geesaman said, "is a nice euphemism. It means theft. As in 'There was a diversion down at the bank today.'"

It was an issue to which only a few insulated individuals in the heart of the commercial nuclear establishment had given any thought. Geesaman, himself an ex-nuclear researcher with the Atomic energy commission (AEC), said, "It had all been out of the public eye, and in effect, out of the eye of industry. Perhaps the military knew, but the commercial establishment didn't. In 1970 they were still shipping plutonium like corn flakes.

"The trucking industry, which was responsible for much of the shipping at the time, had a signature service to monitor security, but that didn't amount to a whole lot. The industry's theft rate is anything but comforting. In addition, there have been suggestions of possible underworld involvement around airports, where heroin and cocaine often seem to slip through," he said.

Although restrictions have gotten tougher in recent years, Geesaman said, it's still commonplace to send 200 pounds of plutonium through Kennedy International airport.

Plutonium is one of the major materials developed for use in fission nuclear warfare. It is a human invention, virtually nonexistent in the earth's natural crust. Its potential as a source of energy was proven in Nagasaki, Japan, in 1945, when the only implosion device ever was detonated in human warfare. The Nagasaki bomb, docile by today's thermonuclear standards, killed 50,000 people.

One of the greatest stupidities in American policy, Geesaman said, has been our underestimation of everyone else's intelligence. "When the Chinese set off their first nuclear explosion, many people assumed they had stolen our materials and our plans. But they hadn't. They did it all by themselves."

Geesaman points to a sentence from a paper he wrote in 1971: "Without criticizing the (Nuclear Nonproliferation) treaty or its intentions, it must be recognized that the line drawn between peaceful and nonpeaceful nuclear technology may effectively define no more than an irony." In other words, there's no such thing as just a peaceful atom. If you have it, you also have its counterpart.

With the emergence of the secondary powers in the world, the peaceful atom and its shadow, the nonpeaceful atom, have spread across the earth. Israel has 50 kilograms of plutonium by-product now, according to Geesaman's estimate. India has 100 kilograms.

Israel, India and Iran have provided good examples of what money and other incentives can procure in today's marketplace. Nuclear energy, as Geesaman describes it, is available to whoever has the cash.

But the greater danger, Geesaman intimated, may have nothing to do with explosions. Periods of international crisis may well come and go. But long afterwards, a more frightening problem remains: what to do with our invention.

The half-life of plutonium-239—the time it takes for the substance to lose half its radioactivity—is 24,000 years. It is doubtful that the human race could keep even a limited amount of the stuff on hand as a weaponry material for 24,000 years without an accident occurring.

But more important than plutonium's use in weaponry is its use as a fuel for nuclear reactors. There are about 200 plutonium-producing reactors either in operation or under construction in the world today. A typical one produces 500 pounds of plutonium each year. The AEC estimates that annual plutonium production will be 30 tons by 1980 and more than 100 tons by the year 2000.

It is a fuel that is toxic beyond anything anyone can imagine. It has been demonstrated that plutonium in an amount comparable to a single pollen grain causes cancer. Geesaman has no doubts that it causes lung cancer when inhaled and bone cancer when injected.

Geesaman sees plutonium not as a material capable of both good and evil, depending on the user's intentions, but as a material so threatening that it can never be tamed. Perhaps the worst aspect of plutonium is that, once let out of Pandora's box, it can never be contained again.

Lose Up To 10 lbs. In 10 Days*

New Grapefruit Diet 'Pill' Gives Easier Weight Loss

ORANGE, Cal. (Special)—An amazing new improved version of the popular grapefruit diet has recently been developed featuring the use of a handy "grapefruit pill" that helps overweight people become slim, trim and more attractive "while still eating most of your favorite foods."

The new chewable (candy-like) grapefruit pill puts an end to the inconvenient mess, fuss and high cost of eating half a grapefruit at every meal. Happy testimonials from people all across the country claim "you save time and money while achieving more effective weight loss results with this new diet plan."

Lose up to a Pound a Day*

Those who follow this simple diet plan report an average loss of up to a pound a day and even more without strenuous exercise or starvation.*

Fortified with vitamin E and C, the new whole grapefruit extract pill and foods as prescribed by the diet will, through natural action, act to help your body keep your weight down and figure in firm control.

Eat Favorite Foods

Best of all, you never miss a meal and you can still eat most of the "forbidden foods" like steak, lobster, chicken, fish, some sauces, gravies, bacon, eggs, and still lose weight.

Diet Now Available

To get a copy of this highly successful diet and grapefruit pills, send $5 for 10 day supply (or $8 for 20 day supply or $10 for 30 days supply) cash, check, or Money Order to: SUNNY HILLS DIET, Dept. J29, 1818 W. Chapman Ave., Orange, Calif. 92668. (Unconditional money-back guarantee if not satisfied.) BankAmericard or Master Charge OK (send number and expiration date).

*Claims made in this article are based on testimonials on file—but it must be noted that weight loss does vary with each individual and depends on how closely the diet is followed.

IN THIS WORLD
SIGNS ARE NATURAL FORMS OF COMMUNICATION....
FOR EXAMPLE: POLYNESIAN MAIDENS TRADITIONALLY WEAR A FLOWER OVER THEIR RIGHT EAR AS A SIGN THEY ARE LOOKING FOR A MATE.
200 YEARS AGO WHEN MOST PEOPLE COULD NOT READ MERCHANTS NATURALLY HUNG SIGNS THAT WERE IMMEDIATELY RECOGNIZABLE. (BOOT SIGN, HAT SIGN, ETC.)
TODAY, SIGNS... SOME MORE SOPHISTICATED... STILL TELL US QUICKLY WHAT WE NEED TO KNOW... BECAUSE WE UNDERSTAND THEIR MEANING AT A GLANCE, SIGNS MAY BE THE FASTEST FORM OF COMMUNICATION.

If you're thinking about buying your own phone system, ask the salesman these four questions.
His answers may change your mind.

1. Listen, you say my monthly cost would be a little less if I owned my equipment, but what about the total cost over the long run? Like maintenance—does your price include repair labor costs after the guarantee expires? And how long am I going to have to hold on to the system before it pays for itself? Do you really think it'll last that long?

2. If I should move my business to a new location, how long is it going to take you to hook up my phone system and get it working again? What am I supposed to do all that time without service?

3. If the size of my business should change and my phone system can't adapt to the new size, what will that cost? Is there really any market for an outgrown and used phone system?

4. What about taxes? Is your contract written, so costs are fully deductible as an operating expense, or do they fall under capital investment? How about sales tax—wouldn't that wipe out my investment credit?

There are a lot of other important questions you should ask before you make your decision. Give us a call at 218-847-3142 and we'll be glad to fill you in on all of them.

Get the whole story first.

It helps to remind oneself very often that over everything that exists there are laws which never fail to operate, which come rushing, rather, to manifest and prove themselves upon every stone and upon every feather we let fall. So all erring consists simply in the failure to recognize the natural laws to which we are subject in the given instance, and every solution begins with our alertness and concentration, which gently draw us into the chain of events and restore to our will its balancing counterweights."

—Rainer Maria Rilke

Farmer's Diary

No question about it, the farmer's life is always varied. The following is a lengthy but humorous account of one farmer's week. It was taken from the "Kansas Farmer" of Sept. 2, 1972, and entitled "The Farmer's Diary—The Week That Was":

MONDAY—

Waterer froze up.

Bought nice blackfaced cow. $230.

Tried to find five-section drag, it's lost somewhere.

Dead steer in feedyard, looks like it bloated, must be something it ate. Called vet.

Put blackfaced cow in with other cows, fixed fence. Vet wants to talk to me.

Vet said steer bloated, must have been something it ate. Paid vet $10.

Called banker, asked about a $10,000 loan. He laughed, I didn't.

Put blackfaced cow back in with other cows, fixed fence.

Wife mad, dinner cold, late for hair appointment.

Sprayer froze solid. Put sprayer in to thaw.

Weaned pigs from two sows. Wired up gate between them.

Wife mad, hell to pay if I thaw out sprayer in her bathtub again.

Put blackfaced cow back in, used pickup this time.

Sows in with little pigs, knocked down gate. Nailed 2-6 across pen.

Sows ate through 2 x 6. Locked them out of hog house.

Sows broke into hog house. Put baby pigs in chicken house.

6:45 p.m.—Wife mad, supper cold and kids want to go to town.

TUESDAY—

Manure spreader froze solid. Need to spray pigs. Blackfaced cow looking peaked, called vet.

Wife mad, car won't start.

Vet here, said cow sure looking peaked, must be something she ate. Watch her, if she gets worse, call him. Paid vet $10.

Property taxes due. Paid half what they were worth, same as I'm getting for my corn.

Called vet, told him blackfaced cow still looks peaked. Vet said it might be wise to put wheels under her.

Called feed grinder truck, said he would be here after dinner. Put blackfaced cow back in with other cows, fixed fence.

Wife mad, dinner cold, mother-in-law waiting to go shopping.

Broke hose on tractor loader, changed clothes.

Took blackfaced cow to market, got $185. My neighbor bought her.

Banker called, said my note was due. I laughed, he didn't.

Peaked looking blackfaced cow in north pasture. Called neighbor, nobody home. Put blackfaced cow back, fixed fence.

Baby pigs have scours, guess feed too rich. Called vet.

Wife mad, car still won't start. Put scoop of burning cobs under car.

Wife mad, hogs out in back yard. Herded them back. Fixed hog house door. Nailed 2 x 6 across door.

Wife banging on hog house door, says car on fire. Ripped pants on hog house door.

New spark plug wires and radiator hose for car, $14.87.

Vet here, says pigs have scours, feed must be too rich. Paid vet $10.

Wife mad, dinner cold and car still won't start. Out of gas.

Called gas man, ordered 300 gallons of tractor gas.

Called feed grinder man, said he would be here before supper time.

Wife back, says we are going to eat supper at Frank's Steakhouse at 6:30 sharp.

Blackfaced cow in north pasture again, called neighbor.

Wife mad, dryer blew fuse, clothes still wet.

Hogs in front yard again. Herded them back, fixed other hog house door, nailed 2 x 6 across.

6:30 sharp—Wife mad.

Grinder man here.

Gas man here.

Neighbor came to get blackfaced cow.

Canned soup for supper.

WEDNESDAY—

Blackfaced cow in north pasture.

Banker called, said note was past due. Nobody laughed. Sent check.

Wife mad, washer overfilling again, trash barrels full again.

Put water hose in manure spreader to thaw it out.

Wife mad, car won't start. Sewer is plugged up.

Fixed dryer, washing machine, started car, emptied trash barrels, unplugged sewer.

Sat in easy chair with dirty clothes on—Wife mad.

THURSDAY—

Water froze up.

Forgot water running in manure spreader yesterday. Boy-oh-boy.

Banker called. Check bounced. I laughed, he didn't.

Wife mad, furnace quit.

Sow loose in hog house, chewed up extension cord, $7.48. Ripped pants on hog house door.

Blackfaced cow still in north pasture. Bought her back, $200.

Tax man here, says 14 head of cows in north pasture not shown on my tax form. Told him I didn't know how I miscounted like that, sure glad to see them all home.

Put space heater under manure spreader.

FRIDAY—

Waterer overflowing again.

Tire blown out on froze-up manure spreader, got too hot.

Snowed last night, driveway drifted shut. Wife mad, can't get to town for groceries.

Blackfaced cow had twins last night in north pasture. Carried them to barn. Twin calves looking peaked, called vet.

Wife mad, hot water heater not working, water cold.

Truck won't start. Bad time to ask wife to pull me.

Banker called, said he might give me the loan of cattle market would go up. I laughed, he did too.

County agent here, says I ought to plant black walnut trees instead of corn. Says in 40 years they will be worth a fortune. Showed him how to get off the place.

Vet here, said peaked-looking cows sometimes have peaked-looking twin calves. Paid vet $15 ($5 for each).

Put new steel door on hog house.

Dealer called, wanted to know how I bent up drag so bad. Said he sure wished he had come looked at it before the trade.

Wife mad, burned her hand (water set too hot now).

Guess I won't get truck started today.

SATURDAY—

Got tractor started, found right-hand glove.

Neighbor called, asked if I was missing blackfaced cow with twin calves.

Wife says hog house is on fire. Sure is.

Garden hose froze up.

Called fire department.

Put fire out with snow and wet sacks.

Insurance man here, says he doesn't have hog house listed on policy. Anyway it was $100 deductible (about what it cost to fix it).

Throw away steel door. Sold space heater.

Neighbor called, said he'd only charge me a dollar a day keep for cow and calves. Went and got them.

Wife mad, hogs eating cat food on back porch. Put 2 x 6 on hog house door.

SUNDAY—

Wife mad, late for church again. Car started—and quit. Gas line froze. Went to church in pickup.

Sermon same as a month ago. Fell asleep during sermon, hat rolled down aisle. Wife mad.

I'M MAD, somebody knocked down our mailbox.

Watched T.V.

Did the chores. Grandparents here, took kids to a show.

Wife's happy.

Sun went down peaceful—this week is done!

Wendell R. Anderson

Whenever I travel in Minnesota, I am impressed by the resourcefulness of our citizens, especially their ability to identify and solve problems at the local level. Many times the results of these efforts go unnoticed either because they are of a local nature or because our attention tends to be distracted by the gloomy happenings that too often dominates the news these days.

One little noticed example of this kind of local effort is in northeastern Minnesota where the community of Tower came together to solve one of the most critical problems a town can face: no medical or social services.

The area, located just below the Canadian border, has an unusually large elderly population. In addition the nearby Vermillion Annex of the Bois Forte Indian Reservation was in serious need of health and social services. This mix of people requires unique, and not readily available social as well as medical services. But social services were almost non-existent and the nearest physician was 30 miles away.

In 1972, Northlands Regional Medical Program provided funds to establish the Tower-Soudan Clinic. After the initial year of operation, funding for the project was no longer available and the people of Tower and Soudan faced the possibility that the Clinic would have to shut down. They didn't wring hands and wonder what to do. They came together and organized to support efforts to keep the Clinic open, even expanding its range of services.

The Tower-Soudan Clinic Board, with overwhelming support from the two communities it serves, submitted a comprehensive plan and funding request to the Governor's Rural Development Council. The plan illustrated how the Tower-Soudan Clinic, through cooperation with other medical clinics, could insure adequate medical attention for its patients. The plan also included a close working relationship with more than a dozen St. Louis County social service organizations ranging from the Arrowhead Center on Problem Drinking to the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation.

Remarkable progress has been made. Two grants, totaling more than $60,000, have been given to the clinic. This fall a physician will begin working at the clinic on a part-time basis. Plans to merge medical operations with the Cook Clinic, located about 30 miles away, are proceeding. The Tower-Soudan clinic has enlisted the services of a full-time person from the St. Louis County Welfare Department to provide badly needed social services for patients at the clinic. In about two years the entire clinic will move into new and modern facilities in Tower.

This kind of story is not unique in Minnesota. We have a tradition of developing common sense solutions to problems at the local level. From all that I see, that tradition is a healthy and a vital part of life in Minnesota.

The American Conscience

by Dr. RUDY SKOGERBOE

One of the main reasons for a third party in America is the disaster we call our bi-partisan foreign policy. The Democrat opposition to the present administration has a golden opportunity to saize absolute control over future elections if they would offer a patriotic alternative to our foreign policy. The chances of this are extremely remote, however, since their main energy in foreign affairs has been far worse than what the Republican Party has given to us. In fact, it was the liberal or Democrat power that forced us into a complete, total disgrace in S.E. Asia.

Although I am no particular follower of George Wallace, his foreign policy demands our consideration. The reason his foreign policy is condemned so loudly by liberals is simply that they don't agree with him. The American people are a lot tougher than politicians seem to think and Wallace knows this. We should remember that on those occasions that President Nixon chose to be a statesman rather than a politician, the cry from the communist sympathizers throughout our Country was particularly loud. I'm thinking of his invasion in Cambodia. This was a necessity in a military sense and it was a failure mostly because of opposition at home. Again his mining of Haiphong which brought our boys from the Hanoi prisons was attacked by these same communist sympathizers as wrong. At the time this was done, George Gallup conducted a poll which showed 77 per cent of the American people backed President Nixon all the way. It was the Democrat controlled Congress that would not or could not listen to this voice of the people. The result was a recent news item that Christians and anti-communists in South Vietnam are being murdered in merciless and cruel ways—the count is not accurate, but it is now estimated as over 250,000! Mr. Solzhenitsyn has predicted at least one million martyrs for their faith in South Vietnam in the next few years. This is a direct result of our liberal dominated Congress and our spineless administration.

At a time when we have given and given to the Soviets in the Salt Talks to the point of the ridiculous, at a time when our President and his peculiar Secretary of State insist on giving away the Panama Canal, at a time when these same people want our farmers to bail out the Soviet failures by shipping grain, I think it is time to hear what ordinary Americans think. Wallace has a statement which I will quote and which I believe should be followed. If we don't, then we should be willing to give up our Country, our freedom, our ability to worship as we please, and our self respect—is our greed really worth all that?

Wallace recently said, "There is no way in which we can have any generation at peace under the present circumstances that exist in our world unless we are Number One—We are living in a divided world today: in fact in a world divided to the extent that a portion of it believes in the existence of a Supreme Being, believes that there is a God in Heaven who made and loves all of us; while there is another ideology that says there is no God—once you leave this earth, therein lies the end—and this is, of course, the Communist philosophy that today embraces a great part of our globe."

In my opinion, at a time when Christians and anti-communists are being tortured in Communist countries for their faith—not for their disobedience to law and order, it is time for Americans who believe in God to make their voice heard. If they don't, who will?

A wealthy retired farmer complained to me about his new $11,000 Cadillac. It seems that on the way home from the dealer the chrome fell off. On closer inspection, it was noted that no screws had ever been placed. In any event, the chrome trim had been put on in such a careless way that the car couldn't even survive its first test drive. Now an expensive car such as this should have been inspected, but apparently it was not. The careless worker who didn't do his job and the inspector or whoever else was involved could possibly be traced. I mentioned this story to my friends and wondered if those who were reoponsible for the defect would be fired or disciplined. The answer was a unanimous and spontaneous "no". There is no way, I was told, that the men involved would be disciplined.

This is not a serious thing, of course, but I'm more concerned with an attitude. Congress apparently has through the years been afraid to make our NLRB (National Labor Relations Board) a responsible and impartial unit. Instead, repeated congressional investigations have documented that it has consistently been pro-labor, anti-business, and actually anti-public in its deliberations and rulings. Farm districts are even now in some districts represented by labor oriented and labor supported Congressmen. This in itself should be all right, but the facts don't seem to make it that way.

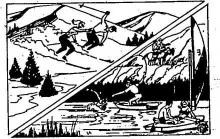
For almost 40 years, Big Labor has increased its influence through its financial control over Congressmen. For this kind of assistance, labor demands obedience and the result has been an unhealthy fear of labor. Whether the labor bosses are using illegal means to control Congress or not is not important. What is important is that no pressure group should have that kind of control over our Congress. The labor movement is necessary to protect workers, but it is my impression the balance of power right now is not all good. New legislation which further threatens this balance is the "Common situs legislation" (S 1479). Sen. Paul Laxalt R-NV) reporting in Human Events, Oct. 11, '75, is opposed to the bill.

He said, "If this bill is passed it will give the construction workers the power to shut down an entire construction project if there is a dispute with one subcontractor. It would also force a closed shop on the 22 states that do not have it." It is my belief that this will hurt the construction worker himself who now is suffering from high unemployment.

Another threat to any change in election patterns is the new limitation on spending for campaigns. In the recent re-run of the Senate race between Dem. Durkin and Rep. Wyman in New Hampshire there was a $220,000 spending limit for each side. The tremendous support for Mr. Durkin by organized labor was not counted in this cost. The COPE (Comm. on Political Education) forces brought in over 200 out of state professional labor organizers. They set up nine banks of telephones and operated them during the whole campaign. The law, passed by Congress, gives labor an even greater advantage than before.

In my opinion, no pressure group should be able to buy candidates. This goes for teachers, doctors, business corporations and it must include organized labor. Only the votes of an informed electorate can change this balance.

Making Mini-Mountains From Trash



Have you ever thought of what happens to your trash after the disposal truck picks it up? One thing is sure — it doesn't just go away.

What can be done with mounting piles of trash? In suburban DuPage County, Illinois, people will be skiing on them!

In the county's 1,400-acre Greene Valley Forest Preserve, two "mini-mountains" are currently under construction through the use of environmentally engineered sanitary landfill—a technique by which solid waste is compacted and covered over each day with a layer of earth.

The Greene Valley project is being undertaken by Waste Management, Inc., a national company headquartered in Oak Brook, Illinois, under contract to the county. In addition to two ski hills to rise 250 feet above the surrounding area, the 180-acre recreational park will also feature toboggan and sled runs for winter recreation, hiking and equestrian trails, picnic and camping areas, and a 55-acre lake for boating, stocked with fish for summer fun.

Already winner of three national awards, construction of the project began last October, with the first of the ski hills to be completed and ready for use in five to eight years. And, at the same time, the landfill will help to meet the waste disposal needs of the fast-growing county for the next fifteen years.

The Greene Valley project is providing DuPage County with a practical solution to its waste disposal and recreational problems, and—through the innovativeness of a far-sighted county government and conscientious private industry — both will be accomplished at no cost to county taxpayers.

VA Home Loan Requests Most Ever For Minn.

The Veterans administration loan guaranty office in Minnesota has experienced the heaviest work load in its 31-year history. Appraisal requests for home loan purposes totaled 4,567 in the state from June through August, an increase of 82 per cent over the same period last year, John R. Good, loan guaranty officer at the VA center, Ft. Snelling, reported recently.

Also, he said, the VA saw a 355 per cent rise in the number of requests for restorationof home loan entitlement in Minnesota, North Dakota and South Dakota, where the VA center administers the GI loan program. Restoration determinations rose from 448 for the first eight months in 1974 to 2,039 during the same period this year, he said.

The Veterans housing act of 1974 permitted restoration of loan entitlement when the veteran disposes of his property and his GI home loan is paid in full. Previously, loan benefits could be restored only for "compelling reasons."

In Minnesota, 201,500 GI home loans valued at $2.55 billion have been guaranteed since the program's inception during World War II. Of these, 57 per cent have been paid in full. In North Dakota, the VA has guaranteed 23,800 loans valued at $258 million since the start of the program, and in South Dakota, 21,800 loans at $185 million.

Nationally, 8.8 million GI home loans valued at $113 billion have been guaranteed. Almost 4.6 million veterans have paid their loans in full, and could qualify for loan resotration if they dispose of the property which secured their loans.

The VA guarantees up to a maximum of $17,500 of home loans made by private lenders to eligible military service personnel and veterans of World War II and later periods, Good said.

Complete loan information may be obtained at the VA center at Ft. Snelling, or from representatives of local veterans organizations and county veterans service officers.

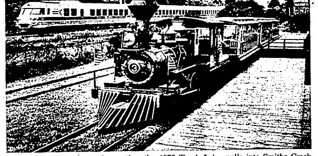
Time Rolls On



America's oldest steam locomotive, the 1873 Torch Lake, pulls into Smiths Creek Station at Greenfield Village in Dearborn, Michigan as America's most advanced train, the Amtrak Turboliner zips past on its Detroit-Chicago run.

The Torch Lake runs on a two-mile route that circles Greenfield Village and its 100 historic buildings. In the adjacent Henry Ford Museum, locomotives ranging from a replica of Englishman George Stephenson's 1829 "Rocket," the first practical steam locomotive to the 1941 600-ton Allegheny, one of the last and largest steam locomotives to be built, are on exhibit.

Research Takes Major Part Of Arthritis Effort

As its major arthritis-fighting program, the Arthritis foundation has established and supports a network of arthritis clinical research centers. Here the arthritis patient receives the most up-to-date medical team care available and is studied for clues to his disease and how to improve treatment. Researchers investigate every aspect of the arthritis puzzle and conduct trials of new drugs and treatments. Young physicians, scientists, surgeons and allied health workers are trained and encouraged to specialize in arthritis.

Team care is essential to comprehensive treatment of the arthritic, whose disease may need attention from such diversified specialists as an internist, rheumatologist, orthopedist, nurse, physical therapist, social worker, biochemist, immunologist, pathologist or psychologist.

These centers demonstrate what can be done about arthritis: That with early diagnosis and proper long-term treatment programs, disability can be prevented. They demonstrate what community action can do.

Goal of the foundation is to extend the benefits of such center programs to all who suffer from crippling arthritis.

As another vital part of its program, the arthritis foundation annually awards research fellowships to promising young physicians and scientists who conduct studies probing the mysteries of the disease. Their research, carried out both in the laboratory and at the bedside, has made exciting progress in recent years and is closer to the goal of prevention or cure.

Final victory over arthritis will come from men of science. Meanwhile, their work and the work of aiding arthritis victims today is speeded by thousands of dedicated Americans who donate time and money through their local Arthritis foundation chapters.

Arthritis warning signs are:

—Persistent pain and stiffness on arising.

—Pain or tenderness in one or more joints.

—Swelling in one or more joints.

—Recurrence of these symptoms, particularly involving more than one joint.

—Pain and stiffness in the neck, lower back, knees and other joints.

—Tingling sensations in fingertips, hands and feet.

—Unexplained weight loss, fever, weakness or fatigue.

If these symptoms occur, see your doctor or contact the Arthritis foundation, 122 West Franklin, Minneapolis, Minnesota 55404.

Following are some facts and figures published by the Arthritis Foundation:

—20,230,000 Americans have arthritis.

—5,000,000 suffer from rheumatoid arthritis—the most crippling form.

—Rheumatoid arthritis usually strikes in the 20 to 45 "prime-of-life" years.

—It strikes women three times as often as men.

—Arthritis hits one of every four families.

—Almost four and a half billion dollars in wages and homemaker services are lost annually because of arthritis.

—More than two billion dollars a year are spent on medical care for arthritics.

—Arthritics spend more than $400,000,000 yearly on quack "cures" while less than $20,000,000 is spent on arthritis research each year.

—Latest research indicates arthritis may be caused by a virus-like agent which triggers the body's defense system into turning against itself, creating the self-perpetuating, painful and disabling inflammation that is the key to the disease.

Harvest Moon Popcorn

In double-digit inflation days, you can still be a happy hostess who doesn't have to spend "the mostest" if you serve America's all-time favorite "penny snack" for your informal parties. Even fancied up with extra flavorings and fixings, popcorn still costs out to just cents per generous serving. Harvest Moon Popcorn is such a treat. Team it with mugs of fresh apple cider, and you have just the right fun fare for everything from hoedowns to fifth quarter get-togethers. It's a winner every time.

Harvest Moon Popcorn

- ⅓ cup melted butter
- 1 teaspoon dillweed
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- 1 teaspoon lemon pepper
- ½ teaspoon onion powder
- ½ teaspoon garlic powder
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 2 quarts popped popcorn*
- 2 cups canned shoestring potatoes

Combine dillweed, Worcestershire sauce, lemon pepper, onion powder, garlic powder and salt with melted butter in a small saucepan. Put popcorn and shoestring potatoes in a large bowl. Pour butter/dillweed mixture over popcorn and shoestring potatoes; toss. Spread popcorn mixture on a jelly roll pan (15½ x 10½ x 1-inch) and bake in a preheated 350-degree oven 8 to 10 minutes, stirring once. Makes 2½ quarts.

*1 ounce of unpopped popcorn kernels (2 tablespoons household measure) makes approximately 1 quart of popped corn.

COOKS IN 1 MINUTE
OATS

Curried Chicken Croquettes

¼ cup butter
¼ cup flour
½ tsp. salt
⅛ tsp. pepper
¾ cup milk
1 cup 3-MINUTE BRAND OATS
2 cups cooked chicken
1 egg, beaten
1½ cup dry bread crumbs
Oil for deep fat frying

Sauce
10½ oz. can cream of mushroom soup
1 cup light cream
1 Tbsp. lemon juice
½ tsp. curry powder

Melt butter in saucepan. Stir in flour, salt and pepper. Slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Cook over medium heat until mixture has thickened. Remove from heat and stir in oats and chicken. Cool thoroughly. Shape into eight croquettes. Roll each croquette in flour, then dip in egg and finally into bread crumbs. Heat frying oil to 375° F. Fry the croquettes until they are golden brown, (about 2½ to 3 minutes). Turn the croquettes during frying. Drain on paper towels to remove excess oil. Combine all of the ingredients for the sauce. Heat to boiling. Remove from heat and serve over the hot croquettes.

U of M Repertory Players Appear At Northland

On Wednesday at 1 p.m. in the Northland community college theatre the works of some of drama's greatest playwrights will come alive on Northland's stage in the 1975 University Theatre Repertory Players' presentation of "A Carnival of Classic Comedy."

The program consists of a selection of humorous scenes from the the pages of Moliere, Aristophanes, Plautus, Sheridan, Wilde and Shaw and has been produced especially for the entertainment and enrichment of high school audiences.

"A Carnival of Classic Comedy" is directed by Kristine Thompson and appears under the auspices of the University of Minnesota program service.

4-H Awards Night Slated Here Monday

Annual 4-H awards night will be held Monday, November 3, at 8 p.m. in the Lincoln high school cafeteria when recognition will be given to outstanding 4-H members and leaders.

"4-H encourages high standards and the setting of meaningful goals and by doing so lays a broad and firm base for a lifetime of personal growth. Giving awards is one way of rewarding members and leaders for their efforts in achieving their goals," reports Wayne Odegaard, associate extension agent.

The agribusiness committee of the Chamber of Commerce will provide the lunch after the program. Everyone interested in 4-H is encouraged to attend.

Mrs. Beyer Hurt In Attack From Bull Last Week

Attack by a bull a week ago Friday resulted in hospitalization for Mrs. Irving Beyer of rural Red Lake Falls. She was injured by the bull while herding cows into the milking parlor from the loose housing portion of the dairy barn, according to a report in the Red Lake Falls Gazette.

Found by her husband who was in another area of the barn when the incident took place, Mrs. Beyer was taken by ambulance to the Red Lake Falls hospital and later transferred to Grand Forks. She reportedly suffered a broken leg, arm and ribs as well as severe bruises but was not believed to have internal injuries, the Gazette report stated.

Lincoln Choir, Singers Appear In Fall Festival

Lincoln high school concert choir and Lincoln Singers will be participating in the annual Fall choir festival on Tuesday, November 4, at 7:30 in the Crookston high school gym. Other participating schools are Crookston, East Grand Forks and Warren.

Each school choir will perform, after which a massed choir composed of all choral groups will sing under direction of Curt Hanson of Schmitt, Hall and McCreary Publishers in Minneapolis. Hanson is in demand nationally as a choral music clinician and conductor.

Lincoln's concert choir, under the direction of David Morken, will sing "Tender Love," a Cajun folk song arranged by Norman Luboff; "My God Is a Rock" a Negro spiritual arranged by Alice Parker and Robert Shaw; and "Praise to the Lord" arranged by F. Melius Christiansen.

Sugar Beet Demonstration Plots Show Good Yields

SUGAR BEET YIELDS on test plots in Pennington county this summer showed production which would be considered very acceptable by industry standards for northern Minnesota, according to Terry Courneya, Pennington county extension agent. Courneya is shown with two of the large beets dug from county demonstration plots. The map in the background shows Pennington county outlined with arrows indicating where the test plots were located.

"While the nature of sugar beet demonstration plots in Pennington county can not be considered bona fide research," states Terry Courneya, county extension agent, "effort was taken to duplicate actual field conditions and results indicate clearly that sugar beets can be grown successfully on several of the better soil types in Pennington county."

Courneya said yield and quality checks were taken October 20 from several sugar beet demonstration plots grown in the county this season. Plots were established through a cooperative effort of the county extension service, farm management department of the Thief River Falls area vocational-technical institute, and local farmers.

Yields varied considerably due to adverse weather conditions, but all of the plots produced tonnage that would be considered very acceptable by industry standards for northern Minnesota, Courneya said.

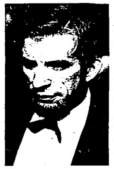
Sugar content and purity analysis determinations made by American Crystal sugar company laboratories in East Grand Forks indicated beet quality very similar to that experienced in the established growing areas of the Red River Valley. Northern Minnesota sugar beet development board is currently reviewing and analyzing the results of sugar market and construction cost reports in an effort to determine the feasibility of a new sugar refinery in the area.

"Other challenges the board will be facing are factory site selection and procurement of long term financing for factory construction," Courneya added.

"It might appear on the surface that not much is being done on this project at present, but a project of such magnitude and economic importance must be dealt with in a very thorough and deliberate manner to assure that the ultimate test—profitability to the farmer raising sugar beets—is met.

"Continued effort is in process to deal with the complexities of this project and the board is very close to the timetable it established at the start," Courneya said.

Pennington county demonstration plots were located on the Oldrich Hoffman farm east of Highlanding in Highlanding township; the Clyde Christensen farm east of Thief River Falls in Cloverleaf township; the Edgar Naplin farm west of St. Hiliare in Polk Centre township; the Everett Flesche farm south of St. Hilaire in River Falls township; and on the area vocational-technical institute site on the east edge of Thief River Falls in North township.



Bruce Hanks

Lions Club To Hear Lincoln Look-Alike Wed.

Thief River Falls Lions club will have an Abraham Lincoln look-alike as its featured speaker when the club meets Wednesday noon.

Bruce Hanks, a direct lineal descendant of the famous president, will give a slide and lecture presentation entitled "The 200 Years."

The presentation, according to Dick Suaer, program chairman for the day, will trace our nation's early history through the Continental Congress to the Declaration of Independence, and will lay special emphasis on the crisis of the Civil War and reconstruction period with stress on the crucial role of Abraham Lincoln.

School Board To Meet Tonight At Franklin Bldg.

Thief River Falls board of education will meet tonight with three separate segments built into the evening session at Franklin middle school.

At 5:30 p.m. the board will meet in the Franklin cafeteria for a dinner meeting to discuss and review material for negotiation and arbitration. This will be followed at 7:30 p.m. with a presentation of Franklin middle school material by Dr. Milton Hoff, principal, in the school library.

At 9:15 p.m. the board is scheduled to hold a discussion with the architect on the proposed addition to the area vocational-technical institute. All meetings of the board are open to the public.

Fertile Safe As Tankers Removed

Peace and a degree of normality returned to Fertile Sunday following the effects of a propane gas tanker explosion and derailment in the city Burlington-Northern railroad yard late Wednesday night.

On Friday and Saturday mornings the city of about 1,000 people was evacuated as Burlington-Northern work crews undertook the delicate process of lifting and removing the six overturned tankers containing the dangerously flammable propane gas. Particular care was given to the removal of one of the tankers, which was leaking.

Although property damage from the explosion and fire was estimated at approximately one million dollars, officials believe the disaster could easily have been much worse. Two bulk oil plants, both located within 50 yards of the worst wreckage, were not damaged. Three persons were reported injured and taken by car to Riverview hospital, Crookston. Wesley Michaels, who suffered lacerations, was held for observation.

As of Monday morning, officials were still uncertain whether the derailment occurred first, triggering the explosion, or whether the explosion caused the derailment. But it is known that at approximately 11:30 p.m. Wednesday an explosion shook the community. Six tankers and two grain cars derailed. Witnesses reported that flames burst out over a wide area, burning several boxcars, the Lloyd Olson residence, a storage building next to the bulk oil tanks and a railroad shed.

SOCIETY and CLUBS

Debra Kaye Knutson And Christopher Roller Wed

Miss Debra Kaye Knutson and Christopher Roller exchanged marriage vows recently at an afternoon ceremony at St. John Lutheran church in this city.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Knutson of Thief River Falls. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Chris Roller of Cass Lake.

Rev. Paul Biegner officiated at the double ring ceremony. At the organ was Mrs. Carl Nordvall. She played the traditional wedding marches and also accompanied Don Lunke, a cousin of the bride, as he sang "Colour My World," "The Lord's Prayer," and "Wedding Song."

On the altar were arrangements of pink, yellow and blue daisies and mums accented by pink and white gladioli.

The bride was given in marriage by her parents. She was attired in a floor length gown of white polyester crepe styled with a softly flared skirt and a long-sleeve lace bodice with a U-neckline. Accenting the empire waistline was a lace trim featuring pastel embroidered flowers with green leaves. Her lace profile headpiece, embroidered with seed pearls, held her fingertip veil of bridal illusion. She carried a clutch bouquet of pink, yellow, blue and white daisies in a mist of babies' breath.

Diane Poole was the bride's personal attendant.

Maid of honor was Karen Wilhelm, a friend. Other attendants were the bride's sisters: Linda Helgeland and Eilene Hutchinson. Their short, puffed sleeved gowns of a floral polyester were styled like the bride's in pink, blue and yellow, respectively. To complement their gowns, they wore white picture hats with ribbon streamers matching the colors of their gown. Each carried a wicker basket of white daisies and babies' breath accented with mums and ribbon streamers the same color as their gown.

Serving the bride as flower girl was Sherilee Shay Bakken of Thief River Falls, a friend. She was attired in a floor-length gown of white crepe with a lace short puffed-sleeved bodice. She carried a white basket filled with mums and daisies corresponding with the flowers carried by the bride.

Ring bearer was Von Hutchinson, a nephew of the bride. He wore a black polyester suit with a white shirt and a white mum boutonniere and carried the rings on a heart-shaped white lace pillow.

Attending the groom as best man was David Fellman of Grafton, N.D. Groomsmen were James Sherman of Thief River Falls and Paul Morken of Warren. All are friends of the groom. Serving as ushers were Robert Witt, a cousin of the bride, and Richard Roller, brother of the groom. The men of the wedding party wore conventional business suits or sports attire with mum boutonnieres corresponding with the colors of the bridesmaids gowns.

The mother of the bride was attired in a blue and white print, floor-length, A-line gown with a corsage of blue mums. Her gown was made by Linda Helgeland, who also made the bride's dress and those worn by her attendants, with the exception of Mrs. Hutchinson's. Mrs. Helgeland also made the flower girl's gown and the suit worn by the ring bearer.

The mother of the groom wore a pink street-length dress with tie belt. To accent her attire, she wore black accessories and a corsage of yellow mums.

A reception in the church parlors for approximately 100 relatives and friends followed the ceremony. Hostesses were Mrs. Vernon Nelson, Mrs. Leslie Nelson, Mrs. Seymore Nelson and Mrs. Elaine Jorgenson.

Highlighting the serving table was a three-tiered pedestal cake, trimmed with yellow miniature flowers and blue scallops. Topping the cake were a miniature bride and groom, backed by a pearl heart with pink flowers and gathered netting. Surrounding the base were the flowers carried by the bride, her attendants and flower girl. Allie Witt, aunt of the bride, and JoAnn Fry, friend of the groom, cut and served the cake. Pouring were Olga Knutson, aunt of the bride, and Arlene Fellman, friend of the groom.

For her going away attire, the bride wore a blue polyester dress topped by a floral print jacket tied at the midriff. Her corsage was of yellow, pink, white and blue mums.

Joani Lynn Jensen Weds Arlen Marquis At Oklee

Miss Joani Lynn Jensen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Jensen of Oklee, and Arlen Craige Marquis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Marquis of Goodridge, exchanged marriage vows recently at an afternoon ceremony at Zion Lutheran church in Oklee.

Officiating at the double-ring ceremony was Rev. Charles Gunderson of Oklee. Kathy Lee presided at the organ, playing "My Way," and "Arioso," for the processional, and "Theme Song from the Roudeyman," for the recessional. During the ceremony, Guy Rice played the guitar and sang "Annie's Song," "Follow Me," and "My Sweet Lady." Both are friends of the couple.

An arrangement of yellow daisy-mums, green tinted carnations and babies' breath graced the organ. Marking the first eight pews reserved for relatives of the couple were white wedding bells and bows that were made of the same fabric as the bridesmaids' dresses.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She was attired in a floor-length gown of dacron organza styled in A-line fashion with a raised, fitted bodice. Embroidered Venice lace motifs graced the scooped neckline, the long full, bishop sleeves and encircled the skirt above the pleated flounce. Matching lace edged her fingertip veil held by a Spanish styled headpiece. She carried a colonial nosegay of yellow roses, white daisy-mums and babies' breath with deep green foliage. For sentiment, the bride also carried out the "old, new, borrowed and blue" tradition.

Connie Kriel attended her sister as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Ludeen and Donna Jensen, sisters of the bride, and Kaye Marquis, sister of the groom. Junior bridesmaid was Sharon Jensen, sister of the bride. They wore identical floor-length gowns featuring flocked green and white checked A-line skirts with coordinating plaid bodices accented by short bell sleeves of the same fabric as their skirts. Green floppy hats with green ribbon and white daisies completed their attire. Each carried a basket of yellow and white daisy-mums, green tinted carnations and babies' breath.

A similar basket was carried by the flower girl, Gina Boyer, a cousin of the groom. Her gown, identical to the bridemaids' was complemented by a green ribbon tied in her hair.

Attending the groom were his brother, Mitchell Marquis as best man; Ronald Horachek, friend of the couple, Gene Marquis, brother of the groom, and Bruce Solberg, another friend, as groomsmen; David Marquis, brother of the groom, as junior groomsman; and Bruce Kriel, brother-in-law of the bride and Meade Marquis, a cousin of the groom, as ushers. All wore dark green knit tuxedos with green velvet lapels and bow ties, mint green ruffled shirts, and yellow boutonnieres. Similar attire was worn by Eric Jensen, brother of the bride, who carried the rings on a pillow fashioned of the same fabric as the bridesmaids' gowns.

For their children's wedding, Mrs. Jensen wore a floor-length print skirt with matching jacket and a solid green shell; and Mrs. Marquis was attired in a pale green polyester dress topped by a floral green and gold sheer jacket. Both wore corsages of yellow pompons.

Special guests at the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Nelson, Mrs. Olianna Jensen, grandparents of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. Orris Olson, grandparents of the groom.

Following the ceremony, a reception was given in the church parlors with Mr. and Mrs. Frankie Cyr, friends of the couple, as host and hostess. The guests were registered by Mrs. Mitchell Marquis, sister-in-law of the groom, as Mr. and Mrs. Brad Nelson, friends of the couple, served the punch.

Centering the serving table was a four-tiered, Lady Windemere, marble cake baked and decorated by the bride's mother and friends of the couple, Mrs. Don Mosbeck and Mrs. Leonard Melin. Topping the cake was a gold Christogram surrounded by small clusters of yellow and white daisy-mums and babies' breath. Similar floral clusters surrounded the clover-leaf base.

Mrs. Doug DeFrang, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Verl Leckron, aunt of the groom, cut and served the cake. The Kransekaga, the traditional Danish wedding cake, was served by Mrs. Jerry Olson, aunt of the groom, and Mrs. James Sundrud, friend of the couple. Presiding at the coffee service were Mrs. Roy Jorgenson, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Bernie Johnson, aunt of the groom.

Alan and Barry Jensen, brothers of the bride, were gift bearers. They also added a special touch to the wedding ceremony by lighting the altar candles before the processional. The groom's sister, Doreen Marquis, distributed the wedding programs.

Serving as waitresses were Mary Cyr, and Cindy Champagne, friends of the couple, and Tami DeFrang, cousin of the bride. The groomscake and the packets of mints and nuts were distributed by Diane Jensen, sister of the bride, and LaNae Olson, cousin of the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Mitchell, friends of the couple, served as host and hostess at the private reception that followed at the bride's parental home.

KITCHEN KARNIVAL

by Ellen M. Spray

Featuring recipes from the Kitchen of

As a child in Bible school, many years ago, we sang, "Love one another, thus saith the Savior, let us obey the Master's blessed command." After reading Wednesday's Times, I'm thoroughly confused. Did the Master really want us to love every one or just those who meet certain qualifications?

The article that caused the confusion was "Commission Acts on Zoning Change," regarding the rejection of establishing a half-way house in Thief River Falls for alcoholics and drug addicts.

How can society that promotes drinking of alcoholic beverages or shrugs its shoulders at the misuse of drugs, refuse to care for the victims? At what stage does such a person lose favor and cease to become a human being?

Consider the alcoholic. At one time, they were found only among the men in the poorer class of people. Not so today. Alcoholics are now found in every walk of life, regardless of social standing, occupation, race, religion or sex. Age is no barrier. It is a known fact that newly born infants, whose mothers are alcoholics, suffer the traumas of withdrawals. Alcoholic beverages are poured into bottles for babies, left around for toddlers to consume, approved for teenagers by lowering the drinking age, and provided for senior citizens in wheel chairs.

With the continuing increase in alcoholics, authorities are now beginning to question the Uniform Alcoholism and Intoxication Treatment act that served as catalyst in many states in passing laws recognizing drunkenness as an illness.

Is alcoholism really a disease? It is true that the victims are afflicted with a dependency on alcoholic beverages; but it is not a disease in the same sense as malaria, cancer, Parkinsons, cystic fibrosis or diphtheria. No one would consider drinking from a glass used by a person with typhoid fever, yet those same people don't hesitate in poisoning their system, day after day, with alcoholic beverages. Social drinkers, even though they have seen relatives and friends become alcoholics, refuse to believe that they are candidates for the same affliction.

After a person becomes an alcoholic, his problems mount. In most instances, he has been dropped by his friends. (Note what happened right here in Thief River Falls. "Friends" who sat with them at the bar, invited them in for a drink, coaxed them "to have just one more," now look with disdain at the alcoholics and don't want them to live in their neighborhood.) Just as those "friends" refuse to believe that they too may become addicted if they continue drinking, they also don't realize that an alcoholic has feelings; that they hurt desperately inside, and because of the hurt and their addiction, they continue drinking. When an alcoholic has admitted his problem and decided to give up drinking, many "friends" have been his downfall by the invitation, "Let's stop in for a drink." In his great need for friendship and his desire not to hurt someone who has befriended him, the alcoholic accepts the offer. Unlike the person who isn't addicted, that one drink arouses the uncontrollable desire for further drinks.

Although the alcoholic if primarily responsible for his own predicament, society is largely to blame.

Society, in an attempt to avoid being square, has gone overboard for alcoholic beverages. The demand for drinks is so great that it is virtually impossible for an eating place to exist without providing those services. Society demands social hours before club meetings, banquets, reunions, dances, and annual meetings. Christenings, weddings, and funerals aren't complete without drinks to "celebrate," or to "drown your sorrows." Hooligan's corners are found at sports events where drinks are disguised in pop bottles. Six-packs and kegs are a must for hunting and fishing trips. Churches are submitting to the demand by applying for licenses to sell beer during game nights.

Society has helped create the alcoholic; and that includes anyone who has given a person an alcoholic drink. It is now society's responsibility to care for its victims.

Today's recipe for Lime Pear salad was provided by Mrs. Dale Stark of rural Thief River Falls. Thanks.

Lime Pear Salad

1-three oz. pkg. lime gelatine
1 cup hot pear juice
1-three oz. pkg., cream cheese
1 cup mashed pears
1 cup whipping cream

Method: Heat 1 cup pear juice, add gelatine and cream cheese and stir until gelatine dissolves. Set aside to cool. When it begins to congeal, add the mashed pears and fold in whipped cream and pour into a mold.

Mrs. Stark stated that this salad holds its shape very well.

The Dale Starks live on a farm one and one-half miles south of Thief River Falls, where they are engaged in raising pigs and grain farming. They have five children: Wayne, who is employed in Alaska; the twins: Ron and Rudy, who are students at Northland Community college; Carolyn, a 1975 Lincoln high graduate who is attending Covenant Bible college in Canada; and Sandra, a seventh grader.

The family attends the Evangelical Covenant church. Mrs. Stark is currently serving as church secretary.

Next week's recipe will feature tips on cooking venison.

Pathfinders To Collect Food On Thursday Here

Pathfinders under the direction of Mrs. Jerome Bray, along with other school aged children from the Seventh-day Adventist Church, will again collect canned foods to be used in holiday baskets for needy persons instead of the traditional Halloween trick or treat activity.

This collection will take place between 4 and 6 p.m. Thursday. Mrs. Mae Howes, Community services director, wishes to thank the donors of food as this helps very much in preparing the church's holiday food baskets.

The collecting will be done only on the east side of town this year.

Hearing Slated On Burning Of Diseased Trees

A public hearing on an air pollution control regulation amendment to allow the open burning of Minnesota shade trees infected with Dutch elm or oak wilt desease will be held at 9 a.m., November 24 in the Board room of the Minnesota Pollution control agency (MPCA), 1935 West county toad B2, Roseville.

Purpose of the amendment is to assist the Minnesota department of agriculture in dosposing of the large number of trees which have already been infected and to prevent further spread of the diseases.

The proposed amendment will allow open burning of infected trees in those areas where no other practical alternative is available, but will control the location of the burning site and the manner in which the material is burned.

Copies of the proposed amendment are available from the Division of air quality of the MPCA.

AHPC Approves Three Projects During Hearings

Agassiz health planning council conducted three public hearings October 23 and approved a 10-bed group home in Fosston, a 10-bed group home in Argyle and new by-laws for the council.

The Fosston project (a group home for mildly to profoundly mentally retarded) was voted approval by the Agassiz board by a vote of 28 to 0. The project was presented by Kevin Clementson, group home developer for Polk County Group Homes, Inc. Estimated cost of the home is $115,000. The home is expected to be open in early summer, 1976. This facility is the first of three homes to be located in Polk county. The other two proposed homes are expected to be located in Crookston and East Grand Forks.

The Argyle project for a 10-bed group home for the retarded was approved 29 to 0 by the Agassiz board. Cost of the project is $127,000 and is expected to be completed by October of 1976. Mary Ann Bodell of Warren, group home developer for Marshall County Group Homes, Inc., presented the proposal along with Arthur Kohlhase, Marshall county social service director; June Edgar, Warren day activity center director; and Randy Cedergren, Argyle city planner.

Agassiz health planning council voted on new by-laws that will expedite the merger with central flyway health planning council that covers the six counties in the Devils Lake area. The by-laws were amended to include four health care institution board members. This will increase the board size to 64 members. Consumers will now total 36 members and health care providers 28 (including the health care institution board members).

Goodridge FFA Collects $383 In Grain Drive

Members of the Goodridge Future Farmers of America chapter collected grain and cash contributions totaling $383.25 in the chapter's grain drive for Camp Courage earlier this month.

In the one-day campaign, chapter members contacted farmers in the Goodridge area and asked for contributions of a small amount of grain to be sold by the chapter and the proceeds sent to Camp Courage. More than $300 worth of grain was collected and the balance of the total received in cash contributions.

Money collected has now been sent to the Minnesota society for crippled children and adults which operates Camp Courage, a camp for handicapped persons on Maple lake near Annandale.

Toastmasters To Meet Tuesday

Virgil Kohler will be toastmaster when the Northwest Toastmasters meet Tuesday at 7 a.m. at the Arctic Enterprises service training center. Speakers will be Ward Aas and Gary Haren.

SPEAKING CONTEST winners at the annual meeting of the Area I association of soil and water conservation districts were Rick McConnell, Crookston, junior division, and Nancy Arens, Mahnomen, senior division. The contest was held in connection with the Area I meeting Wednesday in Thief River Falls.

Jaycees Host Candidates For City Aldermen

Candidates for city aldermen attended a special "Meet the Candidates" program held during a general membership meeting of the Thief River Falls Jaycees Tuesday evening at the American Legion Club rooms. The meeting was open to Jaycees, Mrs. Jaycees and guests.

Officer seekers in attendance, introduced by chapter vice president Loren Luschen, included: Ambrose Wysoski, third ward imcumbent; Roger Worth, first ward incumbent; Milan Borsheim, candidate from the first ward: Joyce Peterson, third ward candidate; and Clayton Restad, alderman at large candidate.

Each candidate was allowed approximately five minutes for brief introductory speeches. In their alloted time Wysoski and Worth emphasized the assistance the council had provided in the development of new projects in the city, such as the law enforcement center and the Northwestern hospital medical office building. The challengers utilized their time to explain their background and qualifications, and each expressed a desire to serve city residents as their motivation for running.

A question and answer session followed the dissertations. Subjects discussed during this period included proposed salary increases for the mayor and aldermen, problems of New York City, possible purchase of the Kiewel property by the city, county and school board and winter sidewalk shoveling for elderly residents.

The one hour program concluded when the incumbents excused themselves to attend a special city council meeting. Regular Jaycee business was then discussed.

HHH Opposes President Ford's Tax Proposals

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey has issued the following statement regarding President Ford's tax recommendations which were announced recently.

"If there was any doubt about when President Ford would start his reelection campaign, that doubt was removed by the speech he gave October 6 on taxes and spending.

"The proposals he made are politically colored and misleading and can only be understood in a political context.

"It is wrong for the President to claim a $28 billion tax cut when he has only proposed $11 billion in additional tax reductions.

"It is irresponsible for the President to call for a massive cut in federal spending without identifying where the cuts are to be made. Nor is there any basis for the arbitrary spending level selected by the President. All of this runs counter to the proper functioning of responsible budget and fiscal policy and the new congressional budget process.

"Mr. Ford's proposals also show a confused and inconsistent brand of economics.

"By slashing the federal budget at the same time he cuts taxes, the President is calling for contradictory policies that will prevent a speedy economic recovery and a return to full employment.

"Finally, all of the pious lamenting about the size of the deficit by the administration should be examined in light of the fact that recessions are the primary cause of deficits.

"If Mr. Ford wants to end the defictis, he should put America back to work. This country needs jobs and production—not premature Presidential politicking."

Minnesota Used 5 Per Cent Less Fuel In 1974

Energy conscious Minnesotans, while registering a record high number of motor vehicles in 1974, managed to cut gas consumption by 107 million gallons as compared to 1973 according to reports received by the Minnesota department of public safety.

Fuel consumption tallies by the U.S. Department of Transportation show Minnesota using a total of 2.05 billion gallons of gas in 1974, a five per cent reduction from 1973. At the same time, registration of cars, trucks, buses, motorcycles and recreational vehicles reached a record high of nearly 2.7 million vehicles.

According to Commissioner of public safety Edward G. Novak, a combination of factors brought about the unusual situation where more vehicles ended up using less gasoline.

"A good deal of credit can be given first of all to reduced speeds on our highways and the corresponding result of lower fuel consumption," he said. "In addition, although the statistics are somewhat nebulous, total miles driven in the state were down slightly last year. Also playing a role in the reduction, I would guess, would be the higher mileage car now being produced."

Total fuel consumption for the nation last year stood at 106.7 billion gallons, 3.9 per cent lower than the previous year. The reduction represents the first time since 1943 that the U.S. has decreased fuel use from one year to the next.

On a national scale, California led the way in fuel consumption last year with 10.5 billion gallons. Texas was second with 7.6 billion gallons and New York was third with 5.6 billion gallons. Combined with Ohio, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Michigan, Florida, New Jersey, and Georgia, the top ten fuel consuming states in the nation accounted for over half of the total consumption for the entire U.S.

In addition to the top ten, nine other states, including Minnesota, reported consumption of more than 2 billion gallons of fuel.

Inter-County Group Alloted Energy Funds

Governor's office of economic opportunity received a federal grant of $884,061 Wednesday for emergency energy-saving programs in Minnesota.

Inter-County community council, inc., serving Clearwater, East Polk, Pennington and Red Lake counties, will receive an allotment of $24,000. The majority of these funds will be used to purchase materials for homes to conserve fuel.

Earlier this fall Inter-County community council received a grant of $143,000 from the Upper Great Lakes regional commission that provided employment opportunities for the unemployed that will be coordinated with the above funds to provide a well planned energy saving program for the area.

"With the energy crisis worsening, this money will help the most severely affected people, the poor, to meet their home heating needs," states Ron O'Neal, state OEO director.

Minnesota's 26 community action agencies will direct the programs on a state-wide basis. Each agency will set up an advisory committee including representation from public utilities and fuel dealers, local public officials, and low-income participants.

The programs, which will begin in November, will fund energy-saving home repairs and help in emergencies when homes lack heat or power.

Low-income families and single people, including the elderly, who feel they may be eligible for assistance, should contact a community action agency for information.

Remove Tankers At Fertile; Town Declared Safe

addition was scorched, a number of other homes were charred and blistered and the large glass windows in downtown stores were shattered.

The most incredible testimony to the force of the blast was the propulsion of one of the tankers over a distance of 800 feet in the air. As it landed, it tore out the side of one home (occupied by Michaels), demolished an unoccupied home and a car and came to rest upside down atop another car.

Firefighters from Fertile, Ada, Gary, Crookston and Red Lake Falls were able to control the fire by 2:30 a.m. A foam fire truck stationed at the Thief River Falls airport by the state department of aeronautics was brought to the scene on a stand-by basis by Duane Noel, TRF fire chief, and volunteer-driver Barry Fellman.

By Sunday the tracks were repaired and the overturned tankers were removed. General clean-up of wreckage in the southwest area of the city will continue this week.

Legal Aspects Of Nursing To Be Presented Here

Thief River Falls area nurses are invited to attend a series of telelectures on laws and [illegible] decisions that affect nursing practice. The four-part series will be presented Mondays at 6:30 p.m. beginning November 10 in A-16, A-Section, Northland community college. The local coordinator is Sharon Russell, in-service director, Northwestern hospital.

Topics to be presented include malpractice, licensure, legal implications of common nursing situations, and current issues, concerns and resources.

Registration fee of $23 and applications must be received by the program coordinator, department of conferences, Nolte center, University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, MN 55455, no later than Friday, October 31.

Further information is available from Julia Randell, School of nursing, University of Minnesota, 3313 Powell hall, Minneapolis, MN 55455.

Male household heads working full-time reported the highest weekly earnings average in May 1975—a median of $231, up from $214 in 1974, according to the labor department's bureau of labor statistics.

He was preceded in death by his parents and one sister, Geneva.

Rites Held For Mrs. G. Bakken Of Rural TRF

Mrs. Gilmer (Eleanor) Bakken, 59, of rural Thief River Falls, died Wednesday evening at her home in Numedal township, Pennington county.

Funeral services for Mrs. Gilmer Bakken were held Saturday at 11 a.m., at St. Bernard's Catholic church with Rev. James Bernauer officiating. Interment was in the church cemetery. The Green Funeral home was in charge of arrangements.

Honorary pallbearers were Harold J. Blazek, Lloyd Pederson, Ernest Helgenset, Duane Olson, LaVerne Hamre and Irwin Aaseby.

Serving as active pallbearers were Dale Swenson, Keith Maidment, Joey Maidment, Greg Maidment, Milton Bakken and Wayne LaCoe.

Mrs. Bakken, the former Eleanor Maidment, was born Nov. 17, 1915 in Thief River Falls to Charles and Loretta Maidment. She received her schooling at St. Bernard's Catholic school in this city and grew to womanhood here. On Jan. 31, 1939, she was married at St. Bernard's to Gilmer Bakken. The couple settled in Numedal township, where she had since resided.

Surviving are her husband, two sons: Gary Bakken of Minneapolis and LaVerne of Racine, Wis.; two daughters: Mrs. Gary (Viola) Lambert of Milwaukee, Wis., and Mrs. Stanley (Marlene) Peterson of South Milwaukee, Wis.; 10 grandchildren, three brothers: Kenneth, Kermit and Orville Maidment, all of Thief River Falls, and a sister: Mrs. Rodney (Marge) Severson of Milwaukee.

She was preceded in death by her parents, a sister, Mrs. Ernest (Elvira) LaCoe, and one brother, Raymond Maidment.

Services Today At Gatzke For Mrs. Erik Aune

Mrs. Erik (Bertha) Aune, 87, a former resident of the Gatzke area, who was residing at the Greenbush Community Nursing home, died Wednesday afternoon at the Greenbush community hospital.

Funeral services for Mrs. Erik Aune are being held today (Monday) at 2 p.m., at the United Lutheran church in Gatzke. Rev. Robert Amundson will officiate. Mrs. Glen Larson will serve as organist and the church choir will sing. Soloists will be Jerome Helstad and Miss Beth Aune with Mrs. Jerome Helstad serving as accompanist. Interment will be in the Landstad cemetery near Gatzke. The Collins Funeral home of Middle River is in charge of arrangements.

Pallbearers will be Palmer Lian, Glen Aune, Thorfin Ostby, Walter Lunsetter, Glenn Lunsetter and Arnt Johnson.

Mrs. Aune, the former Bertha Haugen, was born Sept. 27, 1888 in Norway to John and Berit Haugen. At the age of three years, she immigrated to the United States with her parents, who settled first at Flom, in Norman county Minnesota. When she was nine years old, they moved to the Gatzke community.

On Sept. 28, 1912, she was married at Gatzke to Erik B. Aune. The couple lived and farmed in Rollis township, Marshall county, near Gatzke, until the fall of 1972. At that time, they entered the Greenbush Community Nursing home where they have since resided.

Surviving are her husband; three sons: John Aune of Minneapolis, Leiv of Rochester and Bjarne of Fairbanks, Alaska; two daughters: Mrs. Ray (Ragna) Burns of Bethel and Mrs. Philmore (Borghild) Nilson of Thief River Falls; 16 grandchildren, one great-granddaughter, and two sisters: Miss Thea Haugen of Los Angeles, Calif., and Mrs. A. J. (Beatha) Towe of Seaside, Ore.

She was preceded in death by two daughters, six brothers and one sister.

Sina Olson, 87, Once Of Grygla, Dies Saturday

Consolidated net income for Soo Line railroad company during the first nine months of 1975, amounted to $5,469,000 or $2.16 per share, a decrease of 47 per cent over the comparable period in 1974.

The earnings were generated on total revenues of $116,836,000, 13 per cent lower than revenues of $134,573,000 recorded in the same period of 1974.

During the third quarter of 1975, Soo posted earnings of $1,886,000 or $.74 per share, 37 per cent lower than in the third quarter of 1974. Third quarter revenues were $40,050,000, 9 per cent lower than in the comparable 1974 quarter. Although Soo's revenues in July were unsatisfactory, they were substantially greater in both August and September.

"Soo's traffic and earnings were affected by the slowness of the economic recovery and by strikes in major industries, particularly extensive strikes in Canada," Leonard H. Murray, Soo's president said. "Our earnings in the third quarter, however, have shown relative improvement over the first and second quarters which were down 53 per cent and 46 per cent, respectively, over the previous year.

"Soo loaded nearly one million tons of country grain during August and September which is an increase of 88 per cent over the same two months of 1974.

"Evidence continues to indicate improvement is under way in the general economy, and as the recovery intensifies the Soo Line expects to participate fully in this improvement," Murray said.

Minn. Federal Grant Used For Sewage Projects

Minnesota is the only state in a six-state upper-midwest region to allocate all of its environmental protection agency (EPA) federal grant money for sewage treatment projects in fiscal year 1975, which ended last June 30, the Minnesota Pollution control agency (MPCA) said recently.

Cooperation between the state and local municipalities was instrumental in allocating the $64 million in funds. Ohio and Illinois have more than $100 million in unallocated funds. Michigan has over $73 million remaining, and Indiana has more than $38 million. Wisconsin is closest to Minnesota, having about $15 million left.

Six projects in the seven county metropolitan area and one in Duluth received the grant money. Other out-state projects slated by the MPCA to receive money were not granted funds due to the impounding of $6 billion in EPA money by the Nixon administration in 1973. These funds have now been released and will be distributed to municipalities in fiscal 1976. The MPCA has 94 projects on its priority list for 1976 with a total of some $172 million due to be granted in federal funds.

Grant money is primarily used for construction or improvement of sewage handling and treatment facilities in a community. Federal grants provide 75 per cent of the total project costs with the State contributing 15 per cent and the municipality paying the balance.

PROPANE GAS explosion in Fertile at about 11:30 p.m. Wednesday night hurled a railroad tank car about 800 feet through the air before it sheared the edge of one house, completely demolished another house and a car, and landed upside down atop a car and beside a building. The path of destruction can be seen above from the left background to the right foreground. Wesley Michaels, a resident in the first house, was treated for lacerations. Fortunately the demolished house was unoccupied, its owner having vacated a week before the disaster. Debris from the wreckage was carried from the point of impact to the spot where the tanker finally landed.

Drivers Confused About Emergency Vehicle Action

Drivers are sometimes confused about what to do when they encounter ambulances making emergency runs.

There should be no confusion, according to state health commissioner Dr. Warren R. Lawson. "Minnesota law is clear: Pull over as far as possible to the right side of the street or highway, clear of any intersection, and remain there until the ambulance has passed."

The law applies when the ambulance is actually making an emergency run (using red lights and siren) and applies whether the ambulance is overtaking you or coming from the opposite direction.

The same procedure should be observed for other emergency vehicles (fire-fighting apparatus and police vehicles) when they are displaying a flashing red light or sounding a siren.

While there should be no confusion about what to do, drivers at times may have difficulty hearing emergency vehicle sirens, particularly when the car windows are closed and the radio or heater is on. In such cases, the flashing red lights are the only warning to drivers. It is another reason, Dr. Lawson says, that drivers should frequently check rear view mirrors.

Shelly Swanson Is Pictured In National "Scope"

Shelly Swanson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Swanson of Goodridge, was pictured in the November issue of the American Lutheran Church women's national publication "Scope".

Accompanying the photo was a text which reads: "What can a little five-year-old girl do when her mommy and daddy both go deer hunting? Little Shelly Faye Swanson, Goodridge, Minnesota, went to her grandmother's house and asked, 'What can I do today?'

"Wise grandma, who had taken on the LWR soap-making project for her circle, replied, 'Why not wrap bars of soap today?'

"So Shelly, in her blue jeans and cowboy boots, cheerfully whistled a little three-note tune as she put 230 bars of homemade soap in plastic bags and carefully packed the wrapped bars in peach crates to be delivered to the LWR warehouse.

"One hundred and sixty-five pounds of soap is a lot for a little girl to wrap and pack, but it solved her problem of 'What can I do?' and gave grandma (Mrs. Ernest Swanson) a lift too!"

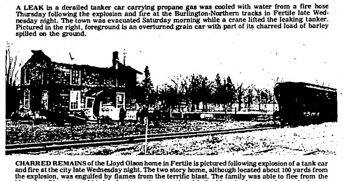
A LEAK in a derailed tanker car carrying propane gas was cooled with water from a fire hose Thursday following the explosion and fire at the Burlington-Northern tracks in Fertile late Wednesday night. The town was evacuated Saturday morning while a crane lifted the leaking tanker. Pictured in the right, foreground is an overturned grain car with part of its charred load of barley spilled on the ground.



CHARRED REMAINS of the Lloyd Olson home in Fertile is pictured following explosion of a tank car and fire at the city late Wednesday night. The two story home, although located about 100 yards from the explosion, was engulfed by flames from the terrific blast. The family was able to flee from the blaze, but Olson burned his hands attempting to extinguish the blaze in the second story bedroom. Pictured at right is a railroad grain car destroyed by the fire.

Safer Halloween Urged By Minn. Dept. Of Safety

While the imaginary ghosts and supposedly haunted houses of Halloween may loom as large perils in the eyes of trick or treat bound youngsters, the very real dangers provided by darkness and drivers should be pointed out to all young hobgoblins before they ever leave home, the Minnesota department of public safety warned recently.

Since daylight savings time ends on October 26, even youngsters who are out early will be faced with darkness, and in order to be safe they have to be seen. This year with Halloween on Friday, traffic will be even heavier than normal for the kids and the importance of safety on the streets becomes even more pressing to the drivers and pedestrians alike.

A flashlight or battery operated lantern will light the way for a child as well as alert the motorist of the child's presence. Also recommended by Public safety is the use of light colored material in costume construction and ample use of reflectorized tape. Used creatively on the costume or accessories, reflectorized tape will enhance a spooky effect as well as insure that a child can be seen.

Just as the youngster must be seen, he must be able to see, and thus masks that interfere with vision and sometimes even hearing should be avoided. Instead, cosmetics or grease paint should be used to create eerie faces.

Public safety also advises that costumes should not be loose, flowing or restrictive of movement. Anything that will tangle up, trip or cause a child to stumble should be avoided. Also, if you buy a ready made costume, check to see if it is fire resistant. If you make a costume, flameproofing can be accomplished by soaking the garment in a solution of seven ounces of borax, three ounces of boric acid and two quarts of warm water.

Before children go out for the night, remind them to cross streets only at corners, stay away from stray animals and strangers, and if possible, stay in the immediate neighborhood.

It's also a good idea to turn on yard lights, front and back, and leave them on until the kids are off the streets. This not only protects the children, but also your windows, which have a tendency to become objects of art through traditional soapings.

Warn Motorists To Be On Watch Against Wildlife

Motorists were urged by the department of natural resources today to be extra watchful during the next month for deer crossing highways.

Fall is the breeding or "rutting" season for deer and the animals move about restlessly from place to place and in the process often cross roads and highways.

The night time hours are particularly dangerous since the deer are more active then and frequently are not seen by drivers until they are in the roadway immediately in front of his or her vehicle.

The DNR said motorists who have an accident with a deer should notify the nearest game warden, highway patrolman or sheriff.

Under the law, the DNR's conservation officers must confiscate the deer and dispose of it according to prescribed regulations.

City Election

Interest should be high in the Thief River Falls city election to be held Tuesday, November 4, with contests for four out of five offices on the ballot. Only Milton Reierson, seeking reelection as alderman from the fifth ward, is unopposed.

Offices for which incumbents are faced with challengers are mayor and aldermen from first and third wards and at large. The election on November 4 will have polls open from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m.

As in prior elections, we will predict what we believe the outcome will be as we look at it from the editor's chair. Again we remind our readers that the predictions are made for comparative interest only, and do not constitute editorial endorsement of candidates who we predict to be winners. We hope the predictions stimulate election interest, encourage voter turn-out and give interested citizens as opportunity to compare their own expectations with what we predict.

Weather can be expected to play a key role in voter turn-out, although it has less effect in an election where interest runs high. We look for about 1,750 voters to go to the polls November 4, slightly more than the 1,627 who voted at the last city election in 1973. Election interest was high at that time, perhaps even greater than this year, but this year's election has voting in one more ward than in 1973.

Mayor Bob Carlson was elected unopposed in 1973 for a two-year term, gathering 1,304 votes. This time around his brother Gary (Doc) Carlson has entered the field as a candidate for the city's top elective post and considers himself to be a serious challenger.

We can't concur with Gary's optimism, however, and we anticipate a margin of 1,150 votes as Bob Carlson is reelected 1,345 to 195. The vote totals are based on the assumption that some voters who didn't bother to vote for mayor two years ago will choose not to do so again.

We foresee the possibility of upsets in two of the races for alderman with only veteran councilman and present council vice chairman Ambrose Wysoski relatively safe in his reelection bid for third ward alderman. This is not to demean the capabilities of Joyce Peterson, Wysoski's opponent, for she is a willing and dedicated worker. We just feel that Wysoski's long standing with the people of his ward won't come to an end this election. We give him a 100 vote cushion.

In another ward race, however, alderman Roger Worth will be given a strong push by Milan Borsheim for the first ward alderman post. Although Worth is the incumbent, he gained a council seat by appointment and has not stood the test of winning an election. Borsheim, a long-time resident of the ward with a strong record of community service, is well-known in Ward I as a hard worker. We'll step out on a limb and pick Borsheim in a squeaker by as few as 25 votes.

For alderman at large another tight race should develop between incumbent Arnold Narverud and Clayton Restad. Narverud is another veteran of council service and perhaps should be expected to win handily. But Restad polled a surprisingly large number of votes in a previous election bid and that exposure, plus his community, school and church activity, should help his election bid. We'll pick Narverud the winner by 138 votes, and that isn't a large margin in a city-wide vote.

And we'll even go so far as to predict that November 4 will be a good November day, partly cloudy with a brisk southerly wind and no reason at all for voters to stay away from the polls. Plan now to vote next Tuesday.

Wilderness, Etc.

There is something about northern Minnesota that kindles a fierce pride among its residents, whether native, long-standing or newly arrived. It is a possessive pride in what we have and in our ability to be right in doing with it as we will. It is a pride that stirs resentment when outsiders criticize our actions or willingly seek to tell us what to do.

Because we possess a certain amount of this spirit ourselves, we rather enjoyed the following editorial which appeared in a recent issue of the Baudette Region:

Wilderness in northern Minnesota has been much in the news lately, what with Congressman James Oberstar's proposed legislation concerning the Boundary Waters Canoe Area and the flap over duck-hunting in the Gold Portage area of Voyageur's National Park.

Oberstar, the freshman DFL congressman from Minnesota's 8th District, is proposing federal legislation that would enlarge the Boundary Waters by some 150,000 acres. Oberstar plans on tempering his legislation, however, by splitting the BWCA into both wilderness and recreation areas, thereby permitting a multiple use concept for the land involved.

Over in International Falls, the federal bureaucrats from the National Park Service are doing a real "look but don't touch" job on the local people concerning Voyageur's National Park.

People from International Falls and Koochiching County have been hunting ducks in Black Bay and the Gold Portage probably since the first residents of the county set up mound-keeping at the confluence of the Bigfork and the Rainy Rivers, and now the National Park Service, to paraphrase the International Falls Daily Journal, has gone up to the mountain and returned with tablets chiseled: "Thou shalt not hunt ducks in Voyageur's National Park."

Both of these cases illustrate a problem that is currently plaguing northern Minnesota and will likely continue to plague northern Minnesota for years to come unless local citizens wake up and get good and mad.

There's a lot of land in northern Minnesota that is owned by the state and federal governments, and it sometimes seems that the bureaucrats in St. Paul and Washington would like to see a fence constructed just north of Highway 2 so the tourists from the Twin Cities, Chicago and points south and east could stop by for a couple of days on their way to Yellowstone and Glacier and groove of the clean air, northwoods and vanishing wildlife.

Only problem is, the way things are going, the most endangered species in northern Minnesota is northern Minnesotans. People live here because they like it in the northwoods, but government regulations are getting to the point where people aren't going to want to live in the northwoods because of the restrictions.

Maybe it's about time we did something about it, and the best solution that we have heard so far is the one being advocated by some folks over in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan and northern Wisconsin: separate statehood.

Maybe if enough people in the northwoods got together and raised a stink, then we could go snowmobiling and hunting where we felt like it—in our northwoods.

Why Don't You . . .?

"These questions and answers have not solved a lot of problems, but at least they should not have created any, which is quite an accomplishment in these times," writes George Clasen of the Garnett (Kansas) Review. His list of questions to editors and their answers are fairly harmless:

Question: Why don't you write an editorial and tell those guys on the city commission what they can do to improve the town?

Answer: Why don't you go down to the next commission meeting and tell them yourself?

Q. WHY don't you print more letters to the editor?

A. Why don't you write me one? And sign it with your name, please—don't be chicken.

Q. Why don't you run more pages in the paper?

A. Because the outgo would exceed the income and then out I'd go.

Q. Why don't you print in color, say red, more often?

A. Our entire supply of red ink is used in the bookkeeping department.

Q. Why don't you have funny papers?

A. We think we have the funniest paper in Kansas already.

Q. Why don't you have an "Advice to the Lovelorn" column, like Dear Abby?

A. None of our readers has any such problems.

Q. Why don't you carry TV reviews?

A. They can pay for their advertising.

Q. WHY don't you run a pin-up picture once in a while?

A. Why not?

Q. Why do you—make so many grammatical mistakes?

A. Cause we ain't never learned no better.

A. Why don't you run recipes?

A. We did and left a line out. Twenty people got sick and cancelled their subscriptions.

Q. Why do you devote space to such trivialities as "Joe Smith entered the hospital this week?"

A. Because good old Joe has many friends who are concerned about his health, even if you're not. And some of them might send him cards which he would appreciate.

Q. Who cares about questions like this anyway?

A. We do.

MINNESOTA REPORT

WALTER F. MONDALE

One of the problems in education that has caused me the greatest concern is the terrible squeeze on middle-income families whose children want to attend postsecondary institutions. Both nationwide and in Minnesota, the greatest decrease in numbers of students in higher education has occurred among these families.

Nationwide, the cost of attending college in the last five years has increased by 42% for public schools and 48% for private schools. They have outstripped the cost-of-living increases. Minnesota private, public and community colleges and vocational-technical institutions deserve great credit for performing well above the national average in holding the line on college costs. Virtually all of their increases have been the result of inflation. However, this fact is small consolation to the middle-class family. In real dollars, postsecondary education, even in Minnesota, costs considerably more than it did five years ago.

To send one, two or three children to postsecondary institutions requires families to find suddenly several thousand dollars a year in extra income. And when middle income families turn to the existing student aid programs, they are told that they aren't eligible for help. Of the students who qualified for the federal government's Basic Grant program last year, only 12% came from families with annual incomes above $12,000. We are in danger of a situation in which postsecondary education will be available only to students from wealthy families or those few lower-income students who are fortunate enough to receive a complete grant and loan scholarship package.

This would be a tragic development. In spite of the attempts of a recent article to show the relatively declining value of a college degree, the facts show that college graduates have significantly greater employment and earnings opportunities. They can expect to earn an average of about $280,000 more in their lifetimes than high school graduates. Almost one-third of this amount will be returned to society in taxes.

For years, I have pushed hard from my position on the Education Subcommittee for increased funds for student aid programs and for regulations that would make them more available to middle-income families. But the unfortunate fact has been that the funds our Subcommittee has authorized have not been included in the President's budget or finally appropriated.

So I am convinced that we must find another way to give some special help to middle-income families burdened with these rising costs. The best possibility seems to be through the tax system. We could provide a credit or a deduction or even a loan through the federal income tax. This break would go to families with children in post-secondary education or to the students themselves, if they are independent. I intend to introduce such legislation shortly and from my position on the Finance Committee, to push hard for its passage.

This bill would recognize the special need that families and students have during this time. It would encourage them to make the investment in post-secondary education. And, I am convinced that that investment provides enormous social and economic benefits which will more than repay the program's cost.

Viking News Of The Week

Mrs. Orville Peters
Thief River Falls, 681-3250

Honored at Party

Mrs. Alton Sackett was honored at a retirement and farewell party Tuesday evening Oct. 21, held at the Viking school. Upon arrival Mrs. Tom Yutrzenka presented Mrs. Sackett with a corsage of fall colored mums, which had been arranged by Mrs. Myrtle Kagg. Tom Yutrzenka, a good customer in the past years and a dear friend was master of ceremonies for the evening. The program began with devotions by Lloyd Ranum, followed by a duet entitled "Follow Me" sung by Jennie Johnson and Betty Blawat with Mrs. Yutrzenka at the piano. Clarence Tangquist a brother of Mrs. Sackett gave a talk and related some experiences from their childhood years on the farm, also what his sister has meant to him and the community in later years. A duet was sung by Tamie and Shelly Anderson a clever arrangement of "Myrtle Do you Have", Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Hjelle also sang a duet entitled "Fathomless Mercy" with Mrs. Hjelle accompanying them on the guitar. Jill Johnson rendered a piano solo and Mrs. Willis Johnson read an original poem which she and Mrs. Neil Knutson arranged for the occasion, Mrs. Sackett was presented with gifts from her many friends and relatives of the community after which she responded with sincere thanks. Rev. Bruce Kallenberg closed in prayer.

The serving table was centered with a fall centerpiece and candles and a very clever cake, a replica of the local Hartz store which the Sacketts had owned and operated for the past 33 years. The cake had been baked and decorated by Mrs. Willis Johnson and Mrs. Tom Yutrzenka and was presented to Mrs. Sackett at the close of the evening.

Mrs. Sacketts daughter, Mrs. Orville Peters of Thief River Falls was also presented with a corsage, she poured the coffee.

Hostesses for the event were Mrs. Tom Yutrzenka, Mrs. Willis Johnson, Mrs. Al Osborne, Mrs. Lloyd Ranum, Hilda Larson, Mrs. David Traun, and Mrs. George Erickson.

The Viking village helped defray the expenses for the occasion in appreciation for what Myrtle has done in the past years.

GULLY . . .

Sunday dinner guests at the Robert Thorssen home were Mr. and Mrs. Con Nybert from Seattle, Wash., Russel Nyberg and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Thorsen.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thorssen were Friday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Johnson, north of Bemidji.

The Teachers proposed to delete all new items not already agreed upon and accept the present contract language for all other non-agreed-upon items if the Board would accept their salary schedule proposal including extra-curricular salaries and cost of living.

A counter-proposal was made by the Board of 10.5 per cent on the salary schedule.

The Teachers revised their cost of living clause to start on July 1, 1976, and not to exceed 12 per cent. The Board countered with an 11.4 per cent increase for two years.

It was then decided the Board would meet as a whole and discuss, with full considerations, the cost of living clause and the possibility of another Mediation date, with paid time off for teachers.

The Board decided to meet on October 6, 1975, at 8:00 P.M. in the SDSC Board Room, after which they would inform the Teachers and the Mediator of their decision.

The meeting adjourned at 7:10 P.M.

Annual "Pneumonia Bowl"

Thief River Falls and Crookston have closed out their respective football seasons against each other every year since 1953. And each year the game has been at the mercy of the weatherman.

Not every Thief River Falls-Crookston game is dominated by the weather, of course. But in most cases, some type of weather factor has played a part in the game, either snow, rain, wind or cold—or a combination of all four elements like we had Friday.

Friday night's game played here and won by the Pirates 12-6 may just go down in history as one of the worst games—weather wise—ever to be played by the Prowlers. The gusty winds, heavy snow and cool temperature made life miserable for everybody—players, fans and officials alike.

One press box observer labeled the yearly Thief River Falls-Crookston bash as the annual "pneumonia bowl." It seems to be an appropriate title, especially after Friday's fiasco.

It's a shame the Thief River Falls-Crookston archrivalry has to be decided by the weatherman, but that's what's going to happen when football games are played in northwestern Minnesota in late October.

Crookston, of course, found some solace in the contest by winning its fourth straight game in the 56-year history of the series. The fine Crookston team finished with a very strong 7-2 season record with only losses to playoff-bound Fargo North 16-14 and Bemidji 14-8 marring its record.

It was a disappointing ending to a disappointing season for the Prowlers who at 3-5 suffered their worst won-lost record since a 2-6-1 mark in 1965.

Much, much better things were expected of the Prowlers this fall. But injuries, probably more than any other one single factor, led to the team's failure to match pre-season expectations.

An assortment of injuries decimated the entire Prowler offensive backfield and took their till on the line at times, too. It's virtually impossible to strive for some consistency when line-ups change continually.

LHS Graduates Star At UND

Lincoln high school graduates were in the news last week at the University of North Dakota in Grand Forks.

Tom Goddard, Lincoln class of '73, made his mark Saturday when he scored two goals and assisted on another to lead the North Dakota hockey team past St. Louis 5-4.

Goddard's second goal of the game came 1:22 into a sudden death overtime period to give the Sioux a split of the season-opening weekend hockey series. St. Louis won 8-1 Friday.

Scott Kays, Lincoln class of '75, starred on the football field for the North Dakota junior varsity Monday when he returned a blocked punt 50 yards for a touchdown against the North Dakota State University.

Kays is a freshman middle guard with the Sioux who has seen spot duty with the varsity this fall. In fact, Kays played for a time earlier when UND beat NDSU in the "real" game—the varsity game—34-17. However, the Baby Bison won the JV contest 50-20.

Nebraska, Smith On TV

Good news for area football fans was revealed Saturday when ABC TV announced plans to televise this week's Big Eight Conference football clash between the University of Nebraska and the University of Missouri.

The good news, of course, stems from the fact the former Prowler football star Kent Smith plays with the Cornhuskers. This will be the first chance for people here to watch Kent in action with Nebraska.

Game time Saturday will be 1:30 p.m. (unless it's changed to an earlier time by ABC). Kent, who is a back-up man in the Nebraska defensive secondary at monster back and is a starter on some Cornhusker specialty teams, will be wearing number 23.

Ken Spaeth of Mahnomen, a third-string tight end with the Cornhuskers will wear number 86

Nebraska, ranked fourth in the national polls is 7-0 for the year following a 63-21 thumping of highly regarded Colorado Saturday. Missouri, who stunned the nation with a 20-7 shocker over Alabama to start the year, is also ranked with a 6-1 record. The Tigers beat Kansas State 25-3 last week.

Pirates Edge Prowlers 12-6 In Friday Snow Storm

Crookston capitalized on a pair of crucial fourth down punt situation misplays by Thief River Falls to eke out a 12-6 Northwest Conference football win over the Prowlers Friday in a game that will be remembered for many, many years because of impossible blizzard-like weather conditions that engulfed the Prowler athletic field.

A 25-mile-per-hour wind swept a wet, clothes-drenching snow across the gridiron as the year's first snow storm put a damper on the 56th meeting between the two age-old rivals. The gusty wind and freezing snow stifled both teams as ice-cold fingers fumbled snaps, handoffs, pass receptions and kick returns.

Crookston, however, overcame the arrival of winter with a pair of first half touchdowns to earn its fourth straight win over Thief River Falls. The triumph finished a strong Crookston season at 7-2 and gave the Pirates sole possession of second place in the Northwest Conference standings at 3-1. Thief River Falls, meanwhile, slipped to 3-5 with the loss and fell to 1-3 in the NWAC.

A high snap from center when the Prowlers were trying to punt on fourth-and-two at their won 34 yard line presented Crookston with the first break of the game and the Pirates quickly capitalized.

Thief River Falls punter Brian Peterson ended up losing 14 yards on the play as he failed to get the kick away after running down the errant snap. Crookston took possession at the Prowler 20 and scored three plays later.

Bob Ranum, the busiest and most effective ball carrier for either team during the defensive struggle, gained five yards on first down and quarterback Joel Rood racked up 10 on the second play for a first down at the Prowler six. Jeff Pester scored on the very next play as he carried would-be tacklers into the end zone on a simple dive play. The two-point conversion try met with failure, but Crookston enjoyed a seemingly big 6-0 edge with 3:32 left in the first quarter.

Crookston expanded its lead to 12-0 just before the end of the first half when another Prowler punt play gave the Pirates excellent field position. This time Peterson got the kick away, but punting out of his own end zone and into the teeth of the brisk northwest wind, the ball traveled but 12 yards to the Prowler 15 with 1:36 remaining in the second quarter.

The Pirates scored in five plays, using all three alotted first half time-outs in the process. Pester scored on a dive play through the middle from two yards out with 24 seconds left. He fumbled the ball as he neared the goal line and it was recovered by the Prowlers, but the officials ruled he had possession when he crossed the goal line. The two-point conversion try was stopped by the Prowlers.

Thief River Falls finally got on the scoreboard late in the third quarter when once again the punt played an important factor. Pester had to punt into the wind this time around, however, and his kick went only five yards to the Pirate 26.

The Prowlers moved the ball behind the running of fullback Bryan Olson who picked up his team's initial first down of the ball game at the Crookston 14 with under five minutes remaining in the third quarter. Nice runs around end by halfback Mike Jury helped moved the ball to the Crookston one yard line where Olson barged into the middle for the touchdown. Officials delayed the touchdown signal for several seconds, though, as they scanned the snow-covered ground for the goal line. The Prowler two-point conversion try came up short, leaving the 12-6 margin with 1:21 left.

Despite the adverse weather, the contest lived up to its pre-game billing for excitement when Thief River Falls threatened to score the equalizer on three different occasions late in the fourth quarter.

Thief River Falls took over possession at the Crookston 38 when a Pirate fourth down gamble came up a half, yard short with just four seconds remaining in the third quarter. The Prowlers moved smartly downfield behind the running of Jury, picking up three first downs and were apparently headed for a fourth when Rood stopped the drive by recovering a fumble at the Pirate eight with 7:27 left.

However, moments later Geoff Dagg of the Prowlers set up another possible tying touchdown by recovering a Crookston fumble at the Pirate 26.

Thief River Falls found yards hard to come by, though, and surrendered the ball when a fourth-and-four try was fumbled away at the Crookston 21. The fumble was inconsequential since a first down was not gained.

Crookston, intent upon making a game of it, kept everyone in suspense once again when the Prowlers' Terry Sullivan came up with another Pirate fumble at the Crookston 39 with 1:53 remaining.

But again, Thief River Falls could not overcome both the weather and the stingy Pirate defense as the Prowlers gained but yards in four plays to turn the ball over with just 16 seconds to go.

Crookston coach Les Drechsel was elated with the win. "I think under the conditions, both teams played tremendous football," said the highly successful Pirate coach. "It's a shame the game couldn't have been played under better conditions. I think the weather probably hurt Thief River Falls more than it did us because of their wishbone. But you have to give them credit, they really stuck it to us in the second half."

Thief River Falls coach Jim Sims had little to say as the disappointing 1975 season came to a disappointing close. "If we would have played with some enthusiasm in the first half maybe things would have been different," he remarked.

Heieren Earns State Spot

Little Falls Wins Cross Country Title

Little Falls stunned heavily favored St. Cloud Apollo Saturday to win the 1975 Region Eight AA cross country team title at Alexandria.

Little Falls placed four runners among the top 10 places to accumulate only 39 points. Apollo finished a distant second with 73 points. However, both Little Falls and Apollo will advance to this week's state cross country meet Saturday in Minneapolis.

Alexandria finished third in the final team standings with 128 points, followed by Bemidji with 133, Thief River Falls 150, Moorhead 163, Fergus Falls 170, Melrose 126, Park Rapids 244, Wadena 254, St. Cloud Tech 259, Detroit Lakes 345, Crookston 369, Brainerd 376 and Sauk Rapids 397.

Although Thief River Falls missed a state meet trip teamwise, Prowler senior Dan Heieren made the state meet field as an individual participant with a fourth place finish at Alexandria.

Tom Pouseno of Little Falls, favored going into the meet, captured the top individual place with a 15:46.5 effort over the hilly three-mile course. Tim Bauer of Alexandria finished second in 16:20.5 and Jim Zupk of Little Falls was third in 16:31.5.

Heieren's fourth place effort was completed in 16:31.6. Prowler coach Russ Smith praised the performance by his co-captain, noting a second place finish could have very well been in Heieren's reach if he hadn't stumbled near the end of the race.

Dale Hastad of Fergus Falls also made the top five list to qualify for a state meet spot with a 16:40 clocking.

Mike Plante of Little Falls was sixth in 16:41, followed by Al Steffens of Wadena in 16:47, Nick Brascugl of Apollo in 16:48 and Gary Walz of Little Falls in 16:52.

There were 105 runners taking part in the region meet.

Other Prowler place finishes included John Albrecht, 25th; Dan Kezar, 32nd; Mike Nessen, 40th; Paul Phelps, 44th; Tony Brosseau, 52nd; and Steve Geatz, 55th.

"I'm extremely pleased with our effort," said Smith. "I don't think we could have run a better race. Heieren, Albrecht, Nessen and Phelps were outstanding—they ran their best races of their careers."

Heieren will run in the annual state classic Saturday at the University of Minnesota golf course in Minneapolis.

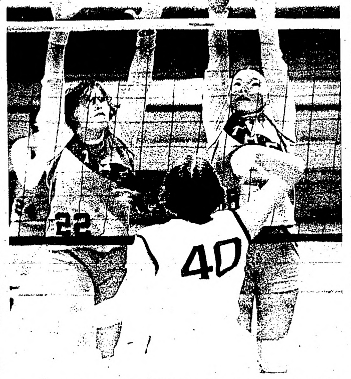
TRF Tips EGF 2-1 Thursday In Girls Volleyball

Lincoln high school girls' volleyball team rallied for a 2-1 win over East Grand Forks Thursday in the Lincoln gym.

East Grand Forks earned a 19-17 first game win before Thief River Falls grabbed an 18-12 triumph in the second contest. The Prowlers then snapped a 12-12 tie in the deciding third game with six straight points to take an 18-12 decision.

Thief River Falls won the junior varsity match 2-0.

Coach Cindy Vennes' Prowlers, 6-5 for the year, close out their regular season schedule this week. Thief River Falls will host Crookston Central tomorrow (Tuesday) and will entertain Fosston Thursday in a pair of 7:30 p.m. matches. B squad action starts at 6:30 p.m. each night.



THIEF RIVER FALLS teammates Jane Achenbach (22) and Reta Rantanen (15) went up together trying to block a spike attempt by Kaley Christianson of East Grand Forks during Thursday's volleyball match in the Lincoln high school gym. Thief River Falls won the match 2-1. The Prowlers are scheduled to host Crookston tomorrow (Tuesday) at 7:30 p.m.

Oklee Blanks Plummer 24-0 To Capture Division Title

Oklee captured championship honors in the North Division of the North Tri County football conference Friday with a 24-0 title-clinching win over archrival Plummer.

Oklee scored single touchdowns in each of the final three quarters to finish the season with a sparkling 7-1 record. Plummer, winner of six straight games to start the campaign, lost its third straight decision to finish at 6-3.

The Bobcats' victory pushed coach Dale Svaren's ball club into the North Tri County Conference championship playoff game this week against South Division winner McIntosh-Winger. The first annual North Tri County Conference playoff game will be played Friday at 7:30 p.m. at Oklee.

The early winter snow storm that struck northwestern, Minnesota Friday obviously played a part in the Oklee-Plummer outcome. "We had planned on putting the ball in the air a little more," said Plummer coach Gary Brantl who disbanded that idea early. "Defensively we played well, but we had to keep it on the ground on offense and we couldn't sustain anything."

Oklee snapped a scoreless struggle midway through the second quarter when Randy Magnell blocked a Plummer punt and recovered in the end zone for a touchdown. Mike LaCoursiere added the conversion points.

Runningback John Larson scored the game-clincher in the third quarter when he raced 40 yards through the snow as the host Bobcats jumped in front 16-0. LaCoursiere again scored the ensuing two-pointer.

Oklee wrapped up the scoring against Plummer reserves in the fourth quarter when Ed Sellers scored on a 20-yard run. Brent Strand scored the conversion.

Plummer managed 169 yards worth of offense as the Cardinals rushed for 142 yards and picked up an additional 27 yards through the air. Quarterback Jerry Fisher completed four of nine passes for 27 yards. Dave Walter caught two passes for 13 yards.

Dan Willett led a strong Plummer defense charge with 10 tackles while Martin Hess and Carl Torkelson were credited with six tackles apiece.

"It was disappointing to lose the North Division title," admitted Brantl, "but looking back on the entire season, I have to say it was a very succesful year for us."

NWAC Round-Up

Bemidji Beats Brainerd 35-8 For Unbeaten Season

Bemidji finished its 1975 regular season schedule with a perfect 9-0 record and Crookston clinched second place in the Northwest Conference standings to highlight Friday night's final week of NWAC football competition.

The Lumberjacks, undisputed conference champions for the second straight year, polished off a perfect regular season with a 35-8 romp over Brainerd. Elsewhere Fergus Falls blanked Breckenridge 20-0, East Grand Forks edged Langdon, N.D. 8-0 and Crookston tipped Thief River Falls 12-6 in the week's only conference game.

Crookston's win over Thief River Falls supplied the Pirates with a second place finish in the NWAC this fall behind Bemidji. The Lumberjacks were 4-0 in league play, followed by Crookston 3-1, Fergus Falls 2-2, Thief River Falls 1-3 and East Grand Forks 0-4.

Bemidji will play a 7:30 p.m. game at Montevideo Friday in the third annual Northwest-West Central conference playoff game.

Bemidji 35, Brainerd 8

Dan Dow and Lee Hanson combined for 297 yards rushing to lead Bemidji past Brainerd 35-8.

Dow rushed for 182 yards and scored touchdowns on runs of 61 and 41 yards. Hanson scored on a 26-yard run. Other Bemidji scores were supplied by Wayne Marty on a seven-yard run and Jeff Eldsmoe on an 87-yard scamper.

Bemidji led 7-0 at the first quarter break, fell behind 8-7 at halftime, but decided the issue with a 20-point fourth quarter after taking a 15-8 third quarter lead.

Fergus 20, Breckenridge 0

Fergus Falls scored 14 points in the second quarter enroute to a 20-0 win over Breckenridge.

Jeff Austin snapped a scoreless tie by recovering a blocked punt in the end zone and Mike Thomas added a one-yard touchdown run in the second stanza. Thomas also scored on a six-yard run in the fourth quarter.

EGF 8, Langdon 0

East Grand Forks capitalized on a ill-fated Langdon first qurter gamble to pull out an 8-0 decision.

Langdon gambled on fourth down, trying to pick up a first down on a fourth-and-five from its own 25 while facing a stiff wind. East Grand Forks' defense stopped the Cardinals on the play and five plays later Green Wave quarterback Scott Selk scored on a one-yard plunge.

Crookston 12, TRF 6

Jeff Pester scored a pair of short yardage touchdowns in the first half to lead Crookston past Thief River Falls 12-6.

Thief River Falls rallied after intermission to pull within 12-6 on a one-yard touchdown run by Bryan Olson, but the Prowlers couldn't score the tying tochdown despite several fourth quarter opportunities.

Plummer Tackle Named To WCCO All-State Squad

Carl Torkelson, a junior at Pershing high school in Plummer, was named Thursday to the latest WCCO radio all-state football team of the week.

Torkelson was named to the Prep Parade squad following his play in Plummer's 20-12 loss to Middle River October 14 when the defensive tackle was credited with 17 unassisted tackles and nine assisted stops. He also picked off a Skipper pass.

Other northwestern Minnesota ball players named to the October 23 all-state squad included Bemidji end Jim Grimm and Mahnomen tackle Bob Spaeth.

Each member of the all-state team will receive a parchment certificate from WCCO radio.

The first homecoming at the University of North Dakota in Grand Forks was held in 1916.

NCC Volleyball Team Competes At Rainy River

Northland community college women's volleyball team competed in a quadrangular meet at International Falls Wednesday, winning one of three matches.

Coach Deb Jacobson's Northland squad beat host Rainy River 2-0, but lost to Itasca 2-0 and bowed to Mesabi 2-0. All three matches were non conference affairs.

Northland will host Vermilion, Itasca and Hibbing at 4 p.m. Friday in the Northland gym.

Bears Tip MCC With Late Score

Bill Gustafson scored on a two-yard run with just two minutes remaining in the game Friday to give Hallock a 14-6 Top of the State Conference football win over Marshall County Central high school at Newfolden.

Wind and snow plagued both teams as fumbles occurred on nearly every series. Newfolden managed only 76 yards worth of offense for the night, with 42 of those yards coming on passes. The Nordics rushed for just 34 yards. Nordic quarterback Jeff Sorenson completed three of seven pass attempts for 42 yards.

Newfolden stunned the heavily favored Bears by scoring first when Sorenson tossed a desperation fourth down pass to Jeff Rokke who hauled in the ball for a 20-yard touchdown in the first quarter.

Hallock tied the game in the third quarter when Denny Nordling broke loose for a 45-yard touchdown romp.

The Bears snapped a 6-6 tie by marching a short Newfolden punt downfield to set up Gustafson's winning touchdown. Blake Sololik iced the game with the two-point conversion.

"We held them under control in the first half," commented Newfolden coach Sam Gebhart. "But the weather favored their type of offense; in fact, we even changed our offense because of the weather."

Gebhart praised the defensive play of tackle-guard Rick Waterworth and middle guard Keith Lindemoen. "Not much you can say about offense in that type of game," he quipped.

Newfolden finished the year with a 3-6 record. Hallock finished 7-2.

Mark Larson Is Elected Curling Club President

Mark Larson has been elected president of the Thief River Falls curling club for the 1975-76 season, it was announced by club officials.

The club recently reorganized its board of directors to include both the men's and women's clubs.

Larson was named president of the organization, Don Liden was elected vice president, John Kotaska was voted treasurer and Fern Liden was named secretary.

Board members of the 1975-76 season include Richard Jorde, Alice Liden, Rosie Worner, Don Omdahl, Lois Simons and Ellen Bottom.

Arrangements for the men's league is being handled by Jon Larson. The fall meeting for signing up for men's league play will be held in November.

Newly remodeled quarters upstairs, including the installation of lockers, will highlight the upcoming season, noted Mark Larson who said the ice will be put in shortly and open curling will be available to the public before the start of the regular league season.

All interested persons are offered use of the facilities. Persons interested in curling should call 681-3202 for information concerning open curling dates at the club.

Agassiz Refuge Open For Deer Hunting Season

Agassiz national wildlife refuge will be open for deer hunting during the month of November in accordance with Minnesota department of natural resources regulations for 1975.

Hunters are cautioned that within the refuge only white tailed deer may be taken. Bears, coyotes, foxes and all other animals are completely protected and may not be shot. Road hunting is not permitted.

The entire refuge will be open to deer hunting except a one mile square area around the headquarters. This zone is marked by closed area signs. Hunting within this closed area is a federal violation.

Hunters may enter the refuge at 6 a.m. daily on November 1 and 2 and from November 5 to November 30. Hunters should plan to be off the refuge by 6 p.m. Camping is prohibited on the refuge but campgrounds are available on the Elm Lake and Eckvoll wildlife management areas adjoining the refuge.

Agassiz's main road system will be open to vehicles but dikes and trails will be closed to all but foot traffic. Snowmobiles, trail bikes and all other off road vehicles are prohibited. Boats may be used on ditches and pools but motors are forbidden within the refuge.

Surveys compiled by refuge staff indicate a deer population camparable to the last two years when the kill was about 350 deer per season.

TRF Swimmers Win Junior High Meet Thursday

Thief River Falls won 11 of 12 events Thursday to defeat Fergus Falls 128-53 in a junior high school girls' swim meet.

Johanna Desrocher and Kathy Dillon were double event winners for Thief River Falls. Desrocher won the 50-yard backstroke in 35.6 and took the 100-yard freestyle in 1:07.8 and captured the 200-yard freestyle in 2:33.4.

Other Thief River Falls winners included Andrea Lia, 1:19.1 in the 100-yard individual medley; Frankl Kuyath, 42.3 in the 50-yard breaststroke; Beth Hallstrom, 31.2 in the 50-yard freestyle; Brenda Lund, 145 points in the diving competition; and Robyn Dallmann, 1:29.6 in the 100-yard breaststroke.

Thief River Falls also won both relay events as Lund, Dallmann, Desrocher and Teresa Ness clocked 2:26.2 in the 200-yard medley relay while Dillon, Beth Hallstrom, Lund and Lia turned in a 2:06.5 in the 200-yard freestyle relay.

Gonvick exploded for 22 points in the first quarter and held off a strong Grygla finish to take a 34-20 North Tri County Conference football win Friday afternoon at Gonvick.

The host Bulldogs capitalized on several Grygla mistakes to finish the 1975 season with a 6-3 record. Grygla slipped to 3-6 with the loss.

Butch Eck scored three touchdowns for the winners, including the first score of the game, a 40-yard scamper to start the Bulldogs' first quarter. The touchdown came moments after a Gonvick pass interception.

Tim Beckstrand ran five yards for the second Gonvick touchdown and Eck followed with a 15-yard scoring run after a fumble recovery deep in Grygla territory.

Doug Erie added a pair of first quarter two-point conversions as the Bulldogs pulled away to a 22-0 bulge.

Grygla scored in the second quarter when Jeff Stanley hauled in a 50-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Gary Satre.

Eck scored on a 20-yard run and Erie caught a seven-yard scoring pass from Rick Fischer as the Gonvick lead mounted to 34-6. The Fischer to Erie pass play came seconds after another Grygla fumble.

Grygla scored the game's final points when Tom Olson raced 40 yards for a touchdown and Satre dived in from the one. Olson also added the conversion points after his third quarter touchdown.

"The breaks beat us," said Grygla coach Jerry Lindstrom who pointed to the fumbles and pass interceptions as the keys to the game's outcome.

Gonvick finished with a healthy 362-174 advantage in rushing yardage. Olson represented most of the Grygla offense with a fine 111-yard rushing effort.

Satre completed four of 12 pass attempts for 72 yards while Fischer was seven for 12 for 50 yards.

Turnovers plagued the Eagles who lost four fumbles and had three passes intercepted. Gonvick lost three fumbles and topped the penalty yardage charts 55-10.

Lindstrom praised his ball club for overcoming the weather factor and the early Gonvick lead. "We didn't give up and we finished the game strong," he said.

Lindstrom singled out Olson and Arlo Hagen for strong games. Hagen was credited with 12 unassisted tackles on defense while Olson complemented his outstanding rushing effort with nine unassisted tackles on defense.

Minnesota DNR Announces Plans To Sell Buffalo

Department of natural resources announced it has six buffalo for sale, in case anyone is interested.

The animals are surplus stock from a small herd of bisons that the DNR maintains at Blue Mounds state park near Luverne. Officials explained that the herd must be thinned from time to time to prevent over-browsing.

The DNR is also offering 12 buildings within the park for sale and removal. The structures were acquired when lands were purchased for the park some time ago.

Included in the buildings are barns, silos, sheds, a granery and a house. A condition of the sale is that the building must be removed from the park.

The buildings and the buffalo will be sold on the basis of sealed bids. The bids will be opened at 2:30 p.m. November 28 in the offices of the state surplus property section, 150 East 13th Street, St. Paul.

GOODRIDGE . . .

Mrs. Ole Stephenson returned home from Northwestern hospital on Tuesday after spending a few days there. She is getting along fine. On Tuesday Mrs. Jesse Vezina visited with her.

Mrs. Jesse Vezina was a visitor and coffee guest at the Irvin Iverson home in Thief River Falls on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Orvin Sunsdahl visited on Thursday evening at the Roy Anderson home.

Susan Anderson brought Mrs. David Hoppe and Adam back to their home at rural Crookston on Monday after they had spent a few days visiting at the Roy Anderson home.

Clearbrook Rips Goodridge 64-0

Mark Larson scored five touchdowns Friday to spark Clearbrook to a 64-0 season-ending North Tri County Conference football win over Goodridge.

Larson scored every one of his touchdowns on an end sweep as he traveled 23, 45, 80, 8 and 40 yards for his six-pointers.

Bruce Bjerke and Mike Anderson added two touchdowns apiece for Clearbrook. Bjerke scored on runs of 13 and 37 yards while Anderson added touchdown runs of seven and 53 yards.

Clearbrook added five of nine two-point conversion tries, including three two-pointers by Anderson.

The host Hornets led 14-0 at the end of the first quarter, went ahead 20-0 at halftime and posted a 36-0 advantage after three quarters.

The loss left the Huskies without a win after nine North Tri County Conference games this fall. Clearbrook finished the year 5-4.

The Friday night snow storm that struck the area dropped three inches of snow on the Clearbrook field and erased most of both team's statistics. "That's the worst (weather) I've ever played a football game in," said Goodridge coach Ken Ewertz.

"The weather definkely affected us," explained Ewertz. "We fumbled the ball away five or six times and we couldn't get anything going on offense. I don't think we even crossed the 30 all night.

Two New Musky Lakes Added By Minnesota DNR

Two more lakes have been officially designated musky waters by the Minnesota department of natural resources, it was announced recently.

The two lakes—Big Lake near Bemidji and Wabedo Lake near Longville—have been designated as musky lakes after DNR officials reviewed testimony received at public hearings held August 13-14.

Two other lakes—South Twin, Beltrami county and Inguadona, Cass county—were also proposed for musky management but were ruled out after considerable local opposition was expressed at the hearings.

Lakes designated by the DNR for musky management are closed to spearing. Fisheries supervisor Charles Burrows said lakes so designated receive an annual stocking of muskellunge but that production of northern pike, which compete with the muskies, is not encouraged.

Designated lakes which have been receiving stockings of walleyes or other game fish will continue to be stocked as before, he said.

By law the commissioner of natural resources may designate a total of 40 lakes or a maximum of 40,000 acres of water for musky management. To date the DNR has designated 22 lakes having a combined total of 26,000 acres.

State DNR Seeks Voyageurs Park Boundary Change

Department of natural resources reports that it has sent a representative to the national park regional advisory committee meeting in Missouri to press for the removal of the Gold Portage Black Bay duck hunting area from Voyageurs' national park.

DNR commissioner Robert Herbst said that David Vesall, deputy director of the fish and wildlife division, will ask that the area, located in Black Bay of Rainy lake, be left outside of the park boundaries so that duck hunters can continue to pursue their sport.

The area, known as "Gold Portage Bay" is one of the very few good waterfowl hunting areas near International Falls. Herbst said hunters commonly travel across more than four miles of open water to hunt there and often put out 50 to 100 decoys.

The bay has good stands of wild rice and other vegetation.

"If duck hunters had other places to go in the immediate area, the closure of the bay would have less impact," said Herbst. "But as it is, the closing of the bay just about closes down duck hunting in the International Falls area."

For more than a year the DNR has been urging the national park service to re-draw the park boundaries to exclude the Gold Portage area.

Minnesota Deer Hunters Faced With Decisions

Minnesota deer hunters face several decisions before buying their license this year, the department of natural resources noted.

"Before the sportsman tells the license agent he wants a deer license issued to him, he should know where he wants to hunt and the days he wants to hunt," said a wildlife official. "Otherwise he will be wasting a lot of time—both his and the agents."

The state is divided up into nine separate hunting zones this year, each with its own restrictions and options. When the hunter buys his license he must inform the agent of the zone in which he desires to hunt and, in some cases, the exact days he wishes to hunt.

"No one should try to buy a license until he has read the hunting regulations and is aware of the various options and restrictions," the official repeated.

"All license agents were given a placard to post which explains the regulations and the information is also contained in the big game hunting synopsis," he added.

Chinook Salmon Eggs Received By State DNR

A shipment of 400,000 spring-run, chinook salmon eggs has been received by the Minnesota department of Natural resources from the state of Washington, it was announced recently.

The eggs are being hatched in the DNR's facility at Lanesboro and will be stocked into Lake Superior through the French, Baptism and Cascade rivers next spring and fall.

It will be the second batch of chinook introduced into Minnesota waters. The first shipment of 600,000 eggs from Idaho were hatched and stocked in 1974. A shortage of eggs prevented the DNR from obtaining any chinooks for stocking in 1975.

Charles Burrows, DNR fisheries chief, said the first chinooks, stocked in 1974, will begin showing up in streams in 1976 but that the bulk of the fish will not appear until 1977.

When they return to the streams where they were originally stocked they will be full grown and nearing their spawning time, Burrows said.

The department will be awaiting this event with great interest since the number of fish returning and their size will give a strong indication of how successful the chinook program will be in the state.

Another salmon, the coho, failed to provide much fishing since only a very small number returned to the strams and their return was so late in the fall that most Lake Superior sport fishermen had put their rods away for the year.

The chinooks being stocked under the new program are from a strain which returns to the stream in the spring or early summer, promising to provide fishing when anglers are active along the North Shore. Further, the chinook lives four years before spawning and dying, unlike the coho which matures and dies in three years.

Burrows said this extra year of life in Lake Superior could make a significant difference in the size of the chinook as compared with the coho.

TRF Swimmers Stun Otters By 125-78

Thief River Falls turned what was suppose to be a close meet into a rout Saturday as the Prowlers won 10 of 13 events to beat Fergus Falls 125-78 in a girls' high school swimming meet in the Franklin middle school pool.

Coach John Hustad's Prowlers will close out their 1975 regular season schedule tomorrow (Tuesday) when Thief River Falls hosts Detroit Lakes in a 4 p.m. meet in the Franklin pool.

Marci Pluth, Deb Williams and Joan Jury all won two events during Saturday's win over Fergus Falls.

Pluth won the 200-yard freestyle in 2:15.8 and took the 100-yard freestyle in 1:01.6. Williams won the 50-yard breaststroke in 36.9 and captured the 100-yard breaststroke in 1:18.6. Jury was first in the 50-yard butterfly in 29.4 and captured the 400-yard freestyle in 4:46.8.

Other Thief River Falls individual wins were supplied by Kathy Omdahl with a 28.1 in the 50-yard freestyle and Jodi Dallmann with 150 points in the diving competition.

Hustad had special praise for his team's relay teams, both first place finishers. The Prowler 200-yard medley relay team of Beth Nichols, Williams, Georgi Desrocher and Omdahl was clocked in 2:07.3. The Prowler 400-yard freestyle relay unit of Shelly Lund, Joy Grant, Pluth and Jury turned in a 4:08.1.

Fergus Falls won three races as Kari Hefte won the 50-yard backstroke in 31.0 and took the 100-yard backstroke in 1:07.5. Gloria Mielke won the 200-yard individual medley in 2:34.

"Everybody swam very, very well," commented Hustad. "They turned in some fantastic times."

Northland Hosts Volleyball Meet At NCC Friday

Northland community college women's volleyball team won two of three matches Friday during a quadrangular meet at Fergus Falls.

All three matches were decided by 2-1 margins as Northland beat both Fergus Falls and Crookston, but lost to Brainerd.

Northland sandwiched 15-10 and 15-2 wins around a 15-13 setback to edge Fergus Falls 2-1. Northland lost a first game 15-11 contest to Crookston, but bounced back to take 15-2 and 15-8 wins. Northland surprised a strong Brainerd team 15-10 in the first game, but bowed 15-6 and 15-7 in the final two tests.

Northland, 5-8 for the year, will act as host to a quadrangular meet Friday when Vermilion, Itasca and Hibbing visit Northland for 4 p.m. matches.

MCC Volleyball Squad Blanks Badger By 2-0

Marshall County Central high school girls' volleyball team blanked visiting Badger 2-0 Thursday to improve the Nordic season record to 4-7 for the year.

Newfolden won the opening game 18-7 behind the six-point serving of Sue Larson and the Nordics took the second contest 18-5 with Colleen Stokke serving six points.

Newfolden also won both ends of the B squad match, 19-17 and 18-10.

Mini-Session Held By Minnesota House

Over 35 committees met recently during the Minnesota House of Representatives' October "mini session." Each month during the interim, the state House holds three days of committee meetings or "mini sessions." The legislature will go back into session January 27.

Highlights of this month's "mini session" included the following:

A special House subcommittee will be looking for answers to more than 100 questions relating to the operation of the Minnesota state fair. In a meeting on October 14, the subcommittee approved a list of questions ranging from the fair's internal operations to financial matters, including profits from concessions.

"We want to look at the state fair board and why the admission price has doubled and concession prices seem so unreasobly high," said Rep. John Sarna (D-Mpls.), subcommittee chairman.

Sarna also said that the subcommittee will invite John E. Libbey, secretary and general manager of the fair, to testify at the next hearing in about two weeks.

Union officials testified against a bill prohibiting labor unions from using members' dues for political contributions at the House elections subcommittee meeting October 16.

Neil Sherburne, secretary-treasurer of the Minnesota AFL-CIO, told lawmakers that the 650 locals around the state voluntarily pay approximately three cents per member monthly in dues to the state organization to finance political campaigns. He said many locals have a procedure under which union members can receive a dues refund if they object to a political contribution.

Sherburne also said that AFL-CIO members make policy decisions at state conventions by a majority vote and members are aware of how much of their dues go for political contributions.

A joint House-Senate committee heard from a number of speakers recently advocating a pay raise for state legislators.

Legislators get $8,400 a year in salary plus $25 a day for expenses for metro members and $33 a day for outstate members. Because state lawmakers cannot raise their pay during their terms in office, any pay raise acted upon in 1976 would not take effect until the 1977 session.

Charles Backstrom, University of Minnesota professor, presented a citizens league report which recommended legislative salaries high enough to allow the average person to serve in the legislature without having to get other work to make a living. The report recommended the dropping of per diem.

Cornell Moore, vice president of the state personnel board, told lawmakers the board recommends an annual salary of $13,500 for legislators with per diem payments cut to $17.50 for outstate members and $10 for metro members. The 1974 legislature created the board to study legislative salaries and to make recommendations on pay raises for state legislators.

The joint committee plans to meet again during the November mini session and may consider specific proposals.

A joint committee on sports stadiums, on October 17, narrowed its choices for study to two proposals. Both proposals would have the Minnesota Vikings and Minnesota Twins playing in separate facilities. Neither proposal includes a multi-purpose domed facility which legislators ruled out as far too expensive.

Sen. Robert North (D-St. Paul) presented the two proposals. He said the first plan remodels Metropolitan stadium for the Twins use and the University of Minnesota's Memorial stadium for use by both the Gophers and Vikings teams.

The second proposal calls for remodeling Metropolitan stadium for the Twins and construction of a new 65,000-seat football and soccer stadium.

The plans estimate remodeling cost of Metropolitan and Memorial stadiums at $22.7 million and the new facility along with remodeling Met stadium at approximately $42 million.

Rep. John Tomlinson (D-St. Paul) said the unanimous vote to study North's two proposals does not rule out other possible plans if the committee receives any practical options in the future.

The House Crime prevention and corrections committee voted recently to subpoena tape recordings and transcripts of interviews with William Thomas Segredi, a Stillwater prison inmate, and alleged informer, who met a violent death in his prison cell.

Counsel for the joint committee that has been studying conditions at Stillwater, Bernard Becker, told lawmakers the tapes "might be a fair amount of hot air," but he doesn't want the investigation criticized for not evaluating all information. He said his staff would review the tapes for relevant information, and the joint committee would have to vote whether or not to release the tapes publicly.

Becker said it was necessary to subpoena the tapes, because the attorney general's office, for its own protection, would not release them to the committee.

A House subcommittee approved two bills during the October mini session relating to the Boundary Waters canoe area (BWCA). The first, Rep. B. J. Philbrook (D-Roseville), author, bans both logging and mining in the BWCA. The second, by Rep. Douglas Johnson (D-Cook) prohibits mining operations and peat harvest in the BWCA.

Johnson told subcommittee members timber is a renewable resource, timber cutting is economically important to the area, and logging should be permissible in the BWCA.

The department of natural resources already bans mining in the BWCA, but there is no state law prohibiting mining. Both bills would put a mining ban into state law.

Challenges High School Policy On Attendance

The Minnesota Civil Liberties union (MCLU) recently announced that it has filed a class action suit in United States District court in Minneapolis challenging the "no-excuse" attendance policy adopted by the Forest Lake school district in 1974.

At issue is the Forest Lake school district policy, adopted about April of 1974, which governed attendance at Forest Lake senior high school and provided:

"Under the no-excuse policy, a student who is absent from class ten times in one semester, for any reason, will be subject to removal without credit. If the student wishes to remain in class, the student must petition the appeals board (which consisted of a counselor, two teachers, and the assistant principal) within three days for an exception to the policy. While the board rules on the students' petition, the student will attend class. If the board rules against the student, the student will be removed from class and scheduled into a study hall.

"If you are not in class, it counts as an absence; you are either in class or you aren't. Field trips, athletic events, illness, helping another teacher, student council and the like are not exceptions to the policy."

Plaintiffs in the lawsuit are twelve present or former Forest Lake students, who were removed from class as a result of the "no-excuse" attendance policy, and the parents of those students. The students represent themselves and all other students similarly situated. Defendants in the lawsuit are the Forest Lake school district; the members of the school board; Bernard W. Bartel, Forest Lake school superintendent; William Rand, principal of Forest Lake senior high school; and Herb Millington, assistant principal of Forest Lake senior high school.

The lawsuit, filed by MCLU volunteer attorneys Richard Lareau and Keith Goodwin, alleges, "The attendance policy and the actions taken thereunder are unconstitutional in that they violate substantive and procedural due process rights guaranteed to the plaintiffs by the Fourteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution."

The MCLU lawsuit further alleges that the policy "is unconstitutional and void by reason of being arbitrary, capricious, unreasonable and oppressive."

The lawsuit further contends that the defendants were advised by their own attorneys several times during the year 1974, both prior to and after the commencement of the school year, that the policy was illegal and unenforceable if contested in court, but that no action was taken to rescind or amend the policy until the summer of 1975.

The MCLU lawsuit further argues that the defendants "knew or reasonably should have known that the actions they took within their sphere of official responsibility . . . would violate the constitutional rights of the students affected, as if they took the actions with malicious intention to issue a deprivation of constitutional rights for other injuries to students."

The lawsuit contends that as a result of the unconstitutional attendance policy, at least 110 students were removed, expelled, or suspended from classes without prior notice and a hearing, in violation of their constitutional rights. "In some cases, the suspension, exclusion, or expulsion without notice or a hearing occurred where a student had only a few days to complete in a course, or needed only one-half credit to graduate," the lawsuit adds.

The MCLU lawsuit further contends that the defendants refused to allow suspended, expelled, or excluded students to re-enter school and enroll in their proper classes, that the defendants refused to restore credit lost or diplomas withheld as a result of the unconstitutional attendance policy, and that the defendants had maintained attendance records based on the unconstitutional policy which are and may be shown to students' prospective employers.

The lawsuit asks that all students' credits lost as a result of the unconstitutional policy be restored, and that the students be allowed to enroll in their proper classes. The lawsuit further asks that students' attendance records by "expunged of all absences recorded as a result of the unconstitutional attendance policy."

The lawsuit further asks $100,000 in actual damages and $100,000 in punitive damages against the defendants for each student harmed by the unconstitutional attendance policy of the school district.

Roseau Clinic Screens 38 Well Children Oct. 16

A total of 38 babies and pre-school children were checked at the 18th pre-school multi-county screening clinic held in Roseau October 16. The clinic was sponsored by crippled children's services of Minnesota, with the local sponsoring groups being the Roseau, Greenbush and Warroad American Legion Auxiliaries.

The clinic provided screening of well children for vision, hearing and other handicapping conditions of children five years of age and under. Counseling of parents was another service. Reports were sent to each child's family physician.

Local volunteers included: Mrs. Dale Erickson, clinic chairman; Mrs. Chris Schwichtenberg, assistant chairman; Mrs. Paul Sabourin, assistant chairman, weights and measures; Mrs. Roland Fredrickson, registrar and appointment chairman; Mrs. Ernest Johnson and Miss Myrtle Peterson, assistant registrars; Mrs. Evelyn Kimball, assistant to Dr. Schnabel; Mrs. Ardell Magnuson, page in charge; Mrs. Richard Bergan and Mrs. Einar Bakken, pages; Mrs. James Wilson, vision and hearing specialist; Mrs. Jeannie Culp, assistant weights and measure; and Mrs. Keith Kilen, assistant appointment chairman.

The first law limiting working hours of women to 10 hours a day was passed in Ohio in 1852, according to "Important Events in American Labor History," a publication of the U.S. labor department.

Lions Plan Two TRF Halloween Parties Friday

Thief River Falls Lions Club will sponsor two halloween parties for city elementary school students Friday.

A party for grades 1-5 will be held in the National Guard armory from 4-6 p.m. Prizes for the best costumes will be awarded, and games, candy and surprises will be offered.

From 6:30 to 10 p.m. a party at Franklin school will be held for grades 6, 7 and 8. There will be no admission after 7 p.m. A chaperoned record hop, a horror movie and ping pong are scheduled, with pizza and pop to be served.

Area Men Are Charged With Killing Moose

A Thief River Falls man and three men from Red Lake Falls are scheduled to appear for arraignment before District Judge Warren A. Saetre in Thief River Falls Thursday in connection with the alleged taking of a cow moose at night during closed season.

Conservation officers of the Minnesota department of natural resources apprehanded the men Saturday about 8 p.m. in Numedahl township about 10 miles west of Thief River Falls. Two vehicles and firearms were seized by the officers and are being held.

Council Approves Raise In Salaries

Acting on a recommendation from its finance committee, the Thief River Falls city council has unanimously voted to raise the salaries of the mayor and the city aldermen. The action was taken during the regular council meeting Tuesday evening in the city auditorium council chambers.

The aldermen's salaries will increase January 1 from $150 to $200 a month. The mayor's increase will be from $150 to $250 a month due to the aldermen's belief that the mayor, as chairman of the council, is entitled to a higher salary.

Carlson said the increase, the first for the council in eight years, was motivated by a desire to achieve parity with the $200 a month salaries paid to the Thief River Falls board of education.

The council took the action at Tuesday's meeting, the final one prior to the November 4 elections, because of a statute in the uniform code of municipalities, which stipulates that no change in salary can take effect until after the next succeeding municipal election. This means that if the council had not acted last night, there could have been no salary increases next term.

In other matters, the council acted favorably on a request by Susan Abbott, Crookston, director of the senior meals and activity program beginning in November at Northwestern hospital, to provide a local site manager for the project. If CETA funds are not available to provide a salary for the manager, the city will temporarily bear the cost at stipend not to exceed $120 per week. The council finance committee has recommended that revenue sharing funds be utilized to pay the manager's salary during 1976.

The council moved to accept the two lowest proposals for the contracting of appraisal services on the property located in the city community development project area. The lowest of the appraisal offers received by city planner Terry Madson were $1,200 from C. R. Pelton and associates of St. Paul and $2,700 from the Gerald Goodlund firm of Minneapolis.

According to guidelines set down by the department of housing and urban development, which awarded the city a $300,000 community development block grant in July, two appraisals are required before the city can enter into purchase agreements with the property owners in the south central development area. Property to be appraised includes the Burlington Northern depot, Falls Farm service and a 40x50 quonset storage shed.

Two planning commission recommendations were considered: The council approved a zoning change on lots 6-29 of Oakville addition from medium and

City Election Tuesday Offers Four Contests

Thief River Falls city election on Tuesday will have four contests among five offices which are to be filled. Incumbents are opposed by challengers for the offices of mayor, first and third ward alderman and for alderman at large. Fifth ward alderman Milton Reierson is unopposed.

As in previous local and area elections, the Times has invited each of the candidates to provide us with an outline of qualifications, background and philosophy which is to be published without charge as a public service. Those candidates who responded to the invitation have their articles published in this issue and the Times encourages voters to read the summaries and go to the polls on election day.

Polls will be open in all five wards of the city from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. on Tuesday. Polling places are located as follows: First ward, Northrop school; Second ward, Masonic hall; Third ward, city auditorium; Fourth ward, Knox school; and Fifth ward, Franklin middle school.

School Board States Its Position On Negotiations

Thief River Falls board of education has issued a statement through its chairman, Clyde Christensen, to explain its position in regard to attempts to settle contract items with the district's teachers. A statement from Don Hejlik, chairman of the local MEA negotiating council, was published in a recent issue of the Times.

The board's statement notes that the current impasse which is resulting in binding arbitration was declared by mediator Warren Sandquist of the state bureau of mediation, rather than by the board of education.

"Minneaota state laws provide for negotiation, mediation and arbitration as an orderly process for school boards to settle contracts with teachers and other union groups," the statement relates. "Settlement by negotiation and mediation require that both parties agree—arbitration does not require agreement.

"The teachers in School District 564 and the school board have agreed to each process as it has been used. Arbitration was requested by letters from the board and teachers groups dated October 9, 1975. The mediator must declare impasse and the mediator must certify for arbitration. He does this based upon his view of the mediation progress."

Items certified for arbitration by Sandquist include economic items (such as salaries, extra-curricular pay, lane change, leave time, insurance and related cost items), class size, transfers, curriculum development, work schedules and individual contract.

The board states that negotiation sessions were held on May 22 and 28, June 10, 19 and 27, July 2, 3, 8, 11, 14, 18 and 31 and September 23 and 29.

"One mediation session was held on October 1 where the board was issued an ultimatum by the teachers to accept a cost of living proposal for the second year of the contract or go to arbitration," the board position paper states.

"The board countered by movement to the 10.79 per cent two-year level of increases on the salary schedule. The board's offer would provide a salary schedule beginning at $8,650 for 1975-76 and $8,850 for 1976-77 and progressing by experience and training available to any teacher to $16,730 for 1975-76 and to $16,930 for 1976-77. The board felt this was s significant movement for continued progress.

"The proposal by the teachers for a teacher's salary schedule would start at $9,400 and make available to any teacher through experience and training a maximum of $18,425 for 185 days, plus a cost of living clause giving them three additional raises during the contract term July 1, 1975, through June 30, 1977.

"The teacher counter-proposal consistes of an offer in excess of 22 per cent for the first year and a single 12 per cent cost of living for second year on the salary schedule, or 32 per cent over the two year period. The mediator asked the board to consider the ultimatum of cost of living. At a public meeting on October 6, the board rejected the proposal.

"The mediator was called by the teachers' negotiator on October 7 and notified of the teachers' position. The board's written position was delivered to the teachers' head negotiator on October 7."

The board notes that negotiations with teachers were opened at the request of the Thief River Falls education association on May 22. The board met with

Roisland And Mosher Vows Exchanged At Oklee

Miss Brenda Irene Roisland and Dwight Floyd Mosher were united in marriage at the Ebenezer Lutheran church, rural Oklee, on Saturday, September 20, at 8 p.m.

The parents of the couple, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Roisland of rural Thief River Falls and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Mosher of Goodridge, gave their children in marriage.

Rev. Max Dietze officiated at the double ring ceremony. Organist was Mrs. William Halbasch of this city. She presented a program of nuptial selections as the guests were ushered in by Gary Roisland of rural Thief River Falls, brother of the bride, and Rodney Mosher of Grygla, cousin of the groom. As the bride was escorted to the altar by her father, Mrs. Halbasch played the traditional wedding march. She also accompanied the bride's cousin, Anita Lang of this city, as she sang "One Love", during the ceremony, and "The Lord's Prayer," following the exchanging of the vows. While the last selection was sung, the bride and groom participated in a special candlelighting ceremony, signifying the couple's separate lives totaly uniting as one.

The bride was attired in a floor-length gown of polyester crepe with a fitted bodice featuring long, full sleeves of a flocked polyester sheer. Her deep V-bib was outlined with a ruffle of the same flocked sheer. Daisy trim complemented the high neckline, bodice and cuffs. Her softly flared skirt flowed back into a cathedral-length train. Creating back interest was a triple-tiered, cathedral length veil held in place by bands of daisies. She carried a bouquet of white carnations, blue strawflowers and babies' breath accented with blue ribbon loops and flowing streamers.

The bride's attire, which was made by her mother, also included the traditional old, new, borrowed and blue theme.

Attending the bride as matron of honor, was her sister, Mrs. Barbara Helm of Thompson, N.D. Bridesmatron was Mrs. Doreen Larson of this city, a sister of the groom. Their identical gowns, made by their mothers, were fashioned in princess silhouette of a teal blue crepe in a floral print, with square necklines and elbow-length, puffed sleeves. Accenting their gowns were white picture hats with long ribbon streamers matching their gowns. They carried nosegays featuring a solitary white chrysanthemum with white lace and teal blue ribbons. Their necklaces were gifts from the bride. The bride' personal attendant was Rachel Tipton of rural Thief River Falls, a friend. She was presented with a blue carnation corsage trimmed with blue lace and ribbons.

Attending the groom as best man was Greg Roisland of rural Thief River Falls, a brother of the bride. Groomsman was Bruce Larson of this city, brother-in-law of the groom. All the men of the wedding party wore knit, single breasted sports coats with corresponding knit slacks. The groom's boutonniere was a red rose. His attendants and ushers had white carnations pinned on their lapels; and the fathers' boutonnieres were blue carnations.

The mother of the bride was attired in a blue double knit, floor-lenth gown fashioned in princess style with long tapered sleeves. The groom's mother wore a two-toned aqua patterned single knit, floor-length gown, fashioned with a fitted bodice, long, straight sleeves and a softly gather skirt. The mothers' corsages were white orchids with accents in blue and green, respectively.

Honored guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Fjeld of Goodridge, maternal grandparents of the bride, Mrs. Dreng Roisland of Thief River Falls, paternal grandmother of the bride, and Mrs. Edna Erlandson of Fargo, N.D., maternal grandmother of the groom. Each was presented with a white carnation corsage centered with a red rose and accented with blue trim. Unable to attend the ceremony was Mrs. Erma Mosher of Thief River Falls, the groom's paternal grandmother.

A reception in the church parlors followed the ceremony. To correspond with the bride's chosen colors, the dining area was draped with blue and white streamers complemented by white wedding bells. Teal blue ruffled netting surrounded the punch bowl. Highlighting the serving table was a five-tiered wedding cake, iced in white and trimmed with blue flowers. Double wedding ring emblems graced the top tier and the names of the couple were inscribed in blue on the fourth tier. Topping the cake was a gold Christogram. The cake was baked and decorated by Mrs. Oscar Houske, a friend of the bride's family. At the base was a traditional groom's cake, baked and decorated by the bride's aunt, Mrs. John Lang of this city. Mrs. Lang and Mrs. Ben Mosher of Tower, aunt of the groom, were in charge of cutting and serving the cakes.

Pouring coffee were the bride's and groom's godmothers, Mrs. Marvin Roisland of rural Thief River Falls, who is also an aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Edna Erlandson of Fargo, N.D., the groom's grandmother.

Serving as reception host and hostess were Mr. and Mrs. John Wettestad of rural Thief River Falls, uncle and aunt of the bride. At the guest book was Sherry Westerlund of Minneapolis, a cousin of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Randy Burrell of Thief River Falls ladled the punch.

Lee Hanson of Fargo, N.D., and Ricky Mosher of Grygla, cousins of the groom, distributed the rice packets. Waitresses were Janet Roisland of rural Thief River Falls, Mrs. Tom Kolstoe of Oklee, cousins of the bride, Mrs. Martin Wedul, Mrs. Dave Wilde and Mrs. Myles Swanson, friends of the bride's family. At the gift table were Mrs. Roger Westerlund of Minneapolis, aunt of the bride, Mrs. Hillard Johnson of Granite Falls, aunt of the groom, and Cindy Mosher of Tower, cousin of the groom.

The couple is now living on their farm near Grygla. The bride is a graduate of Lincoln high school and is presently employed by the Grygla Cafe. The groom, a graduate of Goodridge high school, is employed by Schmidt Farms.

The Veterans Administration's National Cemetery System consists of 103 cemeteries. Plans call for four new cemeteries in fiscal year 1976.

Mary Jane Langlie And Thomas M. Seaworth Wed

Miss Mary Jane Langlie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Langlie of this city, became the bride of Thomas Michael Seaworth, son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Seaworth of Bismarck, N.D., at a recent evening ceremony at the United Methodist church in this city.

Officiating at the ecumenical double, ring ceremony were Rev. Jonathan Law and Rev. James Bernauer, priest of St. Bernard's Catholic parish. At the organ was Mrs. Sherman Idso. She played Beethoven's "Hymn To Joy" and Wagner's "Bridal March," as the processional, and Bach's "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring," as the recessional. Mark McLaurin, fraternity brother of the groom, sang "Wedding Song," "For Bobbie," "Annie's Song," and "The Lord's Prayer."

For the ceremony, a basket of yellow gladioli graced the center altar. Candelabras graced both sides of the chancel and candles in hurricane lamps, decorated with greenery and blue ribbon bows, marked the aisle.

The bride was given in marriage by her parents. She was attired in a floor-length gown featuring a tucked voile bodice with lace trim at the high neckline, on the long, full, cuffed sleeves, and at the fitted waistline. Lace motifs and matching trim graced the full skirt enhanced by a deep flounce and flowing train. Her double-tiered, fingertip veil of bridal illusion was held by a modified profile headpiece. She carried a bouquet of yellow daisies, white carnations, and babies' breath with ivy streamers.

Wearing similar attire, only in yellow voile, were the bridesmaids: Shelly Langlie, sister of the bride, Susan Greenwood of Jamestown, N.D., sorority sister of the bride, and Patty Langlie, another sister of the bride. Complimenting their attire were bouquets of white daisies and babies' breath.

The groom was attended by his brothers: Pat Seaworth of St. Louis, Mo., as best man, George H. Seaworth, Jr., of Camp Hill, Pa., John of St. Louis, Mo., and Tim of Bismarck, as groomsmen. Serving as ushers were Brad Meland of Northwood, N.D., Dan Allen of Hillsboro, N.D., fraternity brothers of the groom, and Tom Falck of Buchanon, N.D., a friend. All wore light blue tuxedos with yellow ruffled shirts, blue bow ties and yellow carnation boutonnieres. The groom's attire was a white tuxedo with white ruffled shirt and a light blue bow tie and carnation boutonniere.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Langlie selected a floor-length gown of deep blue knit crepe fashioned with a collared V-neckline, fitted waistline and long sheer sleeves. At the neckline, she wore a silver and turquoise pendant necklace. Her corsage was of yellow daisies. The groom's mother wore a gown of mint green knit featuring a V-neckline, long sleeves and a softly draped bodice that gathered into a silver and rhinestone decorative band at the empire waistline. Her corsage was composed of white daisies.

A reception in the church parlors followed with Roberta Bothman and Jeff Rostberg, friends of the couple, as hostess and host. Connie George was at the guest book and Joyce Volk served the punch. Both are sorority sisters of the bride.

Highlighting the serving table was a five-tiered wedding cake with a flowing fountain with blue water. Topping the cake was a cluster of fresh yellow daisies, white carnations and babies breath, together with the same bride and groom ornament that had topped the cakes at the wedding of the bride's parents, and at the 50th wedding anniversary of the bride's grandparents. The cake was cut and served by Barbara Peterson and Treasure Omdahl, cousins of the bride. Pouring were Minnie Knight and Verna Langlie, aunts of the bride.

Waitresses were Patty Tunberg, Brenda Laidley and Sue Anne Goddard. Judy Johnson, sorority sister of the bride, presided at the gift table. She was assisted by gift bearers Kris and Rolf Peterson, Karl Bjorkman and Brian Seaworth.

For traveling on the wedding trip to the Detroit Lakes area, the bride wore an ivory three-piece pants suit with navy blue accents.

The couple is now at home at 500 Tulane Drive, apartment 106, Grand Forks, N.D. The bride is a graduate of Lincoln high school and the University of North Dakota. She is on the faculty of Central Junior high school in East Grand Forks, where she teaches girls physical education. The groom is a graduate of St. Mary's at Bismarck and the University of North Dakota. He is continuing his education at UND.

WCTU Discuss Identity; Support Astronauts' Rights

"Identity, Who Am I?" was the theme of the October meeting of the Alice Mae Stuart Thief River Falls Women's Christian Temperance Union held at the Benhard Wold home.

Leading the devotional meditation was Mrs. Earl Ripley. She was assisted by Agnes Longren, who read Josh. 22:5 and 24:14-17 and Geneva Overum, who read I Cor. 6:20 Mrs. Ripley stated that "since we were bought with a price, we should glorify God in body and in spirit. She also admonished everyone to follow Joshua's five-point advice: to love the Lord, your God; to walk in all His ways; to keep His commandments; to cling to and unite with Him; and to serve Him with all your heart, soul and life. She also warned that unless America repents she will fall just as every nation that has succumbed to sin and debauchery has fallen. She concluded by repeating "We are not our own, we have been bought with a price," I Cor. 6:20.

Several prayers followed the meditation. Mrs. Valborg Hanson read the secretary's report and Mrs. Olga Larson, the treasurer's report. A sample letter to the National Aeronautic and Space Administration, Manned Space Craft center, Astronauts' office, Houston, Tex., was read by Mrs. Arnold Berg. The letter supported the astronauts' right to publicaly read the Bible while in space. Mrs. Otto Netteland read a letter from Mrs. R. B. Westacott of Grand Forks, a former member of the unit, and Mrs. Hildur Lian "My Daily Creed," a clipping which Mrs. Westacott had enclosed in her letter.

A number of clippings brought by Mrs. Marian Green were also read. Geneva Overum read "Most Harmful drug—six out of 10 say Alcohol," Mrs. Arnold Berg read, "Non-smoker to weed fiend," Mrs. Valborg Hanson read "Drunken Driving arrests doubled in 1974" and Agnes Longren read "Grade School Suckers," and the clipping from the Times, "Pre Breath tester aids patrol in quest for violators."

Copies of literature distributed to the libraries at Lincoln high school, Northland community college and the City Public library, were examined. Included were pamphlets "What everyone should know about alcoholic beverages", "Double Danger, Drugs and Alcohol", "Restrictions", and "An open letter to Bill, the Bartender." Copies of "The Church around the World," were distributed by the hostess.

The meeting began with signing birthday cards for Mrs. Hilda Wilson and Mrs. Olga Larson and good-cheer cards for a number of shut-ins. Several choruses were also sung.

Guests attending the meeting were Mrs. Sigrid Gribstein and Mrs. Arthur Stenseth.

The next meeting of the WCTU will be held November 14 at Our Savior's Lutheran church with Mrs. Otto Netteland and Mrs. Hildur Lian as hostesses.

If the Shoe Fits.
More on good shoe fitting.
As stated last week, the start of a good fit is to have the ball of the foot exactly in the widest part of the shoe. This will assure an excellent inside arch fit with adequate toe room. With an appropriate measuring device, we can measure both heel-to-toe length and also heel-to-ball of the foot length. In most cases the heel-to-ball measurement translated into shoe length will show a larger size. A size 6 heel-to-toe measure may read a 6½ or 7 on the heel-to-ball measure. It is most appropriate to fit with the larger 6½ or 7.
This will also insure a person with weak arches plenty of toe room. A weak arch foot spreads out abnormally when pressure is applied. When we take this heel-to-ball measurement, we shoe fitters have to consider if a person has a long arch-short toe combination, or a short arch-long toe, or any other unique combination. In some cases a person will measure a size 7 heel-to-toe but only a size 6 heel-to-ball. In such case, the shoeman should select a last of shoe which has a long 'vamp' for accurate fitting. You can begin to understand the need for training and experience in shoe fitting if the customer is to be properly fitted and avoid foot troubles.

BPW Week Is Marked By Two Special Events

Business and Professional Women's week, observed nationally October 19-25, was noted locally with two events sponsored by the Thief River Falls BPW club.

The first event was a Working Girls luncheon held Tuesday noon, October 21, at the Elks club rooms with over 300 attending. Among those present were a number of husbands of the members, employers, employees and a large number of guests.

During the luncheon, State President-elect Norma Hanson spoke to the group, listing the importance of membership in the organization. Clarice Collins, who was chairman of the luncheon, welcomed the guests and also expressed her appreciation to everyone for attending. The history of the club was given by JoAnn Wedul. All extended invitations to join the club stating that further information is available from any officer or member of the organization.

Members of the local club planning the luncheon, in addition to Mrs. Collins, were Myrt Wilson, Jan Kramer, Gelene Peltier, Inga Shetler and Dolores Johnson. They were assisted at the luncheon by Gwen Brooten, Myrnell Brusegaard and Norma Hanson.

The Bicentennial theme was used in decorations. As the guests arrived they were presented with favors provided by Wilson Brothers, Coast to Coast, Pepsi Cola, First Northwestern State bank and Northern State bank.

The second event sponsored by the BPW club was the seventh annual membership drive for the Northern Blood bank that was conducted on Thursday. This year, memberships were accepted at two locations. At the sign-up at Northland Community college, held from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m., 42 members were accepted. Sixty-five signed up at the City auditorium between the hours of 3 to 9 p.m.

Co-chairmen of this community project were Myrt Wilson and Inga Shetler.

Medical technologists from Northwestern hospital who provided their services were Elaine Krueger, Carol Chervestad and Dave Mugaas. Laboratory technicians were Donna Berdini, also of Northwestern hospital, and Shirley Johnson of the Falls Clinic.

BPW members who assisted with completing the membership forms and answering questions were Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Shetler, Lydia Dahlen, JoAnn Wedul, Myrnell Brusegaard, Jan Krammer, Gloria Bugge, Clarice Collins, Eileen Horejsh, Dorothy Bergman, Verna Kaisler, and Connie Ferber.

Rites Set At Terrebonne For Bertha Yves

Mrs. Bertha St. Yves, 88, of Red Lake Falls died Monday at the Bethesda hospital in St. Paul.

The Liturgy of the funeral for Mrs. Bertha St. Yves will be offered Thursday at 10:30 a.m., at St. Anthony's Catholic church in Terrebonne with Rev. Keough Patnode officiating. Interment will be in the church cemetery.

Pallbearers will be Roland and Joseph Boucher, Kenneth and Walter Gervais and Edward and Ted St. Yves.

The body is reposing at the Petterson Funeral home at Red Lake Falls.

Mrs. St. Yves, the former Bertha Caillier, was born June 15, 1887 at Gentilly to Joseph and Hedwig Page Caillier. She was married July 23, 1907 at Gentilly to Edward St. Yves. They farmed near Terrebonne. Following the death of her husband in 1945, Mrs. St. Yves farmed with her son, Wallace, for a number of years before moving into Red Lake Falls. For the past six years, she had lived in St. Paul.

She was a member of the Sodality of St. Anne.

Surviving are four sons: Wallace St. Yves of Red Lake Falls, Paul of Seattle, Wash., Armond of Osseo and Oliver of Toledo, Ohio; seven daughters: Mrs. Modest Gervais of St. Paul, Mrs. Clifford (Noela) Larum of Crookston, Mrs. Tony (Bernice) Kuchan and Mrs. Clifford (Jean Nordlander, both of Seattle, Wash., Mrs. Henry (Ella Mae) Weiss of Oxnard, Calif., Mrs. Rene (Marietta) Sauve of Vancouver, Wash., and Virginia St. Yves of Fergus Falls; 39 grandchildren, 52 great-grandchildren, and three great-great-grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by five sons, four brothers and two sisters.

Services Held On Tuesday For Sina Olson, 87

Funeral services for Miss Sina Olson, 87, of Thief River Falls and formerly of the Grygla community, were held Tuesday at 2 p.m., at the Belmont Funeral home. Miss Olson died Saturday afternoon at Oakland Park Nursing home.

Rev. Harold Peterson, chaplain at Northwestern hospital, officiated at the services. Mrs. Elaine Idso was the organist and Mrs. Arnold Hammer, the soloist. Interment was in the Valle cemetery, near Grygla.

Pallbearers were Palmer Sandsmark, Clifford Sandsmark, Alfred Sorenson, Manuel Hanson, James Teigland and Alfred Landro.

Sina Olson was born March 20, 1888 in Trail County, North Dakota to Colben and Anna Olson. She moved with her parents to Minnesota and lived for a short time in Norman county. In 1902, she moved with the family to the Grygla area where they farmed. In addition to assisting with the work on the farm, she also worked for some time as central operator for the cooperative telephone company in that area.

She was the last member of her family. Her only survivors are nieces and nephews.

She was preceded in death by her parents, six brothers and four sisters.

Mrs. Netterlund Services Held At Karlstad

Mrs. Carrie Eugenia Netterlund, 80, of Karlstad, died Wednesday morning, October 22, at the Karlstad Memorial hospital. She had been in failing health for the past several months.

Funeral services for Mrs. Carrie Netterlund were held Saturday at 10 a.m., at the Karlstad Baptist church with Rev. Harley Wheeler officiating. Vocal selections were by Rev. and Mrs. Curt Thompson and Rev. and Mrs. Leon Andersen. Mrs. Avis Netterlund served as organist and accompanist. Interment was in the Karlstad cemetery with the Collins Funeral home of Karlstad in charge of arrangements.

Honarary pallbearers were Bert Germundson, Kenneth Germundson, Allen Olson, Vernon Johnson, Morris Netterlund and Stanley Swanson.

Serving as active pallbearers were grandsons: Wayne, Leland and Ricky Netterlund, and Tim, Steve and Brian Anderson.

Mrs. Netterlund, the former Carrie Eugenia Bystrom, was born Nov. 5, 1894 in Douglas county, near Alexandria, to Markus and Anna Bystrom. At the age of 13 years, she moved with her parents to Huss township, Roseau county, near Strathcona. There she attended school and grew to womanhood. On March 16, 1915, she was married at Strathcona to Markus Netterlund. Following their marriage, the couple farmed in Deerwood township, Kittson county, near Karlstad. After the death of her husband in 1947, Mrs. Netterlund continued to live on the farm until 1954, when she moved into the city of Karlstad.

She was a member of the Karlstad Baptist church, was active in a variety of church affairs, and was also an active member of the Karlstad Senior Citizens group.

She is survived by two daughters: Mrs. Joe (Agnes) Field of Stephen and Mrs. Leslie (Ruth) Anderson of Karlstad; three sons: Swen Netterlund of Stephen, Rudy of Roseville and Mancer of New Brighton; 20 grandchildren, three great-granddaughters, and several nieces and nephews.

In addition to her husband and parents, she was preceded in death by three sons, two brothers and two sisters.

David Toren Rites Held At Middle River

Funeral services for David Toren, 73, of Middle River, were held Tuesday at 2 p.m., at the First Lutheran church in that city. Toren died Thursday evening at Northwestern hospital. He had been in failing health for the past six weeks.

Rev. Donald Fredine officiated at the services. Mrs. Richard Luoto was the soloist and Mrs. Floyd Peterson, the organist. Interment was in the Spruce Valley cemetery, near Middle River. The Collins Funeral home of Middle River was in charge of arrangements.

Pallbearers were Clarence Smith, Elmer Korpi, Anneus Nelson, Myron Sorter, Otto Anderson and Art Moen.

David Toren was born Jan. 14, 1902 in Spruce Valley township, Marshall county to John and Christine Toren, now deceased. He attended the Monroe school and grew to manhood in Spruce Valley township, where he lived and farmed until his death. He never married.

He is survived by one sister, Miss Emelis Toren of Middle River, and a number of nieces and nephews.

He was preceded in death by two brothers.

Services Friday At Grygla For Albert Moe, 84

Funeral services for Albert Moe, 84, of Grygla, who died Sunday at his farm home, will be held Friday at 2 p.m., at the Grace Lutheran church.

Rev. Leland Uden will officiate at the ceremony. Vocal music will be provided by Mrs. Roy Nordby and Mrs. Rodney Anderson. Mrs. Nordby will be the organist. Interment will be in the Valle cemetery.

Pallbearers will be Arnold Stanley, Adolph Erickson, Vernon Nelson, Orvis Nordby, Ray Warne and Lawrence Neuschwander.

The body will repose at the Green Funeral home from Thursday noon until Friday morning and at the church for one hour prior to the time of services.

Albert Casper Moe was born Sept. 21, 1891 at Gary to Nels and Anna Moe, now deceased. At the age of nine years, he moved with his parents to Germantown, east of Thief River Falls. There he attended school and was confirmed. In 1910, he moved with the family to Grygla.

He was united in marriage to Emma Cuno on Nov. 7, 1928 at Warren. The couple settled on a farm near Grygla, where he had since resided.

Moe served for a time on the township board and school board. He was also selected as honorary dairyman in 1953.

He was a member of the Grace Lutheran church in Grygla.

Surviving are his wife, three sons: Leonard and Edward Moe of Grygla, and Alec of Thief River Falls; three daughters: Mrs. Orville (Violet) Diesen of Wannaska, Mrs. Robert (Marion) Anderson of Cocoa Beach, Fla., and Mrs. Allan (Linda) Carlson of Pencer; 24 grandchildren, one great-grandchild; two sisters: Mrs. T. O. (Norma) Lien of Oklee and Mrs. Joe (Nora) Lardy of Minneapolis; and one brother, Ivan Moe of Phoenix, Ariz.

He was preceded in death by two sons, three brothers and three sisters.

The first minimum wage act for women and minors was adopted by Massachusetts in 1912, according to a U.S. labor department publication, "Important Events in American Labor History."

THERE'S A CHANCE THAT YOUR PROPERTY TAXES ARE GOING TO GO UP AGAIN NEXT YEAR.

But do you realize that the city's portion of your total tax bill is only 18%? That the city's portion of your tax bill will be up only about 1%? And that any other increases in your total tax bill will come from county and school board requirements?

Well, it's true. And that's a credit to Roger Worth, and the other hard-working members of your current City Council. They've kept costs down, and tax increases to a minimum - even in these inflation years.

For the past two years, Roger Worth has been a member of that City Council. He's a businessman and from the record, he's had a big role in helping keep the city's costs down and your tax increases to a bare minimum.

That's why Roger Worth should remain the City's First Ward Alderman.

Works By Two Artists Now On Display At NCC

Northland community college's art department is presently sponsoring a double art exhibit which includes paintings by Jim Verdoorn, a prominnent Minnesota regionalist and woodcuts by Pat Dunning, a local artist.

The art works are on public display, at no charge, in the art wing and halls of Northland college through November 14 during the hours of 8 a.m. to 9 p.m., Monday through Friday.

The Verdoorn exhibit is broken up into three parts. Indian mythology, as one part, deals with a variety of ideas about the Indian and his beliefs depicted by a white artist. Verdoorn also uses symbolism in many of his paintings. For example, the use of a red coin conveys a specific idea. Why a coin? According to Verdoorn it represents history, geography, economics, art and many related subjects. He felt because coins represent value and a means of exchange, it would serve as a way to express an idea of tangibility, mythology or philosophy.

The other two parts of the exhibit include the lecher which reprewents debauchery and abstract landscapes depicting northern Minnesota.

The Pat Dunning woodcuts deal with the parable of the sower Matthew thirteen, showing the growth of the kingdom of God among men. Of special interest is a cut relating to the story of the sower who planted seeds in different kinds of soil. Pat has made four woodcuts depicting different segments of the story such as 1) "The Seed in the Pathway", 2) "Seeds in the Rocks", 3) "Seeds in the Thorn", 4) "Seeds in Prepared Ground". Two other prints depict the dove of the Holy Ghost and violas.

Dozen Vehicles Damaged In TRF Auto Accidents

Four cars were totaled and $2,650 damage was estimated on a total of eight other vehicles from automobile accidents reported to the Thief River Falls police department within the last week.

At 12:08 p.m. Tuesday, October 21, Steven Solney of Thief River Falls was traveling west of Third street and Dennis Wegge of the city was driving south on Main avenue when the vehicles collided at the intersection. Damage was estimated at $150 to the Solney car and $200 to the Wegge vehicle.

At 12:45 p.m. the same day, Lillie Ulvin of the city was driving east on Second street and Dale Holtan, TRF, driving a truck, was traveling north on Knight avenue when the vehicles collided. The truck struck the Ulvin car in the right side, causing it to spin around, but no injuries were reported. The Ulvin car was totaled, and the truck was not damaged.

Arlie Engelman, TRF, was entering Third street from the Knight avenue lot and Mrs. Sander Joppru of the city was traveling west on Third st. at 3:58 p.m. Friday when the cars met. Estimated damages were $200 to the Engelman car and $100 to the Joppru vehicle.

At 4:45 p.m. that day, Jerry Fessler, TRF, was driving west on Third st. and Mrs. Roger Brandt of the city was traveling north on Atlantic av. when the cars collided in the intersection. Damages were estimated at $300 to the Fessler car and $200 to the Brandt vehicle.

Saturday at 7:55 p.m., Christopher Biegner, TRF, turned off James street into St. Paul avenue and struck a parked car owned by Jim Erickson of the city, which was pushed into another parked car owned by Erickson. One of the Erickson cars was totaled and the other received an estimated $500 damage. An estimated $1,000 damage was reported on the Biegner car, owned by Mrs. Gertrude Kuver of the city.

At 3 a.m. Sunday, Jeffrey Johnson of the city was traveling east on Mussey st. and Wesley Simmons of Middle River was driving north on Merriam av. when the cars collided at the intersection. The impact of the crash pushed both vehicles on the lawn of 204 Merriam n., with the Simmons car striking a birch tree. Both cars were totaled, and $250 damage was estimated on the birch tree.

In other incidents, three male juveniles, ages 5, 10 and 12, were apprehended Monday, Oct. 20 for allegedly breaking windows at the Sophie Osness and Willard Sletten residences Oct. 16. The American Legion club reported the same day that the sign which read "American Legion Post 117," designed by James Cuppett of Thief River Falls and donated to the club, was taken from the club entry. The loss was valued at $100.

Burlington Northern reported Tuesday, Oct. 21 that damage had been committed on push cars parked near Fifth st. w. Damages were estimated at $30 to one car and $4 to the padlocks holding the cars.

The same day, a local store apprehended Lila Kauppila, 52, of the city for allegedly shoplifting some meat valued at $2.97. Simon Lahlum of the city reported his tires had been slashed while his car was parked on the 300 block of LaBree av. N. Damage estimated at $75 was reported.

In one of four incidents reported Wednesday, Oct. 22, Thomas Motors reported that a break-in during the night caused $20 damage but nothing was believed taken. Farmers Union Oil Co. was broken into during the night, causing $10 damage at the point of entry. The petty cash fund was taken.

E & L Electric reported the loss of about 250 feet of copper wire valued at $500, which was taken from the Oakland Park nursing home construction site. A local store apprehended Sally Walters, 20, of Mentor for allegedly taking two tins of snuff valued at one dollar.

Following activation of a burglary alarm Thursday at the Club, Roger Larry Sorenson, 23, St. Paul, was apprehended on the east stairway. Damage to the door was estimated at $100.

Monday a local store apprehended a male juvenile, 13, for allegedly shoplifting some food items valued at $1.93.

The same day, a local store apprehended a male juvenile, 13, for allegedly taking candy valued at $1.14. According to the police department, he also admitted taking $1.09 worth of candy on Friday. After further investigation, seven other 13-year-old male juveniles were apprehended and admitted taking food items on various days during the past week. The time of reporting was 12:28 p.m.

years of valuable experience as a member of your city council and mayor. It has been a great honor and a privilege for me to have had the opportunity to serve the fine citizens of Thief River Falls these past 18 years.

I believe Thief River Falls to be one of the finest cities in Minnesota, a city that truly deserves the recognition of being the "Hub" of Northwestern Minnesota.

When I was elected your mayor two years ago, I set priorities for our city. They were: Expansion of our water plant; new and adequate law enforcement facilities; a bussing and meals program for our senior citizens. With the excellent co-operation of your city council and the citizens of this city, these projects have been accomplished.

There is still much to be done, such as additional housing projects for our senior citizens; upgrading our fire department with better building facilities; and a by-pass or underpass to relieve our serious traffic problems, etc.

I would like to continue as a part of that working team in the capacity of your mayor. I promise to work hard for a better Thief River Falls. Experience is most important. I know I am qualified to be re-elected your mayor, and I ask for your continued support on November 4.

My thanks to the editor and entire staff of the Thief River Falls Times for the opportunity afforded me to express some of my views in this article.

Borsheim . . .

Schuster started Schuster Job Printing and my brother and I purchased the business from him in 1960 and started Borsheim Printing.

In 1972 I purchased the business and now own and operate Borsheim Printing at 422 Horace Av. N., which is in the first ward. This is why I say I am readily available to the residents of the first ward.

I have tried to be involved in community activities. Of course, the one I am really proud of is the Pennington County Fair association, Inc., of which I have been the secretary for the past 10 years. We have brought this fair out of bankruptcy and have made it the largest county and community event in the area. We estimate that we have an attendance of 20,000 people each year.

The Pennington county fair deals with businessmen, farmers, young people and senior citizens which puts the secretary in contact with all types of people, and I sincerely love people and working with them. Civic pride is very important in my mind and I pledge my energy and talents to make our community an even better place to live and work.

My wife Elaine, a native of Warren, is an x-ray technician at Falls Clinic professional association and we have two sons, Mark 6 and Wayne 4. I am a member of Trinity Lutheran church, Chamber of Commerce, Pennington county sportsmen club, American Legion Post 117, Eagles aerie 2368, Elks lodge 1308 and Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 2793.

I am young enough to be full of energy and yet old enough to have sound and logical judgment. Your vote and support will be sincerely appreciated.

both programs being proposed and established programs, are needed and wanted by the taxpayers and that the taxpayers are willing to pay the cost of such programs. We must remodel and fully utilize our existing facilities such as has been done with the remodeling of the interior of the city hall and the refurbishing of the old arena.

In my opinion, our city does not presently have an excessive number of employees nor do we have other unnecessary programs that create excessive costs. Remember, city government takes only about 18 per cent of the property taxes collected and we supply good police and fire protection, water, sewer, garbage collection, and a good street system plus a good park system and recreational program.

My main goals are to keep our city's debt within manageable limits and to keep the city's portion of your tax dollar as close to the present level as possible. The city is experiencing the same inflation as all consumers do, but every effort must be made to keep your cost of services and any property tax increases well below the inflation rates. We must also find ways to protect our senior citizens and others who are on fixed incomes from becoming victims of inflation.

It is my belief that Thief River Falls will become the major medical center for northwestern Minnesota once our staff of physicians includes much needed medical specialists. It seems to make a great deal of sense to combine physicians offices with the hospital so they will not have to be constantly running back and forth between their offices and the hospital. The city was able to provide a financing mechanism for the hospital in order to keep the financing costs down, thereby saving our community hundreds of thousands of dollars in interest costs. It should be emphasized that the physicians are not getting "something for nothing" in that they will be paying the mortgage off by renting the clinic space.

A decision has recently been made to close the city-operated on-sale liquor dispensary while keeping the off-sale package liquor store. I believe this decision is a sound one since the on-sale facility was only marginally profitable and needed extensive remodeling. In addition, with a limited number of other private on-sale licenses available in the city (with the city collecting a substantial license fee), I do not believe that the city should be competing with such private enterprises.

Our community has to have jail facilities since the present city jail has been condemned by the state. In addition, I believe that staffing efficiencies will be realized once the new facility is in operation, by avoiding duplication of effort between the sheriff's department and city police in the "office" functions, such as dispatching and record keeping. While the new facility is being financed by the county, the city has played an important part in its design since it will be a community facility.

In summary, I believe I have the qualifications, experience and desire to continue serving the city of Thief River Falls as first ward alderman.

One of the reasons that I filed for the position of alderman is that I feel that women should take more of an interest and get more involved in things of this nature. Now don't get me wrong, I'm not a women's-libber, but I do believe in equal opportunity for all people.

Another reason that I filed is that I think ordinary working people should get involved and have representation on the city council. We ordinary working people have a place in the city government, too. If we don't get involved, the only thing we can do is pay taxes, without having any say as to where that tax money goes.

People have been expressing a concern to me about the level of city spending and indebtedness. It is my belief that city spending and indebtedness should be kept well within the realms of reality, so that Thief River Falls doesn't get into the same shape that New York City, and maybe even some other cities, are in.

I am not very much up on the process of city government, but I'm willing to learn, and I'm willing to listen to the people as to what they think on any given subject. Aldermen are elected by you people and should listen to your viewpoints.

One other thing—I would sure appreciate your support at the polls on November 4, but no matter who you vote for, be sure to get out and vote. Thank-you.

Columbus, American Legion, VFW, and Eagles lodge. I am a World War II veteran and past commander of the Thief River Falls VFW Post.

I have served on the city council for the past 12 years. Some of the projects that I believe to be significant that were accomplished during my terms on the city council include:

(1) New city library that serves the entire Northwest region;

(2) Elderly housing consisting of 80 units located at 415 So. Arnold;

(3) New Thief River Falls sports arena;

(4) Industrial sites with sewer and water available for interested businesses;

(5) Hard surfaced streets and extension of utilities to many residential areas, apartment complexes and motels;

(6) New treatment facility (lagoons) to replace outdated sewage treatment plant;

(7) Increased the capacity of the water treatment plant to three million gallons per day;

(8) Increased the water reservoir capacity from one million to three million gallons of underground storage;

(9) Assisted in establishing a new medical office building next to hospital.

I am proud of being a member of the different city councils. Many projects have been completed, and I believe we now have a better city as a result of these projects.

There are still many things that need to be done. We need new sidewalks in some areas of the city, new lighting and improvements in the uptown streets.

I would be pleased to continue to serve as alderman from the Third ward for the next four years.

Narverud . . .

For the past 10 years I have been on the city council. During those years many projects have been started and completed. Just to name a few, some of the projects were the building of the senior citizens housing, expansion of the new airport, the arena, the new public library, the underground water storage tank, the new west side water tower and a new fire truck. And, of course, projects now under way are the law enforcement center and the new medical facility. All of these projects have been made possible through careful studying and planning in order that the mill levy has been kept at a minimum.

My philosophy on city government is to get the most value for the dollar spent. To progress it costs money, but to not progress is to become stagnant. We need to progress to establish a wider tax base to keep our property taxes within bounds.

I am interested in seeing our city progress and grow; to be a better and safer place to live. We as a council have accomplished this by adding a more efficient law enforcement center, a new fire truck, a new library and an expanded airport to bring in better and faster airline service and air freight to our area.

If you are interested in city government and the progress of our city, then I ask you to support me in the election on November 4.

In addition, I have been teaching driver education for the past 16 years. I have taken course work at Carleton college, Bemidji state college and earned a Master's degree in education from the University of North Dakota in 1968.

I am married and with my wife Barbara and children Bruce and Cindy have a home at 221 North Merriam. I am a member of Trinity Lutheran church, having served on the board of parish education and youth board. I am a member of the American Legion, having served as vice commander and adjutant, and currently as commander of Ecklund-Holmstrom Post 117.

Also, I am a member of the Elk's Lodge, the Minnesota Driver and Traffic safety education association, National, Minnesota and local education associations.

Having been a resident of the city for the past 18 years, I have seen many changes and improvements take place. It is my hope and desire to have a hand in future improvements and changes that may occur.

I encourage your vote and support in the election November 4 as I feel I can represent the public interest quite well in matters that come before the city's governing body.

Thank you to the Thief River Falls Times for providing the opportunity for all the candidates to be presented to the public.

Milton Reierson

Although there were no other filings for the position of fifth ward alderman, I do appreciate this opportunity of being able to acquaint the voters in the fifth ward of my personal background and my involvement in city government.

I was born and raised in Thief River Falls, graduated from Lincoln high school and attended the University of North Dakota. My wife, Eileen, and I have three sons and one daughter. My employment with First Federal savings and loan association extends to 25 years and I am presently the president and a member of the board of directors.

I have been acitve in many organizations in the past, having served as president of the Jaycees and Lions club, exalted ruler of the Elks lodge, treasurer and director of the Chamber of Commerce, member of the advisory board of the AVTI and also served on the local housing authority when the senior citizen housing was constructed.

We are members of United Methodist church and I have been on the administrative board for a number of years as a member of the board of trustees.

I was elected as the first alderman of the new fifth ward when the city was split into five wards in the late 1950's. I served on the council for two terms, the last term as vice chairman. I did not file for re-election at the end of my second term.

I was appointed to the city council in February of 1972 to fill the vacancy created when Jerry Wigness resigned from the position and was appointed city clerk. I have now completed this four-year term. During the past term, I served on the finance committee, license and insurance committee, tax and assessment committee and the ever important law enforcement committee, which fulfilled its objective by the building project which is now under construction.

The present city council has fulfilled many other projects and succeeded in holding the city's share of taxes to a minimum increase. We have been instrumental in aiding the hospital, Forsberg's and now the new medical office building project in securing financing at a lower interest rate. We have seen the local airport turned over to the state with full expansion and improvement and now will be returned to the city without expense and which we should be able to operate very feasibly.

Experience on the city council is very important in following up on these projects and is a major factor in my decision to file again. I feel we have made excellent progress in the past few years and I would like to be a part of the continued growth and development of good city government.

School Board States Position On Negotiations

teachers 14 times and also met to negotiate with the administrators union, the Teamsters union (representing bus drivers, custodians, cooks, secretaries and mechanics) and non-union persons in supervisory and confidential positions. Regular business meetings were also held, making a total of 36 public meetings from May to October.

"The total allowable budget increase without a public referendum is six per cent or approximately $312,949 for 1975-1976," the board statement says. "This allowable increase must provide for all salary increase for all employees, all increases in cost of supplies, equipment and facility maintenance and for gasoline and heat for buildings."

According to the board statement, 15 of the 38 items submitted by the teachers for consideration were settled in negotiations. These included dues deduction, fair share, bulletin boards, negotiations procedure, pay period, emergency closing, disability insurance, pay rate for use of personal car, sick leave, legal obligations, driver education, AVTI contract period, military leave, workmen's compensation and legality of agreement.

Items submitted on which agreement was not reached were grievance procedure, tax deferred annuity, holidays, health insurance, group life insurance, dental insurance, pay rate for emergency substitute duties, severance pay, class size, class size recommendations for Lincoln high school, teacher transfer, lane change, sick leave bank, professional association released time, paternity leave, sabbatical leave, extraordinary leave, quarterly reports, extra-, co- and intra-curricular activities, homebound instruction, summer salaries, pre-school diagnostic clinic, curriculum development, working schedule, adult evening education, salary schedule, teaching contract and duty assignment.

"Salary is but one cost item," the board statement declares. "In addition to salary, it is estimated that additional items requested in the contract would cost the district an additional 3.5 per cent per year."

high density units to strictly low density units, but tabled a recommendation to rezone Burlington Northern property (located between Kinney and Brooks avenues from Third to Sixth street) from a public to a commerce-industry zone. The planning commission temporarily withheld its recommendation to deny a special use permit request for a dwelling at 102 Markley avenue south to used as a half-way house for alcoholics and drug addicts.

Winston and Meribeth Reay, new purchasers of the Casino Club (which will now be known as the "Luvin Limey"), received council approval for an on and off-sale liquor license, dance permit, cigarette license and pool table license.

Th4 council also approved a proposal that the city rifle and archery clubs remodel the arena recreation building (located adjacent to the city auditorium) in lieu of one year's rent. The proposed remodelling does not include electrical work, and city materials will be used.

A bid of $12,337 by Northern Culvert of Bemidji was accepted by the council for 730 feet of 16 gauge corrugated pipe, including all associated materials, for drainage of Chief's Coulee, located in the northern area of the city. Property owner Norris Melander has agreed to pay half the cost of the pipe which will be installed on his land. The city will provide the labor.

Bruce Ueland In Production Of UMM Theatre

Bruce Ueland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Ueland of Newfolden, is participating in rehearsals for the University of Minnesotz, Morris theatre production "Bierce Takes on the Railroad", scheduled in the Proscentum theatre of the humanities fine arts center November 19 through 22.

Ueland is one of the nine 'chorus' members who assume the roles of senators, newsboys, reporters, party guests, etc., as needed in particular scenes besides the nine principal characters.

The play will be UMM theatre's entry into the eighth annual American college threatre festival, which is presented by the John F. Kennedy center and the Alliance for arts Education, produced by the American theatre association and sponsored by the Standard Oil division, Amoco oil company.

The UMM theatre production of "Bierce Takes on the Railroad" will be only the third production of this play. It has not been produced professionally.

Local Children To Hold UNICEF Collection Drive

This Friday and Saturday nights young people will be going from door to door asking for contributions to UNICEF, the United Nations fund for aid to children across the world.

On Friday night young people from the youth center will be canvassing the east side of town. On Saturday afternoon fourth through sixth graders from the United Methodist church, along with friends from other churches, will canvass the west side of town.

Each young person will be carrying an official orange and black UNICEF collection box. Householders are urged to give only to young people who have the official boxes.

UNICEF funds are used to counteract poverty and starvation among children in underdeveloped countries, according to Rev. Jonathan Law, United Methodist pastor. Medicine, food products, medical assitance for parents, educational tools and teachers are paid for by the funds, he said.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE VOTERS OF THIEF RIVER FALLS

Dear Voters;

Since it will be impossible for me to call at each of your homes I want to take this opportnity to talk to you through this letter.

In the ten years I have been on the City Council there have been many changes in our town, new buildings built, old ones renovated, new fire fighting equipment purchased, new sewage lagoon. All of this is accomplished with many hours of studying and researching to be able to do the most with the least amount of tax increase.

If you will elect me as your next Councilman At Large I will use reasonable judgement and a watchful eye, as in the past, on tax payers expenditures for the next four years in order to keep property taxes at a minimum.

Your vote next Tuesday, November 4, 1975 will be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,
Arnold A Narverud

TRF May Be Playoff Game Site

There is a possibility that an opening round Minnesota State High School League state football playoff game will be played in Thief River Falls, it was learned this week.

A pair of Northwestern Minnesota teams highly ranked in the MSHSL Class C computer football polls—Karlstad and McIntosh-Winger—are both involved in inter-conference playoff games this week.

If The Rabbits and Scots should both win Friday, they will in all likelihood meet in the first round of the state Class C playoffs. And a Karlstad-McIntosh match-up just might be played on the Prowler athletic field in Thief River Falls.

Larry Larson, director of information for the Minnesota State High School League, said Monday there was "a very good possibility" Karlstad and McIntosh would meet in the first round of the Class C playoffs should they win their respective conference playoff games Friday.

Larson said the Karlstad-McIntosh match-up would be a natural "because of geography—our main criteria in playoff pairings."

Karlstad will play Roseau Friday in the Top of the State Conference playoff game. The Rabbits posted a perfect 9-0 record season record enroute to the league's Division I pennant. Roseau was 7-2 in winning the conference Division II title.

McIntosh-Winger meets Oklee in the North Tri County Conference playoff game Friday. The Scots boast a perfect 9-0 record and own the league's South Division championship. Oklee is 8-1, representing the conference North Division.

Wins by Karlstad and McIntosh this week should supply both teams with enough bonus points to make the top four state playoff field in Class C—schools with less than 200 students in the top three grades.

First round of the state playoffs will be played Fri., Nov. 7. At this time Thief River Falls is mentioned as a playoff game site.

"We have to consider Thief River Falls as a playoff site," said Larson, "but I can't really comment on field sites at this time because of several if's still involved. We don't even know if the (TRF) field is available."

All state playoff decisions—teams, pairings and sites—will be determined this weekend following the completion of numerous conference playoff games throughout the state.

Heieren Runs In State Meet Saturday

Congratulations and good luck wishes go out today to Lincoln high school senior Dan Heieren who will compete in the Minnesota state Class AA cross country meet Saturday in Minneapolis.

Heieren, a senior on coach Russ Smith's Prowler squad, was a fourth place finisher in last week's extremely tough Region Eight AA cross country meet at Alexandria.

Cross country is probably one of the most overlooked sports, unfortunately. It's doubtful any other athlete work as hard and get as little recognition as a cross country runner.

Dan ran a fantastic race at the region meet, coming within an eyelash of perhaps even a second place finish. Saturday the competition gets even tougher at the state meet, scheduled to be run at 11 a.m. on the University of Minnesota golf course in Minneapolis.

Region Eight Committee Criticized

Bernie Burggraf, writing in the Roseau Times-Region, expressed displeasure with the Region Eight committee's selection of East Grand Forks as site for the 1976 Region Eight hockey tournament.

Burggraf voiced his feelings about the matter by writing:

"Thief River Falls, the centrally-located site, was the logical one, but somehow in spite of a 10-5 vote by the coaches in favor of Thief River Falls over East Grand Forks, the Region Eight committee chose East Grand Forks.

"A while back all the fuss was for a neutral ice, and lo and behold in the one year East Side is going to be loaded, the regional committee awards the site of the tournament to one of the favored teams in the region.

"This type of thinking by a regional committee bears some answering as they made so much fuss in the past about not favoring any team. This all adds up to moving it about three miles farther to the University of North Dakota winter sports arena—certainly neutral ice for everyone."

Area Football Teams Take Aim On Playoff Spots

Bemidji, Mahnomen, McIntosh-Winger and Karlstad are in possible positions to secure berths in fourth annual Minnesota State High School League state football playoffs.

The four northwestern Minnesota teams are all highly ranked in the next-to-the-last MSHSL computer poll announced today (Wednesday). All four area teams will be involved in conference playoff activity Friday where victories could nail down the coveted state playoff spots.

Bemidji is tied for third in the Class A ratings with Albany with 135.556 computer points. St. Thomas Academy leads Class A with 143.750 points and Hibbing is second with 136.667. All four leaders boast 9-0 records. St. Peter is the only other unbeaten Class A team at 8-0 for fifth place with 132.500 points.

Mahnomen is ranked fourth in the Class B poll with 138.889 points. Gaylord heads Class B with 145.556 points while Annandale and Granite Falls share second place with 140 points each. The four leaders are all 9-0. Onamia, Lakefield and Caledonia are also 9-0. Onamia is ranked fifth with 137.778 points, Lakefield is sixth with 126.250 and Calendonia is tied for ninth with 120.

McIntosh-Winger and Karlstad are highly ranked Class C teams. Blooming Prairie leads the Class C field with 146.667 points. McIntosh-Winger and Esko share second place with 140 points each and Karlstad ranks fourth with 135.556. All four teams are 9-0. Bird Island is also 9-0 and ranks fifth with 135.556 points.

The top four teams in each class following Friday night's conference playoff games will compete in the 1975 Minnesota state football playoffs.

Richfield (9-0) leads the Class A standings with 142.222 points, followed by Stillwater (9-0) with 140, Rochester John Marshall (7-2) with 125 and Bloomington Jefferson (8-1) with 124.444.

Welcome (8-0) is the nine-man leader with 137.500 points, followed by Laporte (9-0) with 134.444, Cherry (6-0) with 131.667 and Ruthton (9-0) with 130.

Virtually every state playoff contending team will be involved in conference playoff tests this weekend.

The state playoffs will begin with semifinal round games the week of November 3, with the finals planned the following week. Pairings, dates and sites of all state playoff games will be determined Saturday.

The MSHSL reports that never before in the four-year history of the state playoffs has the struggle for a playoff spot been so great. No less than 40 teams still harbor ambitions of state playoff berths.

Nine teams are still in the running for the four Class AA playoff berths; eight teams have chances to grab the Class A spots; seven contenders remain in Class B; ten teams still have Class C playoff possibilities; and six schools are after the nine-man posts.

Injuries Hamper 1975 Football Success

Injuries, more than any other factor, were mainly responsible for a dismal 3-5 record accumulated by the Lincoln high school football team during the 1975 season, explained Prowler head coach Jim Sims.

Final year-end statistics for the just-completed season were announced this week and Sims offered his personal post-season reflections on the 1975 campaign—"the worst I've ever had as a coach," he said.

First to fall prey to injury problems was workhorse fullback Bryan Olson, the main catalysis in the ground-orientated Prowler wishbone offense. Olson was banged up in the first quarter of the second game against Detroit Lakes, and although the Prowlers won that game 33-14, "it was all down hill from that point," offered Sims.

Before the season was completed injuries decimated the entire Prowler backfield. Lineman were also afflicted by the injury bug which spread like an epidemic through the Prowler camp.

"Because of injuries, mentally we never regrouped," explained Sims. "It became a snowball-type thing with the injuries. And we lost our mental edge along the line."

An open date in the middle of the Thief River Falls schedule also caused problems, said Sims. "That open date didn't help at all. It took the edge off the kids who weren't hurt. I never want to go through that (open date) again."

On the rare occasions when the Prowlers were healthy, problems managed to arise in the team's play. A porous defensive secondary and a penchant for turnovers cost the team several games.

"Statistics bear out that the secondary didn't play well," admitted Sims. "We didn't play defense that well, but I look at it more from an offensive standpoint. The offense makes the defense go—they complement each other. You don't stand out on defense as long as we did and not get hurt."

Despite the problems, there were some bright spots during the year. "The first half against Apollo was good football, and we played good ball against Breckenridge, Detroit Lakes and East Grand Forks," pointed out Sims.

"When we had our people together we felt our rushing attack was as good as it's ever been," explained Sims who was backed by statistics that showed five runningbacks with averages of five yards per carry or better. Olson led the ground-gobbling charge with 567 yards in just five games. He averaged 113.4 yards per game and seven yards per carry. Doug Dallmann averaged 7.6 yards per carry, Kent Ehrenstrom 6.9, Jay Kverno 6.0 and Mike Jury 5.0.

However, any way you look at it 3-5 is not considered a successful football season.

Thief River Falls wins were posted over Detroit Lakes 33-14, Breckenridge 35-0 and East Grand Forks 33-18. Prowler losses came at the hands of Grand Forks Red River 25-14 (the team's most embarrassing loss, said Sims), St. Cloud Apollo 26-15, Bemidji 21-6, Fergus Falls 33-14 and Crookston 12-6.

"It was certainly a disappointing season," confirmed Sims. "We want to put it out of our minds in a hurry and hopefully look forward to better things."

"We'll try to do better next year. But we'll have to come ready to play football for nine-ten-eleven weeks. We'll need a total commitment from each player to play football next year. We can't win championships with our mind on something else."

The Prowler squad will officially close the 1975 season Tues., Nov. 11, when the team holds its annual parents-players banquet in the Lincoln cafeteria.

Rams Win Region Eight AA Cross Country Title

Roseau will represent Region Eight Saturday in the Class A portion of the 1975 state cross country meet in Minneapolis.

The Rams won the Region Eight A team title Thursday with a 43-point effort at Crookston. Walker was a distant second with 75 points, followed by Bagley with 100, Red Lake Falls 118 and Waubun 131.

Steve Wraa of Clearbrook won the three-mile Region Eight A meet with a time of 16:39. Hilton Bakker of Walker finished second in 16:54.

Rounding out the top five places, Brian Charles of Clearbrook ran third in 16:56, Henry Carlson of Roseau was fourth in 16:58 and Ken Larson of Roseau was fifth in 17 minutes.

The entire Roseau team, along with Wraa, Bakker and Charles will compete in the state Class A cross country meet scheduled to be held on the University of Minnesota golf course in Minneapolis beginning at 12:15 p.m.

Mike Jury Earns LHS Football Game Ball Award

Senior runningback Mike Jury, who sparked a second half Thief River Falls come-back effort against Crookston Friday, was awarded the Lincoln high school football team's weekly game ball by the Prowler coaching staff.

The final weekly award winners of the 1975 season were announced by the Prowler coaches Tuesday following the team's 12-6 setback at the hands of Crookston.

Bryan Olson was recognized for scoring the Prowlers' lone touchdown while Jeff Lindquist, Terry Sullivan and Geoff Dagg were all credited with fumble recoveries.

Duane Gonsorowski and Kent Ehrenstrom topped the Prowler defensive point scoring charts against the Pirates with 36 points apiece. Both ball players were credited with three unassisted tackles. Gonsorowski added 10 assisted tackles and one tackle on a kickoff play. Ehrenstrom added 12 assisted tackles.

Sullivan totaled 24 defensive points, Dagg had 22 and Mike Kosel, Chris Biegner and Lingquist all had 16 apiece. Matt Overbye was credited with 14 points, Tim Rude and Dale Sande 14.

Bemidji, Montevideo

Northwest-West Central Winners To Clash Friday

Bemidji hopes to snap a frustrating strong of Northwest Conference post-season losses Friday when the Lumberjacks play a 7:30 p.m. ball game at Montevideo in the third annual Northwest-West Central Conference playoff game.

Bemidji, sporting a perfect 9-0 season record, will be playing in its second straight post-season playoff game. The Lumberjacks are making their third playoff game appearance in the four-year history of the events in the state.

However, Bemidji, along with 1973 Northwest Conference representative Fergus Falls, has never won a conference playoff game. The Lumberjacks lost a 12-8 decision to Pelican Rapids of the Heart O'Lakes Conference in 1972 and bowed to Alexandria of the West Central Conference 14-8 a year ago. Fergus Falls lost to West Central's Willmar 30-7.

The highly regarded Bemidji ball club carries the favorites' role this year, though. The Lumberjacks breezed through the 1975 season in relatively easy fashion, outscoring nine opponents 299-63.

Bemidji wins were posted over Milaca 26-12, Crosby-Ironton 54-8, Minnehaha Academy 49-7, East Grand Forks 28-0, Fergus Falls 23-0, Thief River Falls 21-6, Aitkin 49-14, Crookston 14-8 and Brainerd 35-8.

Montevideo finished the year with a near-perfect 8-1 record. The Mohawks lost only a 14-0 nonconference decision to Pipestone. Montevideo was 6-0 in the tough West Central Conference.

Bemidji is hoping to use this week's conference playoff game as a stepping stone to the Minnesota State High School League Class A state playoffs. A Lumberjack win over Montevideo would probably supply enough bonus points to earn the Northwest Conference champions a spot in the four-team Class A playoffs which start next week.

A year ago Alexandria advanced to the state Class A event with its conference playoff game win at Bemidji. The Cardinals went on the win the coveted state title.

Oklee, McIntosh, Karlstad, Roseau

Division Winners Meet In Conference Playoff Games

Conference championship playoff activity steals the area football spotlight this week as division winners clash in the North Tri County and Top of the State conferences.

The 1975 North Tri County Conference championship will be on the line Friday when Oklee hosts McIntosh-Winger at 7:30 p.m. Oklee was the regular season North Tri County North Division champion with an 8-1 record. McIntosh won the league's South Division pennant with a perfect 9-0 mark.

Roseau plays at Karlstad at 7:30 p.m. Friday in the Top of the State Conference playoff game. Karlstad was the regular season Top of the State Division I titlist with an unblemished 9-0 record. Roseau won the league's Division II crown with a 7-2 mark.

This is the first year in which the two leagues have played their own inter-conference division playoff games. In past years, the North Tri County Conference champion took on the Little Six Conference winner. However, the North Tri County divided itself into two divisions this year while the Little Six merged with the Top of the State Conference and formed two divisions. The Top of the State playoff involved the Pine-to-Prairie winner in past years.

McIntosh and Karlstad have an extra incentive going into Friday night's games. Both teams are among the top ranked teams in the Minnesota State High School League's computer polls used to determine the state playoff teams. Oklee and Roseau are exluded from the state playoff picture because of regular season losses.

Oklee and McIntosh have met already this season. The Scots clubbed the Bobcats 26-8 way back on September 12 in a game played at McIntosh. Karlstad and Roseau have not played each other this fall.

"Oklee scored first," recalled first year McIntosh head coach Dick Holen about the first meeting between the division winners. "But we started to move the ball on the ground in the second quarter and we were able to do so the rest of the game."

"Some things worked well for us that game," commented Holen, "and we hope they'll work again. But I expect it to be a lot closer this time—no more than one touchdown."

The powerful Scots, who outscored opponents 284-48 this fall, are led by starry Chad Burslie, a 155-pound senior who rushed for over 1,000 yards during the regular season, despite missing two games because of injuries. Carey Burslie and Mike Dietrich also line up at runningbacks for McIntosh.

"Chad Burslie is the hardest hitting runner I've ever seen," praised Holen. "All of our runners have good speed and they all put their heads down when they run."

Sophomore Larry Haugen quarterbacks the Scots. "He's a very deceptive young quarterback," pointed out Holen. "He's really surprised us the way he's come on this year."

The state playoff picture concerns Holen in a rather surprising way. "It's hanging over our heads and I consider it a disadvantage going into this game," offered the Scot coach. "Oklee has nothing to lose, they'll go all out for this game. We seem to be concerned about the (state) playoff and it's hurting us."

McIntosh has rolled past nine straight opponents this fall, beating Grygla 30-6, Middle River 22-14, Oklee 26-8, Clearbrook 20-14, Gonvick 30-0, Goodridge 36-0, Plummer 32-6, Erskine 52-0 and Mentor 36-0. The Scots have shutout four of their last five opponents, outscoring the opposition 186-6 over that time span.

The key to Friday night's ball game, offered veteran Oklee coach Dale Svaren will be ball control. "They beat us by controlling the ball," said Svaren. "We led 8-6 at halftime, but they scored 20 points in the second half while we ran only 13 plays."

The Bobcats pride themselves with their offensive balance and their ability to move the ball. No less than 13 Oklee players have scored this fall.

Mark Nelson quarterbacks the Oklee wishbone and I formation offense. A versatile ball player, Nelson runs well and "throws as well as anybody around," according to Svaren. Nelson led the Bobcats in scoring during the regular season.

Oklee runningbacks include Brent Strand, Mike LaCoursiere and John Larson, all equally talented ball carriers. Strand, a sophomore, led the team in rushing during the year with nearly 600 yards.

In addition to the ball carrying ability of the Bobcats, Phil Fore is probably the best receiver in the North Tri County Conference.

Oklee's eight wins this fall were recorded over Erskine 30-6, Mentor 42-0, Middle River 28-8, Grygla 42-8, Clearbrook 24-6, Gonvick 30-14, Goodridge 36-0 and Plummer 24-0.

Oklee, McIntosh-Winger, Karlstad and Roseau were officially crowned division champions Friday as the 1975 regular season football season came to a close for area teams.

Oklee and McIntosh were winners in the North Tri County Conference. The Bobcats won the league's North Division crown and the Scots won the South Division title.

Karlstad and Roseau headed the Top of the State Conference standings. The Rabbits won the league's Division I pennant and the Rams claimed the Division II crown.

All four teams will be involved in inter-conference playoff games Friday. McIntosh will be at Oklee and Roseau visits Karlstad for 7:30 p.m. games.

Scores from the final week of regular season North Tri County Conference games found Oklee blanking Plummer 24-0, Gonvick stopped Grygla 34-20, Middle River beat Erskine 30-6, McIntosh shutout Mentor 36-0 and Clearbrook whipped Goodridge 64-0.

In Top of the State play Friday, Roseau edged Greenbush 6-0, Hallock tipped Newfolden 14-6, Baudette blanked Crookston Cathedral 18-0, Karlstad downed Kennedy 22-12, Stephen ripped Argyle 18-0 and East Grand Forks Sacred Heart slipped by Warroad 6-0.

Chad Burslie was crowned individual scoring king in the North Tri County Conference with 13 touchdowns and eight conversions for 94 total points. Butch Eck of Gonvick was runner-up with 82 points, followed by Mark Larson of Clearbrook with 80, Carey Burslie of McIntosh 68 and Tom Martell of Plummer 66.

DAN HEIEREN, Lincoln high school senior, will compete in the Minnesota state Class AA cross country meet Saturday on the University of Minnesota golf course in Minneapolis. Cross country coach Russ Smith will accompany the Prowler co-captain to the Twin Cities. Heieren will be making his second straight appearance in the state meet.

Heieren Will Run In AA State Meet

Lincoln high school senior Dan Heieren will represent Thief River Falls Saturday in the 1975 Minnesota state Class AA cross country meet scheduled to be held on the University of Minnesota golf course in Minneapolis.

The large school Class AA portion of the state meet is scheduled to start at 11 a.m. The smaller school Class A race will start at 12:15 p.m.

Heieren and Prowler coach Russ Smith plan to leave Thief River Falls Friday morning. They plan to arrive in the Twin Cities in time for Heieren to jog the three-mile course Friday afternoon.

Heieren qualified for a state meet berth with a strong fourth place finish in last week's Region Eight AA cross country meet at Alexandria. The Prowler co-captain just missed a lofty second place finish by covering three miles in 16:31.6, his career best.

Competition will be extremely tough at the state level, however, and Heieren's personal goal is to be the "second best runner from our region," explained Smith.

Tom Pouseno of Little Falls was the individual star at the Region Eight AA event with a first place 15:46.5 clocking. But Heieren has his sights set on beating Tim Bauer of Alexandria and Jim Zupk of Little Falls who were clocked in 16:20.5 and 16:31.5, respectively at Alexandria.

Little Falls is the Region Eight AA state meet representative.

Heieren will be competing at the state meet for the second consecutive year. He finished 62nd at the state classic a year ago—the best place finish ever achieved by a Prowler runner in state competition.

"He's the best runner I've had since I've been coaching here," said Smith about his prize senior. "He's not a sprinter, but he's got a tremendous stride. He's lightly built, but very muscular—ideal for cross country."

Crookston Tips TRF 2-1 Tuesday In Volleyball

Crookston bounced back from a first game loss Tuesday to edge Thief River Falls 2-1 in a girls' high school volleyball match in the Lincoln gym.

Thief River Falls eked out an 18-16 first game win, but Crookston posted 18-12 and 18-6 decisions in the next two games to win the match.

The loss leveled the Prowler season record at 6-6 heading into the final match of the 1975 regular season schedule tomorrow (Thursday) against Fosston, a 7:30 p.m. contest in the Lincoln gym.

Crookston won Tuesday night's B squad match 2-0 with 18-16 and 18-3 wins. The Prowler B squad record is 5-6 for the year.

Mahnomen Will Meet Barnesville In Playoff Game

Pine to Prairie champion Mahnomen and Heart O'Lakes winner Barnesville will clash Friday at 7:30 p.m. at Mahnomen in the first annual conference playoff game between the two leagues.

Mahnomen will enter the game with a 9-0 record. The Indians have not given up a touchdown all season, outscoring opponents by a whopping 225-5 margin.

Barnesville lost a pair of season-opening nonconference decisions before reeling off seven straight wins, six of them shutouts.

Wendell Vlasin of Mahnomen, Pine to Prairie Conference publicist, pointed out fans will see two different attacking formations Friday. The Trojans run from the I formation while the Indians use a slot-T.

Barnesville quarterback Dale Solum, a strong runner, calls upon fullback Tom Iverson and halfback Kent Hoekstra for steady yardage.

Quarterback Paul Muckenhirn leads the Mahnomen attack, with fullback Tim McArthur and halfback Myron Brusven used as ball carrying regulars.

Mahnomen is still in the running for a Minnesota State High School League Class B state playoff berth. A Mahnomen win Friday would probably send the Indians into the state playoffs for a second straight year.

Mahnomen wins this year have been posted over Glyndon-Felton 32-0, Pelican Rapids 20-0, Waubun 44-0, Fosston 26-2, Bagley 30-0, Ada 27-0, Fertile 7-3, Red Lake Falls 33-0 and Warren 6-0.

Barnesville lost to Appleton 25-20 and Breckenridge 13-0 before beating Glyndon-Felton 22-0, Frazee 22-0, Dilworth 6-0, Elbow Lake 32-0, Hawley 43-0, Perham 58-22 and Pelican Rapids 24-0.

Bemidji runningback Wayne Marty was officially crowned Northwest Conference individual scoring champion Friday following the conclusion of the 1975 regular season football schedule for NWAC teams.

Marty won the league's most coveted individual title—the scoring championship—with 36 points, followed by Thief River Falls teammates Doug Dallmann and Bryan Olson with 27 and 26 respectively. The rest of the top ten scorers include Rick Beck, East Grand Forks, 24; Gary Hazelton, Bemidji, 12; and Jon Erickson, Fergus Falls, 12.

Marty was also the scoring leader in all games with 96 points. Ranum finished with 54, Dallmann 52, Beck 51 and Olson 44.

Hanson won the league's rushing title with 376 yards. Olson ranked second with 366, followed by Marty 323, Beck 312, Ranum 306, Mike Thomas of Fergus Falls 280, Erickson 277, Jay Kverno of Thief River Falls 227 and Dallmann 200. Olson led the league with a 7.6 average per carry.

Ranum was the overall rushing leader with 922 yards, followed by Marty with 818, Thomas 815, Beck 778 and Hanson 648. Marty was tops with an eight-yard average.

Scott Selk of East Grand Forks led the league quarterbacks in passing yardage with 19 completions in 45 attempts for 294 yards. Jeff Eidsmoe of Bemidji completed 19 of 38 passes for 291 yards. Selk topped the league in attempts, yardage, interceptions with three and tied for the lead in completions and in touchdown passes with one. Eidsmoe led in pass completion percentage with an even 50 per cent figure and tied Selk for most completions and touchdown passes.

Eidsmoe led the passing charts in all games with 37 completions in 64 tries for 582 yards and nine touchdowns. Selk completed 34 of 90 attempts for 392 yards. Welle passed for 385 yards and Joel Rood of Crookston passed for 359 yards.

Jack Schwartz of Bemidji was the NWAC leader in pass reception yardage with nine catches for 141 yards. Beck caught five passes for 131 yards and Bob Weber of East Grand Forks hauled in a league-leading 11 passes for 111 yards. Cameron Kolle was the only other receiver over 100 yards with six catches for 109 yards.

Kolle led the pass reception yardage figures in all games with 15 catches for 327 yards. Schwartz caught 18 for 311 yards. A 78-yard pass reception by Olson was the longest pass play in the conference and overal.

Schwartz was the overall punting leader with 20 punts for a 34.6 average. Jeff Pester of Crookston ranked second overall with a league-high 28 punts for a 34.1 average.

Marty was the conference punt return king with seven returns for 87 yards and a 12.4 average. Erickson ranked second with three returns for 40 yards and a league-leading 13.3 average.

Marty also led the overall punt return charts with 16 returns for 257 yards and a sparkling 16 yard average. Erickson ranked number two with nine returns for 94 yards and a 10.4 average.

Dallmann captured the NWAC kickoff return yardage title with eight returns for 212 yards and a 26.5 average. Erickson returned six kicks for 128 yards and a 21.3 average.

Dallmann was also the overall kick return leader with 12 returns for 281 yards and a 23.4 average. Erickson returned 16 kicks for 277 yards and a 17.3 average.

Swimmers Swamp Detroit Lakes By 151-47 Tuesday

Coach John Hustad's Lincoln high school girls' swim team completed a near-perfect 1975 regular season schedule Tuesday by crushing Detroit Lakes 151-147 in the Franklin middle school pool.

The Prowlers will be idle now until November 14-15 when Thief River Falls will take part in regional competition at Morris.

During the 1975 regular season Thief River Falls came within one second of a perfect campaign. The Prowlers won eight of nine dual meets, took part in three triangular meets and won each of them and captured championship honors in their lone invitational meet appearance.

The only blemish on the Prowler record was a 105-98 dual meet setback at the hands of Brainerd, a meet held in the Franklin pool September 30. The Warriors edged the Prowlers by a split second in the meet's final event for the win.

Newfolden Girls Finish Regular Season At 5-8

Marshall County Central high school girls' volleyball team split a pair of regular season-ending matches against Baudette and Lancaster to finish the 1975 campaign with a 5-8 won-lost record.

Newfolden edged Lancaster 2-1 Monday at Lancaster, winning 18-8 and 18-6 after dropping a first game 18-16 decision. Diane Anderson served seven points for the Nordics in the first and third games while Rosalyn Knutson served eight points in the middle contest.

The Nordics dropped a 2-0 verdict at Baudette Saturday, losing 18-9 and 18-5. The Baudette contest ended the Nordic conference season with a 2-8 record.

Newfolden B squad lost both matches. The Nordics bowed to Lancaster 2-1 and lost to Baudette 2-0.

Between 30 and 60 million buffalos roamed North America at the time Columbus discovered America; they now number about 60,000.

WHILE MOST outdoor enthusiasts have turned their attention toward waterfowl, upland game birds or starting this weekend deer hunting, there are a few die-hard fishermen who just can't seem to put the rod and reel away. Glen Rittmiller of Thief River Falls proved late fall fishing to be extremely productive as he landed this near 10-pound northern while on Red Lake river below the dam. The lunker struck a spinner at 3:30 p.m. Monday.

Skating Group Sets Public Event Dates

Establishment of several dates for public events and testing took place at the meeting of the Thief River Falls recreational skating committee Tuesday evening in the city council chambers.

The recreational skating committee met following a session of the ice scheduling committee to review scheduling of ice time, primarily in regard to use of the city sports arena. The scheduling committee confirmed use of the sports arena on Saturdays from 1 to 6 p.m. for youth hockey rather than recreational skating as listed in earlier minutes of the committee. Skating practice and lesson time was moved to Sunday evening for recreational skaters.

Dates set by the recreational skating committee include November 8 at 7 p.m. for the skating demonstration conducted by the Border Blades figure skating club of Grand Forks, N.D., and TRFAHA, and Sunday, March 7, at 3 p.m. as the date for the local recreational skating show date.

Additional testing dates for persons participating in the recreational skating program were set at December 18, February 19 and March 25.

It was noted that everyone participating in the recreational skating program is eligible to take part in the local group's show in March but that participation is not required.

The recreational skating committee voted to create a position on the board for a representative of TRFAHA and invite the organization to select such a representative. Present members of the committee include Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. Olson, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. Myron Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Worth.

The Border Blades and TRFAHA show on November 8 will be offered to public free of charge. The show will introduce Jane McClellan of Bemidji, who is the skating professional working with the local recreational skating program. She will skate a solo number as the final performance of the show. Members of the Border Blades club are students of Kathy Rutledge who was the local clinic supervisor a couple of weeks ago. The program is sanctioned by the U.S. figure skating association.

Following the program November 8, the arena will be open for public skating and skaters may visit with members of the Border Blades group who present the program.

Coach John Hustad's Lincoln high school girls' swim team completed a near-perfect 1975 regular season schedule Tuesday by crushing Detroit Lakes 151-147 in the Franklin middle school pool.

The Prowlers will be idle now until November 14-15 when Thief River Falls will take part in regional competition at Morris.

During the 1975 regular season Thief River Falls came within one second of a perfect campaign. The Prowlers won eight of nine dual meets, took part in three triangular meets and won each of them and captured championship honors in their lone invitational meet appearance.

The only blemish on the Prowler record was a 105-98 dual meet setback at the hands of Brainerd, a meet held in the Franklin pool September 30. The Warriors edged the Prowlers by a split second in the meet's final event for the win.

Marshall County Central high school girls' volleyball team split a pair of regular season-ending matches against Baudette and Lancaster to finish the 1975 campaign with a 5-8 won-lost record.

Newfolden edged Lancaster 2-1 Monday at Lancaster, winning 18-8 and 18-6 after dropping a first game 18-16 decision. Diane Anderson served seven points for the Nordics in the first and third games while Rosalyn Knutson served eight points in the middle contest.

The Nordics dropped a 2-0 verdict at Baudette Saturday, losing 18-9 and 18-5. The Baudette contest ended the Nordic conference season with a 2-8 record.

Newfolden B squad lost both matches. The Nordics bowed to Lancaster 2-1 and lost to Baudette 2-0.

Between 30 and 60 million buffalos roamed North America at the time Columbus discovered America; they now number about 60,000.

WHILE MOST outdoor enthusiasts have turned their attention toward waterfowl, upland game birds or starting this weekend deer hunting, there are a few die-hard fishermen who just can't seem to put the rod and reel away. Glen Rittmiller of Thief River Falls proved late fall fishing to be extremely productive as he landed this near 10-pound northern while on Red Lake river below the dam. The lunker struck a spinner at 3:30 p.m. Monday.

Skating Group Sets Public Event Dates

Establishment of several dates for public events and testing took place at the meeting of the Thief River Falls recreational skating committee Tuesday evening in the city council chambers.

The recreational skating committee met following a session of the ice scheduling committee to review scheduling of ice time, primarily in regard to use of the city sports arena. The scheduling committee confirmed use of the sports arena on Saturdays from 1 to 6 p.m. for youth hockey rather than recreational skating as listed in earlier minutes of the committee. Skating practice and lesson time was moved to Sunday evening for recreational skaters.

Dates set by the recreational skating committee include November 8 at 7 p.m. for the skating demonstration conducted by the Border Blades figure skating club of Grand Forks, N.D., and TRFAHA, and Sunday, March 7, at 3 p.m. as the date for the local recreational skating show date.

Additional testing dates for persons participating in the recreational skating program were set at December 18, February 19 and March 25.

It was noted that everyone participating in the recreational skating program is eligible to take part in the local group's show in March but that participation is not required.

The recreational skating committee voted to create a position on the board for a representative of TRFAHA and invite the organization to select such a representative. Present members of the committee include Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. Olson, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. Myron Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Worth.

The Border Blades and TRFAHA show on November 8 will be offered to public free of charge. The show will introduce Jane McClellan of Bemidji, who is the skating professional working with the local recreational skating program. She will skate a solo number as the final performance of the show. Members of the Border Blades club are students of Kathy Rutledge who was the local clinic supervisor a couple of weeks ago. The program is sanctioned by the U.S. figure skating association.

Following the program November 8, the arena will be open for public skating and skaters may visit with members of the Border Blades group who present the program.

Order for Hearing on Petition for General Administration
State of Minnesota,
County of Pennington—ss.
IN COUNTY COURT
PROBATE DIVISION

IN THE MATTER OF THE ESTATE OF Alta M. Johnson, Decedent.

IT IS ORDERED that the petition for general administration filed herein and any objections filed thereto be heard on November 21, 1975, at 10:00 o'clock A.M. by this court in the courthouse in Thief River Falls, Minnesota. That, if proper, at said time and place a representative will be appointed to administer the estate, who shall collect all assets and file an inventory thereof, pay all legal debts, claims, and taxes, and expenses of administration, and sell such real and personal property as may be necessary and for the best interests of the estate. Upon completion of administration, the representative shall file a final account for allowance and shall distribute the estate to the persons thereunto entitled as ordered by the court and do all other acts to close the estate.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, that creditors of decedent file their claims in this court within sixty (60) days from the date hereof and that said claims be heard on December 23, 1975, at 2:30 o'clock P.M. by this court in the courthouse in Thief River Falls, Minnesota.

Dated October 28, 1975.

John Wesley, founder of the United Methodist Church, said "the world is my parish." Today his followers seek to take him literally with programs in this and 60 other nations — all serving hurting people in Christ's name. This means people helping people help themselves. Such a contemporary program involves:

- More work done by persons of the country being served while missionaries from the U. S. assume a servant role.
- Programs as varied as the traditional orphanage, birth control clinics, schools for all ages, and well drilling.
- Decisions being made by local groups concerning their needs — and not some far-away mission board.

Missions may be different than a generation ago. But in a hurting world our church has a vital, far-reaching program of love and concern. We call it World Service — people serving people. Sound exciting? Become a part of it — worship with us next Sunday.

SHE NEEDS HELP

Her brother realizes that. And so do my wife and I . . . most of the time.

But sometimes Sunday mornings mean a ride in the country. . . sleeping late. . . receiving guests. Something, every Sunday.

Then one day, watching her trying to read, I realized that filling her mind and heart and soul is a continuous process. It can't be restricted to days of the week.

So Sundays in church have become part of our life style. We all are finding new insights, strengthening our faith, discovering ourselves and God.

Our little girl needs help. To this Christian family that's the understatement of the year!

OUR Patriots!
Copr. 1975 by Oceanic Features
PETER SALEM IS A NAME WELL REMEMBERED IN THE ANNALS OF THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION... HAVING ALREADY DISTINGUISHED HIMSELF AT THE BATTLES OF LEXINGTON AND CONCORD, HE WAS SINGLED OUT FOR MERITORIOUS ACTION AT BUNKER HILL.
AN ON-THE-SCENE WITNESS DESCRIBED THE YOUNG BLACK'S HEROISM AS CREATING A TURNING POINT IN FAVOR OF THE AMERICAN PATRIOTS DURING THE BUNKER HILL BATTLE... AT A CRITICAL MOMENT, SALEM DISPATCHED A KEY BRITISH OFFICER WHO DEMANDED THE PATRIOT'S SURRENDER...
TODAY, LIKE THE VOLUNTEERS OF 1775, BLACK U.S. ARMY RESERVISTS CONTINUE TO PLAY AN IMPORTANT PART IN OUR NATION'S DEFENSE.

Mr. and Mrs. George Wikstrom Jr., Scott, Caroline and Kory of Karlstad, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Johnson, Kelly and Richard of Thief River Falls were Sunday supper guests at the Adlis home.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Lufkin of Okoboji, Iowa and Mrs. Lloyd Larson of Thief River Falls spent all day Wednesday at the Eugene Kleinvachter home.

Mr. and Mrs. Palmer Rud and family were Friday evening visitors at Andrew Ruds.

Pattie Nelson spent several days at the Loren Carlson home at Thief River Falls this past week.

Mabel Stromberg and Anna Rud called on Mabel Borsvold Thursday evening. On Friday Mabel again entered the Karlstad hospital.

Donald Larsons accompanied by Irene Larson took advantage of the beautiful October weather Sunday and went for a drive, stopping first to see the watershed area park near Florian, passing Ralph Borowicz farm they stopped to say "Hi," and see their lovely new home, then on to the James Petersons near Stephen to pick up Dian who had spent the MEA vacation there with his cousin John. They then drove west of Stephen across into North Dakota. Here they stopped at a wayside park to view the Bicentennial log fort recently dedicated by Governor Link. Later coming home by way of Warren they stopped at the Donald Nelson home where they visited and were supper guests. Still later the Nelsons and all the Larsons visited at the James Larson home in Warren.

Strandquist Senior Citizens

Twenty-three registered on Thursday, Oct. 16, when the senior citizens met for their weekly meeting. Visitors were Vera Peterson of Karlstad, Mrs. Donald Nelson, David, Jill and Janelle of Warren, Pastor John Hagberg, Charmaine Johnson, Donna Larson, Lenny Lofstrom, and Doreen Donaldsen.

Everyone was busy finishing items for our sale, which will be held Saturday Oct. 25 at our center.

Mr. Iverson came on Thursday and presented us with the 1974-75 year books from school. We had donated to the 1975 year book. Some of our members enjoyed looking through the books that afternoon.

Patty gave a door prize that Dolly won. Dolly Larson was our hostess.

American Legion Auxiliary News

The American Legion Auxiliary unit 466 met on October 15 at 8 p.m. at the Legion rooms, with president Irene Nelson presiding.

The meeting opened with the pledge to the flag. Twelve members and four guests were present for the business of the month.

The secretary and treasurer reports were read and approved. This year the auxiliary is again donating $10 to the Strandquist Halloween youth party. The motion was made by Vangie, 2nd by Marcelyn.

Toni Kleinvachter will look into buying a book for the school library.

Our poppy's were sent for.

Motion was made by Toni and 2nd by Fern to send $2 to Christmas gift shop.

Motion was made by Eunice and 2nd by Bertha to send $1 to the Dollar bill shop.

Our district and per capita dues were paid.

Our scrapbook is full and motion was made by Fern, 2nd by Toni to purchase a new one. Vangie volunteered to buy one.

We decided to serve lunch to the teachers in November in honor of American Education week, a date will be set later.

The Auxiliary will have a Halloween party on October 29, at 7 p.m. at the Legion rooms. Come in costume or as you are. Lets all turn out.

We have 24 paid members, please if you haven't paid your dues do so at once.

Our visitors and prospective members were Eunice Rud, Marlys Lefrooth, Julie Kleinvachter and Ginger Anger.

The Legioneers had their membership meeting also, so joined us for coffee. Thank you Delphine Broff for lunch.

Our meeting was adjourned by motion from Toni, 2nd by Jean.

MEA Convention Is Concerned With $$ And Political Action

More money and more political action are two things education needs, the three principal speakers agreed at the 90th Minnesota Education association (MEA) convention which attracted more than 20,000 teachers to the metropolitan area from throughout the state last Thursday and Friday.

"I'm not convinced," declared MEA president Donald C. Hill in an emotional, applause-punctuated speech that launched the convention in the Minneapolis auditorium, "that the taxpayers (of Minnesota) have reached the peak of their ability to pay for education."

Said MEA executive director A.L. (Bud) Gallop: "Teachers either will get the kind of funding that will do the job for kids and protect the jobs of teachers, or...many...politicians will be out of the legislative halls and in the unemployment lines with a quarter of a million of our fellow teachers."

The opening session was a first for the MEA, which, with more than 44,000 members, is the biggest teacher organization in Minnesota. Instead of big-name speakers from the outside to open the session, a rally with MEA leaders was substituted.

President John Ryor of the 1.8 million member National Education association (NEA) praised his organization at the VIP dinner Thursday evening honoring MEA's nearly 500 local association presidents when he said: "Just about every significant step forward for children and teachers in America in the last 100 years has been initiated and implemented by the NEA and its affiliates.

"With our vast network, our increasing sophistication and our massive lobbying potential, we can—and will—make education the number one priority in this country. The foundation of that effort is one-third federal funding and a federal collective bargaining law."

Hill blamed school boards for the lack of teacher contract settlements, saying, "I'm just madder than hell about what's happening in negotiations right now.

"Why is it," he asked, "that we have more than 200 locals unsettled? Why are teachers all over Minnesota paying this year's bills with last year's salaries? Why are we thinking about striking?

"Is it because teachers are asking for more than their share? Is it because the settlements we're getting are too high?

"No, I don't think so. The reasons are obvious. School boards throughout Minnesota are stalling, are taking their time about negotiations. The law...gives the school boards all they need to get settlements. They have the last word.

"And what they're presently doing to us in many of these locals is rubbing our nose in it. And I don't like it."

Gallop turned to political activity: "If my comments...seem to belabor the need for our political involvement, it is only becuase I am convinced that much of the future of our great profession will be determined initially at the polling places and later in the legislative and congressional halls, and ultimately in the oval office in the White House."

Gallop had a word of advice, too: "While the MEA is criticized on the editorial pages for being too powerful, and by politicians for throwing our weight around, and by school board members for wanting to control education, and by parents for putting personal concerns first, I can only say that they haven't seen anything yet."

Ryor, whose listeners included more than half the members of the Minnesota Legislature, also expressed concern about funding for education:

"I think it is the cruelest of ironies that this country pays verbal homage to education as 'our greatest need' and then refuses to fund even the minimal education programs necessary to educate kids. While politicians continue to promise 'a new dawn and an open door', our colleagues all over the country are being given the economic shuffle.

"Between 1965 and 1973, the per cent of school district expenditures for teachers' salaries has decreased by 10 percentage points. Thus, at a time when people are demanding quality education, a declining percentage of education dollars is being allocated to improve the quality at its most crucial place—the point of contact between student and teacher."

On political activity, Ryor said:

"Politicians on Washington's Capitol Hill, legislators in state capitols and local politicians across America; corporation executives wherever they may be; VIPs in the Pentagon, and others who shape our misshapen economy should be advised that Ichabod Crane, Mr. Peepers and Our Miss Brooks are gone—and no teacher I know mourns their demise.

"We need to adopt a plan for regional bargaining at the state level that brings equity to the negotiation process and that makes the prospect of a strike something for boards of education to consider then they refuse to bargain; we need state legislation that gives the educators control over entry into the profession; we need a collective bargaining law that gives all teachers in this country an equal footing at the bargaining rable—and we need a new and better shake in the allocation of federal dollars to our number one priority, education."

Paperwork Commission

If you sometimes feel kneedeep in paperwork, welcome to the club.

Washington, D.C., generally rated Public Enemy Number 1 in the excessive use of paper forms, has organized a National Commission on Federal Paperwork. Its goal is to cut down on the number and length of government forms, but few are optimistic about its chances for success.

After a study of its paper problems in 1956, the Commerce department confessed that it was producing enough paperwork to fill 12,000 four-drawer filing cabinets every year. Just ten years ago, a similar congressional commission said that if one government record were burned every second, it would take 2,000 years to destroy them all.

Farmland News on Sept. 30 reported the task confronting the new commission:

"American business and co-op enterprises are spending an estimated 18 billion dollars every year on government paperwork. The government itself spends almost that much printing the paper and processing it. Each year, Washington sends out copies of 5,164 different forms that have to be filled out and returned. A recent survey showed that American enterprises spend the equivalent of 35.6 million manhours annually to fill out reports required by federal agencies. Ten billion sheets of paper flow into federal offices annually, an estimate made in 1972, which probably means that the present volume is at least a few million more."

Baseball fans might be interested to know that the paper discussed above is enough to fill the Cincinnati or Boston stadium from the playing field to the top of the bleachers 50 times.

And still it grows. The official Federal Register, which publishes the government's new regulations, required 45,422 pages last year, in very small type.

Regulatory agencies, old and new, continue to add paperwork. Hospitals, for example, are literally snowed under by the volume of paperwork required for insurance and Medicare.

Rep. Richard D. Nolan of Minnesota declares that "the federal agencies and government are choking small business with volumes of seemingly endless regulations." He is backing a bill which would enable Congress to "examine each federal agency, remove unreasonable and useless regulations, and clearly and absolutely limit what the bureaucracy can and cannot do."

We're just cynical enough to suspect that Congress will create even more paperwork in its efforts to curtail the problem. It is easy to devise complicated and sometimes stupid forms. It takes study and hard work to adopt methods of curtailing useless paperwork. But it can be done, and it should be done.

Good luck, National Commission on Federal Paperwork.

Preserving Merit

Following editorial is from the Christian Science Monitor:

There is a move on Capitol Hill to essentially eliminate the Hatch Act, and it should concern those who are wary of anything which tends to obscure further the already tenuous division between government and politics.

The Hatch Act was passed 36 years ago to fight the "spoils system" in federal government. It bars employees from soliciting campaign funds from other workers, using their offices for political purposes, or taking an active part in partisan campaign management. It was designed to protect employees from political pressure, as well as to prevent partisan considerations from being a factor in how an employee views or carries out his job.

Bills to be voted on in Congress this month would remove most of these restrictions. They are vigorously supported by organized labor, which has increased its strength among public employees in recent years.

Federal employees themselves, however, are divided on the question. The president of one employees' group testified that removal of the Hatch Act would lead to a "terrific influx of abuses," and that nearly 90 per cent of those he represented favored retaining the protections under the act.

Robert Hampton, chairman of the Civil Service Commission, said that weakening Hatch Act provisions would "Have serious adverse effects on our ability to maintain a merit system." A U.S. Supreme Court majority held that it is "essential that federal service should depend on meritorious performance rather than political service." We agree, and feel that this standard can only be met through retention of the provisions of the Hatch Act.

If anything, recent history shows that the potential for abuse is just as prevalent today as it was in 1939. Senate Watergate hearings two years ago revealed that an aide to former President Nixon had compiled a detailed plan to politicize the civil service.

It may be, as a commission during the Johnson administration found, that restrictions on political activity by federal employees should be revised. But the goals of the Hatch Act—preventing public servants from being politically manipulated and preserving the merit system—are still valid.

We urge the Congress to retain those provisions of law which protect federal employees and ensure as much as possible that the Washington bureaucracy remain apolitical.

Air Is To Breathe

Chamber of Commerce of the United States has expressed justifiable concern over proposed amendments to the clean air act of 1970 which would not only ban new manufacturing plants but even new housing, farming operations, and recreation from certain geographical areas. It would all be done in the name of the war against air pollution.

Heart of the problem is the proposal for establishment of huge clean air preserves. It is not a matter of cleaning dirty air, the national organization points out, it is a matter of arbitrarily deciding that air already relatively clean should be left undisturbed regardless of the cost in future jobs or the fact that many poverty areas would be forever doomed to stay poor.

The Act itself is a commendable attack on polluted air and was supported by business as well as environmental groups. It was designed to control air pollution by regulating emissions primarily in urban areas where the major sources of pollution—automobiles and industrial plants—are concentrated. But environmental groups were not satisfied. They insisted on controls for future use of clean air. As a result, federal courts have ruled that under the Act air quality in undeveloped areas may not be significantly lowered by new development, even though development poses no threat to health or welfare.

To carry out such a clean air policy the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) drew up regulations dividing the nation into three categories: Class I, consisting of aesthetic and scenic areas, such as national parks and national forests, where new development would be banned; Class II, where limited development would be permitted, and Class III, where states could permit development necessary to provide jobs and economic security so long as air quality standards (health and welfare) are met. EPA is awaiting further Congressional and judicial clarification before aggressively implementing these new rules.

Meanwhile, Congressional advocates of even more drastic controls are at work. The Senate Subcommittee on Environmental Pollution has proposed amendments to the Act that would eliminate Class III and tighten restrictions on development in Class II. In addition, the subcommittee removed all doubt about Class I areas, where no development is permitted. It specified by name national parks, national wilderness areas and natural wildlife areas over 1,000 acres in size which automatically become restricted areas. It specified that states at their discretion could add to the list national forests, monuments and lake shores and military reservations.

The National Chamber, in an analysis of the proposed regulations and the proposed amendments, has prepared state-by-state maps showing at least 80 per cent of many states would be off-limits to new development under the Class I restriction covering pristine areas. Because air masses are mobile EPA takes the position that a major source of pollution affects a pristine area 60 to 100 miles away. Thus it would establish 60-mile buffer zones where clean air could not be disturbed.

In Class II, the Chamber said it found allowable development to be meaningless, explaining: "The increments (of allowable degradation of air) are often found by EPA's studies to be violated by natural emissions which occur in rural and scenic areas, such as national parks. Therefore, the allowable change for further development (farming, recreation and tourism, as well as manufacturing) already is taken up by nature in many areas."

A notable example of such pollution occurred outside the Nation's Capital in the summer of 1973 when natural oxidation of Appalachian vegetation was tracked down as the main cause of a six-day pollution alert.

The effects of such extreme federal policies on our future economy could be devastating. From the standpoint of many communities the issue means jobs and economic progress versus economic stagnation.

The orderly development and growth of our nation clearly is a matter of many concerns. Air quality is simply one of them. As matters now stand, environmentalists seem determined to inflict a no-growth economic policy on the nation simply using air quality as a pretext.

Coffman, president of the University of Minnesota, addressed the Civic and Commerce association.

1945—THIRTY YEARS AGO

The city council sold a $250,000 issue of water treatment plant bonds at a net interest rate 1.16 per cent. —The Minneapolis Bridge Co. on its low bid of $123,840 was awarded the contract to rebuild the city power dam. —Judge O.R. Knutson and Graham Torrance ruled that the old drainage and conservancy district organized in 1920 is still in existence as a corporate entity.

1955—TWENTY YEARS AGO

Dr. Orion D. Beich filed for election as mayor and will oppose incumbent Agnes Israelson in the Nov. 8 election. —A special election has been set for Nov. 28 to decide issuance of $1,200,000 in bonds for additional school buildings in this city. —At an area power conference in Grand Forks last week, it was concluded that Garrison Dam power will reduce power costs in this city by $100,000 annually. —Ralph Luhman, Chamber of Commerce president, and Crookston Chamber president Dr. W.R. Mercil have bet a hat on the results of Friday's Prowler-Crookston game. —Air Force ROTC cadet Dale Rondorf of this city was promoted to the rank of cadet captain in the AFROTC program at UND.

1965—TEN YEARS AGO

Installation of pipe for natural gas service to Thief River Falls is now underway. —Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Bushaw, operators of Johnnie's hamburger shop the past 13 years, have sold their business to Mr. and Mrs. Alan Noreen. —Marlan Augustine, president of the Red River Valley Dairymen's association, was reelected to the board of directors of the association.

MINNESOTA REPORT

Our educational programs have thus far focused primarily on the young. We have considered education to be a preparation for life more than a tool for continuing development and enrichment. Perhaps it is time we discarded this narrow view and took a look at what other educational possibilities can be explored.

In Minnesota right now, for example, a group of dedicated and creative individuals have been working to establish what they call the "Minnesota Learning Society." The Learning Society, which has received both state and national recognition, draws on a variety of educational resources throughout the community in an effort to provide a meaningful learning experience to people of all ages, social and economic backgrounds, and educational levels.

I have just introduced legislation that would support and encourage these and other efforts across the country to expand educational opportunity for a wide variety of individuals. The Lifetime Learning Act would be incorporated into the Education Amendments of 1975, now under consideration by the Education Subcommittee of the Senate.

The Act, if adopted, would provide program support for efforts to meet the needs of the elderly, women returning to the work force after raising children, part-time students and other special groups in the following ways:

By coordinating existing efforts in the area of lifetime learning by all federal agencies;

Providing support for training teachers to work with adults; curriculum development; conversion of facilities to accommodate adults; and development and dissemination of television, cassettes and other media appropriate for adult education;

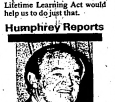
Conducting a study of the existing barriers to lifetime learning and how they might be eliminated;

Evaluating existing programs in the U.S. and abroad and determing whether they can be used as models.

The lifetime learning movement in Minnesota, headed by Dan Ferber, former vice president of Gustavus Adolphus College, includes a consortium of several educational institutions such as the University of Minnesota, which is training corps of personel in geriatrics and adult education, and Mankato State which has trained volunteers to provide older people with the services they seek, and scores of other institutions which are providing fine programs for special educational groups.

For the first time in many years, we seem to have educational resources -- teachers, dormitories and laboratories -- which are not necessarily being used to their fullest. Such resources can be used to meet a variety of diversified educational needs. While these needs are already being recognized and addressed by a number of promising projects throughout the country, we need to coordinate these efforts and to learn from our broad national experience in this field. The Lifetime Learning Act would help us to do just that.

Humphrey Reports



To Minnesotans

One of the most sensitive matters to come before the Congress for consideration was the resolution calling for the placement of 200 American civilian observers in the Sinai desert passes between Egypt and Israel, to give advance warning of any troop movement in the area.

It was my responsibility to lead the debate in the Senate as an advocate of this U. S. proposal for peace. The joint resolution was approved overwhelmingly by both houses of the Congress — in the Senate by a vote of 70 to 18; and in the House, by 341 to 69.

Thus, in approximately five months these American technicians will assume their role as protectors of the peace in the Sinai, equipped with the most sophisticated electronic surveillance equipment available.

The principal objection to the resolution was that the stationing of these observers could lead to the introduction of U. S. military forces and bring about another Vietnam.

I carefully weighed this possibility before deciding to support the resolution. But I believe that the analogy made between U. S. involvement in Indochina and U. S. involvement in Sinai is a false one.

In the case of the Gulf of Tonkin resolution there was a specific commitment of the armed forces of the United States.

The Middle East resolution provides only for the assignment of unarmed civilians, with no connection to the military, who would be removed immediately — under the protection of the United Nations — in the event of the outbreak of hostilities between Egypt and Israel.

I am aware that there is some risk involved. But I also am aware that we must have the courage to take a risk for the sake of peace. Therefore, I believe that the Congress acted intelligently and responsibly in approving the resolution.

Obviously, this resolution alone will not bring peace. It simply is the first step toward an ultimate settlement in the Middle East.

Great problems lie ahead in Sinai, the Golan Heights, Sharm al-Sheikh, the Gaza Strip, the West Bank, Jerusalem and with the Palestine Liberation Organization.

But the Sinai agreement with U. S. observers, will allow both sides to calm the tensions that were pushing the parties toward inevitable war.

The word must go forth from the Congress now to our friends in Israel and Egypt that we expect both countries to continue their efforts for peace. This will take leadership and it will take courage.

I am confident that both Prime Minister Rabin of Israel and President Sadat of Egypt are committed to the process of negotiation toward a full peace agreement. And these men of foresight deserve our support.

Americans think of money as their only valuable resource but time is another resource that we have less of as we become busier; University home economists say. Young people ages 9 to 19 are learning to mobilize time, money, energy, skills, material things and brain power in the new Minnesota 4-H self management program. Information is available from local county extension offices.

Technology Aiding Wildlife Management

A million square miles of formerly inaccessible Arctic goose breeding country can be checked out in a twinkling now by the U.S. fish and wildlife service using two earth satellites—giving biologists a much better handle on forecasting autumn flights of geese over North America and enabling the United States and Canada to fine tune their hunting regulations to the needs of the birds.

Snow and ice melted two to three weeks earlier than normal in the high Arctic this year, the service discovered in its first experimental use of satellite pictures taken in June. This fact alone was good news for biologists following Arctic nesting goose populations because it gets the natural stage for a successful year of nesting, laying and hatching eggs, as well as raising young birds.

Arctic nesting geese—which include most species common to North America—run a close race with nature each year. They arrive from their wintering grounds in warmer climes ripe to nest and lay the eggs that have been developing within them for three weeks. The male copulates with the female during spring migration and upon arriving at the traditional breeding grounds she is prepared to build her nest and lay eggs within a few days.

Timing is crucial. If geese don't get their nests built by mid-June the clock automatically runs out on the chances of young birds growing and surviving to fall migration. Arctic summers are extremely short, and geese need 21 to 25 days to incubate eggs and as many as 50 additional days for rearing goslings to flight stage.

Weather is the greatest enemy of Arctic nesting geese. Nature has adapted them in a unique way to cope with ice and snow, however. If the nesting grounds are still covered with snow or ice when the geese arrive, they will not nest because they seem to know their eggs would not hatch in time for the goslings to attain flight before the onslaught of winter. Also, in a sort of natural "waste-not-want-not" way, the female as an added adaptation is physiologically able to "resorb" her eggs one by one until weather conditions improve. This is a process of "dissolving" the fertile eggs and assimilating its chemicals back into the body rather than laying the eggs. However, such delays cannot exceed more than a few days or a week at most because she will have resorbed all of her fertile eggs and will not have time to begin once more and complete the natural cycle before the snow flies. In years when snow and ice delay nesting, the normal clutch of four to five eggs is reduced.

Arctic nesting geese often endure a boom or bust reproductive existence as a result. It is known that breeding populations of several hundred thousand geese have produced no young whatsoever in "bad" years. This seems to have happened to the Wrangel Island, U.S.S.R., snow goose population in 1974. Of 15,000 snow geese that migrated to the state of Washington and were surveyed last fall, none were immature birds, indicating that the persistence of snow and ice in Russia's far north interrupted the natural reversals like this before its entire population is in deep trouble. This is the fifth year the Wrangel Island snow goose population has endured such a hard time, and hunting regulations have been restricted to take pressure off this species. This year the daily bag limit on white geese throughout the Pacific flyway has been reduced from six to three birds.

In other parts of the Arctic where 1975 was a good year the natural drama played out like a speeded-up, old-time movie around a good portion of the Arctic Circle. The 24-hour a day sunshine accelerates everything. Snow, ice and melted water vanish quickly. Lush green grass and succulent plantlife spring almost like jacks-in-the-box from the now-steaming tundra. Eggs hatch and goslings grow at an unbelievable rate as they gorge themselves on the richest of green plants for 24 hours a day. Arctic foxes pounce on the gaggles of concentrated geese. Jaegers—tern-like birds—dive onto nests and eat goose eggs, and every other living thing scatters to the four winds when bears lumber onto the scene for their share of the eggs. However, except in local situations, the net effect of predation on goose production usually is small.

The use of satellite imagery was an outgrowth of cooperative studies by the Interior department's U.S. fish and wildlife service and the Canadian wildlife service last fall and winter. Biologists are optimistic that this new tool will permit accurate identification of years when Arctic goose production is either very good or poor.

It was not possible previously to find out the habitat conditions and estimate production of many goose populations because of the inaccessibility of Arctic nesting areas and the high costs of placing field crews on them. Consequently, hunting regulations have sometimes failed to reflect years of poor production. Atlantic brant, for example, experienced poor production in 1971 and 1972 but this wasn't documented until the following hunting seasons. The wintering population dropped from 151,000 in January of 1971 to 40,700 in January of 1973 because of production failure and excessive harvests during the 1971-72 season. Once the decline was noted the brant season in the Atlantic flyway was closed from 1972 through 1974. Had satellite pictures been available, it is likely that the poor production years would have been recognized, and hunting regulations would have been modified to prevent excessive harvests.

In this year's experiment U.S. and Canadian biologists used two independent sensing systems—the weather satellite launched for the national atmospheric and oceanic administration (NOAA) and the earth resources technology satellite (ERTS) launched for the Interior department.

The NOAA satellite sends back images of wide areas measuring 1,000 miles on each side. ERTS images show areas measuring 100 miles to the side. The NOAA system, then, is particularly useful for assessing snow and ice conditions over wide areas, while the ERTS pictures taken from 500 miles up are better for examining local areas in greater detail. Both systems are handicapped by the prevalence of clouds and fog lingering in June over much of the Arctic nesting areas.

As a result of satellite imagery sent back from this experimental use the U.S. fish and wildlife service and the Canadian wildlife service jointly reported that snow and ice had disappeared this spring from traditional nesting areas two to three weeks earlier than normal. The situation was not uniformly good, however, as snow and ice lingered on the North Slope of Alaska and on Wrangel Island, U.S.S.R., an important production area for lesser snow geese destined for the Pacific flyway. Nonetheless, fall flights of most Arctic nesting geese should contain high ratios of young birds.

Arctic breeding geese are traditional nesting birds. They'll return to the spot where they themselves were hatched and raised, no matter what the weather. Unlike the more adaptable duck, geese will not scatter or leave their nesting grounds when conditions are unfavorable. This fact will allow American and Canadian scientists using earth satellite information to develop precise historical population studies. Next year it is planned to revisit these breeding grounds via satellite and take advantage of this characteristic behavior of geese to return to traditional nesting areas.

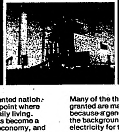
Why do we need power plants?


We are an energy-oriented nation. We have reached the point where we need energy for daily living. Our energy supply has become a necessity in today's economy, and many of us fail to realize how important it is: Some people question the need for all the power plants and the lignite they use. Check the questions listed here. If you answer "yes" to any of them, you'll realize that it took energy to do these things, as it does in dozens of other daily activities.
☐ Did you flush your toilet today? (That took six gallons of water each time)
☐ Did you have toast for breakfast?
☐ Did you wash clothes? Use an electric dryer? Iron?
☐ Did you listen to the news or radio or TV?
☐ Did you wash dishes today?
☐ Did anyone take a bath or shower?
☐ Was your yard light on last night?
☐ Did you make any phone calls today?
☐ Did you use a power tool today?
Many of the things we take for granted are made possible only because a generating plant is in the background, supplying electricity for today's life style.

Seven Motor Homes Fail Test For Flammability

Seven manufacturers of motor homes, recreational vehicles which are popular in Minnesota, have been notified by the National highway traffic safety administration (NHTSA) that their current models have failed this year's compliance tests for flammability, the Department of public safety warned recently.

Two of the manufacturers, Robin Hood motor homes and the Travoy corporation, have already issued recall notices, while the other five companies which failed the tests, Commander motor homes, F.M.C. corp., Open road industries, inc., Travco corp., and Travel equipment corp. are in the process of replying to the NHTSA charges.

In the test procedures, various materials used in the vehicles such as drapes, carpeting and seat cushions are tested by independent laboratories for burn rates. If a model fails a test, the manufacturer is sent a "compliance information request" and is offered the option of recalling the model of submitting information to NHTSA which either challenges the test results or offers reasons why the vehicle should not be recalled.

NHTSA tested the models of 17 manufacturers this year under the flammability testing program. Thirteen models were tested last year, resulting in two recalls. Four other models failed last year and are still under investigation.

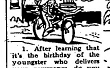
Personality Quiz

ARE YOU A GIVING PERSON?

A giving person is not necessarily one who exercises limitless generosity. A person who is liked and appreciated knows what to give, how to give, and when to give. What's your generosity quotient? Why not take this quiz and see how you rate for the quality and quantity of your giving?



1. After learning that it's the birthday of the youngster who delivers your newspaper, do you (A) Wish him a happy birthday and give him a tip to show that you appreciate his services (B) Assure him that you intend to renew your subscription (C) Telephone the youngster's mother and ask what she thinks he'd like for his birthday?

2. After spending a weekend at a friend's home, the appropriately generous thing to do is (A) Invite him to your home for the following weekend (B) Telephone him immediately and express profuse thanks (C) Write a short letter of thanks and say that it would be nice if he could visit you at your home soon?

3. When a friend dies and his relatives suggest that you should not send flowers, do you (A) Comply strictly with their suggestion (B) Call a member of the family and tell her how much you would have liked to send flowers (C) Send flowers anyway, since they are a universally understood symbol of condolence?

4. If an acquaintance at work is going to get married, should you (A) Buy him or her an expensive gift (B) Try to organize the people in the office to chip in to buy him a nice gift (C) Send a card at the time of the wedding?

Answers (upside down)

1. (A) An extra tip is the appropriate gift. 2. (C) Your thanks should be expressed in writing and later with reciprocation of the entertaining. 3. (C) Flowers are always appropriate as a sign of generosity. 4. (B) If you organize a group of people, you can buy a really fine gift.

Applications Due October 31 For Project 120

One hundred twenty Minnesota high school juniors and seniors will have the opportunity to observe the state's legislative process first-hand in February and March by participating in a program called Project 120. Students well be involved in seminars and discussions with elected officials, party leaders, lobbyists and others currently engaged in political decision-making.

The Project 120 program, offered at no cost to the participants, is funded principally by Urban concerns workshops, inc. (UCWI) and the Minnesota American Revolution bicentennial commission (MARBC). The MARBC has awarded the project a $7,300 grant. UCWI is currently raising matching funds and has pledged an additional $3,860 in services.

Students may obtain Project 120 applications from their high school government or political science teachers or directly from UCWI, 1925 Nicollet Ave., 206B, Minneapolis, 55403. Fifteen students will be selected from each of Minnesota's eight Congressional districts. A forum of 20 students will participate in each of six five-day sessions.

Application deadline is October 31.

Project 120 is a comprehensive political education program designed to help the student: Understand the legislative process in Minnesota; understand the political party system of the state; understand how community activity intertwines with the political process; and understand how to convert political awareness to political activity. Each participant will be with the program for five days. During that time he or she will gain insights into Minnesota's system of government from the people who comprise that system. Persons currently working at various levels of decision-making will help the student comprehend the technical and "not-so-technical" aspects of the political process, as well as the ideologies guiding their actions. The main vehicle of education will be small group discussion led by trained project leaders.

Students are not expected to agree with everything they hear or with everyone they talk with. Rather, we hope that through exposure to the realities of the political process they will come away with a personalized view of what politics is all about and from that formulate their own political opinions.

Project 120 is sponsored by Urban concerns workshops, inc., a nonprofit, non-partisan political education program organized in 1970. UCWI programs are held in schools, businesses and community centers.

Suggests Study Of Metropolitan Transit Program

Minnesota Senate minority leader Robert Ashbach has called for a legislative study of the Metropolitan transit commission to determine the wisdom of pouring millions of Minnesota taxpayers' dollars into the operation each year.

"On its recent fifth anniversary, MTC officials spoke about their accomplishments, yet last session they received $21 million operating subsidy from the legislature, and a recent report by the Metropolitan council's transportation and environment committee says that if the MTC continues at its present pace, it will have an annual operating deficit of $100 million in six years.

"These reports are too serious to let pass without some investigation. I think it is time to find out if we are getting our money's worth with this massive subsidy, or if it amounts to nothing more than a huge give-away of state funds, approximately one-half of which is contributed from taxpayers of outstate Minnesota," the senator said.

"I have seen the MTC capital budget, which calls for the purchase of color TV sets, pool and foosball tables at a cost to the taxpayers of more than $10,000," Ashbach continued.

"And all of this comes in the face of a study showing that while the number of passengers may have increased, the number of passengers per mile—which I think is a more valid indicator of efficiency—has fallen more than 11 per cent. As a result, the costs have escalated from $1 per mile in 1973 to an estimated $1.46 per mile in 1975."

Ashbach said there are at least four areas the legislature should consider:

(1) The Senate should remove the uncertainty surrounding the MTC's leadership by either confirming or denying the Governor's appointment of its chairman.

(2) The rapid extension of bus routes and the purchase of new equipment must be controlled to reduce the fast-growing annual deficit and the decreasing passenger use per mile of service.

(3) The legislature should encourage private bus operators because the competition would lead to greater efficiency and lower costs to the taxpayers.

(4) The legislature must stop automatically pumping millions of dollars into the operation of the MTC. Instead, it should provide guidelines so the dollars are spent wisely and set a limit on this huge expenditure of state funds.

4-H Dress Revuers Adopt Coordinated Look

CHICAGO — This season's popular mix-and-match look lends itself nicely to tight budgets. A new shirt or vest, especially if it's made at home, can go with last year's skirt or pants for a 1975 look that doesn't cost a fortune.

Separates provide variety in the wardrobe for less cost. But coordinating them is both a challenge and an art. Selecting just the right separates to achieve a fashionable, unified outfit is especially important to young people in the national 4-H dress revue program sponsored by Simplicity Pattern Co. Inc.

"Total" look stressed

4-H dress revues are a learn-by-doing feature of the overall 4-H clothing program conducted by the Cooperative Extension Service. The program, with 347,211 participating boys and girls 9-19, emphasizes selecting, constructing, accessorizing and modeling garments that complement the 4-H member's wardrobe.

Garments modeled in a 4-H dress revue are evaluated on fit, style, suitability of fabric to pattern, and accessories. Just as important as the outfit are the model's grooming, posture and poise.

In 1975, that model is almost as likely to be male as female. Increasingly fashion conscious, boys care about how they look, how their clothes fit, and whether colors and patterns "fit" together.

All-occasion wardrobes

While 4-H'ers select, construct and model clothes for occasions that range from school to active sports to proms, they can work for awards donated by Simplicity and arranged by the National 4-H Service Committee.

This year, one 4-H'er from each of the 50 states, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico will receive an expense-paid trip to Chicago to participate in the national 4-H dress revue. The revue is a highlight of the 54th National 4-H Congress, to be held Nov. 30 - Dec. 4 at the Conrad Hilton Hotel.

During the Congress six national winners will be honored with college scholarships of $800.

Simplicity also presents medals of honor to 4-H'ers who place in the top 10 per cent in county dress revues.

All award winners are selected by the Extension Service on the basis of their placement in state or county dress revues and their achievements in general 4-H clothing projects.

More information on the national 4-H dress revue program is available from county extension agents.

Coordinating the season's popular mix-and-match look calls for real fashion flair on the part of 347,211 young people in the national 4-H dress revue program. Sponsored by Simplicity Pattern Co. Inc. and conducted by the Cooperative Extension Service, the program encourages 4-H'ers 9-19 to select, construct and model garments that complement their wardrobes.

"Crockery Cookery" . . .

A Revolution In Cooking

More than 20 million American families already are discovering that crockery or slow cooking is one of the most economical and convenient ways to prepare foods. Now, for the first time, a cookbook is available which has 262 tested recipes.

Home economist/editor Mable Hoffman's new "Crockery Cookery" suggests recipe ideas for entrees, vegetables, desserts, appetizers, and other popular dishes. All can be prepared in the dozen or more slow cooking appliances being marketed nationally.

Sales of leading brands of electric slow cookers are up 10 million a year and still climbing. But since slow cookers require new recipes, none of the standard cookbooks has many recipes for meals cooked at 200 degrees for four to eight hours. For that reason, H. P. Books of Tucson, Arizona, had the vision to bring forth a complete comprehensive book precisely conditioned to meet the specific needs of this specialized cooking.

"Crockery Cookery," which lists for $4.95 (paperback) and $6.95 (cloth), has a complete guide on the care and selection of electric slow cookers, by brand name and model designation. It tells the user what control settings to use for each make of cooker.

Mable Hoffman's "Crockery Cookery" is indeed a concept whose time has come. The book is available in leading stores, or information can be obtained by writing H. P. Books, P.O. Box 5367, Tucson, Arizona 85703.

AN IMPORTANT HEALTH RIDDLE

What is it that millions of people have that they do not know about and that if they do not find out about, it soon could very well endanger their lives? One final hint—once found it cannot be cured but in most cases it can be controlled.

The answer is Diabetes! And at this time of year, an extra special effort is made to find those people who have Diabetes and because they may have none or few symptoms, do not know it. Testing is simple and painless so have it done soon.

Arctic Reports Quarterly Profit

Arctic Enterprises, Inc., Thief River Falls, earned a profit of $980,000 or 32 cents per share on continuing snowmobile and boat operations for the quarter ended Sept. 30, 1975, as compared to a loss of $749,000 of 24 cents per share for the same quarter a year ago. This is the fourth consecutive quarter of improved operating results for Arctic.

Consolidated sales from continuing operations were $31,362,000, up from $28,544,000 for the second quarter last year. The company also reported a credit of $150,000 or five cents per share from discontinued operations in the second quarter this year, which increased consolidated net income to $1,130,000 or 37 cents per share.

For the six months ended Sept. 30, 1975, the company reported a profit from continuing operations of $136,000 or four cents per share versus a loss of $2,118,000 or 69 cents per share for the same period a year ago. Consolidated sales from continuing operations were $41,265,000 for the six month period this year as compared to $35,934,000 for the first half last year. For the six months ended Sept. 30, 1975, consolidated net income was $286,000 or nine cents per share, including the $150,000 credit from discontinued operations.

Arctic president John C. Penn said he was pleased with the company's turn-around performance this year. "In the first six months last year, a high proportion of our sales were comprised of carry-over snowmobiles sold at discounts. This year, sales for the interim period yielded more normal margins because of our improved inventory position together with higher production levels which absorbed more overhead.

"Our improved over-all inventory position and reduced short term debt have also allowed us to cut interest expense by $1,000,000 for the first half of fiscal 1976," Penn said.

Arctic previously announced that approximately 48,000 1976 model snowmobiles would be produced during the year ended March 31, 1976, up from 37,000 units a year ago. According to Penn, approximately 32,000 units were produced as of Sept. 30, 1975, as compared to 14,000 units at the same time last year. Production of 1976 models will be completed in early December.

Penn also noted that early season retail sales of snowmobiles have been satisfactory, however, the level of future retail sales and reorders from distributors and dealers from the factory in the third quarter will be the key to Arctic's performance for fiscal 1976 as a whole.

"At the present time, we believe we will attain our previously announced goal of being profitable this year," Penn said.

Humphrey Aide To Visit Area

Senator Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn) announced today that he is sending an aide to Crookston on Thursday, November 6, and to Thief River Falls on Friday, November 7, to meet with constituents who may be having difficulties with the federal government.

Humphrey said that his aide will be in Crookston in the civil service room on the second floor of the post office building at 202 South Broadway from 10 a.m. until noon and from 1 p.m. until 2:30 p.m. While in Thief River Falls, Humphrey's aide will be in the inspection service room in the basement of the post office building at 121 LaBree Avenue north from 10 a.m. until noon and again from 1 p.m. until 2:30 p.m. No appointment is necessary.

Charges Dropped Against Holmes

Thief River Falls Police department announced Thursday that all charges have been dropped against Gregory W. Holmes, 18, of the city in connection with an alleged car theft and high speed chase reported October 22.

Holmes was a passenger in the pursued car, which was driven by a 17-year-old city juvenile. Charges dismissed against Holmes include reckless driving, two counts of leaving the scene of an accident and failure to stop for an officer.

61 Compete In Wool Sewing Contest Sat.

Sixty-one girls and women took part in the District I Make It Yourself With Wool contest held Saturday at Northland community college in Thief River Falls with five winners selected for advancement to state competition.

Advancing to further competition will be junior winners Barbara Drevlow of Ada and Julie Bergeson of Bagley; senior winners Myrna Eklund of Roseau and DeEtte Stamnes of Lake Bronson; and adult winner Mrs. Peggy Magnusson of Roseau. Alternates are junior Susan Hauge of Hendrum, senior Candy Roed of Mentor and adult Mrs. Linda Hoff of Perley.

The state contest will be held December 6 at the Town House motel in Fargo, N.D., at 1:30 p.m., according to Mrs. Gunder Legvold, director of the District I event.

Pennington county entry Dawn Ode, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Ode of Thief River Falls, won first place in the pre-teen division for entrants 10 to 13 years of age. Alternate selected was Valerie Eklund, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Eklund of Roseau. Pre-teen winners do not advance to further competition.

Other Pennington county entrants who placed high enough to receive competition awards were Bette Hanson and Wendy Noreen in the junior division and Barbara Lanson in the senior division.

Junior (14-16)—Barbara Drevlow, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. A. A. Drevlow, Ada; Julie Bergeson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Bergeson, Bagley; and alternate Susan Hauge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Hauge, Hendrum;

December 13th To Be Santa Day In T. R. Falls

Santa Claus day in Thief River Falls will be observed on Saturday, December 13, according to a decision made at a recent meeting of the Chamber of Commerce retail trade committee.

Santa will visit with youngsters at the city auditorium beginning at 1 p.m. Details of Santa's arrival will be discussed at another meeting of the committee on November 19. The city auditorium location was selected because displays at the Chamber of Commerce office are expected to reduce available space there.

Board Reaffirms Arbitration Stand

Reaffirmation of its stand on arbitration and directing school district attorney John Novacek to submit the stated positions without further meetings with the teachers' negotiating council took place Monday evening at a meeting of the Thief River Falls board of education.

A resolution was also passed allowing payment of salary to participants in the binding arbitration sessions on October 20 and 21 regarding a grievance on lane changes and increments. The board had previously taken the position that faculty members would not be paid for time taken from their jobs for such participation. The resolution adopted Monday notes that pay is subject to being withheld at a future date, based on the arbitrator's decision in the grievance case.

The board voted to allow up to $500 out of hockey ticket sale income for generating ticket sales and that the price of the tickets would remain the same for the 1975-76 school year as for the past year. A review of the sale of tickets is to be made before the 1976-77 school year.

Hired by the board were Jerry Hauff, agriculture teacher at Lincoln; and Loren Arveson, custodian at Lincoln. Extra-curricular appointments approved were Mark Caputo, assistant wrestling coach, and Richard Kotschevar, radio club advisor.

Bid of Epco, Inc., in the amount of $9,705.75 was accepted for television and audio visual equipment to be used in the audio communications department of the area vocational-technical institute.

Bids accepted for the AVTI remodeling project were $2,170 from Jorgenson Electric for electrical heating and wiring and $1,125 from Swenson Plumbing and Heating for plumbing work.

The board also purchased a nine-passenger station wagon (1974 model) from Sid's Motor Sales on a bid of $4,350.

November 10 and 11 workshop days were approved as follows: November 10—Noon to 8 p.m., parent-teacher conferences for kindergarten through grade 5; 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. conferences for

Scientists Survey Soils

Soil scientists Donald Barron and Ward Aas of the Pennington county office of the soil conservation service are currently gathering information to develop a soil survey legend for Pennington county. This information will be evaluated this winter, and the resulting legend will be tested in the spring prior to the beginning of a detailed soil survey for the county.

Randomly checking approximately 45 to 50 sites per township, they collect notes on such soil characteristics as color, texture and reaction. Subsoil colors indicate the extent of oxidation—a factor in evaluating soil water condition. The soil texture indicates the amount of sand, silt or clay present. The reaction indicates the amount of free lime at various soil depths.

Barron said the soil survey program, which is being financed jointly in its first two years by funds from the county, state and federal governments, is designed to take an inventory of soils for a number of purposes. These include interpretation for agricultural evaluation; interpretation for industrial evaluation; development for a taxation base; and suitability for septic tank installation.

Barron and Aas began the sampling early in October in the western area of the county, and as of last week were working in Smiley and Wyandotte townships. The expected completion date of the field work is 1980.

DONALD BARRON, soil scientist with the city soil conservation service office, is pictured in the process of running a power probe for the lifting of soil samples.

ASCS Program To Relieve Area Flood Feed Loss

Pennington county livestock owners who suffered severe losses of feed production due to last summer's flooding may be eligible for assistance under the emergency livestock feed program (LFP), administered by the county agricultural stabilization and conservation service, according to Wallace Sparby, county ASCS executive director.

In order to be eligible, an applicant must gennerally lack sufficient feed for his livestock because of the emergency. The county ASCS committee would consider obtaining sufficient feed through normal trade channels a financial hardship if doing so would imperil the continuance of a farming operation, cause default on existing financial obligations, or induce unsound borrowing or excessive dosposal of livestock.

Livestock owners who believe they qualify for assistance under the LFP are invited to contact the county ASCS for program details.

Contests Noted For City Election Tues.

Contests in four of five positions open in Thief River Falls city government will highlight the annual city election to be held Tuesday. Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. in all five of the city's wards.

Polling places include the following: Ward 1, Northrop school; Ward 2, Masonic hall; Ward 3, city auditorium; Ward 4, Knox school; and Ward 5, Franklin middle school.

Incumbents have filed for reelection to all five offices and opponents have filed for election in four of the five offices. The mayor elected will serve a two-year term and aldermen elected will serve for four years.

Only for the position of fifth ward alderman is there no competition in the election. Incumbent Milton Reierson in unopposed in his bid for reelection. He was appointed to his present position after previous service on the council for two terms beginning when the city was divided into five wards late in the 1950's. His present appointment was made in 1972 when Jerry Wigness resigned from the fifth ward alderman post to accept appointment to the post of city clerk.

Offices for which there are more than one candidate include the following:

Mayor—Incumbent Robert Carlson has served 18 years in city government and is a sales supervisor for the Minneapolis Star and Tribune. He is opposed by his younger brother, Gary Carlson, a resident of Thief River Falls for most of his life and whose campaign material indicates a belief in the need for a change in city government.

First Ward Alderman—Incumbent Roger Worth was appointed to the council to fill an unexpired term and is employed as an attorney for Arctic Enterprises, Inc. His opponent is Milan Borsheim, a life-long resident of the city and owner of Borsheim Printing, a firm started by his step-father and purchased by Milan and his brother in 1960. He purchased his brother's interest in 1972.

Third Ward Alderman—Incumbent Ambrose Wysoski has been a resident of the third ward for 29 years. He is employed by Peterson Lumber company and has served 12 years on the council, presently as vice chairman. Also seeking the post is Mrs. Joyce Peterson who moved to Thief River Falls from Viking in 1968. She is secretary for the International Woodworkers of America local 4-348 and indicates in her campaign material that she believes women should take a more active interest in city government.

Alderman at Large—Incumbent Arnold Narverud is co-owner of Narverud Cleaners, Inc., and has served on the city council for 10 years. His campaign stressed getting the best value per dollar spent. Opposing him is Clayton Restad, a teacher of mathematics in the Thief River Falls school system since 1957. He expresses a desire to have a hand in future improvements which can take place for the city of Thief River Falls.

53 At Northland Get Scholarships

Newcomers Club Installs Officers: Schedules Parties

Officers were installed at the meeting of the Newcomers club held Tuesday evening at the City Auditorium meeting room.

Installed were Judy Giese, president; Janet Mork, first vice president; Linda Van Horn, second vice president; Linda Nelson, secretary; Kathy Roe, treasurer; Lois Evenson, publicity; and Jill Dick, historian.

Out-going president Jane Shafland presented each new officer with a flower signifying officers' duties and the support of the club. An alumni charm was presented to Barb Hahn. Linda Nelson received the door prize. A party and scavengers hunt to be held Saturday, November 8, at the Dan Shafland residence at 920 North Arnold, were discussed. Also planned was the Christmas dinner-dance to be held December 6 at the Elks club.

The meeting began with a pot luck supper served prior to the installation.

The next meeting of the Newcomers club will be held November 11 at 8 p.m., at the Linda Petrillo home at 205 South Spruce. The meeting will include a rosemaling demonstration by Diane Ewards. All women new to the area are invited to attend.

Demonstrations Given At Chat And Chew Meeting

Two demonstrations were presented at the October meeting of the Chat and Chew homemakers club held at the home of Miss Geneva Overum.

The cooking demonstration was given by Mrs. Wanda Murphy, who presented the lesson on slow cookery. The lunch served featured chili made using the slow cookery method.

Giving the craft demonstration was Mrs. Pauline Aubol, who showed the group the art of making carnations. Members will make carnations at a later meeting.

Mrs. Aubol presided at the meeting. Vi Sullivan read the homemakers creed and gave the secretary's report. Of special interest was a letter from Mrs. Lena Hayes, read by Mrs. Laurel Joyner. Each of the 12 members attending the meeting responded to the letter by signing a card with a personal greeting.

A report on the meeting presented by Blanche Erkel, of the Food and Drug Administration, based on Consumer concerns, was given by Mrs. Marian Williams. It was noted that Geneva Overum had also attended that meeting.

Members also discussed the annual county Christmas party and suggestions were given.

The meeting concluded with a dessert lunch served by Miss Overum.

The next meeting of the Chat and Chew Homemakers club will be held November 11 at the Vi Sullivan home.

Michael Lynn Conely Baptized At Redeemer

Michael Lynn Conely, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Conely of rural Thief River Falls, was baptized Sunday, October 26, during the morning worship service at Redeemer Lutheran church in this city.

Rev. Keith Prekker officiated at the ceremony. Sponsors were the child's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Conely of Grand Forks, N.D.

Following the administering of the sacrament, a christening dinner was held at the Conely home. Guests, in addition to the sponsors and their son, Chad, were the child's grandparents: Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dyrseth of Grygla and Mrs. Agnes Conely of Warren; together with Mrs. Richard Abrahamson, Scott and Lisa and Timmy Conely, all of Warren, and Ed Ruff of Grand Forks, N.D.

Bonnie Ruud-Tim Howard Vows Spoken At Gatzke

Marriage vows were exchanged recently at the United Lutheran church in Gatzke for Miss Bonnie Ruud, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cheslie Ruud of Gatzke, and Tim Howard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Howard of Warren.

Rev. Robert Amundson officiated at the double ring, candlelight ceremony witnessed by approximately 250 relatives and friends. Mrs. Lowell Larson, a friend of the bride, was organist. She accompanied Mrs. Alan Gessner and Richard Shager as they sang, "Song of Ruth," as the bride's mother and the groom's parents were seated. "The Lord's Prayer" was sung as the couple knelt at the altar. For the processional, the bride's brother, Robert Ruud, played the guitar and sang, "You and I," "If" and "Follow Me."

Candelabra and white mums graced the chancel for the afternoon ceremony. Red and white flowers marked the pews.

The bride, excorted to the altar by her father and given in marriage by her parents, was attired in a gown of dacron polyester organza. French imported Chantilly lace formed the deep bib on her bodice and trimmed the long, full sleeves. The cuffs, skirt and chapel-length train were edged with crystal pleating. A profile headpiece of Alencon lace held her three-tiered, fingertip veil, edged with matching lace. She carried a bouquet of red roses and white carnations in a mist of babies' breath.

Marcyne Nilson of Tucson, Ariz., was maid of honor. Other attendants were Mrs. Jerry Strandberg of Middle River and Brenda Burger of Thief River Falls. All are friends of the bride. They wore identical floor-length gowns of a floral nylon print over red polyester crepe. To accent their attire, they wore white picture hats trimmed with red ribbon and carried large white mums with red straw flowers and red ribbon streamers. Their silver necklaces were gifts from the bride.

Attending his brother as best man was Tony Howard of Warren. Groomsmen were John Amundgaard of Warren, a friend, and Tom Howard of Minnetonka, brother of the groom. Their attire included white tuxedos with black pants, vests and ties, red ruffled shirts and red rosebud boutonnieres. The groom wore similar attire, only in all white. His boutonniere was a red rose accented with babies' breath.

Serving as ushers were Robert Ruud and Don Slusar, brother-in-law of the groom. Acolytes were Terry Ruud, brother of the bride, and Carmin Yeado, a niece of the groom.

For her daughters wedding, Mrs. Ruud was attired in a green floor-length gown complemented by a corsage of red roses and white carnations. The groom's mother wore a peach floor-length gown with a corsage of peach roses and white carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Ruud, brother and sister-in-law of the bride, were host and hostess at the reception that followed in the church parlors. Highlighting the serving table was a four-tiered wedding cake baked and decorated by Mrs. Berdean Knutson. The cake, featuring a flowing fountain, was decorated with clusters of fresh flowers, trailing ivy and ceramic cherubs. It was cut and served by Mrs. Orvin Anderson, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Don Slusar, sister of the groom. Mrs. Melvin Most, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Tom Howard, sister-in-law of the groom, poured.

The guests were registered by Mrs. Terry Thompson, foster sister of the bride. At the punch bowl were Miss Stephanie Howard and Mrs. Tony Howard, sister and sister-in-law of the groom. Waitresses were Misses Arlyne Johnson, Roxy Jesme, April Ryba and Nancy Niemela, friends of the bride.

The evening prior to the wedding, the groom's parents hosted a supper at Lon's in Thief River Falls.

Michelle R. Thibert And Mark E. Naplin To Wed

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Thibert of Red Lake Falls announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Michelle Renee, to Mark Edgar Naplin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Naplin of rural Red Lake Falls.

The bride-elect is a senior nursing student at Jamestown college, Jamestown, N.D. Her fiance is a graduate of the University of Minnesota, Crookston, and is presently engaged in farming with his father and brother.

The wedding ceremony will take place at St. Joseph's Catholic church in Red Lake Falls on December 26.

Mr. and Mrs. Werner Jacobson of this city spent several days visiting with relatives and friends in southern Minnesota. They returned home on Monday after also visiting friends at Bena.

Homemakers Of Numedal Study Slow Cookery

Numedal Homemakers met for their lesson on "Slow Cookery" on October 23 at the home of Mrs. Winton Knutson. Mrs. Olaf Pederson and Mrs. Harvey Swenson presented instructions on slow cooking. Following the meeting a bean dish which had been prepared earlier by the slow cookery method was served with the pot luck lunch.

Three members and three visitors answered roll call by sharing what each enjoys about the fall season. A report on a recently attended councilor's meeting was given by Mrs. Harvey Swenson, who also told of events planned for future meetings. A Christmas project was discussed. Details will be completed at the next meeting.

"Entertaining with foods" will be the lesson given at the next meeting, scheduled for November 20 at the home of Mrs. Harvey Swenson.

Julie Svean-Larry Kaiser Wed At A Home Ceremony

Two six-branch candelabra graced with yellow roses and greenery formed the setting in the formal living room at the Edward Turenne residence at 832 Alice Drive for the recent candlelight wedding of Miss Julie Ann Svean and Larry R. Kaiser.

To correspond with the bride's chosen colors, the stairway was graced with greenery with yellow carnations accenting the entire rail. On the buffet table were fresh garden flowers. Throughout the entire home were an assortment of potted flowers.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Svean of this city. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Kaiser of Deer River.

Rev. Berton Hushagen, pastor at Trinity Lutheran church, officiated at the double ring ceremony. Attending the couple were friends, Miss Wendy Burtness and Ronald Olson, both of this city.

The bride, given in marriage by her parents, was attired in a loose fitting, slightly flared, floor-length gown of ivory satin. The bodice was gathered into deep front and back yokes with an overlay of yellow organza flocked with bright yellow, white and lime green flowers. Completing the bodice were a square neckline, full sleeves that were gathered into wide bands above the elbows, and a self tie belt at the waistline. Complementing the bottom of the gown was a 20-inch ruffle with an overlay of the same organza that trimmed the bodice. A headpiece of ivory satin, covered with flowered lace with shimmering jeweled accents, held her three-tiered veil of organza with lace overlay. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses with babies' breath, greenery and yellow ribbon streamers.

As maid of honor, Miss Burtness wore a deep lime green polyester knee-length dress with front and back yokes trimmed with ruffled, scalloped ivory lace. Matching lace accented the self tie belt. Four front tucks and sleeves that were puffed over the shoulders, completed the gown. She carried yellow roses and greens with mint green ribbon streamers.

Both gowns were made by Miss Wendy Burtness.

Serving as flower girls were Michelle and Marci Turenne, friends of the couple. They wore identical floor-length gowns fashioned of a bright yellow dotted polyester styled with rounded necklines with double bows, short full sleeves gathered into matching bands, and slightly flared skirts. To complement their attire, they wore identical bonnets tied under the chin. The bonnets, designed with a fashion pull string in the back, were made with gathered yellow and white lace over the entire bonnet. Each carried a solitary, long-stemmed yellow rose.

The groom wore dark tan sports attire with a flocked pattern shirt and a matching tie. The best man was attired in dark green sportswear with a mint green shirt, coordinating with the attire worn by the maid of honor. Both wore yellow carnation boutonnieres.

The mother of the bride wore an apricot and white two-piece ensemble with a corsage of mint green and white carnations, babies' breath and yellow ribbon. Centering the corsage was a baby yellow rose. A similar corsage was worn by the mother of the groom, who wore a white two-piece ensemble with red and blue accents.

A reception hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Turenne followed the ceremony. Centering the serving table was a two-tiered wedding cake, decorated with yellow roses and topped with a double wedding bell ornament. Mrs. Sharon Van Zee, sister of the groom, cut and served the cake as Mrs. Kathy Gilbert, another sister of the groom, poured.

The bride's sister, Miss Marianne Svean served the punch. The gifts were arranged by Mrs. Ron Olson.

The couple is now at home at Viking where the groom is employed by Lakehead Pipeline. He is a 1967 graduate of Bigfork high school, and has completed his military service, spending 13 months in Vietnam. He also attended Bemidji state college. The bride is a 1973 graduate of Lincoln high school and is employed by Country Inn in this city.

KITCHEN KARNIVAL

by Ellen M. Spray

The doll was a sad looking mess. Her crown had slipped to one side, the glue that had held her hair had let go, and her royal gown was limp. The gold glitter on her long flowing train had turned black. She was no longer a thing of beauty. The other identical doll wasn't in any better condition. The glue had let loose and her arm hung in the sleeve.

The character dolls, replicas of the Queen of England, were obtained in Canada the year Queen Elizabeth was corinated. They were gifts from a little old man who had a special place in our family. As a child, I would listen to the hunting tales that were swaped by him and my father. Every year, as they packed their hunting gear, we heard their bantering as to who would "get the first deer." My father would claim that honor as "I can see better than you can." The other would counter-claim, "I'm quicker to shoot than you, I don't need to close my eye to aim." (He had lost an eye in a railroad construction accident and delighted in astonishing the children in the neighborhood by popping out his glass eye.)

When my father died, this little old man was heart broken. He had lost his hunting partner. Years later, on one of his visits to our home, he asked me to order the dolls for the girls, "to remember me by."

Forget him? Anyone that knew "Happy Hooligan," as he was known, couldn't forget him. Every year as I see hunters preparing to go hunting, I again see two old men happily packing summer sausage, sardines, flat bread and peanut candy bars for their hunting trip. Of all my father's friends, his hunting partner had a special place in our family.

Today's information for cooking venison was contributed by Linda Worth, Pennington County Home Economist. Incidently, did you know that she has a wealth of information in her office and can provide help for practically any homemaker's problems? One does not need to be a member of a homemakers club to receive this information. Thanks, Mrs. Worth for today's help in preparing venison.

Cook Venison Like Beef

Will your family's meat supply include venison after this hunting season? A good rule to remember in preparing it is to cook it as you would lean beef of a similar age and cut.

Mary Darling, extension nutritionist at the University of Minnesota, says fat is scarce on venison so it should be added to keep the meat from drying when cooking. Beef suet or bacon over a venison roast will baste it as the meat cooks. Or roast pork and venison together. The pork fat will moisten the venison and add flavor.

Oven roasting or broiling is suitable for tender parts of a young deer such as the loin. The less tender cuts and venison from older animals are best cooked with moist heat as you would prepare beef pot roast or Swiss steak. Long, slow cooking in moisture tenderizes the meat without drying it out.

Parts of the deer and how they are best cooked include:

Neck—stew, sausage, deerburger; Shanks—stew, sausage, deerburger; Shoulder—pot roast; Ribs—oven roast, chops can be broiled or pan fried; Loin-oven roast, steaks to be broiled or pan fried; Rump—pot roast, stew; Round—pot roast, Swiss steak; Breast and flank—stew, sausage, deerburger; Liver—fried; Heart, tongue—cooked in water or broth.

If the deer is old, much of it will be best ground. Mixed with ground pork, ground venison makes tasty meat loaf and meat balls. Since freezer life for any ground meat is short, use it before the other cuts.

Mary Darling suggests such herbs as rosemary, marjoram, thyme, and sage to add interest to venison. Stewing in tomatoe juice also develops a good flavor.

Says Embargo On Export Grain Sales Must End

"The lid has to come off. The embargo on export grain sales has to end immediately," Minnesota Agriculture Commissioner Jon Wefald said recently.

He said that the latest crop production forecasts of record harvest of corn, wheat and soybeans refutes any justification for the continued embargo on grain sales to the Soviet Union.

"Farmers and this nation cannot afford further prolongation of the embargo. Grain prices have fallen sharply in the past year and are still falling—mainly because of embargoes in the past year and the continuing present embargo.

"In fact, because of these unfair embargoes, Minnesota farmers have already lost over $621-million potential gross income on this year's corn, wheat, soybean and oats crops. Mid-October grain prices were an average of 22 per cent below a year ago or an indicated value loss of $229.6-million on the 1975 crop. The wheat price is down 20.6 per cent for a value loss of $94.2-million. Oats prices are down 10.3 per cent, the crop value down $17-million.

He said that even if the export embargo were to be lifted tomorrow, there is no way that farmers and ranchers can recover fully from the losses already suffered because of these embargoes. Both political parties, the Administration and the Congress are responsible for these embargoes. This present embargo is just another example of the economic policy that has been in place in America over the past 20 years or so that keeps farm prices down.

"The fact is that the whole brunt of fighting inflation in America today has been put on the backs of farmers and ranchers. Nobody else is being asked to take a cut in income. I don't see any serious restraint on the amount of price and wage increase passed out to the rest of the economy. Only the farmer is asked to live on the same basic prices he got in 1947.

"There is no food shortage in America. We again have a record harvest, a tremendous surplus. That harvest has to be sold by farmers and ranchers to recover the capital necessary to continue producing more essential food and fiber, more jobs, an ever higher American standard of living.

"We have cash customers lined up to buy our surplus grain production, food and fiber desperately needed in other nations to combat hunger, malnutrition and the accompanying social unrest.

"The reason for ending the embargo is simple. The Administration and the Congress appealed to farmers and ranchers for fence-to-fence, maximum food production in the national interest. Farmers were reassured of free access to world markets.

"That was the story before and during the planting season. Farmers responded as they always have, in the national interest, with record acreages planted to the principal feed grains, and wheat and soybeans. Record crops were forecast monthly. Our present harvest of wheat, corn and soybeans is the biggest in the annals of history.

Wefald concluded, "One of these days, farmers are going to get together and market their products accordingly. One of these days, they are going to decide that if the prices paid to them are not fair, they will think about holding back their harvested production. One of these days, the farmers will think about not buying the products of American industry and labor."

Jones And Lendobeja Vows Are Exchanged At Bemidji

Miss Elaine Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Jones of Bemidji, became the bride of Loren Lendobeja, son of Mrs. Julian W. Lendobeja of Thief River Falls and the late Julian W. Lendobeja, at a ceremony held October 4 at 2 p.m., at the First Presbyterian church in Bemidji.

Rev. Mark Witmer officiated at the double ring ceremony. The chancel was graced with candelabra with aqua blue candles, and two baskets of aqua-blud and lavender carnations. Lavender and white bows marked the front pews.

Debbie Oas of Blackduck, a friend of the bride, was organist. She played "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring," for the processional and "Trumpet Tune," as the recessional. She also accompanied Mrs. Arnold Hammer of Thief River Falls, a friend of the couple, as she sang, "Song of Ruth" and "Wedding Song," during the ceremony, and "The Lord's Prayer," as the couple knelt at the altar.

The bride was excorted to the altar and given in marriage by her parents. She was attired in a floor-length gown of white bridal satin with lace edging the V-neckline and the long, fitted sleeves. Matching lace bordered her chapel-length train. Her Juliet styled headpiece, enhanced by pearls and lace, held her elbow-length veil of bridal illusion. The bride's ensemble, which she had designed, was sewn by the groom's sisters. To complement her attire, she carried a cascade of white roses and stephanotis entwined with ivy. Her jewelry consisted of a cross pendant necklace, matching the wedding bands, and pearl earrings. They were gifts from the groom. For sentiment, the bride also wore a gold bracelet, borrowed from her mother, and a traditional blue garter.

Maid of honor was Andrea Zustiak of Blackduck, a friend of the bride. She was escorted to the altar by the groom's brother, Marty Lendobeja of Thief River Falls, who served as best man. Also approaching the altar together were the bridesmaid, Julie Helle of Thief River Falls, a friend of the couple, and the groomsman, Bob Skoglund of this city, a friend of the groom. The groom excorted his mother to the chancel.

Serving as ushers were Jerry Stenseth of Thief River Falls, a friend of the couple, and Mike Hoff of Eau Claire, Wis., a cousin of the groom.

The men of the wedding party wore brown Windsor tuxedos with brown diamond ruffled shirts and single aqua-blue carnation boutonnieres. The groom's boutonniere, and the one worn by the bride's father, was a single white rose.

The mother of the bride was attired in a floor-length gown of aqua-blue polyester topped by a cardigan styled jacket. The mother of the groom wore a peach colored floor-length gown featuring long, full sleeves and a full pleated skirt. Both wore identical corsages of white roses.

Special guests at the wedding were Mrs. Walter Lendobeja and Mrs. Marshall Kays of Thief River Falls, grandmothers of the groom. They were presented with identical corsages featuring aqua-blue carnations with white rose centers.

Following the ceremony, the parents of the bride hosted a reception in the church parlors for approximately 125 guests. Mr. and Mrs. Danny Johnson of Thief River Falls served as host and hostess. Kathy Vatthauer of Red Lake Falls presided at the guest book. The gifts were carried and arranged by Julie and Paula Lendobeja, sisters of the groom, who also ladled the punch.

Highlighting the serving table was a three-tiered marble wedding cake accented on either side by purple candles. The cake was iced in white and decorated with aqua-blue roses. White doves were placed between the pillars and white feathered doves with silver wedding bands topped the cake. Cutting and serving the cake were Mrs. Leo Pauly of Tenstrike and Mrs. Donald Hoff of Eau Claire, Wis., aunts of the bride and groom, respectively. At the coffee service were Mrs. Henry Sprock of George, Iowa and Mrs. Phil Kays of Thief River Falls, also aunts of the bride and groom.

Waitresses were Nancy Hoff of Eau Claire, Wis., cousin of the groom; Marliss DeYounge of Little Rock, Iowa, cousin of the bride, and Linda Golby and Shirley Aronson of Thief River Falls, friends of the bride.

Following the rehearsal, the evening prior to the wedding, the groom's mother hosted a supper at Sand's cafe in Bemidji. Guests were members of the immediate families and bridal party.

For traveling on the wedding trip that included the North Shore Drive and parts of Wisconsin and Minnesota, the bride wore a rust-colored pantsuit.

Mr. and Mrs. Lendobeja are now at home in rural Thief River Falls. The bride is employed by Northern State Bank and the groom is employed by Consumers Co-op. He also operates the family farm. Photo, Image photography, Bemidji.

Two Folk Music Programs Coming To NCC In Nov.

Persons interested in folk music will have an opportunity to attend folk programs at Northland community college this Wednesday and Monday, November 10.

On Wednesday, Bob Douglas will be appearing in the college commons at 11 a.m. to sing folk songs made famous by such folks as the Hoosier Hot Shots, the Binkley Brothers, the Dixie Clodhoppers and the North Carolina Rambers. He will also offer a bag of old fiddle tunes as well as alot of Irish jigs, reels and hornpipes on the mandolin. Douglas will entertain the audience with some finger-picking country blues as well.

On November 10 at 11:00 a.m., a talented group of young folk singers from Great Britain, calling themselves Cockney, will be appearing in the Northland commons to perform unique international folk songs and contemporary country-western music.

In addition to their singing, the Cockney's are also performers on the guitar, piano, trumpet and organ.

The Northland student senate is responsible for bringing this entertainment to the college and invites the general public to attend at no charge.

Jr. Girl Scouts Hold Halloween Party Tuesday

Junior Girl Scouts of Troop 83, Northrup school held a Halloween party October 28. Guests included Mrs. Diane Puetz's second grade Brownies and the third grade Brownies of Mrs. Pauline Vatsaas and Mrs. Sharon Jorde. Junior leaders are Mrs. Bonnie Tauer, Mrs. Sharon Johnson and Mrs. Marge Green.

Activities included games, which were conducted with the assistance of Gloria Wheeler, Mary Broten and Norma and Nancy Tauer. Lunch was served. Each girl brought pennies for the Juliette Low World Friendship fund, and a total of $4.75 was collected to be presented to the service team November 13.

On Oct. 21 the Junior troop visited the Kees rest home. The girls presented a Halloween centerpiece which they had made. They sang and visited with the residents.

Unemployment Of Educated Not Limited To U.S.

The underemployment and even unemployment of individuals with many years of education is an economic fact of life in the United States. The condition also exists in India, according to H. H. Pawar, Indian consul for education and culture at the Consulate general of India in New York.

Pawar commented on education and employment this week during a visit with University of Minnesota Indian students and with staff and faculty members.

Pawar said the Indian government began a program recently to employ about a half million educated persons who are underemployed. "The government will pay their salary for six months and the company agrees to take over their salary after that period," Pawar said.

The consul said educational opportunities are being made available to all segments of Indian society. This adds to the unemployment problem since students who come from rural areas often do not wish to return to their home area and instead look for work in the cities.

There are about 100 universities in India, the largest being the University of Calcutta with about 50,000 students. Pawar said many students are also enrolled in various technical institutes.

Lawar said Indian students who come to the United States for graduate studies have been adversely affected by regulations limiting the employment of foreign students. He noted that Indian students are already faced with an eight-to-one exchange rate that results in very high educational expenses.

In dian students who come to the United States for graduate study are often here for a number of years. Many are encouraged to go on for their doctoral degrees after getting their master's.

"They are the very best students and are encouraged by their professors to go on," Pawar said.

The Indian government does not force students to return to India after completing their studies, but a small number are committed to return since the government is assisting them with educational expenses, he said.

Pawar said there are employment opportunities within India but some returning students are dismayed at the lower pay received.

Citizens Task Force On State Hospital Created

Northwest regional development commission (NWRDC) has created a task force consisting of county commissioners, county welfare directors, mental health professionals, public members and an ex officio member from the Minnesota department of public welfare to prepare a report for the 1977 legislature on the future mental health needs of the region and the role of the Fergus Falls state hospital in meeting that need.

The task force is chaired by Mr. Oris Moen, Polk county commissioner. Other members are County commissioners, Harry Hanson Sr. from Hallock; Wayne Juhl, Roseau; Leon Pribula, Alvarado; Art Christenson, Thief River Falls; Don Gagner, Red Lake Falls; Richard Jamison, Ada and Vernon Scott, Mahnomen county commissioner from Lengby. Roy Waters, director NW mental health; Dr. Steve Levinson, Day-Nite Care center, Thief River Falls; Art Kohlhase, director Marshall county welfare, Warren; Charles Stephens, director Red Lake county welfare, Red Lake Falls; Sanno Brovold, representative for Retarded children's association from Gully; Lee Engen, Otter Tail power company, Crookston; Emil Bagley, vice chairman Agassiz health council Crookston; and Ralph Hunt, representative Regional dept. of public welfare, Thief River Falls.

This task force was created as a result of action taken by the 1975 session of the legislature to implement a provision in the Department of public welfare's comprehensive plan calling for a study of the Fergus Falls state hospital. The plan asks for a study to be done by the local people as part of a plan to shift community based treatment alternatives, de-institutionalize persons whenever possible and also to consider the question of closing state institutions.

The Task Force will be dealing with mental illness, mental retardation, chemically dependent, and developmentally disabled, disability groups. A preliminary report is to be presented to the legislature in January 1976 outlining the methodology the task force intends to use in preparing the final report.

A similar project is underway in the south half of the Fergus Falls hospital service area under the auspices of the West central regional development commission.

Persons interested in this project should contact your county representative personally or call the Regional development commission office (281-1396). 114 west 2nd street, Crookston.

40 OEA Members From AVTI To Attend Meeting

Forty office education association (OEA) members from the Thief River Falls AVTI will attend the OEA fall conference on November 6 and 7 at the Radisson hotel in Minneapolis.

Three OEA students running for state office are Nancy Looker, Thief River Falls, state treasurer; Amber Brandli, Warroad, state vice president; and Diana Thunder, Warroad, Region 2 vice president.

Events for the two days include election of officers for 1975-76, workshops on areas of business, adance, and an installation banquet for the new state officers.

Mobile vans, staffed by Veterans Administration counselors, have traveled more than 328,000 miles in 48 states and Puerto Rico. Counselors have conducted 165,000 interviews in 3,150 communities.

SALES MANAGER at Northland Electronics in Thief River Falls effective November 1 is Bill Dormady (left), formerly a salesman with Northern Motors in Thief River Falls. Dormady has purchased a half interest in the local corporation and Joel Carlson (right) will move to service manager. Northland Electronics has handled radio and television equipment since it was started here in 1971 and was recently designated a Radio Shack dealer. Dormady worked for Radio and TV Equipment company in Fargo for several years before moving to St. Hilaire and working for Arctic Enterprises. His most recent employment was as a salesman for Northern Motors.

Elks National Scholarships Are Largest Ever

Trustees have announced that scholarship awards for 1976 will be the largest in the history of the Elks national foundation. The number of awards has been increased by 72 to a total of 998, representing an increase of $90,000 over last year's record amount of $650,000. The total for 1976 is $740,200.

The 1976 awards include 499 "Most Valuable Student" scholarships and 499 scholarships of $600 each, allocated on a statequota basis. High school seniors or related equivalent are the only ones eligible in the competition.

The top six winners in national competition each receive scholarships for four years of study at any accredited university or college in the United States. The first place boy and first place girl each receive $3,000 per year for four years. Second place boy and girl each receive $2,500 per year for four years, while the third place winners each receive $2,000 a year for four years.

Other awards are for one year each and range from $1,750 down to $600.

Applications may be made by students in the graduating class of a high school, or its equivalent. They must be U.S. citizens and live within the jurisdiction of the BPO Elks of the United States. Official forms for entries are available at Elks lodges after Dec. 1, 1975 and must be filed not later than Feb. 10, 1976 with the Exalted ruler or secretary of the Elks lodge in whose jurisdiction the applicant resides.

There are over 2,200 Elks lodges throughout all 50 states, Puerto Rico, Guam, the Canal Zone and Manila, P.I.

A panel of nationally famous Americans will judge all applications on the basis of scholarship, leadership qualities and financial need. No consideration is given to race, religion or national origin.

Experience has shown that those students who stand the best chances of winning are in the upper five per cent of their class and have a scholarship rating of 90 per cent or better.

A recent informal study of a selected group of past winners showed that all those contacted had gone on to earn a college degree. Of the 15 winners in the years 1960-65 with whom communication was established, all 15 had earned at least a Master's degree and eight had earned a Doctorate; three were medical doctors. Nine of the 15 graduated with highest honors.

The chairman of the board of trustees of the Elks national foundation, Past grand exalted ruler John L. Walker of Roanoke, Va., termed the Foundation's scholarships "an investment in humanity."

Walker said the names of winners would be announced about May 1, 1976. He urged that requests for additional information be addressed to the Scholarship chairman of the various state associations of the Order or the local lodge closest the applicants home.

The Elks national foundation scholarships have been approved and listed by the National association of secondary school principals.

Milk Producer Annual Meets Held In Area

Area milk producers held their annual meetings recently in Thief River Falls, Roseau and Greenbush to elect new officers and conduct other business.

Thief River Falls voting unit's newly elected officers include: John Erickson, Red Lake Falls; John Weiland, Euclid, and Donald Sevanson, Thief River Falls as president, vice president and secretary, respectively. Duane Vatsaas, Thief River Falls, and Roger Odegaard, Crookston, were elected to the board of directors.

John Erickson will serve as the voting delegate and will represent the members of the voting unit at the district meeting to be held in Fargo December 3 and at the Land O'Lakes annual meeting in Minneapolis next February.

Walt Schon, receiving station manager at Fosston, introduced guests and complimented producers on their excellent support. Marlan Augustine, Thief River Falls, Land O'Lakes director, updated members on board activities, and Tom Haas, manager of the dairy production division, gave a presentation on trends in the dairy industry.

Elected president, vice president and secretary, respectively, of the Roseau-Lake of the Woods voting unit were: Allan Magnusson, Kenneth Broten and Jerry Miller, all from Roseau; John Lund, Roseau, and Clair Knudson, Warroad, also are on the board of directors. Knudson will serve as delegate to the district and annual meetings.

Cliff Skime, plant manager at Roseau, reported on activities at the local Land O'Lakes plant. Augustine updated members on board activities, and Tom Haas gave a presentation on the trends in the dairy industry. Mr. and Mrs. John Lund, Roseau, relayed their experiences while attending the 1975 Young farmer program.

Victor Kaml and Mark Foldesi, Greenbush and Mark Stevens, Strathcona, were elected president, vice president and secretary, respectively at the Greenbush meeting. James Dostal, Badger and Merton Kercheide, Greenbush, are on the board of directors. Victor Kaml will represent the unit at the district meeting and annual meeting in Minneapolis.

Cliff Skime, plant manager at Roseau, updated members on local operations. Haas talked on the trends in the dairy industry, and Dean Syverson, Land O'Lakes ag service representative, reported on activities on farm inputs.

The producer members of all three voting units mentioned above are stockholders of Land O'Lakes, Inc., regional farm supply and food marketing cooperative with general offices in Minneapolis.

"Northland students and faculty are deeply grateful to the organizations and individuals who are responsible for Northland's expanding scholarship program," Wiebolt said.

Cancer Society Program Slated Tuesday Night

A special program entitled "Protecting Yourself Against Cancer"—the last program in the fall series being conducted here—will be held at the Lincoln high school cafeteria Tuesday at 8 p.m.

The program will bring together in a useful and practical form all the many facts about the disease, its detection and cure, covered so far in this fall series, according to Raymond Ptacek, president of the Pennington county cancer society.

"An excellent film on research will be shown and another film covering all the examinations routinely used in the detection of cancer will be shown in actual practice, just as they are done on real patients," he said. "Although you may not have had a chance to attend any of the previous programs, this one program alone will bring you a wealth of information and instruction in dealing with this disease."

A doctor from the Thief River Falls medical community will be present to explain and answer questions. The programs are free and everyone is urged to attend and take advantage of the information being offered.

Conference On Rural America Receives Grant

Conference on rural America in Crookston has received a grant from the Minnesota humanities commission, report Jacqueline Bergan and Audrey Eickhof, co-chairpersons of the conference.

This grant is for $5,000 and will be used mainly for a series of pre-conference seminars, Bergan explained. The six seminars will be held monthly through June, 1976, covering such topics as: Who Feeds the World?; Education—Is It Prepared for the Future?; New Policies—Economics and Politics; and Sociology in 2000 A.D.

There are five major goals of the conference, Bergan pointed out. "Through the mini-conferences we hope to define the issues and create a sense of awareness among rural residents of the major issues they will confront in the future. This awareness should motivate them to become involved in and to participate in a tax-oriented conference in Crookston in July, 1976."

"At this point, conference participants will prepare recommendations for both legislative and future citizen action in the planning and development process. The conference will establish a continuing dialogue, involvement and sense of awareness among rural people about the major issues that affect them."

The next conference will be held November 21, on education.

Jodi Bergland In Morningside Music Recital

Jodi K. Bergland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard D. Bergland of this city, has been chosen to go on recital Friday at Morningside college in Sioux City, Iowa. Rites Held At Trinity For Mrs. Wm. Sponheim

Funeral services for Mrs. William (Ida) Sponheim, 86, of this city were held Saturday at 3 p.m., at Trinity Lutheran church in Thief River Falls. Mrs. Sponheim died Wednesday at her home at 519 North Duluth.

Rev. Roy K. Malde officiated at the services. Organist was Mrs. Walter Larson, who also accompanied Mrs. Arnold Hammer as she sang, "I know that my Redeemer Lives." Rev. Donald Sponheim sang, "How Great Thou Art," accompanied by Beverly Sponheim, pianist, and Kristin Sponheim, flautist. Interment was in Greenwood cemetery with the Belmont Funeral home in charge of arrangements.

Pallbearers were Cy Glass, John Ness, Wallace Tunberg, Roger Tunberg, John E. Jaranson and Al (Abby) Jaranson.

Mrs. Sponheim, the former Ida C. Weeks, was born Nov. 20, 1888 in Hayfield to John and Rosa Weeks, now deceased. She spent her early childhood in Sabin. In 1901, she came with her parents to Thief River Falls and completed her high school education and the Normal Teachers Training course here. Following the completion of the teachers training course, she taught at Radium and in several schools in this area.

On June 8, 1910, she was married in Thief River Falls to William Sponheim. Since then, she had made her home here, serving her family as wife and mother.

She was active in Trinity Lutheran church and was a member of the Sarah circle and the American Lutheran Church Women.

She is survived by her husband, four sons: Harlon Sponheim of Dade City, Fla., Irwin of Castro Valley, Calif., The Rev. Doctor Paul Sponheim of St. Paul and Rev. Donald Sponheim of Blooming Prairie; a daughter, Carol Sponheim of Washington, D.C.; 11 grandchildren, a great grandchild, one brother, Rev. Earl Weeks of Northfield; and three sisters: Mrs. Roy (Helen) Storvick of Wadena, Mrs. Kelly (Gladys) Nelson of Rochester, N.Y., and Mrs. Chester (Josie) Venard of Minneapolis.

She was preceded in death by one son, Ronald; a daughter, Marion; one grandchild, two brothers and one sister.

Mrs. Frances Dowacter, 75, Dies Sunday

Mrs. Frances Dowacter, 75, of this city, died Sunday at Northwestern hospital.

Funeral services for Mrs. Frances Dowacter will be held Wednesday at 2 p.m., at the Green Funeral chapel with Rev. Duane Aipperspach, pastor of the Holt Lutheran parish, officiating. Interment will be in Greenwood cemetery.

The body will repose at the Green Funeral home from Tuesday noon until time of services. A complete obituary will be in Wednesday's Times.

U of M Center Can Set Up Conferences

by Bill Huntzicker
U of M News Service

Name a subject and there has probably been a conference to discuss it.

If there hasn't been, the people at the University of Minnesota's Nolte center for continuing education can set one up for you.

Conferences are short, intensive courses that usually bring in experts from a particular field to speak with an audience interested in a specific issue.

University of Minnesota conferences have covered such diverse topics as American Indian education, music teaching, how universities can get government contracts, the energy crisis, U.S. relations with China, behavior modification, child-bearing and attitudes toward death.

"There is a tremendous range of things that are being done and can be done for the whole range of society," according to M. Alan Brown, director of the department of conferences.

With an increasing emphasis on life-long learning, Brown said, "This is going to be an increasingly active part of the University. Continuing education is the growing frontier in higher education."

Brown's department consists of seven program directors who help plan, administer and evaluate the University's conferences. They also work with directors of continuing education in other University colleges and departments, such as business, engineering and education.

If you wanted to have a conference on a subject, you'd begin by contacting one of the program directors at Nolte center.

Gordon Amundson is one such program director. After a call is received proposing a conference, he said, a planning group meets to discuss the subject and the target audience.

"We begin by drawing from the people who want the conference, what it is they're trying to accomplish," Amundson said. "We then take this information, package it and promote it."

As many as 19,500 persons may participate in University conferences in a year. The number of participants in a program may range from five in technical areas to more than 3,000 in more general meetings.

Amundson said the conferences try to accomplish a tangible result such as publication of a book, as in the case of a meeting on personal rapid transit, or a specific goal, as in the case of a five-day meeting on economics for clergy.

The most unusual experience he's had with conferences occurred during the anti-war demonstrations on the campus, when all of the printed programs for a conference on government contracts disappeared.

The student who was to mail the brochures announcing the conference dumped the entire mailing into the garbage, believing that the emphasis was too much on the availability of federal military contracts, Amundson said. "We were surprised at the low number of registrants for the conference that year," he said.

Normally, conferences are interesting without such incidents.

The National Indian education conferences, the first two of which were sponsored by the Nolte center, brought together native Americans from various cultures who shared their experiences and agreed on some goals for education of their children, Amundson said.

He also worked on the conferences on personal rapid transit, an alternative transportation system that uses six-passenger vehicles on fixed roadbeds. With such a system, one could have the privacy of a small car in a public transportation system.

"We become involved in programs with an interdisciplinary focus," Amundson said. "In the personal transit conference, economic issues and potential social and community impact were discussed. All kinds of things were presented that went beyond the technical papers."

The Bicentennial celebration will be the focus of a conference for teachers, looking for ways to use their communities as sources for the study of history and culture, according to program director Sharon Vegoe.

Teachers will come to the conference for a couple of days and then return to their communities to work on projects that can be integrated into a 'Bicentennial curriculum. Projects could involve gathering of oral history, documentation of dying craft or other activities with a local emphasis, she said.

Vegoe also is working on a meeting for nurses to discuss death and dying patients and another on child-bearing.

Program director Dick Grefe was administrator of a course on the future of continuing education for people who do conferences. "I felt like the chef at a hotel where all the chefs in town were going to dine," Grefe said of the meeting.

Brown and his staff are gearing up for the expected increase in demand for conferences and institutes.

They have developed a system of credits, called continuing education units (CEUs), to give conference participants recognition within their professions for attending a conference.

Increased use of tele-lectures allows slides or films to be shown at satellite locations around the state, with the teacher in the Twin Cities connected with the class for two-way telephone conversations.

The future will bring more cooperation among the state's institutions in the presentation of conferences and other continuing education activities, the Nolte center people predict.

Pesticide Task Force To Hold More Meetings

Pesticide task force of the Minnesota environmental quality council (EQC) will hold its fifth meeting on November 10th, at 9 a.m. in the Capitol square building, conference room A, 550 Cedar street, St. Paul. Task force members will discuss right-of-way, forestry, agricultural and private use of pesticides, and pest management and vector control.

The main objective, as outlined in the council's charge to the Task force, is to review the program operations, objectives, regulations, and management of the various agencies involved in pesticide use in the state. The Program review function is an essential responsibility assigned to the Environmental quality council under Minnesota statutes, section 116C.04 (1974). The Task force is seeking written and oral comments from the EQC and will formally present its preliminary report to the council at its December 9th meeting. Subsequent task force meetings are scheduled for Dec. 10, 1975, Jan. 14 and Feb. 11, 1976. The Task force plans to make recommendations to the Legislature concerning the use and regulation of pesticides.

All Task force meetings are open to the public, and public involvement is invited. The Task force consists of 21 citizens appointed by the EQC from around the state. Task force chairman is Cy Carpenter from the Farmers union agency in St. Paul.

Two Lutheran Youth Leaders To Visit Newfolden

Rev. Larry Johnson

Dave Anderson

Dave Anderson, musician and founder of Lutheran Youth Encounter, Minneapolis, and Rev. Larry Johnson, executive director of the group, will participate in a number of meetings with the Newfolden Lutheran parish Sunday, culminating with a concert of sacred and contemporary Christian music at 8 p.m. in the Marshall county central high school gym, Newfolden.

Anderson and Johnson will join Rev. Hans S.T. Floan, parish pastor, in conducting worship services in Alma Lutheran church, rural Argyle, at 9:15 a.m. and Bethlehem Lutheran, Newfolden, at 11 a.m. Sunday.

At 4:30 p.m. a youth gathering for confirmation through high school students will be held at Alma Lutheran. Anderson and Johnson will lead a discussion, answer questions and participate in some recreational activities with the students. At about 6 p.m. a supper will be held at Alma for the combined groups.

Dave Anderson has sung at a number of locations during his travels through the United States, South America and Northern Europe. In January of 1974 he went on a singing-speaking tour of Australia and New Zealand. He has also recorded two albums of Christian songs.

Active in youth ministry since 1963, Anderson is the founder of Lutheran Youth Alive in Los Angeles, Calif. as well as the Mpls. group.

Johnson, an Alexandria native, is a graduate of Concordia college in Moorhead, Luther Theological seminary in St. Paul (where he was a classmate of Pastor Floan) and Princeton Theological seminary, New Jersey. He was ordained into the American Lutheran church in 1971 and served as pastor of the First Lutheran church of Columbia Heights.

He has worked with Encounter since 1965, having served as a Gospel team trainer and leader, congress organizer and speaker, author of research materials, theological consultant and north central regional director before assuming his present role in 1972.

Be Sure To Vote

Candidates for the Thief River Falls city election Tuesday have put themselves on the line in seeking city office and it is only proper that the voters of the city turn out in good numbers to mark their ballots for the candidates of their choice.

All residents of the city will have at least two offices—mayor and alderman at large—for which to cast their ballots. Voters in the first, third and fifth wards will also elect alderman from their own wards. In all, five city officers will be selected in the election.

With the polls open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m., nearly all eligible voters in the city should be able to find time to get to the polls. The candidates would appreciate a good voter turn-out and we believe they have the right to expect strong citizen involvement.

We made our election predictions a week ago and nothing has happened to date to cause us to change them. And we emphasize again that the guesses on election outcome are simply that—not an endorsement of candidates nor an indication of preference. We encourage our readers to make their own predictions in advance and compare them with ours. It just adds a little extra interest to what should be an interesting election. Be sure to vote.

A Deserved Raise

It probably took a fair amount of courage for the Thief River Falls city council to vote an increase in salaries for council members last week, particularly in the waning days before a city-wide election. There are undoubtedly those among the electorate who would object to the increase.

But the council apparently was convinced that the raise was warranted and therefore the increase from $150 to $200 per month was voted without a dissenting vote. Our opinion is that the raise was deserved and not at all inappropriate at this time.

It has been a number of years since compensation for council members has been increased. During that time the duties and obligations of council service have grown and responsibilities have been added. In addition to the many full council sessions which are held each year, aldermen and the mayor become involved in a myriad of committee meetings and special assignments which require a great deal of extra time and effort. As a matter of fact, the $200 per month is really not an adequate compensation in many cases.

The last time the council granted itself an increase a number of years ago, we were critical of the manner in which it was done. It appeared to us that the increase was voted without advance public discussion and with intent that it not be generally known. We editorialized to that effect, noting that we did not object to the increase as much as we objected to the method.

This time the question was openly and publicly discussed and voted, completely in keeping with the public right to know the actions of its elected officials. No one who is familiar with the responsibilities and obligations of council service can be critical of the increase; it was a deserved raise.

Graffiti Rejected

Lois Suel Wann of the New Prague Times comments on an area situation in her column "So Lo Notes":

Congratulations to Garth Lords, the Bemidji printer who reportedly refused to print a "graffiti page", which was to have appeared in The Northern Student, Bemidji State University's weekly student newspaper. The graffiti, which was reported to have been photographed as it appears on campus restroom walls, included "Four-letter words, Bible passages, anti-army slogans, marijuana and pollution comments, and general comments about student life and Bemidji."

The graffiti page reportedly carried an explanation describing it as "a statement of freedom of expression." It also stated that the walls "carry the expressed opinion of those nameless authors who seek to comment on the world they see."

Mr. Lords called the graffiti "smut" and according to Sue Mattson, editor of the paper, asked that the page be taken out or that the newspaper be printed elsewhere. A full-page "house" ad for the Northern Student was then substiuted.

It is a rather sad commentary that Mr. Lords could be faced with certain legal challenges in the issue, which according to the newspaper staff's advisor, they would really like to resolve through negotiations.

It would seem that a state university's student newspaper would have topics of greater concern in the world today than that of the graffiti on restroom walls,... and that newspaper funds could obviously be more wisely allocated. Also, that if those "nameless authors" have nothing of greater import to comment on in the world, then theirs must be a real poverty of thought. . .

The issue which presents itself first of all, is that of why the student editor sees fit to devote an entire page to graffiti,... why a state university administration would allow such a thing to happen. . . and why a staff advisor would not have headed the problem off before it became a more important issue. The basic problem, as we see it, is not Mr. Lords'.

Inheritance Taxes

Following editorial is from the Morris Sun:

While taxes have kept pace with inflation, the federal estate tax exemption hasn't and many people almost wish they didn't inherit farms and businesses from their parents.

The federal estate tax exemption has remained at $60,000 since 1942, and rising prices of land and equipment mean that heirs are often forced to sell part or all of their inherited farms or business merely to pay the estate taxes. In many cases of farms, the $60,000 exemption barely covers the value of the land itself, not to mention buildings and machinery.

Consequently, acre by acre, shop by shop, rural America is taking a beating, losing vital local business and production essential to the economy of each respective community.

Sen. Walter Monday, Sen. Gaylord Nelson of Wisconsin have authored a bill to increase the estate tax exemption to $150,000, and in Mondale's words, "help to make up for this erosion in its real value since 1942."

The bill has some other good points, too, such as allowing family farms to be valued for estate tax purposes at their value as farm land rather than value for other commercial uses, as long as the land is kept in the family and used for farming.

Mondale and his co-sponsors also favor the return of the interest rate on 10-year installments of estate taxes to four per cent (the rate is currently nine per cent); and allowing 20-year installment payments whenever immediate payment would result in "hardship, instead of "undue hardship" as the law now stipulates.

Hopefully the legislation will become law, especially the exemption change, which, if it doesn't make it easier for a farmer or small businessman to maintain possession of his business while he lives, at least it will give his heirs a chance to hold on after he dies.

What's Fair Is Fair

Following editorial is from the Glenwood Tribune:.

As we have pointed out in the past, the 1975 session of the Minnesota legislature will go down in history as one of the most partisan in the state's history.

The 1973 session, controlled by the DFL party for the first time in the state's history, evidently let the power go to its head, and in a passionate display of partisanship saddled the voters of this state with a law that is so blatantly unfair that it cries for repeal.

We're speaking of the law that gives top position on the ballot each time to the candidate of the party that won the greatest number of votes in the last general election.

Up until 1973, the state had gotten along famously with the rotation of names on the ballot. The Conservatives or Republicans, who controlled the legislature for many years, had to the power to institute the same law, but they declined.

This partisan ballot now also extends to members of the state legislature, and in many districts, voters don't know the candidates they're voting for, so they merely mark their "x" alongside the first name on the ballot.

Despite the statements of DFL office holders, no one can convince us that the top position on the ballot isn't worth additional votes, and in some instances enough extra to swing an election to their favor.

In 1975 session of the legislature had the opportunity to right a serious wrong, but refused to do so thereby exposing their extreme partisanship for the entire state to see.

Since the state legislature refused to right the wrong, the Minnesota Civil Liberties Union is going to challenge the law in court. No one knows how the courts will rule, but the people of Minnesota can be optimistic since any unbiased source can recognize immediately the unfairness of the law.

We hope the courts overturn the existing law.

Thursday Oct. 23, was a busy day at the center, making new items and finishing others.

Twenty registered and our visitors were Vera Peterson of Karlstad, Helen Stennes, Jeanette Onger, Mrs. Laurel Kline, Mrs. Tony Kozmierczak, Jeff and Juanita, Lenny, Kevin and Bobby Jo.

Thanks to Mrs. Andrew Romanski for the very nice clothing she donated to our rummage sale.

Evelyn Lefrooth was Thursday hostess.

Tuesday afternoon five ladies worked extra at the center making five pair of pillows. Mildred brought the cup cakes that day for lunch.

Over 85 people visited our center for our fall sale Saturday Oct. 25, not as many as other years, but considering the many other activities the same day, that was a good turn out.

Most everyone was a good customer, so we were kept busy, still having plenty of time to chat with our visitors.

During the afternoon three door prizes were given away. Greg Rud of Newport, won the first prize, second prize went to Grace Boen of Karlstad, and Edna Berg, also of Karlstad won the third prize.

Folks came from Newport, Detroit Lakes, Thief River Falls, Karlstad, Viking, Stephen, Newfolden and many local people.

Ray Duvos gave the center a three dollar donation and Edna Berg donated a crib quilt for our sale.

It was a fun day for all of us here at the center, and we thank each and everyone for coming and for your patronage. Please come again, any Thursday when we meet for our weekly meetings.

COUNTY BOARD PROCEEDINGS

November 3, 1975
Official Proceedings
Board of County Commissioners
Pennington County, Minnesota
October 16, 1975

Pursuant to adjournment the County Board met in the Commissioners' Room in the Courthouse in Thief River Falls at 7:30 P.M., Thursday, October 16, 1975.

Members present: Christianson, Naplin, Stenberg and Tasa. Members absent: Hanson.

Wilbur Gallimore was in to see the Board about a drainage problem in Sec. 14, Highlanding Township. The Board indicated that his problem was difficult because of the Law relating to altering the original ditch and was advised that a petition for improvement would be the proper procedure.

Moved by Stenberg seconded by Naplin that County Auditor, C. W. Rodekuhr, be authorized and instructed to enter into agreement with the Upper Great Lakes Regional Commission for acquisition of Excess Property according to procedures outlined by said Commission. Motion unanimously carried.

The matter of a proposal for purchase of the Kiewel property by the County, School and City to preserve the property for future development of public buildings and enlarging the site for the existing buildings on a joint basis was brought up for discussion. After discussion it appeared that there was enough interest to make an effort to pursue the matter further. Moved by Christianson seconded by Naplin that the Kiewel property acquisition be discussed further at an adjourned meeting to be held Tuesday, Oct. 21, 1975. Motion carried.

Moved by Naplin seconded by Christianson that the minutes of meetings of Aug. 5 and 26 and Sept. 9 be accepted as published. Motion carried.

Moved by Naplin seconded by Stenberg that the County Auditor and Sherryll Irvine, Administrator of the Oakland Park Nursing Home be authorized and instructed to advertise for bids for sale of logs cut from clearing the building site at the Nursing Home. Motion unanimously carried. (Bids called for 11 A.M., Nov. 4, 1975)

Moved by Stenberg seconded by Naplin that meeting adjourn to convene at 7:30 P.M., Oct. 21, 1975. Motion carried.

ATTEST: C. W. Rodekuhr, County Auditor & Ex-Officio, Clerk of the Board.

Glenn Tasa, Chairman
Pennington County Board

No. 1(6), Ros-San. No. 1, San-BR. No. 1, Co. 42, 44, 51, 53, 55, 64, 68 and Jud. 60 and a 20 per cent levy against Wy-R-F. No. 2(16), Co. 21, 25, 33, 35, 37, 38, 39, 41, 43, 46, 62, 75 and Jud. 11. Motion unanimously carried.

Moved by Christianson seconded by Naplin that Northwestern Bell Telephone Co. be authorized and granted Right-of-way to bury cable along C.R. 61 according to request on file. Motion unanimously carried.

The matter of the proposed purchase of the 'Kiewel property' on a cooperative basis with the City of Thief River Falls and the School District, to provide for future public use of the property for building or expansion, according to public need, was brought up for discussion. After discussion Commissioner Christianson introduced the following resolution and moved its adoption:

BE IT RESOLVED that the Pennington County Board enter into agreement with the Thief River Falls City Council and the School Board of School District No. 564 to proceed with negotiations for the purchase of the Pepsi property (formerly the Kiewel property), with the County Board to name two representatives to represent the Board in the negotiations, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the above mentioned property, if purchased, shall be acquired for future building development and not solely for parking, according to agreement by the three parties involved in the purchase. Upon calling for a second to the foregoing resolution, no second was heard and the Chairman declared the motion lost for lack of a second.

Commissioner Stenberg then introduced the identical resolution except that the words, "and negotiate for an additional 50 ft. of the vacant lots lying immediately south of said property" are to be inserted into the resolution as part of the description of the property to be purchased.

The foregoing resolution was duly seconded by Commissioner Christianson and upon call for a roll call vote the following votes were recorded: 1st Dist. Hanson was absent; 2nd Dist. Christianson—Yes; 3rd. Dist. Naplin—No; 4th Dist. Stenberg—Yes; 5th Dist. Tasa—No. The vote for the adoption of the resolution was a tie vote and declared lost because of lack of a majority vote.

Moved by Naplin seconded by Stenberg that meeting adjourn to convene at 10:00 A.M., Tuesday, November 4, 1975. Motion carried.

ATTEST: C. W. Rodekuhr, County Auditor & Ex-Officio, Clerk of the Board.

NWAC May Expand By 1976-77

Northwest Athletic Conference, whose membership has fluctuated between four and six teams since its inception in 1951, may undergo another change by the start of the 1976-77 school year.

The Northwest Conference coaches and athletic directors are scheduled to meet Wednesday at Detroit Lakes, an annual post-season rendezvous with its most noteworthy accomplishment normally being the selection of the all-conference team.

However, an announcement may be made at Wednesday's meeting that could add a newcomer to the current five-team league.

Brainerd, rumored as a possible Northwest Conference member for several years, will be represented at the meeting by new football coach-athletic director Ron Stolski. The presence of a Brainerd official at the meeting has prompted additional speculation about the Warriors' NWAC ties.

The Warriors have been invited to several conference meetings in the past, but balked at the move until now. Brainerd will attend this week's meeting with the idea of perhaps enrolling in the Northwest Conference, although the Warriors have not yet committed themselves toward that decision.

Northwest Conference play started in 1951 with Thief River Falls, Bemidji, Crookston and East Grand Forks. Roseau was added in 1958, but the Rams withdrew from the league in 1971. Breckenridge and Fergus Falls joined the NWAC in time for the 1973 football season, but the Cowboys left the organization after just two years.

Brainerd membership in the Northwest Conference would seem to be a logical move. The Warriors already play Bemidji and Fergus Falls on the gridiron and Brainerd officials tried to arrange a football meeting with Thief River Falls for 1976 (after the Prowlers had completed their scheduling, though).

Brainerd is also a Region Eight AA school for the first time this year, beginning athletic ties with most Northwest Conference schools.

Brainerd is currently one of only four Class AA schools playing an independent football schedule. By joining the NWAC, Brainerd would be reclassified as a Class A football school and if the sagging Warrior football fortunes are revived by Stolski like most observers feel they will be, Brainerd would stand a much better state playoff chance, something that is beyond the Warriors' hopes at the present time.

Northwest Conference schools would welcome Brainerd into the NWAC with open arms. The Warriors' decision should be known by Wednesday.

Smith Plays Well On TV

It was an enjoyable Saturday afternoon of football viewing for most area sports fans an Nebraska crushed Missouri 30-7 in a nationally televised Big Eight football game.

Area interest in the game was prompted by the presence of Lincoln high school graduate Kent Smith in the Nebraska line-up.

Kent played on the Cornhuskers' kickoff and punt return teams and played some as a monsterback in the Nebraska defensive secondary. His performance on the kickoff teams was truely outstanding. Of five Nebraska kickoffs, Kent made four tackles.

The former Prowler all-stater replaced All-American candidate Wonder Monds at monsterback for a time in the second quarter when Monds was injured and then finished the game at the position, getting credit for an unassisted tackle on an end sweep try by the Tigers.

Going into the game Smith ranked sixth in tackles in the Nebraska secondary with three unassisted tackles, four assisted stops, one tackle for a loss behind the line of scrimmage and a fumble recovery while being credited with breaking up two passes.

Smith is a sophomore on the nation's number three ranked football team.

MCINTOSH-WINGER runningback Carey Burslie picked up short yardage before being brought down by Oklee defensive back Mike LaCoursiere during Friday night's North Tri County Conference playoff game at Oklee. Burslie scored on a 51-yard touchdown run just three plays into the game to spark the Scots to an 8-6 win.

Thief River Falls Selected As State Playoff Game Site

Minnesota State High School League Saturday announced Thief River Falls has been selected as a first round game site for the fourth annual state football playoffs.

McIntosh-Winger and Karlstad, a pair of unbeaten northwestern Minnesota small school powers, will clash Friday at 7:30 p.m. on the Prowler athletic field in Thief River Falls in a first round state Class C playoff game.

McIntosh-Winger stretched its 1975 season record to 10-0 Friday with an 8-6 win over Oklee in the North Tri County Conference playoff game at Oklee. The Scots were the league's regular season South Division champions.

Karlstad upped its record to 10-0 with a solid 23-6 win over Roseau Friday in the Top of the State Conference playoff game at Karlstad. The Rabbits were regular season Top of the State Division I champions.

Blooming Prairie (10-0) will meet Esko (10-0) at Cloquet Friday in the other first round state Class C playoff game. Friday night's winners will meet a week later in the state Class C championship playoff game.

Mahnomen also made the state playoff field. The Indians outlasted Barnesville 21-18 Friday in the Pine to Prairie-Heart O'Lakes Conference playoff game to gain a spot in the state Class B playoffs. Mahnomen will meet Onamia in a battle of unbeatens at Walker Friday.

All first round MSHSL state playoff games will be played at 7:30 p.m. Friday except for a Class AA game featuring Stillwater and St. Paul Harding which will be played Thursday at Parade Stadium in Minneapolis.

The MSHSL state playoff pairings announced Saturday:

Class AA—Stillwater (10-0) vs. St. Paul Harding (9-1) at Parade Stadium, Minneapolis; Richfield (10-0) vs. Rochester John Marshall (7-2) at Parade Stadium.

Class A—St. Thomas Academy (10-0) vs. Hibbing (10-0) at Hibbing; Montevideo (9-1) vs. St. Peter (10-0) at Gustavus Adolphus, St. Peter.

Class B—Gaylord (10-0) vs. Granite Falls (10-0) at Redwood Falls; Onamia (10-0) vs. Mahnomen (10-0) at Walker.

Class C—Blooming Prairie (10-0) vs. Esko (10-0) at Cloquet; McIntosh-Winger (10-0) vs. Karlstad (10-0) at Thief River Falls.

Nine-man—Welcome (10-0) vs. Ruthton (10-0) at Fairmont; Audubon (9-1) vs. LaPorte (9-0) at Detroit Lakes.

Northland Basketball Team Boasts Experience, Talent

Northland community college basketball program, riding the crest of sensational back to back state tournament seasons, is once again blessed with extraordinary talent as the latest Northland edition prepares itself for the 1975-76 season.

Already into its third week of pre-season practice, the current Northland ball club very much resembles the Northmen of recent years who posted enviable records of 20-5 in 1973-74 and 23-1 in 1974-75 enroute to a pair of Northwest Division titles and two consolation state tournament finishes.

Chet Engelman, beginning his sixth year at the Northland post, shows the self confidence you might expect of a coach whose teams have won 43 ball games in two years.

"I anticipate a good season if all things round into shape," began Engelman. "We have the best depth we've ever had quality-wise. We know our sophomores can play, and we've got some impressive-looking freshmen."

Fifteen ball players are currently listed on the Northland roster, headed by six sophomores who have all had starting roles in the past. The returning lettermen include 6-3 Frank Ridley (Canton, Ohio), 6-3 Bill Whitney (East Rutherford, N.J.), 6-2 Tom Johnson (Inkster, Mich.) and 5-11 Preston Curtis (Canton, Ohio), along with 6-4 Bill Gusa (Middle River) and 6-1 Joe Brown (Inkster, Mich.), a pair of second-year players who return to playing status after sitting out a year.

Freshmen battling for positions include 6-1 John Baril (Red Lake Falls), 6-4 Dave Caspers (Waubun), 5-9 Keith Check (Canton, Ohio), 6-5 Dave Davenport (Inkster, Mich.), 5-9 Rod Hopkins (Inkster, Mich.), 6-0 Dallas Kemmer (Thief River Falls), 5-6 Tony Solem (Oslo), 5-11 Steve Sparby (Grygla) and 5-10 Tom Sumpter (Sumter, S.C.).

"We should be very exciting," explained Engelman who has no plans to abandon his run-and-shoot fast-breaking offense. When they're not busy scoring, a smothering full court pressing defense will keep the Northmen busy at the other end of the court. "I expect we'll run and press all the time," confirmed Engelman.

Despite the obvious basketball talent, Northland is certainly not without problems—mostly dealing with size. "As normal, our biggest concern is our size," offered Engelman. "We're small. Physically we can't even think about matching up with people like Fergus Falls and Crookston. But we do jump well and we're quick. We'll have to pull down those rebounds and get down court in a hurry."

Balance will be another Northland asset. "We expect to have good balanced scoring because we'll be playing a lot of people," indicated Engelman.

Offensive fireworks will come from a number of people, but in Gusa and Ridley the Northmen possess "two of the best shooters who have ever played around here," according to Engelman. Curtis will quarterback the ball club. "Nobody has worked as hard as Preston has," said Engelman. "He plays good defense and he can shoot the ball well."

Caspers, Davenport and Simpter have been the most impressive freshmen in early drills, indicated Engelman.

"I'm looking forward to this year with great anticipation," quipped Engelman. "We're not going to beat people by 30 points like last year and I should be extremely surprised if we didn't lose a ball game. But we'll beat people and we'll have a lot of fun doing it. This may be my funnest year of coaching ever."

Northwest Division rivals Fergus Falls and Crookston, both enjoying banner recruiting years, are expected to challenge Northland's division pennant reign.

Northland 1975-76 home games include Sat., Nov. 29, against the alumni; Thurs., Dec. 4, North Dakota JV; Mon., Dec. 8, Lake Region; Tues., Dec. 16, Grand Forks Air Force Base; Fri., Jan. 9, Concordia JV; Mon., Jan. 12, Moorhead State JV; Fri., Jan. 23, Itasca; Sat., Jan. 24, Hibbing; Sat., Jan. 31, Rainy River; Tues., Feb. 3, Crookston; Mon., Feb. 16, Fergus Falls; Thurs., Feb. 19, Brainerd.

All Northland home games start at 7:30 p.m. except for the Hibbing and Rainy River games that are 2 p.m. affairs. In addition, Northland will host a four-team holiday invitational tournament Friday and Saturday, December 19 and 20, featuring Northland, North Hennepin, Bottineau and the Grand Forks Air Force Base.

Classic Defensive Struggle

Scots Edge Bobcats 8-6 In North Tri County Playoff

McIntosh-Winger protected a first quarter touchdown and conversion with an impressive defensive effort Friday to ward off Oklee 8-6 in the 1975 North Tri County Conference football playoff game at Oklee.

The unbeaten Scots entered the first annual conference championship game as the league's South Division champion. The once-beaten Bobcats carried the loop's North Division banner. The two teams met during the regular season when McIntosh-Winger claimed a relatively easy 26-8 win.

Friday night's ball game was a classic defensive struggle in the true sense of the word. Outside of two early touchdowns by both teams, neither ball club came close to mounting any kind of scoring threat. The aggressive Scots limited the Bobcats to a mere 68 yards rushing and only 93 total offensive yards for the night. Although McIntosh-Winger accumulated 202 yards worth of offense, nearly all was wasted around midfield.

Defense was the farthest thing from anyone's mind at the outset of the game, though, when the two teams both got on the scoreboard on their first offensive possession.

Carey Burslie, who is often overshadowed by bigger brother Chad, was the instant star as he slipped through a huge hole on the left side on third-and-one from the Scots' 49-yard line. He went in untouched with just 1:48 elapsed.

Chad Burslie added the conversion when he bulled through the right side. The successful two-pointer proved to be the game-winner.

The Oklee offense responded immediately, piecing together a perfectly-executed 11-play scoring drive that covered 55 yards in six minutes.

Quarterback Mark Nelson starred on the drive. He turned a third-and-seven situation into a first down at the McIntosh-Winger 36 by completing a 12-yard pass to Phil Fore. Three plays later he broke several tackles on a quarterback roll-out that gained 12 yards and another first down at the Scots' 18. A one-yard dive by fullback John Larson notched the drive's third first down on a fourth down play from the McIntosh-Winger nine.

On the very next play Nelson fooled the entire McIntosh-Winger defense by sending his backfield to the right while he rolled out to the left. The smart-looking play was good for an eight-yard touchdown with 4:42 remaining.

However, Oklee missed an opportunity to tie the game, and as it turned out lost the contest, by missing the two-point conversion. Nelson had Fore open in the corner of the end zone, but missed him with his drop-back pass attempt.

The rest of the game was dominated by excellent defensive play on the part of both teams. McIntosh-Winger was superb on defense. Oklee penetrated Scot territory only twice the rest of the game, never getting past the McIntosh-Winger 41. The Scots visited Oklee ground several times, but just barely, moving only as far as the Oklee 34, and that coming in the final minute when the Bobcats failed to move the ball in four tries from their own 35 with time running out.

First year McIntosh-Winger coach Dick Holen was elated with the win. "We've been playing real good defense lately," he started to say among congratulatory messages on the field. Holen gave a big part of the Scots' defensive credit to nose guard Mark Lee, "the Alan Page of Minnesota ball," he quipped. "He's (Lee) got such great pursuit. He can run down anybody."

Oklee coach Dale Svaren, whose team has appeared in three post-season conference playoff games, cited one costly mistake that led to the Scots' touchdown. "The linebacker made a mistake on the touchdown," he said. "He made an inside rush to stop the first down dive, but they went outside where he should have stayed."

"McIntosh is a good football team, but I think we're just as good," offered Svaren who was pleased with his team's defensive play. "Our linebackers did a good job, except for the one play. Offensively, we messed up in the line."

McIntosh-Winger stretched its 1975 record to 10-0 with the win. Oklee finished with an 8-2 mark, both losses coming at the hands of the Scots.

Hibbing Stars In NCC Women's Volleyball Meet

A strong Hibbing team swept through three matches without losing a game Friday to capture the spotlight in a quadrangular women's volleyball meet in the Northland community college gymnasium.

The host Northland squad beat Vermilion 2-1, but bowed to Hibbing 2-0 and lost to Itasca 2-0.

Hibbing followed its win over Northland by beating Itasca 2-0 and blanking Vermilion 2-0.

Itasca edged Vermilion 2-1 in the day's other match.

Northland, 6-10 for the year, will finish its 1975 regular season schedule Friday by taking part in a four-team meet at Vermilion starting at 2 p.m.

The 1975 MCCWAA state volleyball tournament is planned Friday and Saturday, November 14-15 at North Hennepin.

New Assistants Excite Prowler Wrestling Coach

Pre-season practice drills won't open for another week yet, the 1975-76 season opener is still nearly a month away and the season outlook is not at all clear, but Lincoln high school wrestling coach Ed Krystosek is probably more excited about the upcoming season than he's ever been before in 11 previous years at the Prowler helm.

The cause behind Krystosek's pre-season excitement is the arrival of three assistant coaches this fall. For a head coach who has worked without an honest-to-goodness assistant coach in recent years, the appearance of three helpers is exhilarating.

"I've never had it so good," boasts Krystosek. "This is really a big boost to our program. These guys are all experienced wrestlers and they have all kinds of ideas. I'm really looking forward to working with them."

The new coaches inlcude Mark Caputo, Jim Cook and Curt Kozitka. Caputo will serve as Krystosek's B squad and assistant varsity coach. Cook will handle the freshman squad and Kozitka is in charge of the Franklin middle school wrestling program.

Krystosek, beginning his 19th year in the coaching profession, has been a mainstay of the wrestling program in Thief River Falls for over a decade. He's fascinated with the thought of fresh ideas being implemented into his system. "It's going to be good to get some new blood in there," Krystosek explained. "Wrestling has changed every year, and these guys are familiar with the new styles. I expect to learn a few things from them."

Subtle techniques Krystosek hopes his new coaches will be able to introduce into the Thief River Falls program will come from the Greco-Roman and freestyle types of wrestling. "The techniques of Greco-Roman and freestyle wrestling overlap with our amateur wrestling," explained Krystosek. "If we learn a few little things, it'll help us when we go against teams like Fargo South, Moorhead, Brainerd and others who have already begun to adopt the new styles."

Three newcomers boast impressive wrestling backgrounds:

Cook is a 1971 graduate of Wahpeton, N.D. high school where he wrestled at 132 pounds. He was a region champion, a state runner-up, a conference runner-up and a champion at several invitational meets for the Whops. He also wrestled at the North Dakota state school of science at Wahpeton and attend the University of North Dakota. He coached the NDSSS freshmen team to an unbeaten season in 1973.

Caputo was a section and district champion at Beaman-Conrad high school in Conrad, Iowa. He wrestled four years at Wartburg College in Waverly, Iowa as a 118-pounder. He was a third place finisher a year ago in the prestigious University of Northern Iowa invitational and was a runner-up finisher in the Iowa college district tournament.

Kozitka, in his first year of teaching after graduating from Moorhead State, wrestled at Waubun high school. He also worked with the Franklin football program this fall.

Montevideo Stuns NWAC Champion Bemidji 31-19

Northwest Conference suffered its fourth straight post-season conference playoff game setback Friday when 1975 NWAC winner Bemidji bowed to Montevideo of the West Central Conference 31-[illegible] at Montevideo.

A Northwest Conference team has never won a post-season playoff game in the four-year history of the events. West Central teams currently own a three-year win streak over Northwest foes.

Montevideo jumped off to a 19-0 lead in the second quarter as Mike Hanson scored on a 10-yard run and Marc Clipfel went into the end zone from three yards out in the first quarter, followed by an 11-yard touchdown run by Al Chamberlain in the second period.

Dan Dow responded with a 39-yard scoring jaunt for the Lumberjacks to cut the difference to 19-7, but Gary Vien of the Mohawks connected on a 25-yard field goal to make it a 22-7 game at halftime.

Vien added a 37-yard field goal to start the second half. Dow scored on a three-yard run for Bemidji, but Tom Engelhardt caught a 21-yard touchdown pass from John Lundgren as Montevideo built an uncatchable 31-13 cushion.

Montevideo also won the statistical battle. The Mohawks held a 14-13 first down edge, topped the rushing charts 255-210 and led the passing figures 144-94.

Bemidji, unbeaten going into the game, finished the year at 9-1. Montevideo's win gave the Mohawks a berth in the state Class A playoffs, a spot Bemidji would have earned with a win. Montevideo is also 9-1 for the year.

Mahnomen Beats Barnesville In Playoff Action

Mahnomen's Tom Kaste successfully place kicked three conversion points Friday to key a 21-18 win for the Pine to Prairie champion Indians over Heart O'Lakes winner Barnesville in conference football playoff action at Mahnomen.

Barnesville dominated the game's statistics and equalled Mahnomen's three touchdowns, but the Trojans failed in three attempts for a two-point conversion.

Mahnomen jumped out to a 14-0 first quarter lead on a four-yard run by Myron Brusven and a 55-yard punt return for a touchdown by Kaste, followed by a pair of Kaste kicks.

Barnesville sliced the difference to 14-6 by halftime on a one-yard dive by Tom Iverson.

Mahnomen pulled away to a 21-6 advantage at the start of the fourth quarter on a one-yard run by quarterback Paul Muckenhirn and another Kaste kick.

Barnesville roared back into contention when Iverson scored on runs of seven and eight yards in the third and fourth quarters. But the Trojans could not convert the points-after-touchdown attempts.

Barnesville piled up a sizeable 16-4 first down edge and totaled 317 yards on offense to 164 for Mahnomen. Barnesville rushed for 185 yards and passed for 133 yards. All of Mahnomen's offense came on the ground.

Mahnomen stretched its 1975 season record to 10-0 with the win. Barnesville finished the year at 7-3.

Heieren Breaks LHS Mark In State Meet

Lincoln high school senior Dan Heieren established a new school cross country record Saturday while running in the Class AA portion of the 1975 Minnesota state cross country meet on the University of Minnesota golf course in Minneapolis.

Heieren ran an exceptionally strong race in a Lincoln school record 16:09 over the three-mile course for a strong 31st place finish among the state's best 133 runners.

The Prowler co-captain ran his first mile in 5:07, completed his second mile in 5:33 and covered his third mile in 5:32. The 16:09 shattered the school record for a true three-mile course. His 31st place finish was the best finish ever recorded by a Prowler runner in state meet competition.

"Dan set out to run his best race ever and he more than succeeded in doing just that," said Prowler coach Russ Smith. "He ran into a pile-up of fallen runners at the first turn, a half-mile into the course which cost him time and placement," explained Smith. "He had to jump over five or six fallen runners, but he still made up 15 places before the race ended."

Heieren's performance was the 10th best time recorded by an individual runner not competing for team honors at the state meet.

St. Paul Cretin won the Class AA team title with 53 points, followed by Osseo with 104, Anoka 106, Blaine 167 and Winona 167 in the top five.

Region Eight AA champion Little Falls finished 10th with 215 points and Region Eight AA runner-up St. Cloud Apollo was 11th with 272 points.

Mark Nenow of Anoka was the Class AA individual champion in 15:10. Lee Kantonen of Cloquet was second and Tim O' Donnell of Simley was third.

Tom Poliseno of Little Falls, the Region Eight AA champion, finished fifth in 15:20.5. Heieren was the second fastest Region Eight AA competitor.

Glenwood won the Class A state title with 67 points, followed by Slayton with 80 points, Staples 121, St. James 124 and North Branch 152 in the top five.

Region Eight A champion Roseau placed 14th, and last, in the Class A standings with 309 points.

Marlin Olson of North Branch was the Class A winner in 15:28. Mike Palmquist of Chisholm was second and Ralph Norton of Sauk Centre was third. Wraa of Clearbrook was the top Region Eight A runner in the Class A meet with a 68th place finish in 17:17. Regina won the girls' state title with 66 points behind the first place finish of Leslie Seymour in 12:04.6. for two miles.

Team Arctic Profiles . . .

Lofton Performance Manager For Arctic

(First in a five-part series dealing with the profiles of individuals involved in the 1975-76 Team Arctic snowmobile racing team.)

A veteran crew of drivers, mechanics and managers will head the Team Arctic snowmobile racing team during the 1975-76 season.

This year's Team Arctic racers are a unique combination of drive, professionalism and excitement.

There's the determination of 32-year-old Davey Thompson, who's had to come back not once, but twice from serious injuries; the youthful enthusiasm of 32-year-old, Bob Elsner, who was an independent racer for six years before joining the Arctic team last year; and the sheer professionalism and tactical wizardry of Larry Coltom, one of snowmobiling's winningest racers ever.

Team Arctic collectively approaches 25 years of experience in racing. The drivers have some 400-plus races under their collective belts.

Backing the three racing members are three seasoned mechanics—Durmont Wahl, Denny Zuwalski and Duane Gram—who each have logged thousands of hours of work on machines during their careers.

Also traveling with the team this year is Charlie Lofton, who has set world speed records for snowbobile racing. Lofton will man a full 40-foot driver support van that will provide technical expertise, equipment and parts to any racers who drive an Arctic snowmobile.

Lofton, one-time fastest man on snowmobiling with an eight-season victory list an arm long, is putting his years of race experience to work helping Arctic Cat racers this year. He travels with Team Arctic as performance manager.

Lofton headquarters out of the team's full 40-foot driver support van—a complete machine shop on wheels and a full complement of parts.

"Arctic feels a strong obligation as a company to the people who buy its high performance snowmobiles," says Lofton. "We want to give the independent racer a feeling that Arctic really cares about them."

"You see, people who use Arctic sleds at races, don't always have them set up right. The water-cooled engines, for example, are something quite new for many of these drivers. While they haven't run them at all, our race team has run them for three or four years. So we have some experience to share."

Lofton will be able to offer owners of the new El Tigre Z some of the latest tuning and mechanical innovations that Team Arctic discovers and uses in its own race efforts.

Charlie Lofton

"We also answer questions on how to read the track, set up the sled, clutching, what gearing to use—everything to make a sled go."

"If a driver's engine is over-revving we'll see what we can do to cut back to and get maximum performance."

"If a racer's sled is pushing in the corners, we check to see if the carbides are sharp; if that isn't it, we check the suspension on it to see if the weight transfer is proper."

"A lot of people will run what they think is a sharp carbide, but it is not as sharp as it should be. I know, I ran a third because I didn't run as sharp a carbide as it should have been. It's these things I've learned from experience that will help me answer all the questions that come up."

Even though Lofton is into his second non-racing season, he still is working with the team each week between races.

"I'm actually putting in some hard riding. During the week when we test on the factory track some of the testing is about as tough as a lot of races."

Loften is easy-going, likes to "chew it" with people, he says; so he makes the perfect person, with the right combination of race experience and personality, for the job.

"Through me, Team Arctic will be attempting to help all other Arctic racers. Last year, we were really busy with our own race team matters to effectively help people. This new position allows me to devote myself exclusively to helping people."

The 1975-76 Team Arctic racing season starts Dec. 13-14 at Ironwood, Mich.

TEAM ARCTIC snowmobile race drivers will be riding the second year version of Arctic Cat's new El Tigre Z racing machine. Team Arctic drivers for the 1975-76 season include Dave Thompson, Bob Elsner and Larry Coltom. The threesome will open the racing season December 13-14 at Ironwood, Mich.

Lincoln high school girls' volleyball team closed out its 1975 regular season schedule Thursday, losing to a strong Fosston squad 2-0 in the Lincoln gym.

Fosston swept the varsity competition by 18-4 and 18-9 scores. The loss left the Prowlers with a 6-8 regular season record.

Thief River Falls is scheduled to compete in the Sub Region Eight AA tournament at Crookston Saturday. The Prowlers will play East Grand Forks in a 6:30 p.m. opening round match.

Fosston also won Thursday's junior varsity match 2-0, winning 18-3 and 19-17. The Prowler B squad finished its year with a 5-9 record.

Rules Meetings Are Scheduled For This Area

Rules interpretation meetings will be conducted during the next four weeks by the Minnesota State High School League. Although the meetings are primarily for coaches and officials, anyone interested in the sport is invited to attend the sessions.

Basketball meetings will be conducted by Kermit Anderson of the MSHSL staff, Dick Koppenhaver of Minneapolis and Jim Blin of Duluth. Frank Huelskamp of Brooklyn Center will conduct wrestling meetings and Gordon Lee of Minneapolis the hockey meetings.

All meetings are scheduled for 7:30 p.m. starts.

Area basketball rules interpretation meetings will be held Thursday at Bemidji; Mon., Nov. 17, at Greenbush; and Tues., Nov. 18, at Crookston.

Erskine will host the area's only wrestling meeting tomorrow (Tuesday).

Area hockey rules meetings will be held Wednesday at Greenbush and Thursday at Fergus Falls.

City Basketball League Meeting Slated Thursday

Organizational meeting for the Thief River Falls men's city basketball league will be held Thursday at 8 p.m. in the basement meeting room of the city auditorium.

All interested parties are urged to attend the meeting.

Saddle Club To Meet Nov. 5th

Thief River Falls Saddle club will meet Wednesday. The meeting will be held in the basement meeting room in the City auditorium, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

A movie will be shown, door prize given, and lunch will be served. Anyone wishing further information may call Sue Nelson, 681-6972.

Karlstad Beats Roseau By 23-6

Dan Sele scored a pair of long-range touchdowns Friday to spark Karlstad to a convincing 23-6 win over Roseau in the first annual Top of the State Conference football playoff game at Karlstad.

Karlstad led only 8-0 at the end of the first half on an eight-yard first quarter touchdown run by Rick Olson who also added the two-point conversion.

However, the unbeaten Rabbits quickly took command after intermission when Sele returned the second half kickoff 98 yards for a touchdown. Todd Carlson added the two-pointer as the Rabbit lead jumped to 16-0.

Roseau responded on its next possession when Keith Haugen scored on a four-yard run. The Rams' touchdown was set up by a 65-yard screen pass from Jeff Olson to Don Hedlund that gave Roseau a first down at the Karlstad 12.

Karlstad pulled away in the fourth quarter, however, and again it was Sele sho did the damage. Sele, the Rabbits' quarterback, scored on a 79-yard keeper play and Mike Kuznia added the conversion kick as Karlstad built a comfortable 23-6 advantage.

Karlstad's rugged defense checked Roseau with just nine first downs, 71 yards rushing and 90 yards passing. The Rams completed just two of 15 pass attempts, but one of the completions was the Olson-Hedlund screen pass that went for 65 yards.

The Rabbits picked up 13 first downs, rushed for a whopping 261 yards and added 11 yards through the air.

Karlstad entered the game as the Top of the State Division I champion with a 9-0 record. Roseau was 7-2 going into the game as the league's Division II winner.

Class Schedule For Skaters To Begin Thursday

Class schedule for Thief River Falls recreational skating program lessons will begin on Thursday and those families who participated in the testing program will be called regarding their class time. Families not testing or new to the program are asked to report to the arena in accordance with the following schedule:

10:30 a.m. or 5:30 p.m., kindergarten; 3:45 p.m., beginners in grades 1 and 2; 4:15 p.m., advanced beginners in grades 3 through 6; 5 p.m., mixed grades; 6:45 p.m., beginners in grades 1 through 6; 8:15 p.m., middle school and high school; 11 a.m., 3 p.m. and 8:15 p.m., adults.

Classes will be filled on a first come, first served basis. Persons with questions may call Jan Peterson at 681-7274 or Jan Nelson at 681-7139.

FBI Informant To Speak Here Fri.

Douglas Durham

Douglas Durham, a former high official of the American Indian Movement(AIM), will speak in Thief River Falls Friday at 8 p.m., at the National Guard armory.

Durham, who is now on the national lecture circuit of the American Opinion Speakers Bureau, infiltrated AIM as an FBI operative in March of 1973. In less than two years he was appointed by top AIM leader, Dennis Banks, as national AIM pilot, personal affairs manager, personal bodyguard and national security director. Durham also attained the positions of international charge d'affairs and national administrator and director of national offices.

As a key aide to Banks, he wrote policy-making papers and attended secret strategy sessions. During the Wounded Knee trial of Dennis Banks and Russell Means, Durham acted as AIM's security chief. And in the early part of 1975, he was involved in the takeover of the Roman Catholic Alexian Brothers novitiate in Gresham, Wisc.

Durham states that, "AIM is a leader in the scheme to disrupt our nation's Bicentennial in 1976. In preparation for the scheduled decelebration, AIM has established training camps around the country, in which political indoctrination, marksmanship, and guerilla warfare are taught."

In June, 1975, Durham prepared a confidential report for police use in which he wrote: "After being instructed to establish a coalition of groups to create chaos in 1976, I was contacted by Forrest Bivins, the eastern United States leader of the Black Liberation army, and offered their total assistance, support and solidarity in the form of guns, dynamite and troops."

The former AIM leader also states that, "such organizations as the Brown Berets, a nationwide secret Chicano organization supported by the Socialist Workers movement; the Irish Republican army; the People's Republic of China; and the German Liberation youth group formed a group directly under AIM's control to assist in disrupting the Bicentennial.

Durham claims that the communist influence in AIM is very heavy.

He charges that, "AIM founder Clyde Bellecourt is a new national vice chairman of the national alliance against racist and political repression, which was founded and is run by communist party officials Charlene Mitchell and Angela Davis. Furthermore," says Durham, "on Feb. 1, 1974, Dennis Banks was the featured speaker at the Minneapolis headquarters of the socialist workers party—a Trotskyite communist group. And then, in October of the same year, Banks traveled to Vienna to attend a meeting of the World Council of Churches. When he returned, he said he met with officials of the Palestine Liberation organization, which is the top Communist terror gang in the Middle East."

Durham concludes by saying that, "just these few examples, in addition to the fact that some AIM members are using Soviet AK-47 assault rifles, should be enough information to convince all Americans that AIM is simply a phony revolutionary movement which does not really have the American Indians' interests at heart."

Durham urges every citizen, "not to sit back and put up with AIM's lies and terrorist activities. Because I held an executive position in AIM, I know what can be done to stop AIM and what its leaders fear."

Tickets for this speech are $1.50 in advance or $2 at the door the night of the appearance.

Railroads Asked To Provide Cars For Grain Hauls

Good crop yields, coupled with early harvest this fall, prompted the head of the Minnesota Farm Bureau federation recently to enlist "all the help they can give us" from the railroads.

"In recent days, we have seen newspaper photos of corn and soybeans piled on the ground," said Carroll G. Wilson of Faribault, president of the state's largest general farm organization.

"Elevator space in some of our rual Minnesota communities is running out and tens of thousands of bushels of grain are mounding up outside," Wilson said. "The fall has been ideal for combining and picking," he added, "but from here on in, as far as out-of-doors storage of perishable grain is concerned, it's just too much of a gamble that the weather is going to remain good."

The Farm Bureau official urged that the railroads "exert an extra special effort" to make available to farmers and country elevators "every car they can possibly spare" for transporting grain. "We need all the help they can give us," said Wilson.

HHH Introduces Federal Reserve Reform Measure

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey recently introduced legislation to reform the Federal Reserve system.

"I do so," he said, "because the system—which establishes and provides the mode of operating for our central bank—is outdated," and the central bank "is not coordinated with the economic policies of the federal government."

The bank "operates as an independent body with all the mystery and majesty that the high priests of ancient Egypt exercised.

"My bill would bring it into the fold of government and make it responsive to the needs of our society, rather than to the commercial banks or to the particular philosophies of its leaders."

The Humphrey measure would shorten the terms of members of the Federal Reserve board from 14 years to seven years, and the President would choose the board chairman.

"This would permit the President to have more control over the board," Humphrey said, "and thereby make the board more responsive to the will of the people."

To assure that the board reflects various segments of the community, the Humphrey bill also provides that one of the seven members have expertise and experience in labor, another in agriculture, a third in the area of consumer affairs and a fourth in small business.

"These are the sectors of our society that monetary policy often overlooks," he said.

Further, the bill would change the membership of the Federal open market committee which controls the volume and cost of credit. Presidents of the regional banks no longer would be part of the committee, as they have been in the past.

The new Federal open market committee would be composed of the board of governors, the secretary of the treasury and the chairman of the council of economic advisors.

"This fundamental open market power would then be vested where it belongs—in a body appointed by the President," Humphrey said.

"In this way, therefore, the Fed and the administration could work together—and not at cross purposes as has recently been the case—to formulate economic policies to achieve full employment, stable prices and steady economic growth."

The Humphrey bill requires, too, that the Federal reserve, "like all the other agencies of government," come to the Congress each year for its funds.

Noting that his provision would "go a long way toward making the Federal Reserve system a part of our economic and political process," Humphrey said, "it is long overdue."

Humphrey urged early action on his measure. He told the Senate that "no other central bank in the civilized world has the independence and the aloofness that we permit to the Federal reserve.

"This extreme degree of independence has caused us trouble in the past. These problems easily can be eliminated and that is what my bill is intended to do."

The Humphrey bill requires that the actions and policies of the Federal Reserve Board be conducted in accordance with the program and policies of the President and Congress under the Employment act of 1946.

It further requires that the board submit a quarterly report to the Congress explaining its past and present actions and monetary policies, and indicating specifically how it carries out the program of the President and the Congress.

"These provisions," Humphrey explained, "would make it impossible any longer for the Federal reserve to go off in one direction while the rest of the country is trying to move in another."

Minn. National Guardsmen Train In Germany

Four Minnesota Army national guardsmen are in West Germany this month participating in North Atlantic treaty organization joint maneuvers.

The Guardsmen are members of the 2nd Battalion, 136th Infantry, Minnesota Army National guard, headquartered in Moorhead. The battalion is affiliated with the U.S. Army's 1st Infantry division under a new program which links guard units to active army units for coordination of training and mobilization planning. In case of actual mobilization, the guard unit could become an integral part of the active army partner.

Representing the Minnesota guard in the NATO maneuvers are Major John W. Larson, Sauk Centre; Captain Calvin W. Vraa, Grand Forks, N.D.; Sergeant First Class John A. Carlson, Moorhead; and Sergeant James A. Beckstrom, Hawley.

They are part of the annual NATO exercise "REFORGER" which is designed to fulfill U.S. commitments to our European allies. For the past seven years, the 1st Infantry division has packed up from its home base at Fort Riley, Kansas, and flown to West Germany for the large scale field exercise.

This is the first year National guard representatives have been included, a guard spokesman said. "We are very pleased to be a part of this exercise and look forward to even greater cooperation between the National guard and the active army", he added.

The annual REFORGER exercise is necessary to fulfull NATO treaty agreements. The dual-based concept allows the U.S. to maintain fewer troops in Germany and REFORGER demonstrates that home troops based at home can quickly and effectively deploy to support NATO forces in Europe.

Employment of units from several NATO nations in the combined field maneuvers, as is being done during REFORGER-75, tests the ability of NATO to meet a threat, when and where it may occur, with multi-national forces.

The Minnesota Army National guard is now a full partner in the Total force program of the U.S. Army. The National guard provides nearly half of the Army's combat power while using only about five per cent of the cost.

In addition to Moorhead, the 2nd battalion has Army National guard units in Detroit Lakes, Fergus Falls, Wadena, Thief River Falls, Crookston, Bemidji and Park Rapids.

Bancorporation Quarterly Stock Dividend Decided

Northwest Bancorporation boeard of directors recently declared a quarterly dividend of 42½ cents per share on its outstanding common stock, payable Dec. 1, 1975, to stockholders of record as of the close of business on Nov. 7, 1975.

Northwest Bancorporation is a registered bank holding company based in Minneapolis which owns the majority of stock in 81 affiliated banks and a group of bank-related financial service companies.

Local Man In Mediterranean NATO Exercise

Navy Seaman apprentice Kenneth R. Harger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harger of Thief River Falls, participated in "Deep Express," an annual NATO exercise in the eastern Mediterranean Sea.

He is a crewmember aboard the tank landing ship USS Fairfax County, which was one of 17 U.S. sixth fleet ships involved in the multi-nation exercise.

The U.S. forces joined with air, ground and seagoing units from Italy, Turkey, Belgium, the Netherlands, West Germany and the United Kingdom, to test the operational readiness and capabilities of defense elements on NATO's southern flank.

The exercise included defensive operations by the combined NATO ground forces against a simulated amphibious assault west of Istanbul, Turkey.

NWRDC Hears Reports, Votes New Projects

Northwest regional development commission (NWRDC) at it's regular quarterly meeting October 27 voted to support the creation of a resource and conservation and development district under the umbrella of the Regional commission. Darol Melby, director of the Headwaters RC and D project at Bemidji made a brief presentation to the commission on his project and answered questions raised by the commission members.

The commission has considered this issue for approximately five months and has concluded that the region would benefit from an RC and D program. The major benefits would be to agriculture through coordination of USDA programs and through a special grant in aid program for conservation and development projects.

Justus Larson from Thief River Falls reported to the commission on activities of the governor's rural development council. Larson represents the NWRDC on the rural development council and has served since 1973. Larson told the commission "The rural development council awards approximately $400,000 each year in grants for innovative projects". These projects must relate to farm connected families and each regional development commission should prioritize projects for its region.

In other business the commission adopted a recommendation from the transportation committee urging the State highway department to reconsider it's improvement program allocation for Region I to include additional projects for the period to 1980. The present allocation, if considered on a per capita basis, allows only one-half of one per cent of the highway dollars for the region which has two and one-half per cent of the state population. In past action the commission has urged the Highway department to consider improvements on highway 75 and 59.

The commission heard a report from Gene Abbott, executive director for the commission on the development of a statewide Housing allocation plan. Abbott said "each region is participating with the State planning agency, the U.S. Department of housing and urban development, Minnesota housing finance agency and the Farmers home administration in the development of a plan to allocate subsidized housing be region. The effort is designed to help local people know what opportunities exist for housing units and hopefully will make it easier for local communities to participate in housing programs. The Regional development commission is required by HUD to do a housing plan by August 1977 which will indicate the extent of the need for housing in the region.

The commission adopted a new application form for public interest group representation on the commission. NWRDC currently has three public interest group openings and has adopted this application form in an effort to fairly screen applicants. These openings on the commission will be filled in April of 1976.

Stuart Folland from Karlstad and Walter Pederson from Roseau were officially appointed to serve on the Regional manpower advisory council (RMAC). The RMAC advises the commission on manpower needs and develops the annual plan for the (CETA) Comprehensive employment and training act program.

The commission received a request from Headwaters regional commission to share in the cost of a surplus government property workshop for local governments in Region 1 and 2. The commission unanimously endorsed the project. The Surplus property program which will be presented is one which is operated by the Economic development administration and has some advantages over the Civil defense program.

In other business the commission adopted a budget for the Fergus Falls state hospital study, declined to adopt a memorandum of understanding with the Region "A" advisory council for criminal justice planning; adopted a resolution calling for increased state financial support for the Vikingland tourism region which serves Northwest Minnesota and reviewed the status of the Multi-county solid waste management project.

The Northwest regional development commission serves Kittson, Roseau, Marshall, Pennington, Red Lake, Polk and Norman counties. It is a forum for these governments to deal with physical, social and economic development problems. Commission offices are at 114 west 2nd street, Crookston.

Mn. Community Colleges Rise In Enrollments

Minnesota community colleges posted a record increase of 3,582 students in credit courses this fall over the fall quarter one year ago, to bring their total enrollment in all 18 two-year colleges to 27,289. The increase of 15.1 per cent in head count is the largest gain made by the community colleges in the past five years.

Northland college in Thief River Falls ranked among the outstate smaller colleges having largest enrollment increases with 115 or 36 per cent more students from last year's totals.

Other schools listed along with Northland include: Rainy River in International Falls up 116 students or 36 per cent; Vermilion in Ely up 99 or 28 per cent; and Brainerd up 111 or 23 per cent.

These figures are for college credit courses which count toward the FTE funding formula. Non-credit courses are accounted for separately.

The 15.1 per cent enrollment jump of the community colleges exceeded the increases of the University of Minnesota and its branches (up 6.3 per cent), seven state universities (up seven per cent) and the vocational-technical schools (up 11.2 per cent).

Total full-time equivalency (FTE) gained 2,137 or 11.6 per cent. "FTE" is a legislative funding formula arrived at by dividing all the credits taken by all the students by 15, with 15 defined as the average full-time student course load in one academic quarter.

Court Battle Looms On Indians' Claims

Thousands of hunters and fishermen in the northern area of Minnesota are greatly concerned and agitated over a contention by the Red Lake band of Chippewa Indians that the band retains all hunting and fishing rights on the area of the original Red Lake Indian reservation.

The area in question contains most of the prime hunting area of Minnesota and would also include that part of Lake of the Woods which lies within Minnesota boundaries. Lake of the Woods is considered to be one of the best walleye lakes in the nation and attracts thousands of anglers to its resorts each year.

By resolution of the Red Lake tribal council, the band has claimed that it never relinquished hunting or fishing rights when it ceded about three million acres of land to the United States government in two sales late in the 1890's and early in the 1900's.

A resolution dated July 29, 1975, also states that no person who is not a member of the Red Lake band shall be allowed to hunt, fish, trap or harvest wild rice within the area of the original reservation without first obtaining a permit from the Red Lake tribal agency.

In a story by Warren Strandell in the Grand Forks Herald, attorney Rodney J. Edwards of Duluth said, "We've been asked by the tribal council to request the U.S. government to bring federal court action that would give the band a declaratory judgment with respect to hunting and fishing within the original reservation.

"The negotiation for the right to control hunting and fishing by non-Indians is not a part of any action. We want to establish the rights first, and then we'll see where we stand," Edwards said.

Edwards indicated that the federal government is being asked to represent the band on the basis that the government assumed trust responsibility to protect the rights of the band as a part of the land sale negotiations. He said the suit would be against the state of Minnesota and its department of natural resources, and noted that a suit would be filed, either by the government or by the Edwards, Edwards and Bodine law firm as legal counsel for the band.

"This could be one heck of a test case," was a quotation attributed to Jack Krouss, Lake of the Woods county attorney, in a Baudette Region account, about an action which apparently touched off the pending legal struggle. Two members of the Red Lake band—John Waybenais and Eugene Sayers—were arrested October 11 in Lake of the Woods county on a charge of hunting deer in a closed season.

The two men reportedly showed state conservation officer

Wollin Arraigned On Moose Charge

Larry M. Wollin of Thief River Falls appeared in Pennington county district court Thursday and was arraigned on two counts in connection with the killing of a cow moose west of Thief River Falls on October 25.

Wollin entered a plea of not guilty on charges of unlawful taking, transporting and possessing moose and of shining moose. He was released on his own recognizance.

Charges against three Red Lake county men originally implicated in the case were dismissed on motion by David Olin, Pennington county attorney.

Challengers Upset 2 Incumbents In City Election Here Tuesday

Board Supports Watershed Dist. Water Study

Pennington county board of commissioners, in a meeting Tuesday in the county courthouse, passed a resolution supporting a proposed feasibility study by the Red Lake watershed district for water control.

According to county auditor C.W. Rodekuhr, a drainage problem exists in the east end of Pennington county because of uncontrolled water flowing from the Red Lake Indian reservation. The watershed district is considering hiring an engineer to study the possibility of a constructing a dike or holding area.

In other matters, the board requested that Rodekuhr write a letter to a new state organization titled the Lower Red River water management district, a group designed to assist in flood prevention in Kittson, Marshall, Polk, Pennington and Red Lake counties, to ask that Pennington county's name be withdrawn from the list of participating counties, at least until such time as more information is available about the powers and purposes of the group.

The board rejected a bid of $100 for between 30-40 logs cleared from the Oakland Park home area. Norman P. Peterson, executive vice-president of Northwestern hospital, appraised the board of a proposed realignment of the Agassiz health planning agency. Elgin Loeffler was relieved of contractual responsibility for gravel work to be done on the shoulders of state aid highway 23, four miles southeast of Thief River Falls.

$37,063 Pledged Or Collected In TRF United Way

With a number of volunteers still remaining to report, collections and pledges for the Thief River Falls United Way campaign now total $37,063, according to Art Heinze, executive secretary of the local United Way. Goal of the organization for the current year is $55,000.

Heinze encouraged volunteers who have not yet completed their canvass or who have completed their contacts and not yet turned in their packets to do so as soon as possible. He also encouraged anyone who has not been contacted by a United Way volunteer and who would like to make a fair share contribution to send it to the United Way, P.O. Box 276, Thief River Falls.

No School For City Students Mon. and Tues.

Due to parent-teacher conferences and teacher in-service days for kindergarten through 12th grade students in Thief River Falls, there will be no school on Monday and Tuesday, according to Dr. William Corliss, superintendent of schools. The area vocational-technical institute will conduct classes.

Conferences for kindergarten through fifth grade will be held Monday from noon to 8 p.m. and Tuesday from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sixth through eighth grade conferences are scheduled for Monday and Tuesday, 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., and for grades nine through 12 there will be teacher in-service days from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday and Tuesday.

POLLING PLACE
VOTE HERE

VOTERS in all five of the city wards turned out in good numbers Tuesday for the annual city election and elected two new aldermen for four-year terms. The double exposure above shows an outdoor sign designating a city polling place and an election judge checking a voter registration file.

Two challengers upset incumbents in the Thief River Falls city election Tuesday to gain seats on the city council. A good voter turn-out was noted on an exceptionally fine fall day as 1,796 voters went to the polls in the five city wards.

Clayton Restad compiled 1,031 votes to win by a 292 vote margin in defeating 10-year incumbent Arnold Narverud for alderman at large. Narverud totaled 739 votes but trailed Restad in every ward.

Milan Borsheim collected 216 votes in the first ward to gain a 57 vote margin over Roger Worth who received 159 votes. Worth had served on the council by appointment, filling an unexpired term.

Mayor Bob Carlson won an easy victory over his brother Gary, piling up 1,591 votes to 127 to win with a margin of 1,464 votes. The mayor's term is for two years while aldermen are elected for four-year terms.

In the third ward, veteran alderman Ambrose Wysoski polled 242 votes to win over Mrs. Joyce Peterson by 111. Mrs. Peterson received 131 votes in the election in her initial bid for public office.

Milton Reierson, unopposed in the fifth ward, received 356 of t 380 total votes cast in his war

Aldermen will begin their new terms on or about January 2, 1976.

The city's fourth ward led in total votes cast in the election with 407, followed by the fifth ward with 380, first ward with 378, third ward with 345 and second ward with 286. The total votes cast of 1,796 compares with 1,627 at the last city election two years ago.

Tabulation of election results includes the following:

Parent-Teacher Conferences Set

On Monday and Tuesday, November 10 and 11, Franklin middle school will hold parent-teacher conferences from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. each day.

As in past years, the entire faculty and staff will be available to parents, and parents may confer with each of their child's teachers. Parents are asked to begin their conferences in the library with registration and an interpretation of Iowa basic skills test scores.

SUSAN D. ABBOTT (third from right), director of a senior meals and activity program sponsored by the Tri-Valley Opportunity council, discussed details of the newly organized local program with Northwestern hospital officials during a meeting Friday afternoon in the CNC lounge. The senior meals program, designated to provide noon meals for elderly city residents on a Monday through Friday basis, will begin at the hospital November 10. Further details will be reported in the Wednesday edition of the Times. Pictured above are: (left to right) Pat Temple, social worker; Betty Knudsen, dietician; Wilma Arnold, food supervisor; Rev. Harold Peterson, hospital chaplain; Barb La Salle, president of the hospital auxiliary; Mrs. Abbott; Eleanor Forberg, director of volunteer services; and Margaret Torfin, CNC supervisor.

Senior Meals Program To Start Mon.

Older adults in Thief River Falls and the surrounding area will be able to obtain low-cost, nutritious hot meals at Northwestern hospital beginning Monday under the new senior meals and activity program. The meals will be offered Monday through Friday at approximately 12:15 p.m.

Reservations are necessary to receive the meals. To obtain reservations for Monday interested persons are invited to call 681-4240, extension 335, by 1 p.m. Friday. If transportation is needed, this should be indicated during the reservation call. Later reservations must be made by 1 p.m. the day before a visit, either at the site or by calling the above number.

The program is directed toward residents 60 years and older (and their spouses) who may not be eating nutritionally sound meals because of a lack of adequate income, skills, mobility or incentive. The program is also designed to provide other services in cooperation with Northwestern hospital and other community agencies. These services will include transportation for residents lacking means of getting to the hospital, nutrition education, shopping assistance, informational programs of interest and recreational programs.

Those participating in the senior meals and activity program are expected to contribute whatever they can afford to the cost of the meals. There is no test of means, however, and no one will be turned away because of inability to contribute, according to Susan Abbott, director.

Meals will be served in the hospital CNC unit. Among the two available entrances is a covered entrance on the south end that has no steps. The area will be open between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. for social activities.

The program is funded through a grant from the governor's citizens council on aging under Title VII of the older Americans act. The sponsoring agency is the Tri-Valley opportunity council, Inc., Crookston.

SOCIETY and CLUBS

DeCor Club Supports Clean-Up Of TV Programs

At the regular meeting of the DeCor club of the Federated Woman's clubs of Thief River Falls, held October 28, members went on record opposing violence, sex and profanity on television. A petition requesting a clean-up of the programs was signed by each member present.

Members were also requested to write letters to the U.S. Senators, regarding Situs Picketing Bill. Making the request was Ellen Peterson.

President Bertha Hastad presided at the meeting that began with the reading of the club collect and the singing of "America the Beautiful." Members extended sympathy to Mary Ann Lofberg on the death of her brother-in-law and also signed a get-well card for Louise Froiland with a personal note from each. Dues were collected and Mrs. Ellen Peterson was requested to continue sending club news for state publication.

The meeting, held at the Eula Kvikstad home, concluded with Geneva Overum showing slides of her trip to Alaska. A dessert lunch was served by the hostess.

At a previous meeting of the club, members voted in favor of planting a tree at Pioneer Village as the club's BiCentennial project. Trees would be planted in memory of the club's deceased members. Mrs. Ellen Peterson was appointed in charge of the project.

The club also voted to discontinue the sponsorship of the child adopted through World Vision. The organization had earlier notified the club that due to the Laos situation, the child was not receiving the aid sent by the club.

Following a discussion on meeting dates, members decided that meetings be held the second and forth Tuesdays of each month, with meetings to begin promptly at eight o'clock.

The 12 members attending participated in the program by giving a resume of their summer's activities. Birthday cards were distributed by Geneva Overum to those who had observed their birthdays during the summer while meetings were not in session. The meeting was held at the Laura Sylvester home. A dessert lunch was served by Mrs. Sylvester.

Martin Mosbecks Observe 50th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Mosbeck of St. Hilaire observed their 50th wedding anniversary recently at an open house at their home. Approximately 225 relatives and friends attended the event.

The open house began with a short program with Otto Baker of Thief River Falls as master of ceremonies. The program included the saxophone solo, "How Great Thou Art," by Trentyn Johnson; a reading, "The Torch", by Mrs. Richard Mosbeck of Black River; congratulatory greetings by Mrs. Rose Rasmussen of Hunter, N.D.; a duet "Thanks to God," by Mrs. Glenn Poppenhagen of Babbitt and Mrs. Wendell Jorgenson of rural Newfolden, and a vocal solo, "More Of Thee," by Mrs. Poppenhagen. The devotional meditation was given by Rev. Ivan Carlson, pastor of the Evangelical Free church

For the reception that followed, the serving table was graced with an anniversary cake baked and decorated by Mrs. Donald Mosbeck of Black River. It was cut and served by Mrs. Otto Baker and Mrs. Irene Anderson of Thief River Falls. Mrs. Ole Salmonson, also of Thief River Falls, presided at the coffee service.

The punch was served by Mrs. Mark Hanson of rural Thief River Falls. Lynn Mosbeck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Mosbeck of Black River, was in charge of the guest book and Dawniss Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard B. Johnson of rural Thief River Falls, distributed the thank-you notes.

Relatives and friends attending the open house were from Hunter, Grand Forks, and Grafton, N.D.; Babbitt, Aurora, Plummer, Black River, Viking, Newfolden, Williams, Lake Bronson, Crookston, Red Lake Falls, Thief River Falls and St. Hilaire.

The couple also received several long distance telephone calls from relatives and friends who were unable to attend.

Clara Olson Will Be Feted On 80th Birthday

Miss Clara Olson of Thief River Falls will be honored at an open house on Sunday in observance of her 80th birthday.

The open house will be held at the home of her brother, Mark Olson, rural Thief River Falls. Hours will be from 2 to 5 p.m.

No invitations are being sent. All friends and relatives are welcome to attend.

Squarenaders Will Dance Friday At Crookston

Crookston Squarenaders square dance club will dance Friday at the McKinley school in that city. Calling the tips will be Jim Kooyer.

All area dancers and spectators are welcome to attend. Dancing will be from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m.

Additional Information

Additional information has been received on the Gail Sistad and Ronald Kotrba wedding published recently in the Times. Mrs. Sheldon Peterson of Grygla baked and decorated the wedding cake; Debi Holte and Joni Peterson, friends of the bride, opened and arranged the gifts; and Kimberly Sistad and Marie Kotrba, nieces of the bride and groom, respectively, served as gift bearers.

Does events during the month of October included regular meetings with the Drove donating $100 to the United Way Fund. Hostesses for the month were Mrs. Jon Looker, Roberta Looker, Mrs. Harry Donarski and Mrs. Sharon Bregier.

Seven members from the local Drove also attended the state meeting held at Mankato. At that meeting, Mrs. Robert Looker was elected state treasurer. Attending were State Vice President Elba Collins; local president Mrs. Archie Wilson; Mrs. Melvin Carlson, Mrs. Harvey Helle, Mrs. Roy Jorgenson, Guida Solheim, and Mrs. Looker.

The next state meeting will be held at Willmar.

Blanket And Sweater Sunday Set At Trinity

Trinity Lutheran church annual blanket and sweater Sunday for Lutheran World Relief has been scheduled for November 8, according to the stewardship committee headed by Ellen Peterson.

Members and friends may bring blankets and sweaters to the church on Sunday. Sweaters may be any size, but blankets should be 60x80 inches or larger.

Mrs. Peterson stated that soap is also needed for the November 17th packing for Lutheran World Relief. Also needed are children's clothing, from infant to size 12; men's work clothing of rugged materials, and fabric yardage, no smaller than one yard square. A complete list of articles needed may be found on a poster in the church narthex. Women's clothing, men's suits and shoes are not requested. Clothing, for Lutheran World Relief may be left in a box in the narthex.

Packing of the articles will begin at 1 p.m., November 17.

Anyone who would like to donate to the cause or assist in the packing may do so.

Leslie Nordhagens Of Florida Announce Birth

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Nordhagen of Hollywood, Fla., announce the birth of a daughter. The child was born October 30, weighing 6 lbs., 6½ oz. She has been named Jarmie Lynn.

The Nordhagens also have another daughter and a son.

Grandparents of the child are Mr. and Mrs. Lester Nordhagen of Thief River Falls and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Unruh of Davie, Fla., and formerly of Thief River Falls.

LOCALS . . .

Mrs. Leslie Kulseth and Mrs. Louise Kulseth returned Thursday from LaPorte, Ind., where they spent a week at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Marvin Carlson. While there, they attended the confirmation services at the Lutheran church. Among the confirmands was Carlsons' daughter, Natalie.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Klove of Aurora were visitors Saturday evening at the Art Bergland home in this city.

Shirley Mae Sletten And Schell Dahl Wed In Skime

Bethesda Lutheran church in Skime was the scene of the wedding of Miss Shirley Mae Sletten, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Sletten of Grygla, and Schell Wallace Dahl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dahl of Gatzke.

The double ring ceremony took place at 8 p.m., October 4 with Rev. Erling Huglen officiating. Mrs. Jerry Johnson was the organist and Naomi Johnson and Jan Berg sang, "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Dried fall arrangements graced the altar, forming the setting for the ceremony.

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. She was attired in a white floor-length gown, styled in empire fashion with a rounded neckline and long, full sleeves gathered at the wrists. Complementing the bodice was a design of hand embroidered pink roses. A lace petal headpiece held her elbow-length veil of bridal illusion. She carried a bouquet of pink roses, babies' breath and daisies.

Betty Dahl of Duluth; a sister of the groom, was the bride's only attendant. She was attired in a green floor-length gown; and she carried a solitary long-stemmed pink rose.

Best man was Verne Sletten of Grygla, brother of the bride. Serving as ushers were Gary Sletten and Greg Dahl. All wore black tuxedos with white ruffled shirts and white carnation boutonnieres, tipped in pink.

A reception in the church parlors for approximately 150 relatives and friends followed the ceremony. Registering the guests was Debbie Sistad. Karen Sletten served the punch.

Centering the serving table was a three-tiered wedding cake baked by Mrs. JoAnn Brateng. The cake was decorated with pink roses and miniature rose buds. A cluster of white wedding bells graced the bottom tier. Topping the cake was a gold Christogram.

Bernice Sistad and Flo Foss cut and served the cake. Pouring was Alma Dahl, aunt of the groom.

The couple is now at home in the Skime-Grygla area. The groom, a graduate of Roseau high school, is employed by Marvin Lumber company in Warroad.

Parents Without Partners Will Hear Gary Erickson

Parents Without Partners monthly general membership meeting will be held Thursday at 8 p.m. at the Zion Lutheran church basement.

Special speaker will be Gary Erickson, a representative of the Pennington county social services.

All single, divorced or widowed parents are welcome to attend.

Mrs. W. Larson Honored On Her 75th Birthday

Mrs. Walter (Myrtle) Larson of Holt was honored on her 75th birthday on Saturday, October 25, at an open house in this city at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Duane Larson.

Hosting the event, in addition to the Larsons' and their children, Nita and Nancy were Mrs. Larson's other children: Shirley Larson, Mr. and Mrs. Roger (Ione) Rolstad, Dawn and Sheila, Mr. and Mrs. DelRay (Marlene) Christensen, Julie and Jane, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Larson, Angela, Erick and Michael and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Larson, Jeffery and Joy, all of the Twin Cities area.

Among the many cards and gifts received by Mrs. Larson were an engraved gold locket from her grandchildren, a corsage of blue carnations and white daisies, and a bouquet of blue carnations.

The lunch served through out the afternoon, included a three-tiered birthday cake, decorated in blue and white and topped by a lace 75th emblem.

George Vraa of Ely, Emma Erickson and Hazel Christenson were recent dinner guests at the home of Mrs. Gida Zacharias. Later in the afternoon, they visited at the C. Hanson home and with the exception of Mrs. Christenson, were supper guests there.

Langlie And Nepper Vows Are Exchanged At St. John

Marriage vows were solemnized at a double ring ceremony on September 13, at 2 p.m., at St. John Lutheran church in this city by Miss Roxanne Langlie and Thomas Nepper, both of Minneapolis.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Howard Langlie of this city. The groom is the son of Mrs. Ruth Nepper, also of this city, and the late James Nepper.

Acolytes were the bride's brothers, Scott and Rick Langlie.

Creating a setting for the ceremony were bouquets of yellow mums on the altar. On each side of the aisle was a white wrought-iron candelabrum featuring a crystal hurricane lamp accented by swags of sprengeri with blue and orange daisies. Orange ribbon bows and greens marked the pews.

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her parents. She was attired in a floor-length gown of white Qiana jersey styled with a fitted bodice and a flared skirt that flowed back into a self train. Pearls in intricate design graced the high fitted midriff, V-neckline and the long, fitted sleeves. Seed pearls also edged her full-length veil of bridal illusion that fell from a lace Camelot styled headpiece, etched with pearls. For the old, new, borrowed and blue theme, she wore the traditional blue garter and the groom's mother's wedding band. She carried a bouquet of orange roses, white daisies, blue starflowers and sprengeri, interspersed with babies' breath.

Serving as bridal attendants were Starla Wille of Minneapolis, as maid of honor, and Cindy Langlie and Barbara Nepper, also of Minneapolis, as bridesmaids. They wore identical, two-piece gowns featuring floor-length skirts fashioned with flared gores and fitted V-shaped waistbands, complemented by matching fitted tops designed with square necklines and cape sleeves. The gowns were fashioned of a polyester floral print with blue and white flowers on a background of shaded rust and orange. Each attendant carried a nosegay featuring a large white mum surrounded by blue daisies with white ribbon streamers.

ElRoy Froiland attended the groom as best man. Groomsmen were Dennis Kleve and Mark Charlson. All reside in Minneapolis. The groom and all the men of the wedding party wore blue Redford tuxedos and vests with white ruffled shirts, blue bow ties, and white daisy boutonnieres.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Langlie selected a floor-length gown of peach colored polyester crepe, complemented by a long-sleeved jacket of sheer floral eyelet. The groom's mother wore a floor-length gown and matching long-sleeved jacket of Qiana polyester knit in a blue-gray print. Their identical corsages were of orange roses and white carnations.

Special guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Busse, grandparents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Miller and Mrs. Gertrude Nepper, grandparents of the groom.

Approximately 200 relatives and friends attended the reception that followed in the church parlors. Miss Peggy Burrell was at the guest book. Reception host and hostess were Mr. and Mrs. Ken Kohler. In charge of serving were the church women of the Deborah circle.

Centering the serving table was a three-tiered marble wedding cake. It was iced in white, decorated with blue daisies, and topped with an ornament featuring wedding bands and bells surrounded by a heart, outlined with seed pearls. The cake, baked and decorated by Mrs. Wayne Johnson of Thief River Falls, was cut and served by Mrs. Arne Tuura of Middle River and Mrs. Orvald Rokke of Newfolden, aunts of the bride. Pouring coffee were Mrs. Norman Busse of Thief River Falls and Mrs. Gale Langlie of Minneapolis, also aunts of the bride.

The punch was ladled by Carol Brodin and Mary Jo Williams, friends of the bride. Waitresses were Mrs. Wayne Larson, Mrs. Jerome Lund and Sheila Busse, cousins of the bride. Lisa Nepper distributed the rice packets and the bride's cousins, Kathy Langlie, Kim Rokke and Sheila Busse served as gift bearers.

After the reception, relatives and close friends gathered at the Pine Avenue pool for a social afternoon with refreshments. Host and hostess were Mr. and Mrs. Tim Kelly.

The evening prior to the wedding, the groom's mother hosted a groom's dinner at the Pine Avenue pool for approximately 40 guests.

For traveling on the wedding trip to Vermont, New York and other Eastern states, the bride wore a rust colored ensemble of polyester knit with a coordinating rust and brown wrap-around sweater.

The couple is now at home at 1928 South Aldrich, Apartment 1, Minneapolis. The bride, a graduate of Lincoln high school and the Rochester Area vocational technical institute, is a dental assistant. She is currently attending the University of Minnesota, enrolled in the dental hygiene program. The groom is also a graduate of Lincoln high school. He attended the University of Minnesota and is now employed by an insurance company in Minneapolis. Photo, Image Photography, Bemidji.

If the Shoe Fits.

How can I be sure that my children's shoes fit when I buy them?

If you mean that you want to check the fit of the shoes yourself, you should first work in a shoe store for at least two years. Then you will be more uncertain than you are now.

If the shoe internship is impossible I would use the practice of most women when they buy a hairdo. They don't rush downtown at 15 minutes before closing time and let the first operator they come to give their hair a fast sizzle. Hairdos are too important.

Even a newcomer to town knows before she leaves the house not only which beauty parlor she is going to but which beautician will give her the kind of hairdo she wants. She will read ancient magazines waiting for the operator to take her and she might even overpay the bill if she is especially pleased with the result.

"Who fits your children's shoes?" should be as commonly asked as "Who does your hair?" Try it. You will find that our shoefitters, who realize the health importance of children's shoes will be pleased to know that you are not primarily interested in speed, low price or high style.

Valerie Thorson Marries Danny Waling At Grygla

Miss Valerie Thorson and Danny Waling exchanged marriage vows at an afternoon ceremony October 4 at Grygla with Rev. Soma officiating.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Thorson and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Waling, all of Grygla.

Nancy Smeby was the organist. She played the traditional wedding marches and also accompanied Lorna Johnson as she sang "The Wedding Song," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride given in marriage by her father, was attired in a white floor-length gown, styled in empire silhouette. Floral trim, in green and yellow, accented the high neckline, outlined the bib on her fitted bodice, and encircled the cuffs of her long, full sleeves. A lace headpiece, etched with pearls, held her floor-length veil of bridal illusion. She carried an arrangement of yellow daisies centered with three white sweetheart roses.

Sally Waling of Grygla, a sister of the groom, was maid of honor. She wore a green floor-length gown, styled in empire fashion with long ties in back. Her gown, like the bride's, was also enhanced by green and yellow trim. She carried a single long-stemmed yellow rose on a bed of ferns.

Attending the groom as best man was Bill Thorson of Grygla, a brother of the bride. The groom and his attendant were attired in black tuxedos with yellow ruffled shirts, black bow ties and yellow boutonnieres.

The mother of the bride wore a green checked dress complemented by a corsage of yellow roses and white carnations. A similar corsage was worn by the groom's mother, who was attired in a pink floor-length gown with white sequin trim.

Approximately 100 relatives and friends attended the reception at the Grygla Community center.

Myrna Lawrence, aunt of the bride, and Elizabeth Irhke, aunt of the groom, cut and served the three-tiered wedding cake, decorated with yellow roses and topped with a miniature bride and groom. Pouring were Holly Loken, sister of the bride, and Polly Englund, a friend. Roxanne Thorson and Marcy Waling, sisters of the bride and groom, respectively, served the punch. At the gift table was Judy Kachwaski, a friend of the bride.

The bride and groom are at home in Grygla. The groom is employed by Arctic Enterprises, Inc., in Thief River Falls.

Sen. Fitzsimons Will Not Seek His Reelection

Senator Richard Fitzsimons of Warren announced today that he will not be a candidate for reelection to the Minnesota state senate in 1976.

"I have accepted the position as executive director of the Northland Sugarbeet Growers association," Senator Fitzsimons stated, "and I expect to devote full time to that position in the future. Now that the Minnesota legislature has annual sessions, it is very difficult to serve in the legislature unless you are self employed."

Senator Fitzsimons was first elected to the legislature in 1952 and has served continuously since then. He was elected to the House of Representatives representing Marshall county and served in the House until 1972. Serving on nearly every major committee and commission in the House during his 20 years, he was for 10 years chairman of the House appropriations committee.

In 1972 Fitzsimons was elected to the state senate from District I which includes Kittson, Marshall, Pennington, Red Lake, Roseau, Lake of the Woods and parts of Beltrami and Polk counties.

Senator Fitzsimons said he was making his announcement at this time so that any candidates for the office would have adequate time to announce their intentions and seek support before the precinct caucuses in February.

Lutheran Worship Workshop Set At St. John Church

A committee appointed by the seven jurisdictional presidents of the three Lutheran synods in Minnesota (ALC, LCA, LC-MS) has been planning for worship workshops to be held throughout the state in October and early November. One of the workshops will be held Sunday at St. John Lutheran church in Thief River Falls from 3 to 8 p.m.

These workshops are designed to be of interest to all people involved in worship and worship planning in a congregation, including pastors, musicians, church school teachers, banner makers, deacons and church council members.

The five-hour event will include a keynote address on corporate worship, which will be followed by panels and discussions centering on planning for corporate worship, using the season of Epiphany (Series B) as a model. Keynoters include Rev. Mons Teig, Dr. James Hofrenning, Rev. James Haney, Eldon Rieter, Dr. Eugene Kreider and Dr. David Tiede.

Panelists will be persons involved in the local area in worship activities. A devotional service using the new ILCW vesper service (spoken) will conclude the workshop.

Participants are asked to bring a sack lunch. Coffee will be provided. A $3 registration charge will be made to cover the costs of the workshop.

Assembly Of God Plans Action Crusade Here

Thief River Falls Assemblies of God church is one of three churches in the state selected as a site for an "Action Crusade", described as "the witnessing and soul winning program" of the Assemblies of God men's department.

Rev. Wildon Colbaugh of Springfield, Mo., national Action Crusades coordinator, will conduct the program of motivation, training and door-to-door witnessing. Host pastor J. L. Hagemeister announces that although this is a men's program, the ladies and youth of the local church as well as from other churches are invited to join in these training sessions which will be conducted November 13-15 from 7-9 p.m.

The Assemblies of God Church is located at 315 Duluth Av. North.

Dist. Boy Scout Commissioners Meet Here Thur.

To help sponsoring institutions and committees develop a better understanding of the institution's role and help leaders develop better programming for the boys they serve, a Pen-Ro-Shall district Boy scout commissioners' meeting will be held Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at St. Bernard's Catholic church in Thief River Falls.

Chester Stengrim of Greenbush will be in charge of the meeting and lead the discussion, according to Art Heinze of Thief River Falls, district commissioner. Unit commissioners, institutional representatives and committee chairmen from throughout the district are invited to attend.

Veterans Administration counselors at 72 centers across the nation have conducted more than 2.1 million interviews with Vietnam-era veterans.

Court Battle Is Expected Over Indians' Claim

Al Markovich of Warroad where they shot two deer during the night they were arrested. One was reportedly killed on Indian land (the band owns scattered parcels outside of the present "diminished reservation") and the other on land owned by the state of Minnesota.

The present reservation encompasses some 400,000 acres and includes all of Lower Red Lake and about half of Upper Red Lake. The original reservation (see accompanying map) contained about 3.5 million acres. The government acquired almost 2.9 million acres in the Nelson act of the late 1890's and about 256,000 acres in 1904. The land ceded in 1904 was the area east from Thief River Falls to the present reservation line and south to the Clearwater river.

Northern Minnesota hunters who have utilized the area north of the present reservation for hunting of grouse and deer are incensed over reports of large scale shining of deer on private and state land outside of the diminished reservation by members of the Red Lake band. Conservation officers for the department of natural resources who have worked on shining cases in the area note that private land owners are extremely angry over the situation.

The Red Lake band also has an action pending in federal court claiming that the $1.25 per acre payment for the first purchase by the government was not a negotiated price but rather an arbitrary amount set by Congress. That suit asks for an accounting by the government as to what happened to the monies taken in from the sale of those lands. According to Edwards, it was to have been paid to the tribe but no payment was ever received.

Rev. Duane Alpperspach, pastor of the Holt Lutheran parish, officiated at the services. Mrs. Larry Gustafson was the organist and Mrs. Donald Rupprecht sang two selections. Interment was in Greenwood cemetery.

Mrs. Dowacter, the former Frances Riedl, was born Jan. 15, 1900 in Excel township, Marshall county, to John and Helena Riedl, now deceased. She attended school and grew to womanhood in that community.

On March 6, 1920, she was married in Thief River Falls to Daniel Dowacter. The couple farmed near Thief River Falls until 1951, when they moved into this city. Since then, Mrs. Dowacter had made her home here.

She is survived by two daughters: Mrs. S. J. (Margaret) Restemayer of Renton, Wash., and Mrs. Jerrald (Irene) Nelson of Goodridge; six grandchildren, six great-grandchildren, and two sisters: Mrs. A.H. (Catherine) Anderson and Mrs. Lena Molstad, both of Thief River Falls.

She was preceded in death by her husband, who died in December of 1966, two brothers and three half-brothers.

Chief Of Police Gives Advice On Winter Driving

Emergencies come and emergencies go and, according to Thief River Falls Police Chief Ken Froschheiser, it's the responsibility of the police department to handle all types of emergency situations efficiently and effectively.

But there's one type of emergency situation that's predictable, according to the chief—it's the sudden winter storm that catches drivers unprepared. He listed lack of foresight, impatience and failure to adjust to conditions among the main driver errors causing most bad weather tieups and fender-bender collisions.

He offered the following tips provided by the International Association of Chiefs of Police and based on recommendations from the National Safety council's committee on winter driving hazards:

—Before you start, clear your windshield, side and rear windows of ice and snow. Free the wiper blades and clean snow from the hood. Peephole driving is an invitation to disaster.

—Clean headlights and taillights thoroughly. Keep the windshield washer reservoir filled with the proper anti-freeze solution for prevailing temperatures.

—Run heater and defroster a few minutes before you start. Otherwise, sudden fogging of the glass could blind you.

—On the road, steer steady on ice and snow. Don't make abrupt changes in direction. Anticipate lane changes and turns and make them gradually.

If you must drive during severe snow and ice conditions, use reinforced tire chains for maximum traction in deep snow and glare ice.

—Keep your speed down and give yourself plenty of following distance in traffic. You need lots of room to steer and stop on winter slick roads and streets.

—Slow down well, ahead of intersections. They're apt to be extra slick because of the polishing effect of stopping and starting traffic.

—Watch for warming trends; they lead to trouble. Ice is twice as slippery at 30 degrees as it is at zero.

—Even though most of the road is clear, watch ahead for icy patches in shady spots—tree shadows and underpasses. If you hit one unexpectedly, hold the wheel steady and roll through. Jamming on the brakes could send you into a skid.

—If you do skid, don't panic. Steer in the direction that the rear of the car is sliding. Don't oversteer. When you feel the car straighten out, turn the wheels straight and keep rolling.

—If you're stuck in the snow, turn your front wheels back and forth to push snow away from your tires. Shift to the highest gear; and, with a gentle foot on the gas, try to ease out without spinning the wheels. You'll dig in deeper if you spin.

—If that doesn't work, try rocking by alternately shifting between forward and reverse. Check your owner's manual for advice on rocking with an automatic transmission to avoid costly repairs.

Recognizing in advance the limitations that adverse weather places on driving and vehicle control, according to Chief Froschheiser, is the best way you can keep an emergency from turning into a disaster.

Inter-County's Weatherization Cuts Fuel Use

Inter-County community councils' home weatherization program, now in its sixth week of operation, is running at full strength. Eight crews, involving over 40 employees, are working full time repairing leaky roofs, insulating attics, replacing broken windows, weatherstripping doors and banking foundations to make the homes of lower income residents safer, more healthful, and more comfortable places to live during the winter.

In some instances, fuel consumption may be cut by as much as 50 per cent or more, an important consideration for individuals of limited income and an important aspect of the program.

Approximately 375 applications have been received for weatherization. Of these, about 300 qualify under the program income guidelines. Inter-County crews have weatherized more than 75 homes in the four county area (Clearwater, Polk, Pennington and Red Lake). Not all those eligible will be able to receive benefits of the program due to the limitations of time and money.

Any questions concerning the program can be directed to Inter-County offices in Oklee (796-2325) or Bagley, (694-6543).

Local Revenue Average In State Up 12 Per Cent

Local governmental revenue in Minnesota for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1973 was $3.35 billion, up 12 per cent over the preceding year, according to Robert W. Mattson, state auditor.

"This amounts to $881 per capita compared to $786 in the previous year," Mattson said. "Local government expenditures of $3.17 billion were up six per cent over the prior year." Per capita expenditures were $833 for the year ended Jine 30, 1973.

"Revenue from property taxes decreased $55 million, down six per cent as compared to the preceding year. State and federal aids increased $342 million, signifying a shift in financing away from local property taxes," Mattson stated.

"State aids increased by 21.6 per cent over 1972, while federal aids increased by 41 per cent," Mattson added.

"Local government expenditures totaled $692.8 million for counties, $585.6 million for cities, $35.3 million for towns, $1.2 billion for schools, and $632 million for other agencies (including the University of Minnesota, separated constitutionally from state government)," Mattson explained.

"The report also indicates a continuing, increasing trend in bonded debt, with an increase of 161 per cent in 10 years," Mattson said. "Total outstanding bonded debt of local governments was $2.878 billion, or $756 per capita."

Use Of Studded Tires Unlawful In Minnesota

"Every year at this time," Minnesota department of public safety commissioner Edward G. Novak said, "we receive inquiries about the use of studded tires in Minnesota.

"The answer is that our law has not changed—use of studded tires is not lawful in this state," he stated. "However, use of studded tires by visitors from other states is lawful under certain conditions. First, studs must be lawful in that person's home state, and he is governed by the time restrictions imposed by that state law. Secondly, they may be used in Minnesota for a period not to exceed 60 days of occasional use during one year. Generally we construe this to mean for use during shopping trips to bordering communities, short vacations, or just simply passing through.

"Since Minnesota has allowed outstaters to drive with studs in this state, drivers from every neighboring jurisdiction except the Province of Ontario have qualified to take advantage of them on visits to Minnesota.

"Now, however, there are two neighboring jurisdictions which ban studs, with Wisconsin now joining with Minnesota and Ontario in banning their use. This means that Wisconsinites no longer can qualify to drive in Minnesota with cars equipped with studded tires."

Little by little, other states in the country are outlawing tire studs, with no-stud tire laws now on the books in Minnesota, Wisconsin, Florida, Louisiana, Mississippi and, after next spring, Illinois.

CLUB OF THE YEAR award at the Pennington county 4-H awards night program Monday was awarded to three clubs for the first time. The decision to select three top clubs was made by the 4-H leaders council. Clubs receiving the recognition were Happy Acres, Black River and City View. Marvin Lundin, editor of the Times which sponsors the award, presents a plaque to his daughter Lori, an officer of the Happy Acres club.

YOUTHS PLAN MEALS

Minnesota young people acquire skills in planning and preparing foods for main meals, snacks and special events through the 4-H food and nutrition program. To help stretch the family food budget, 4-H'ers are taught to recognize the signs of quality and compare grades of food. About 26,250 Minnesota 4-H'ers are enrolled in the program through the Minnesota Agricultural Extension Service

Unemployment Rate In Minn. Drops In Sept.

Minnesota's unemployment rate was 4.8 per cent in September, down three tenths of a percentage point from the August rate of 5.1 per cent, Commissioner Emmet J. Cushing, Minnesota department of employment services, said recently.

The September rate was 1.7 per cent above September a year ago and compares with a national rate of 8.1 per cent for September. None of these rates are seasonally adjusted. (The national seasonally adjusted rate for September was 8.3 per cent and is the publicly announced rate.)

The number of persons unemployed in Minnesota in September was 87,300, down 4,500 from August but up 30,500 from September a year ago. The number of persons employed in September was 1,715,400, down 8,800 from August and 31,300 below September a year ago.

Minnesota's labor force in September was 1,802,700 persons, down 13,300 from August and 27,800 from September of last year.

4 Large Thefts Noted By Police

Four major thefts causing losses in property and cash totaling $1,402 were reported to the Thief River Falls police department within the last week.

Noper's motel reported Tuesday, October 28, that during the night a school bell valued at $150 was taken from the front of their building.

In one of two major thefts reported Wednesday, October 29, Pizza Hut reported a break-in which occurred during the night. The safe was entered and cash totaling a reported $680 was taken from the bank bag. Mark Brekke of Thief River Falls told police that two chrome exhaust pipes valued at $172 were taken from the back of his pickup.

Jim Bass of the city reported Saturday that between 1-2 a.m. his citizens band radio, aerials and speakers valued at $400 were taken from his pickup.

In one of five automobile accidents reported recently, Floyd Robinson of the city was driving across the railroad tracks on west Third street when his truck hit the stop arm of the railroad signal as it started to come down. The incident, reported at 12:02 p.m. October 29, caused $150 damage to the truck, owned by Erwin Melvie of Viking, and $75 damage to the signal.

At 3:35 p.m. Oct. 28, Mrs. Clarence Konickson of Red Lake Falls was traveling south on Main av. N. when she attempted to pass a vehicle driven by Marianne Prekker of the city, which was backing into a parking space on the 200 block. The Prekker car struck the Konickson vehicle. Estimated damages were $175 to the Konickson vehicle and $25 to the Prekker car.

Two car accidents were reported within 15 minutes of each other Friday. At 4 p.m., a truck driven by Ernest Melvie of Viking was making a right hand turn when its duals caught the front bumper of a car parked along Third street. An estimated $200 damage was reported on the parked car, owned by Albert Morin of the city. The truck was not damaged.

At 4:14 p.m., Mrs. Dean Swick of the city and Jerry Sandahl, TRF, were both traveling north on Main avenue when Mrs. Swick suddenly stopped at the 200 block to avoid hitting a vehicle in front of her and was struck from behind by the Sandahl car. Estimated damages were $180 to the Sandahl car and $75 to the Swick vehicle.

Saturday at 5:48 a.m., Raymond Buckman of Crookston was traveling north on Main avenue and a semi driven by Lionel McLaughlin of Winnipeg, Manitoba was traveling west on Third street when the vehicles collided at the intersection. The Buckman car was totaled, and an estimated $500 damage, was reported on the semi, owned by Standard Chemical of Winnipeg.

In other incidents, Mrs. Larry Shetler of the city reported Friday that some youths in a pickup took her children's trick or treat candy. The candy was later recovered by a neighbor, and the case is under investigation.

The same day, Tommy Hawk, who was staying at a local motel, said that his room had been entered and approximately $700 worth of turquoise jewelry was taken. Tuesday, Hawk reported that he found the jewelry in his motor van.

Saturday, Burlin Jacobson of the city told police that during the night his car was soaped by vandals. Warehouse Foods apprehended a male juvenile, 10, for allegedly taking a pack of cigarettes valued at 60 cents.

In one of six incidents reported Sunday, Godfred Svir, TRF, reported that the plug wires had been ripped off, and the radiator and oil caps had been taken from his car. Damage was estimated at $20. Ferdinand Mandt of the city said that honey or syrup had been poured all over a seat in his car and that the outside had been decorated with eggs and shaving cream. Estimated damage was set at $75.

Mary Ann Wetch reported that during the night vandalism had been done to the house at 522 Dewey avenue N. Toilet paper, vaseline, ketchup and shaving cream was later cleaned from the premises. Vernon Nelson of the city told police that he saw two young boys trying to steal his boat. When he hollered they fled and took another boat along the river. Two 15 year old male juveniles were apprehended.

Craig Lindahl, TRF said his Elk hound-Malamute husky pup was stolen between 2:30 and 8 p.m. The loss was valued at $35. John Moum of the city said just after he turned off the lights in his house a rock was thrown with enough force to pass through two thicknesses of glass and screen and into his living room. Damage was estimated at $65.

Monday, Si Lahlum of the city said that over the weekend one of his car tires had been slashed, causing $65 damage.

FATAL GLASS of elderberry wine is offered to Mr. Witherspoon (Tim Trudeau) by Abby and Martha Brewster (Anna-Marie Johnson and Janet Peterson l-r) in this scene from "Arsenic and Old Lace", the Lincoln high school play to be presented Friday and Saturday at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium.

Potato Growers Of RRV To Hold Annual Meeting

Potato growers in the Red River Valley will be attending their 30th annual meeting November 10-11.

Congressman Mark Andrews will keynote the convention at a noon luncheon on Monday the 10th. The Tuesday speaker will be Mr. Glenn Tussey who is the person in USDA that is charged with the P.L. 480 (food for peace) programs. The Valley association has been working on getting potatoes approved for the Food for peace program and look forward to Mr. Tussey's talk.

The work sessions will include discussion groups on marketing the 1975 crop, activities of the national potato council and the promotion board, pesticide regulations and O.S.H.A. regulations. Experts in these various fields will be on hand to lead all of the discussion groups.

Reservations can be made right up to the day of the convention but to ease the confusion of last minute reservations potato growers are asked to contact the Association office ahead of time if possible.

TRF Girl Attends UND Under ROTC Four Year Grant

Pamela Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russ Smith of Thief River Falls, is currently attending the University of North Dakota under a four-year ROTC scholarship. She is one of 15 UND students receiving the grant.

The grants pay the full cost of tuition, textbooks, laboratory fees, other education expenses and a subsistence allowance of $100 a month for up to ten months of the school year.

Upon accepting a scholarship, the student enlists in the Army Reserve and agrees to serve on active duty as a commissioned officer for four years after graduation from college.

1975 Pedestrian Death Toll Up In Minnesota

As has been the case in years past, the young and the old are still the primary victims in Minnesota's 1975 pedestrian traffic toll, the Department of public safety reported recently.

After hitting a record low mark of 106 deaths last year, pedestrian fatalities have shown a definite increase through September of 1975, with 86 deaths recorded for the nine-month period. During the same period in 1974 only 70 fatalities occurred.

Fifty-one of this year's fatalities, nearly 60 per cent, were sustained by persons at the top and bottom of the age scale, the young and the old. Twenty-seven fatalities were under the age of 15 while an additional 24 deaths were recorded in the 65 and over bracket.

Alcohol, the long-proven nemesis of drivers involved in accidents is also showing up with regularity as a possible cause factor in pedestrian deaths according to Public safety records.

Of the 57 pedestrian fatalities above the age of 15, about one in four was found to have a blood alcohol content of .10 per cent or abive. The .10 per cent alcohol level represents the point at which it is unlawful for a person to operate a motor vehicle in Minnesota.

Although the year end pedestrian fatality toll is almost sure to be above last year's record low, Public safety officials indicated that the rise is not necessarily an alarming one, since the final count will still probably be less than the average recorded over the past ten years. However, the fact that the deaths are increasing should be cause for concern.

U.S. Highway 2 Now Four-Lane Route To Bemidji

Opening Wednesday of US 2 20-mile segment between East Grand Forks and Crookston brings four-lane expressway travel to Bemidji, Rick Arnabeck, state highway department district 2 (Bemidji) public information officer, said recently.

The state highway department's objective in upgrading US 2, Arneback explained, is to speed grain truck traffic through northern Minnesota. Trucks hauling grain from Montana and North Dakota to the port of Duluth account for 20 per cent of the traffic on US 2.

To facilitate further this east-west traffic in the northern tier of the state, work is scheduled to begin in 1977 on a nine-mile Bemidji bypass, Arneback said. Future plans also call for upgrading US 2 between Bemidji and Cass Lake to a four-lane expressway.

76,273 Minn. Unemployment Active Claims

Persons in active claims status under the five unemployment programs currently in force in Minnesota totaled 76,273 for the week ending October 24. Commissioner Emmet J. Cushing of the Minnesota department of employment services reported recently.

Initial claims filed during the week for the regular program totaled 4,479, up 752 (20 per cent) from the previous week and down 226 (five per cent) from the corresponding week a year ago. Total number of active regular claims was 45,508, up 1,495 (three per cent) from the previous week.

Initial claims for extended benefits (paid when regular benefits are exhausted) totaled 1,053; for federal supplemental benefits (paid when regular and extended benefits are exhausted), 779; for additional federal supplemental benefits (paid when regular federal supplemental benefits are exhausted), 590; and for special unemployment assistance (paid to workers not ordinarily covered by unemployment insurance), 72.

For the week of October 17, the latest for which figures are available, the total amount of benefits paid under all programs was $3,408,028. Included in those benefits were $1,957,048 in regular benefits, up $937,508 (92 per cent) over the corresponding week a year ago. The average weekly benefit amount was $69.66, up $7.91 from a year ago.

During the week of October 17, 1975, payments for extended benefits were $606,363; for federal supplemental benefits, $337,127; and for special unemployment assistance, $55,067.

Since the first of the year, $150,349,946 has been paid for the regular program, up $64,450,875 (75 per cent) from the same period a year ago.

Heart Fund Drive Kicked Off By American Legion

"Operation Heartbeat", a half-million dollar heart research fund drive, will be kicked off by the Minnesota American legion and auxiliary at their annual fall conference in St. Paul this weekend.

"This drive is being conducted to supplement the American Legion memorial heart research professorship trust fund that was first established at the University of Minnesota in 1948," said state commander Donald Gray, Winona, and state president Mrs. John Dokken, Maple Plain, in a joint statement issued recently.

"In the original fund drive, our Legionnaires and auxiliary members raised more than $515,000 to finance this professorship," the two leaders pointed out. "Three noted scientists have conducted extensive heart and rheumatic fever research under the program since, publishing a total of more than 1,100 medical research papers." First to hold the professorship was Dr. Lewis Thomas, who now is an official of the Sloan-Kettering cancer research institute in New York City. He was followed by Dr. Robert A. Good, world-famed immunologist, pathologist and pediatrician, who left the professorship in 1973 to join Sloan-Kettering as president. The chair currently is being held by Dr. Paul G. Quie.

"Inflation has taken its toll on this endowment fund just as it has in all areas of our everyday lives," Gray stated, "and we're asking our 120,000 American Legion and 53,000 Auxiliary members to come up with an average of $3 per person to attain the half-million-dollar goal.

"The initial fund raiser involved everything from community bake sales and pancake breakfasts to home talent shows, auctions and benefit dances, as well as direct personal contributions both from within and outside our organizations. Our people did it then, with fewer members and a dollar that was worth a lot more than it is today, and we're confident they can do it again," he said.

Urge Checking Of Home Heating Equipment Now

While most Minnesotans start worrying about the thermometer taking its annual downward dip as the state heads into winter, State fire marshal Wes Werner recently issued a timely warning concerning the hot end of the mercury scale and your home heating equipment.

"Faulty or poorly maintained heating equipment can result in a home fire that is quickly devastating and often tragic," he said, "and that's why homeowners should take time now, in the early fall, to check their heating equipment and make necessary repairs."

Central heating units, according to Werner, should be cleaned and checked with particular attention paid to automatic controls and emergency shutoff valves. Routine checks and maintenance can be performed by the homeowner, but for safety's sake, repairs should be left to an expert.

"Eliminating places where a fire can start is a good part of the job in preparing your heating unit for the winter," he said. "Storage of trash or combustibles near a heat source is a dangerous habit. Likewise, walls and ceilings near the furnace should be properly insulated against heat. Flue pipes should be well supported, free of holes, clean, and lead into a chimney that is solid, with no cracks or loose bricks."

Electric or room heaters should be cleaned, checked, and placed in a position where they will not be bumped or overturned. They should have adequate clearance from walls and combustibles such as clothes racks, curtains, furniture and beds.

Electric heaters particularly can be a problem if used in houses with inadequate wiring," Werner said. "Never put a larger fuse on a curcuit than it was designed to use."

Oil burning units should be carefully filled and watched for burner flooding which can result in a flareup. The unit should always be shut off during filling. "Since statistics show that many home fires start at night while the family is asleep, it is important to check heating devices before retiring for the evening." Werner stated. "Room heaters should be turned down and left on low. If using a fuel burning heater in a bedroom, leave a window open a bit to insure ventilation and decrease the chances of carbon monoxide buildup."

Werner also suggested keeping bedroom doors closed at night as they will act as a barrier in case of fire, giving extra time for escape in an emergency.

Visit By Court Subcommittee Set For Warren

Representative John Corbid (DFL-Oklee) announced that the courts subcommittee of the house judiciary committee will be reviewing the Marshall county court system in Warren on Friday.

Immediately following a similar tour of the Clay county court in Moorhead the same day, the subcommittee will hold a public hearing in the Clay county courthouse at approximately 2 to 3 p.m.

The courts subcommittee is investigating the courts system in Minnesota to determine what changes, if any, may be needed. The subcommittee has already heard 22 hours of testimony on various court reform proposals.

According to the subcommittee chairman, Rep. Richard Parish, Golden Valley, Clay and Marshall county were two of the areas chosen for a first hand look because their court systems are somewhat unique.

Inventories Of Farm Grain Are Lowest In Years

Farm grain inventories in Minnesota October 1 were the lowest in over 23 years and the value at late October prices was down sharply from a year ago, agriculture commissioner Jon Wefald reported recently.

Minnesota farmers held over 65 per cent of the total inventory of all grains in all storage positions, reflecting a reluctance to sell at current prices that are 24 per cent to 41 per cent below the levels of one year ago on the three major crops—corn, wheat, and soybeans.

The estimated value of farm-held grain stocks, including old crop corn and soybeans and new crop wheat, barley, rye and flaxseed, is $541,660,000. That is a loss in value of over $98.7 million compared to farm stocks and price averages a year earlier.

Minnesota's on-farm inventories of feed grains this October 1 included 21.6 million bushels of old crop corn, 40 per cent below last year and the lowest since 1952; 87.4 million bushels of new oats, only 145,000 bushels more than last year's lowest farm inventory since 1934; and 28.2 million bushels of barley, 12 per cent more than the 1974 total that was the lowest since 1967.

Corn and wheat accounted for the biggest losses in value of October farm grain inventories. The 40 per cent cut in the amount of corn on farms and a 79-cent drop in this year's price from October 1974 added up to a $63,083,000 cut in potential income, a 53 per cent drop from last October. Farm wheat inventories were the second highest on record, but the $1.26 per bushel price drop cut the late October value nearly $46 million compared to the value of the farm inventory a year ago.

Commissioner Wefald said that all grain prices this October were off sharply from a year ago. In mid-October 1974, Minnesota corn averaged $3.34, last week $2.55, soybeans were $8.15, currently $4.80; wheat was $5.01, currently $3.75; flaxseed was $10.50, currently $6.87; barley was $3.41, currently $3.10; oats was $1.65, currently $1.52; and rye, Minnesota's least significant grain crop, dropped from $2.69 a year ago to $2.60 the last week in October.

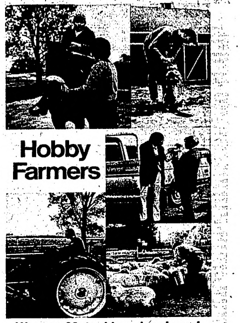
STATE FARM MUTUAL



Hobby Farmers

Waseca Mutual has developed a special insurance package just for you.

If you're a part-time farmer, a "hobby farmer," chances are you don't need a full-scale "farm-owners" insurance program. You don't have quite the same kind of risks a typical big farmer faces today. But on the other hand, a conventional "home-owners" insurance package is certainly not good enough.

It's a special problem to put together the kind of hybrid insurance package that really fits the "hobby farm" situation . . . but Waseca Mutual has done it.

If you've bought a farm insurance package that's really more than you need, the Waseca Mutual "Hobby Farm" Package can save you money. If you're trying to get by with a conventional "home-owners" insurance package, the "Hobby Farm" package can save you grief.

TEACHERS' VIEWPOINT ON NEGOTIATIONS

The teachers of school district 564 would like to inform the public about the negotiations, mediation, and arbitration processes which have gone on and will be going on in this school district. Please read the following to find out some interesting facts.

When and why did negotiation sessions with the school board discontinue?

Negotiations ceased when the board members' occupations prevented them from meeting after July 31. Also, the board chairman stated that the board was willing to offer 3 per cent, and that since teachers obviously weren't willing to accept this, there was no point in further discussion.

What does filing for arbitration mean?

The teachers and school board agree that between themselves they cannot solve their differences so a neutral party must be brought in. In this case, the neutral party is a three-member board of arbitration.

Didn't a state mediator come to Thief River Falls to settle the differences between the teachers and the school board?

Yes. However, he learned enough about the board's attitude to be willing to certify arbitration. The teachers offered a proposal, but the board couldn't make any decision until the next board meeting. The mediation session accomplished nothing. Therefore, the mediator agreed to certify both the teachers and the school board for arbitration.

Do the teachers want arbitration?

The teachers want to negotiate. We feel that the differences can be resolved without outside help. Besides, arbitration is costly to both the teachers and the taxpayers.

Does the school board want arbitration?

Apparently. At the October 27 board meeting, even though the board knew the teachers had proposals to submit, the board members refused to negotiate. Also, if an outside party decides on a salary schedule, no one will vote for or against a board member for it. It's a cop-out on the part of the board.

Didn't the teachers and the school board go through arbitration last year?

Yes. The contracts weren't settled until after Christmas. There's no need or reason for such a late settlement.

Why is there a bigger problem with this year's contract than last year's?

This year's contract will cover a two-year period of time. Also, in past negotiation settlements, a certain percentage of increase has been given. However, with today's continued rise in the cost of living, we teachers feel that a "cost of living" clause should be written in this year's settlement. This item has brought about some difficulty in negotiating with the board. In addition, a delay in settlement permits the board to invest monies which should be paid out in teacher salaries.

Do you feel that the differences that exist right now between the teachers and the school board could be settled without an arbitration hearing?

The teachers are willing to negotiate with the understanding that negotiations will be carried on in good faith.

Does the school district have the funds with which to settle the differences for a two-year contract?

Yes. The superintendent stated that this school district is solvent. When the negotiations are settled, the money will be available to meet the settlement. The board chairman says the money is available, but the board doesn't want to spend it for teachers' salaries.

Can you continue to negotiate even though both parties have filed for arbitration?

Yes. The teachers are willing to negotiate, but the board has rejected the idea. The school board's lawyer said no to the idea of further negotiating.

Is the arbitration settlement binding on both teachers and the school board?

The arbitration settlement is binding on the teachers by law. The school board may reject the arbitration decision thereby leaving the teachers the legal right to strike.

Who pays for arbitration?

The teachers pay one-half of the expense. The other half is paid by taxes which teachers also pay.

What can be said about the teachers' salary proposal?

The teachers have proposed an increase of 12.3% which results in a increase of $326,565 over last year's total teacher salaries of $2,655,000. This increase would result in a total teacher salary expenditure of $2,981,565. The school board figures the teachers' proposal to be an increase of 22%. Each reader of this article can figure out which percentage is correct.

Lincoln Students Present "Arsenic And Old Lace"

Lincoln high school students, under the direction of Loiell Dyrud, will present "Arsenic and Old Lace", a famous black comedy by Joseph Kesselring, Friday and Saturday at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium. Admission will be one dollar for adults and 50 cents for students.

The plot, set in a Victorian house in Brooklyn in the early 1940's, centers around two old sisters named Abby and Martha Brewster (Anna-Marie Johnson and Janet Peterson), who poison lonely old men for what they believe is the charitable reason of removing them from a cruel, isolated existence into a state of peace.

Prospective lodgers are invited to drink a glass of arsenic-spiked elderberry wine. The victims are then buried in the cellar by the ladies' daft nephew Teddy Brewster (Larry Lindquist), or President Teddy Roosevelt as he prefers to be known, who believes he is burying yellow fever victims.

As the play opens, Abby is discussing the events of the day with Reverend Harper (Bob Albrecht). They are joined by two policemen, officer O'Hara (Clint Reierson) and officer Brophy (Brett Carter), who are unaware of the ladies' adventures.

The plot thickens when another nephew named Mortimer Brewster (Steve Easton), a noted drama critic, arrives to propose to Elaine Harper (Su Sherack), the minister's daughter. Mortimer finds the most recent poisoning victim in a window seat and spends the rest of the play trying to discover a way to handle the situation.

The roof caves in when Jonathon Brewster (Jim Harris), Mortimer's brother and a notorious criminal, arrives with his accomplice Dr. Einstein (Billy Saetre), a fake plastic surgeon. They plan to establish the Brewster house as a face lifting clinic, and confusion reigns as they bring their latest murder victim along.

After many squabbles, fights and narrow escapes, the confusion is almost resolved when Mr. Witherspoon (Tim Trudeau), superintendent of Happy Dale sanitarium, arrives to commit Teddy and the aunt.

MRS. JAMES S. STEEN was presented a life membership pin by Ecklund-Holmstrom unit 117 of the American Legion auxiliary, Thief River Falls, during a unit meeting Monday evening in the Legion club rooms. Mrs. Steen received the honor for her outstanding service to the group since she entered in 1923. Mrs. Ed Haraldson, unit president, made the presentation.

GOP Women Ask Ford To Weld Party Unity

Minnesota Federation of republican women wired President Ford asking him to convene the Republican leadership and weld a policy of party unity.

Following a keynote speech delivered to MFRW at the Ambassador motel in Minneapolis at their bi-annual convention October 18 by Minnesota Sen. Nancy Brataas (Republican, Rochester) a resolution was approved and sent to Washington.

The resolution urged that Conservative-Liberal bickering have hampered campaigning efforts all over the nation. It further recommended a politican reorganization, dedicated to a constructive problem-solving that will capture the imagination of the electorate if its views are presented with honesty and clarity.

The resolution also said, "Public debate should be confined to issues. People want to know about energy, inflation, recession, unemployment. They are turned off by quarrelsome claims that one candidate is either more conservative or more liberal than another. The electorate is concerned with economic solutions for problems and issues of today rather than outmoded political tags of yesteryear."

In an earlier panel presentation on mental health, Mary Forsythe, Minnesota House of representatives, stated that she has written a tough legislative bill regarding drinking drivers. She also discussed the ten state mental hospitals and their declining population due to more effective treatment, citizen's changed attitudes and the community services that are now available. The panel discusses the fact that one in every five people need mental care, up to 18 per cent of our children need care but only seven per cent get it.

Other panel members were Judy Schotzko, president of the mental health association of Minnesota; Mary Work, associate director, Metropolitan area mental health association and moderator Ione Lundeen, MFRW legislative chairwoman, of Fergus Falls.

On another issue presentation panel on criminal justice, Jack Young, former warden of Stillwater state prison, Gary Laidig, Lon Heinitz and Arne Carlson, Minnesota house of representatives, agreed that victims of crime will keep increasing until we find what corrections work.

They stated that apprehension rate is 23 per cent, the repeat rate is 60 per cent and only one per cent of the offenders end up in prison. They recommended that we must support the police programs with larger budgets, detect troublemakers at an early age, initiate night courts and legislate common sense approaches. We also must hold law enforcement officers accountable for upholding the laws. Moderator was Phyllis Onsgard, Moorhead.

New MFRW officers elected are president, Mrs. Al Hilde, Jr., Plymouth; vice president, Mrs. John Soetebier, Duluth; secretary, Mrs. Carl Hammer, and treasurer, Mrs. Warren Goss, Minneapolis.

Toll-free telephone, service to Veterans Administration offices is available in 312 cities and 45 states.

Minn. Nurses Ass'n. Holds Annual Meeting

Minnesota Nurses association held their 70th annual convention at the Leamington hotel in Minneapolis October 19 through the 22. Mrs. Cathy Mason, Crookston, Mrs. Marcia Stanislawski and Fran Stromberg of Thief River Falls, served as delegates of the District I Nurses association.

Mrs. Mason is currently the district I president and serves on the advisory council for the MNA. Recently, Mrs. Mason served on the Task force committee for role and relevancy.

Mrs. Stanislawski, serves as the first vice president of the District I MNA and Mrs. Stromberg is the chairperson of the district legislative committee. Mrs. Stromberg also works on the MNA committee for professional and community relations.

District I of the MNA, a professional organization for registered nurses, represents members of the profession in an eight-county area of northwestern Minnesota.

Next meeting of the district nurses will be held at 5 p.m., November 13 at the Thief River Falls Elks club. Mrs. Kristen Kurtz, assistant executive director of the MNA, assigned to the legislative branch, will be the guest speaker. She is also a full-time lobbyist for the MNA in the state legislature.

Small Business Task Force Meet Set For City

Initial public meetings of the governor's advisory task force on small business have been scheduled. The first will be held at 2 p.m., Wednesday, November 12 at the city auditorium, Thief River Falls. The second is scheduled for 9 a.m., Thursday, November 13 at the Bemidji Elks club.

The meetings, which are open to the general public, are part of the task force's study of possible negative effects of state laws, rules and regulations on the economic conduct and management of small businesses.

Representatives of the business community and other interested persons are encouraged to testify. Those interested in testifying are asked to contact Rollie Boldt, Department of economic development industrial development representative, Bemidji (218-755-2875); Eugene Abbott, Region 1 executive director, Bemidji (218-751-3108).

Other outstate meetings of the task force will be organized in cooperation with regional directors, department of economic development industrial development field representatives, local chambers of commerce and other local and regional development groups. The task force plans to hold meetings in every state development region prior to November, 1976, when it will present its findings and recommendations to Governor Wendell R. Anderson and the legislature.

The task force, established by the 1975 legislature, is authorized to study methods to improve conditions for small businesses in Minnesota, including economic incentives, long-range planning and education, and to make its recommendations to the governor and the 1977 legislature.

Appointees to the task force include 18 citizens, four legislators, the commissioners of agriculture and economic development and the director of the state planning agency.

School Policy On Emergency Closing Listed

According to Thief River Falls public school policy, the superintendent shall announce any emergency school closing. The instructional staff is not required to report when such announcement is made.

When school is dismissed early, the release of the teachers shall be at the discretion of the superintendent after such time that provisions have been made for children.

Announcement for no school will be made as early as possible in the morning. Announcement for early release will be made from 10:30 a.m. on. Students will be served an early noon lunch and buses will leave the buildings beginning at 1 p.m. on regular dismissal schedule, according to Supt. William Coriiss.

Skating Program Show On Saturday

Jean McClellan of Bemidji, who is in charge of instruction for the Thief River Falls recreational skating program, will present a solo number to conclude the skating program to be presented Saturday at 7 p.m. in the Thief River Falls sports arena. The show will be presented free of charge and public skating will follow the event.

Joining in presentation of the program will be the Border Blades figure skating club of Grand Forks, N.D., amd the Thief River Falls amateur hockey association (TRFAHA).

Many of the performers in the Border Blades group are students of Kathy Rutledge, of Grand Forks who supervised the recreational skating clinic held here several weeks ago. The program is sanctioned by the U.S. figure skating association.

Miss McClellan participated in the Bemidji figure skating program and has been skating and training under direction of Bemidji figure skating club professionals for nine years. She has been a volunteer instructor for the Bemidji recreation program for the past five years and logged about 360 hours of on-ice time plus many more hours of office work and planning.

Rated at the gold medalist level in dance, Jean is also listed as a silver medalist in free dance and at the silver medalist level in figures. She has performed in nine Bemidji figure skating shows, two shows at Baudette and at hockey games.

Miss McClellan is currently a member of the U.S. figure skating association, Bemidji figure skating club and the professional skaters guild of America. She has 14 years of ballet training and has trained under skating instructors in Minneapolis, Chicago, Colorado, Oregon and Winnipeg as well as Bemidji. One of her instructors was former world dance champion Ron Barnett.

Following the winter instructional season here, Miss McClellan will present an ice revue with local recreational skaters participating on March 7.

Opening number by the Border Blades club will be a school figure demonstration. Participants and figures demonstrated include the following: Sue Romasek, inside eight, forward and backward; Linda O'Leary, outside eight, forward; Pam Midboe, serpentine (change of edge) form; Jane Gillig, 3's to center; Mary Eickhoff, forward and backward single 3's; Jim Dalglish, backward serpentine; Kevin Hagan, forward loops; Sandy Folson, brackets and back double 3's; and Barb Connelly, backward loops.

Jean McClellan

Free skating solo numbers will then be presented by Brenda Romo, 11; Janelle Iverson, 6; Marcia Hagen, 15; Kevin Hagan, 17; Janel Sansburn, 13; Jane Iverson, 11; and Kris Anderson, 13.

Thief River Falls amateur hockey association will then present a program which includes skating to the music of "We're From Thief River" and performance of skating drills by different age levels of young skaters.

Free skating solos by Border Blades members will continue by Karen Torkelson, 12; Renee Robideaux, 12; Jim Dalglish, 13; Jane Hillesland, 12; Diann Romo, 9; Barb Connelly, 14; Sandy Folson, 17; and Mrs. Meredith Sansburn, "over 21".

Ice dancing to the universal "Starlight Waltz" will be performed by Kevin Hagan and Barb Connelly, Jim Dalglish and Mary Eickhoff, Marcia Hagen, Mary Eickhoff, Jane Hillesland, Kris Anderson, Sue Tomasek and "Red" Hagan.

Serving as announcers for the program will be Gordon and Jan Peterson and Kathy Rutledge.

Class I Milk Prices Up As Of November 1

Irvin Elkin, president of Associated milk producers, inc. announced recently that effective November 1, prices paid by milk processors for class I milk will be increased by approximately two and one-half cents per half gallon.

Noting that as milk production reflects normal seasonal increases, Elkin said, prices should tend to stabilize with perhaps another modest price increase of one cent per half gallon projected.

Elkin pointed out that this price increase is dictated by federal marketing orders and is in effect, a pass through of higher production costs that have been imposed on this nation's dairy farmers. He said prices received have not kept pace with production costs causing America's dairy farmers to sell out at an alarming rate.

Elkin called attention to the fact that in Minnesota, as an example, there are 20 per cent fewer dairy farmers procuding 10 per cent less milk than five years ago. Neighboring states show more or less the same trend.

Open House Set For King's Way Academy Sun.

King's Way academy will hold an open house Sunday at 3:30 p.m. at Faith Lutheran Brethren church at sixth street and Dewey avenue in this city. The students will present a program and there will be a question and answer time following the program. There will also be an opportunity for visitors to tour the classroom. Everyone is invited to attend.

King's Way academy is in its third year offering a full course of academic training.

"Parents who have desired a thoroughly Christian training program for their children will look forward to this opportunity to hear more about accelerated Christian education," says Rev. Carl Wosje, administrator for King's Way academy.

Court Of Honor For Boy Scouts Sunday Evening

Advancement and skill awards, merit badges and new scout recognition will be presented at a city-wide Boy scout court of honor Sunday at 7:30 p.m. at Redeemer Lutheran church. Quentin Jones will be master of ceremonies.

Paul Phelps, a member of Troop 199, is chairman of the court of honor. Approximately 40 boys will receive recognition for achievement in the scouting program at the event which parents and friends of scouting are encouraged to attend.

Participating in the court of honor will be members of Troop 199 at St. John Lutheran church, Troop 57 at St. Bernard's Catholic church and Troop 59 at Zion Lutheran church.

Playoff Game Here Should Be A Dandy

Thief River Falls football fans should be in for a real treat Friday when Karlstad and McIntosh-Winger clash in a first round Minnesota State High School League state Class C football playoff game on the Prowler athletic field.

Rarely, if ever, are fans here presented with the opportunity to watch some of the area's small school athletic teams in action. Friday will be a golden opportunity to watch two of northwestern Minnesota's finest small school football teams.

Both communities will naturally be out in full force to support their teams. Hopefully Thief River Falls will complement the Karlstad and McIntosh-Winger fans to bring the attendance to a healthy total.

While the overall quality of football exhibited by Karlstad and McIntosh-Winger might not match the caliber of ball played by Northwest Conference teams like Bemidji or Crookston, the Rabbits of the Top of the State Conference and the Scots of the North Tri County Conference do play very fine football.

Karlstad and McIntosh-Winger boast several outstanding ball players who could step right into the lineups at Bemidji or Crookston or Thief River Falls. The only difference between the North Tri County, Top of the State and Northwest Conferences is numbers. There just aren't as many quality ball players at Karlstad or McIntosh-Winger as there is at Bemidji or Crookston.

Friday's game here could be a truly outstanding contest between two very evenly matched ball clubs. Both teams have super defensive units and both possess potentially explosive offenses. The game is an absolute toss-up.

The game will in all likelihood belong to the team who can move the ball on the ground, both coaches have agreed to that line of thought already. Rick Olson of Karlstad and Chad Burslie of McIntosh-Winger are outstanding runningbacks who have accumulated nearly 2,500 yards rushing and 200 points between them. And right behind them are Todd Carlson of Karlstad and Carey Burslie of McIntosh-Winger who together total over 1,500 yards rushing and 112 points.

The only edge that might be found between the two teams belongs to McIntosh-Winger. The North Tri County Conference announced its 1975 all-conference team Monday and the Scots placed six players on the team, including five offensive linemen: guards Delles Solie and Mark Lee, center Dan Carlson, tackle Dean Henney and end Bob Finkle. How well those all-conference picks handle Karlstad's big defensive line that includes Top of the State all-conference picks Dan Clark and Luther Germundson may determine the winner.

Oddly enough, this week's state playoff game resembles the old North Tri County-Little Six Conference playoff games that were staged for three straight years before both leagues had major facelifts this fall.

Little Six schools merged with the Top of the State Conference after the 1974 season and the Top of the State split into a pair of six-team divisions. At the same time the North Tri County divided itself into two five-team divisions. Both leagues staged their own inter-conference playoff games this season.

All three North Tri County-Little Six match-ups were dandies. Oklee of the North Tri County edged Kennedy 20-15 in 1972 before Kennedy bounced back to win two straight playoff games for the Little Six. The Rockets tripped Oklee 26-20 in 1973 and slipped by Gonvick 16-14 a year ago.

Blooming Prairie and Esko meet at Cloquet Friday in the other first round state Class C playoff game. Friday's winners will clash next week in the state Class C playoff championship game. The site and exact date for the title contest won't be determined until after this week's for round games are completed. Tickets for Friday's game here, priced at $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for students, will be available at the gate. Pre-game ticket sales will be conducted at the Karlstad and McIntosh-Winger schools only.

Itasca Snaps UMC Win Streak

Itasca community college upset Crookston Tech 24-20 Saturday, handing the Trojans their first regular season MJCAA football loss in three years.

"We just weren't ready to play football," said Crookston coach Deryl Ramey whose team fell behind 16-0 in the first quarter.

Despite the setback, Crookston will appear in its third straight MJCAA state football championship game Sunday when the Trojans meet Rochester at 1:30 p.m. at the University of Minnesota's Memorial Stadium in Minneapolis.

Miscellaneous

+Moorhead State University won the 1975 NAIA District 13 cross country title last week with several area runners on the Dragons' squad. Moorhead's Pat Hanlon of Bagley placed fifth in the meet, Paul Carter of Park Rapids was sixth and Gary Nordlund of Clearbrook was ninth. MSU will enter the NAIA nationals at Salina, Kansas November 14-15.

+Tony Jelacie who helped lead Brainerd into the 1975 Region Eight hockey tournament, is playing with the St. Paul Vulcans of the Midwest Junior A hockey league this season.

Scots, Rabbits Clash Here In State Playoff Game

Thief River Falls will act as host Friday when northwestern small school powers Karlstad and McIntosh-Winger clash in a 7:30 p.m. first round Minnesota State High School League state Class C playoff game on the Prowler athletic field.

Both ball clubs enter the game with perfect 10-0 records. McIntosh-Winger won the South Division pennant in the North Tri County Conference and edged North Division winner Oklee 8-6 in the conference playoff game Friday. Karlstad captured the Divison I crown in the Top of the State Conference and blasted Division II titlist Roseau 23-6 in conference playoff activity Friday.

McIntosh-Winger ranks second in the final MSHSL Class C football poll and Karlstad is ranked fourth. Blooming Prairie and Esko rank one-three in the Class C computer points poll and they'll meet Friday at Cloquet. Friday night's winners will clash in the state Class C playoff championship game next week.

The two teams arrived in the state playoffs in opposite manner, with McIntosh-Winger anticipating post-season play while Karlstad was pleasantly surprised by the happenings.

"This is what our goal has been since the end of last season," said Dick Holen who is in his first year as McIntosh-Winger head coach after serving the Scots five years as an assistant. "We didn't expect this kind of season," replied Phil Johnson, in his sixth year as Rabbit boss. "We played our weaker opponents early in the season and didn't play well. But we've shown steady improvement and we've played better as our opponents got tougher."

Defense may dominate the game since both teams pride themselves with their strong defensive play. McIntosh-Winger has given up but 54 points in 10 games, notching four shutouts and allowing two touchdowns in only two games. Karlstad has held 10 opponents to 74 points. The Rabbits have posted two shutouts and permitted two touchdowns just three times.

"Defense is definitely our strength," confirmed Johnson. "Our offense carried us earlier this season," said Holen, "but our defense has been doing the job lately."

McIntosh-Winger defensive stalwarts include 165-pound senior nose guard Mark Lee, 165-pound junior middle linebacker Bob Finkle and 180-pound senior end Dean Henney. All three are very aggressive ball players. Lee (Holen likened him to Alan Page) may be the best of the lot. His exceptional quickness has allowed him to average seven unassisted tackles per game this year.

Karlstad's stingy defense is anchored by huge tackles Dan Clark and Luther Germundson, a pair of 200-pound seniors who are awfully tough to run against.

In addition to superb defenses, both teams boast strong offensive games, headed by talented ball carriers. McIntosh-Winger's offense could be called explosive since the Scots racked up 292 points this fall. Karlstad scored 182.

Starry runningbacks Chad Burslie and Rick Olson lead their respective teams. Burslie was named MVP in the North Tri County Conference Monday after rushing for 1,106 yards and scoring a league-high 94 points for the Scots. The 155-pound senior blends speed with power. Olson makes the Rabbits go. The 180-pound senior has rushed for 1,360 yards and scored 90 points in Top of the State play to rank second to Brent Bowman of Kennedy who scored 92. A lot like Burslie, Olson possesses both quickness and power.

Both coaches say whoever is able to move the ball on the ground will win the ball game.

The rest of the McIntosh-Winger pro-set backfield includes 135-pound sophomore quarterback Larry Haugen, 140-pound halfback-flanker Carey Burslie and 160-pound fullback Mike Dietrich. Carey Burslie complemented older brother Chad by rushing for 883 yards and scoring 74 points this fall. He has blazing speed.

Karlstad runs out of the wing-T run by 175-pound senior quarterback Dan Sele, a strong runner in his own right. Olson is the fullback and 160-pound senior Todd Carlson and 145-pound sophomore Ron Oistad are the halfbacks. Carlson has rushed for 700 yards.

McIntosh-Winger wins this fall have been posted over Grygla 30-6, Middle River 22-14, Oklee 26-8, Clearbrook 20-14, Gonvick 30-0, Goodridge 36-0, Plummer 32-6, Erskine 52-0, Mentor 38-0 and Oklee 8-6.

Karlstad has beaten Warroad 14-7, Crookston Cathedral 14-7, Baudette 27-16, Greenbush 14-0, Argyle 20-6, Stephen 14-6, Newfolden 22-14, Hallock 12-0, Kennedy 22-12 and Roseau 23-6.

North Tri County All-Conference Team Announced

McIntosh-Winger senior runningback Chad Burslie was named most valuable player Monday in the North Tri County football conference.

The South Division and overall North Tri County Conference champion McIntosh-Winger ball club placed six players on the 25-man all-conference team selected by the league coaches.

Gonvick, Middle River, Clearbrook, Erskine and Grygla all placed two players on the all-conference squad while Goodridge and Mentor were represented by one all-conference pick.

Middle River choices were senior quarterback Elwin Ness and junior runningback Randy Black.

Clearbrook all-conference players were senior runningback Bruce Bjerke and junior tackle Randy Walberg.

Erskine placed senior tackle Guy Benson and senior runningback Cliff Kazik on the all-conference team.

City Basketball League Meeting

An organizational meeting for the Thief River Falls men's city basketball league will be held tomorrow (Thursday) at 8 p.m. in the basement meeting room of the city auditorium.

NEW NORTHLAND community college hockey coach Curt Geatz addressed his squad during practice Tuesday in the Thief River Falls sports arena. Geatz took over the Northland hockey program this winter, succeeding Swede Lund. Northland will open its 1975-76 season Tues., Nov. 25, against the University of North Dakota junior varsity in Grand Forks.

Final Football Poll Announced By MSHSL

Minnesota State High School League announced its final 1975 state football computer rating averages Tuesday following last week's busy conference playoff schedule.

The top four teams in each of the five classes advance to state playoff activity this week.

In Class AA playoff games, Stillwater plays St. Paul Harding at Parade Stadium in Minneapolis Thursday. All other semifinal playoff games will be played Friday.

Class B action finds Gaylord playing Granite Falls at Redwood Falls while Mahnomen takes Onamia at Walker.

Nine-man pairings find Welcome playing Ruthton at Fairmont while LaPorte faces Audubon at Detroit Lakes.

Top 20 teams in the final MSHSL ratings, along with season records and rating averages:

Curt Geatz Directs 1975-76 Northland Hockey Program

New head coach Curt Geatz is currently working with a squad numbering 15 skaters as the Northland community college hockey team prepares for the upcoming 1975-76 season.

Geatz took over the Northland hockey program following the resignation of Swede Lund at the end of the 1974-75 campaign. Lund coached Northland since the school began intercollegiate hockey in the 1970-71 season.

"I'm excited," said Geatz who is coaching his first "varsity" team after working as a youth hockey coach in the past. "It's a step up. Now instead of looking down, I'll be looking up," he quipped.

Geatz' squad is nearly evenly divided between returning sophomore lettermen and incoming freshmen.

Veterans returning from last year's state consolation championship team include Scott Engelstad and Steve Zacher of Thief River Falls; Jim Moran, Wes Roberts and Craig Ulness of Devils Lake, N.D.; Jon Hakala and Dale Palm of Aurora-Hoyt Lakes; and Dave Nesmoe of Baudette.

Roberts was the leading scorer on last year's team that finshed with a 9-15 overall record with 22 goals and 17 assists for 39 points. Ulness scored 11 goals and added 10 assists a year ago to rank sixth in the team scoring charts. Moran and Engelstad totaled 15 points apiece, Palm 10, Nesmoe six and Hakala four.

In addition, freshmen Craig Cromy, Bruce Ellingson and Rick Thompson of Park River, N.D. are expected to join the squad at the start of the school's winter quarter.

"I think we're going to be alright," offered Geatz. "The guys have got a real good attitude. Knowing the league, we should be able to play with anybody with the right amount of effort on our part."

Northland is midway through its first real week of practice, but drills have been limited to skating exercises. "The biggest thing right now is getting them positioned in the right combinations," said Geatz. "The skills are there, it's just a matter of getting them to play the same brand of hockey. They've come up through different programs, now we have to get them to play our style of hockey."

Size will be a Northland advantage this winter. "We've definitely got some size explained Geatz who said "I've always believed in hustle and maintaining total team composure—controlled hockey, position hockey."

Northland will open its 1975-76 season with a pair of games against the University of North Dakota junior varsity. Northland will play the Sioux JV's at Grand Forks Tues., Nov. 25, to start the year. UND will visit Thief River Falls Thurs., Dec. 4, for the Northland home opener.

Other Northland home games will be played Fri., Sat., Jan. 9-10, against Hibbing; Wed., Jan. 14, Crookston; Fri., Sat., Jan. 16-17, Anoka-Ramsey; Sat., Sun., Jan. 24-25, Rainy River; Tues., Jan. 27, Crookston; and Fri., Sat., Jan. 30-31, Mesabi.

The rest of Northland's road schedule will include Sat., Sun., Dec. 13-14, at Mesabi; Wed., Jan. 21, at Crookston; Wed., Feb. 4, at Crookston; Sat., Sun., Feb. 7-8, at Rainy River; and Sat., Sun., Feb. 14-15, at Hibbing.

Sub Region Eight AA Volleyball Tournament Scheduled Saturday

Coach Cindy Vennes' Lincoln high school girls' volleyball team will enter post-season tournament competition Saturday when the Prowlers take part in the 1975 Sub Region Eight AA volleyball meet at Crookston.

The Sub Region Eight AA meet will be a triangular event featuring Thief River Falls, East Grand Forks and Crookston. Thief River Falls will face East Grand Forks at 6:30 p.m., with the Prowler-Green Wave winner meeting the Pirates in the title match.

Thief River Falls owns a pair of 2-1 regular season wins over East Grand Forks, but Crookston has swept four straight games from the Prowlers and Green Wave to rank as pre-tournament favorite. The Pirates beat the Prowders 2-0 and 2-1 during the year.

Vennes is optimistic, however. "I think we have a good chance to win," she said. "It'll be two tough matches, but I think we can win."

Thief River Falls finished the regular season with a 6-8 record. "We had a midseason slump," reported Vennes. "We lost a couple of games we shouldn't have lost. But we've been playing much better our last two or three games."

The Prowler coach contributed the team's strong late season performances to the play of Gayle Peterson, Sandy Schob and Jane Achenbach. "We've been getting into more setting and spiking than we did early in the season because of the play of Gayle, Jane and Sandy," explained Vennes.

Peterson and Achenbach are the team's co-captains. All three girls are seniors. "Gayle's skills are very good," said Vennes, "probably the best on the team. Sandy has a very strong serve and Jane is a good all-round player."

Saturday night's winner will advance to the 1975 Region Eight AA tournament at Moorhead Sat., Nov. 15.

Team Arctic Profiles . . .

Thompson Undaunted By Racing Injuries

(Second in a five-part series dealing with the profiles of individuals involved with the 1975-76 Team Arctic snowmobile racing team.)

As unbelievable as it may seem, Dave Thompson is racing again this winter with the Team Arctic snowmobile racing team.

Dave Thompson

Thompson, 32, was off to his greatest start in his seven-year history in racing last year. He took a first on a 440 machine at Alexandria, then place finishes at Team Arctic's next two races. By the fourth week of the season, he was overall point leader in the 440 class.

Then it happened. An accident at Eagle River, Wis., broke both his legs below the hips, broke his left arm and caused vertebrae damage to his back. Dave was so badly injured that he spent 72 days on his back in the hospital and was in a wheel chair until the fourth of July.

Doctors were amazed at his recovery, however, and weight lifting and therapy programs over the summer have brought Dave back to near-normal race condition. "I've still got the pins in my legs so I may have to watch it a little more, maybe not take as many chances as I've been known to," he admitted.

During his long six-month recuperation, Thompson had a lot of time to think about the sport.

He says he realized how much it was a sport that he really enjoyed; that was a part of him. Furthermore, he felt strongly that he didn't want to leave the sport on account of injury.

"If I had quit because of my injury, I think I would have hurt the sport of racing. Younger drivers would have been discouraged."

"I mean, take a given weekend. It's a very, very small percentage of people who get injured. I didn't want to set an example, by quitting that would draw attention to injuries."

"Oh I know one of these years I'm going to have to quit. But I want it to be a time that I choose."

This year, Thompson is racing primarily in the smallest class, the 250cc. His extra time will be taken up assisting the team, watching track conditions, working with mechanics, helping set up machines, paying particular attention to any other nuisance of the race situation that will help Team Arctic turn in its best performance.

He still plans to turn in some place finishes in his charing style that has characterized his determined race performance for so many years.

"I still want to get out in front right away. Stay ahead of the traffic and drive my own race. It boils down to: set up your sled right and be on the ball when the flag goes down."

"Like a lot of other racers, I'll go up to the line and study the flag man to find out what body movements are a giveaway to when he'll drop the flag. So I'll take my cue from that slight body movement that tips me off that the flag is being dropped."

Thompson also has another reason for being on the track again this year. He feels a real sense of devotion to the fans. When he was in the hospital, he received stacks of mail each day.

"One week I counted 500 cards and letters and I quit counting. A lot of people said they met and talked to me at races. I never realized there were so many people out there who cared. I guess it's to these kinds of people I owe a real all-out effort this year," he said.

During the race season Thompson and teammates Larry Coltom and Bob Elsner, along with Team Arctic mechanics work seven days a week—five at the factory's technical lab and two at races.

The 1975-76 Team Arctic racing season starts Dec. 13-14 at Ironwood, Mich. The rest of the schedule includes stops Dec. 27-28 at Alexandria, Minn.; Jan. 3-4 at Peterbourgh, Ont.; Jan. 10-11 at Imlay City, Mich.; Jan. 17-18 at Eagle River, Wisc.; Jan. 20-23 in the Winnipeg-St. Paul 500; Jan. 31-Feb. 1 at Bangor, Maine; Feb. 7 at Quebec City; Feb. 8 at Montreal; Feb. 14-15 Weeds Port, N.Y.; Feb. 21-22 at St. Paul; Feb. 28-29 at Beausejour, Man.; March 6-7 at Ironwood, Mich.; and March 13-14 at West Yellowstone, Mont.

Boat License Renewal Notices Are Mailed Out

Boat owners whose licenses expire on Dec. 31, 1975, will soon be receiving notices to renew them, the department of natural resources announced.

The licenses may be renewed at deputy registrars offices or at the DNR license center, 625 north Robert street, St. Paul.

Grygla Football Squad Shows 1975 Improvement

Despite a lackluster 3-6 season record, Grygla high school football took a big step forward in 1975, according to Eagle head coach Jerry Lindstrom.

Grygla fielded its first interscholastic football team in 1974 and posted a 2-7 record. Although the record didn't change much in 1975, the school's football program did improve, said the Eagles' second-year coach.

"Looking over the year and comparing it to our first year, I can see great improvements in all aspects of the game," stated Lindstrom who took great pride in pointing out that the Eagles more than doubled their total offensive yardage figure in one year and tripled their point production from a year ago.

"The kids were more susceptible to learning and they had that extra year of experience," said Lindstrom. "We don't expect to become a conference power for a few years, but hopefully we'll continue to improve." Grygla's three wins this fall were recorded over Goodridge 20-12, Erskine 18-6 and Mentor 26-0. The Eagles lost to McIntosh-Winger 30-6, Middle River 28-8, Plummer 27-0, Oklee 42-8, Clearbrook 30-0 and Gonvick 34-20.

Opponents held the upper hand in statistical charts against the Eagles. Grygla scored 106 points, but gave up 209. The Eagles rushed for 1,084 yards, but gave up 1,630. Grygla passed for 519 yards, but gave up 548 yards through the air. The Eagles totaled 62 first downs, but surrendered 96. Grygla recovered 17 fumbles, but lost 20. The Eagles blocked two punts, but had four of their own punts blocked.

Grygla did hold an advantage in the interception department, however. The Eagles intercepted 12 passes while Eagle passers were intercepted 11 times.

Jeff Stanley, a senior end, led the Grygla scoring charts with 26 points. Junior runningback Tom Olson scored 24 points, senior runningback Arlo Hagen added 18, sophomore runningback Gordy Moe 14, senior quarterback Gary Satre 12, junior runningback Dale Warne six and junior end Rocky Hagen six. Olson led the team's rushing attack with 114 carriers for 456 yards and a four-yard average per carry. Moe was the only other ball carrier with over 100 yards for the year as he carried the ball 55 times for 185 yards and a 3.4-yard average.

Satre completed 38 per cent of his pass attempts this fall as he hit 43 of 112 tries for 519 yards. He passed for seven touchdowns and one two-point conversion. He suffered 11 interceptions. Sophomore Bob Norby, Satre's back-up, passed 14 times without a completion.

Stanley and Arlo Hagen were the team's top pass receivers with 15 receptions apiece. Stanley totaled 267 yards with his catches for a 17.8-yard average. Hagen covered 186 yards for a 12.4 average. Olson added 11 catches for 50 yards and Warne caught two passes for 16 yards.

Arlo Hagen was the team's defensive leader. He was credited with 75 unassisted tackles, 49 assisted stops and one fumble recovery for 202 defensive points.

Olson ranked second in the defensive charts with 58 unassisted tackles, 49 assisted stops, one fumble recovery and one interception for 177 points.

Other defensive players with over 100 points included Thomas with 48 unassisted tackles, 44 assisted stops, one fumble recovery and two blocked punts for 115 points; Satre with 34 unassisted tackles, 31 assisted stops, one interception and one fumble recovery for 114 points; and senior Dwight Ruud with 31 unassisted tackles and 47 assisted stops for 109 points.

The rest of the defensive point scorers included Rocky Hagen with 86 points, Kurt Hermanson 83, Warne 80, Donovan Verbout 70, Stanley and Gordy Moe 50 each, Steve Anderson 41, Tony Moe 37, Bruce Mugaas 22, Lee Saurdiff 18, Jelle and Bob Norby 13 each, Allan Lunsetter 12, Tom Morrissey 10, Steve Rundell seven, Maurice Lunsetter six, Terry Buud two and Mark Polansky one.

FIRST DEER for 19-year-old Paul Hartley of Thief River Falls was this 14-point buck taken about 3 p.m. Saturday just west of the Agassiz national wildlife refuge. The party of 10 hunters collected 10 deer by early Sunday morning. In the party were Vern Hartley and Paul, Curtis Charlson and Bob Purdy of Thief River Falls, Garner Erickson of Holt, Oliver Erickson of Red Lake, Donald Erickson and his son Duane of Anoka and Donald's friend and his son also from the Twin Cities area.

Top Of State All-Conference Team Selected

Karlstad, Roseau and Hallock each placed three players on the 1975 Top of the State all-conference football team announced Monday.

Karlstad, Division I and overall conference champion this fall, was represented on the squad by senior tackles Dan Clark and Luther Germundson and senior fullback Rick Olson.

Hallock all-conference picks were senior end Kirby Plaine, senior quarterback Bill Gustafson and junior fullback Dennis Nordling.

Roseau, the league's regular season Division II titlist, was also led by three all-conference picks, including senior center Doug Ammerman, senior fullback Don Hedlund and senior halfback Keith Haugen.

East Grand Forks Sacred Heart, Stephen, Greenbush, Newfolden, Crookston Cathedral, Kennedy and Warroad all placed two players on the all-conference team while Argyle and Baudette were represented by one pick each.

The rest of the all-conference team members included:

Sacred Heart—senior defensive end John Kerr, junior halfback Greg Kaiser.

Stephen—senior halfback Brad Knoll and junior guard David Clark.

Kennedy—senior fullback Kevin Eukel, junior halfback Brent Bowman.

Warroad—senior defensive back Dave O'Donnell, senior end Bob Marvin.

Argyle—senior flanker Jay Sorenson.

Baudette—senior fullback Dick Kroeze.

Announce 1975 Pine To Prairie All-Conference

Conference champion Mahnomen placed five players on the Pine to Prairie all-conference football team announced Tuesday by league publicist Wendell Vlasin.

Warren placed four ball players on the all-conference squad, including offensive back Dave Kvamme, offensive lineman Tim Filipi and defensive linemen Ralph Melgaard and Scott Edgar.

Three Ada players honored included offensive linemen Dan Heirbas and Bill Baker and defensive back Dave Kessler.

Fertile also had three representatives on the team, including offensive lineman Tom Opheim, defensive lineman Todd Christian and defensive back Les Sannes.

Red Lake Falls, Fosston and Bagley all had two players named to the 22-player squad while Waubun was represented by one pick.

Muckenhirn, Brusven, Spaeth and Sannes were repeat selections from the 1974 all-conference team. Cardinal, Baker, Klemm, Kessler and Kaste were the only juniors on the nearly all-senior squad.

Brusven won his third straight Pine to Prairie individual scoring title this fall by scoring 64 points to lead the Indians to the conference title.

October Moose Season Results Reported By DNR

Minnesota hunters took 509 moose during the October season the department of natural resources reported. The split season reopens in December.

Officials said the figures do not include an unknown number of moose taken by Indians or their customers on Indian lands.

Minnesota's moose hunting area is divided by the DNR into a northwest and northeast range with each range broken up into several hunting zones. Hunters for each zone are chosen by drawing and are required to hunt within their assigned zone.

A quota of 275 moose was set by the department for the northeast range and October hunters took 196. In the northwest range hunters took 313 moose out of a quota of 445.

Hunting success was about 70 per cent in both ranges and hunters who did not get their moose in October still have an opportunity to score in December.

Order for Hearing on Petition for General Administration

State of Minnesota,
County of Pennington—ss.

IN COUNTY COURT
PROBATE DIVISION

IT IS ORDERED that the petition for general administration filed herein and any objections filed thereto be heard on November 21, 1975, at 10:00 o'clock A.M. by this court in the courthouse in Thief River Falls, Minnesota. That, if proper, at said time and place a representative will be appointed to administer the estate, who shall collect all assets and file an inventory thereof, pay all legal debts, claims, and taxes, and expenses of administration, and sell such real and personal property as may be necessary and for the best interests of the estate. Upon completion of administration, the representative shall file a final account for allowance and shall distribute the estate to the persons thereunto entitled as ordered by the court and do all other acts to close the estate.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, that creditors of decedent file their claims in this court within sixty (60) days from the date hereof and, that said claims be heard on December 23, 1975, at 2:30 o'clock P.M. by this court in the courthouse in Thief River Falls, Minnesota.

Dated October 28, 1975.

Announce 1975 Pine To Prairie All-Conference

Conference champion Mahnomen placed five players on the Pine to Prairie all-conference football team announced Tuesday by league publicist Wendell Vlasin.

Warren placed four ball players on the all-conference squad, including offensive back Dave Kvamme, offensive lineman Tim Filipi and defensive linemen Ralph Melgaard and Scott Edgar.

Three Ada players honored included offensive linemen Dan Heirlass and Bill Baker and defensive back Dave Kessler.

Fertile also had three representatives on the team, including offensive lineman Tom Opheim, defensive lineman Todd Christian and defensive back Les Sannes.

Red Lake Falls, Fosston and Bagley all had two players named to the 22-player squad while Waubun was represented by one pick.

Muckenhirn, Brusven, Spaeth and Sannes were repeat selections from the 1974 all-conference team. Cardinal, Baker, Klemm, Kessler and Kaste were the only juniors on the nearly all-senior squad.

Brusven won his third straight Pine to Prairie individual scoring title this fall by scoring 64 points to lead the Indians to the conference title.

October Moose Season Results Reported By DNR

Minnesota hunters took 509 moose during the October season the department of natural resources reported. The split season reopens in December.

Officials said the figures do not include an unknown number of moose taken by Indians or their customers on Indian lands.

Minnesota's moose hunting area is divided by the DNR into a northwest and northeast range with each range broken up into several hunting zones. Hunters for each zone are chosen by drawing and are required to hunt within their assigned zone.

A quota of 275 moose was set by the department for the northeast range and October hunters took 196. In the northwest range hunters took 313 moose out of a quota of 445.

Hunting success was about 70 per cent in both ranges and hunters who did not get their moose in October still have an opportunity to score in December.

Order for Hearing on Petition for General Administration
State of Minnesota,
County of Pennington—ss.
IN COUNTY COURT
PROBATE DIVISION
IN THE MATTER OF THE ESTATE OF Alta M. Johnson, Decedent.

IT IS ORDERED that the petition for general administration filed herein and any objections filed thereto be heard on November 21, 1975, at 10:00 o'clock A.M. by this court in the courthouse in Thief River Falls, Minnesota. That, if proper, at said time and place a representative will be appointed to administer the estate, who shall collect all assets and file an inventory thereof, pay all legal debts, claims, and taxes, and expenses of administration, and sell such real and personal property as may be necessary and for the best interests of the estate. Upon completion of administration, the representative shall file a final account for allowance and shall distribute the estate to the persons thereunto entitled as ordered by the court and do all other acts to close the estate.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, that creditors of decedent file their claims in this court within sixty (60) days from the date hereof and that said claims be heard on December 23, 1975, at 2:30 o'clock P.M. by this court in the courthouse in Thief River Falls, Minnesota.

COUNTRY YARNS

Some things just naturally go together like homemade jam and hot rolls fresh from the oven. Or this slacks and top combination from the Haggar Country Yarns Collection.

The top is a rich oxford weave of 100% Dacron® polyester that's machine washable and dryable. Deep side vents and flap patch pockets accent shirt jacket styling for only $25.

The slacks are in coordinating plaids on heather-toned grounds for fall. Haggar's Comfort-Plus® styling with fashion pockets, and a gentlemen's flare complete a tasteful look for only $20.

Of course they're machine washable and dryable in 100% polyester doubleknit. So who says the cost of looking good is going up?

Only $45 for a complete Haggar outfit.

Recent visitors at the Harlan Mostrom home were Mrs. Mostroms brother and sister-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Marlin G. Van Der Veen of Penn State College. Dr. Van Der Venn has accepted a job as senior research officer for the Bureau of Agricultural Economics in Canberra City, Australia. A recent Ph. D. graduate of the university in agricultural economics, Dr. Van Der Veen was employed at the university as a graduate research assistant and as a special instructor in agricultural economics. From January 1973 to March 1974, he served as a visiting research associate to the International Institute of rural reconstruction, in Silanz, Cairte, in the Philippines, where he met his wife, Concepcion Lomibao. Mrs. Van Der Venn worked as a director-technical assistant for a pre-school research project of the Education department with the institute. A graduate of the University of the Philippines, she is working on a masters degree thesis on childhood education programs for rural areas in the Philippines.

Dr. and Mrs. Van Der Veen plan to leave for Australia early in November and will be working there for about 4 years.

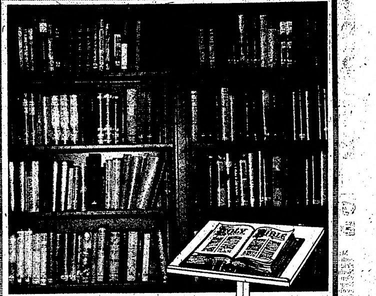
At a recent meeting of the St. Paull church women, officers were elected for the coming year. They are: Jana Loken, president; Deone Cerny, vice president; Marlene Johnson, secretary; Judy Mostrom, treasurer; Faye Johnson, education secretary; and Shirley Johnson, stewardship secretary.

Mrs. Anton Torkelson and her grand daughter Charissa Bjorge spent MEA weekend visiting with the Ted Haugen family at Pillager.

Mr. and Mrs. Gust Gustafson returned Saturday evening from a two weeks vacation in Wis. There they were house guests of the Erling Lundeen family at Elkhorn. They also visited the Kenneth Ferry family at East Troy where they got acquainted with their first great grandchild, Deanna Ferry. Enroute home the Gustafsons enjoyed a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Martin Rehm at Menahga.

Mr. and Mrs. Gust Gustafson entertained at supper Monday evening in honor of their grandson Steven Wiskow who observed his 10th birthday Oct. 22. Other guests were Steven's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wiskow and his sister Suellen.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Bjorge entertained a group of relatives on Sunday evening in honor of their daughter Charissa on her birthday.



BOOKS ARE NOBLE

The library is a marvelous and unique place. It can dispel your loneliness, lift your spirits, banish your worries, and transport you into another time and place.

And books literally have the power to change your life. They can stimulate your intellect, arouse your curiosity. They can lead you into more profitable and exciting work.

Without the immortal power of books, we would not know of past man and past civilizations. We would not know the creations of mankind throughout his long history of inspiration and strength.

One immortal Book offers you beauty, hope and inspiration — more than any other.

Go and find this Book. Find the strength in it, when you enter into the House of the Lord.

DANGEROUS GUESSING

One great cause of serious home accidents is trying to guess the contents of an unlabled container. Potent drugs are easily mistaken for simple home remedies.

Do as we pharmacists do. We leave nothing to chance. The contents of any unlabled bottle are immediately destroyed. The least doubt about potency and the medicine is discarded. We will not gamble with anyone's health.

Strange Reasoning

After reading a column comment by Art Suel in the New Prague Times, we can't help but wonder a bit about the logic of his reasoning. Suel was writing about an apparent lack of pheasants in his area of the state where the birds had once been plentiful.

"Lack of feed and cover due mainly to fall plowing are said to be responsible for the dwindling pheasant population," he writes. "Inadequate and insufficient protection from the snows and storms of winter make survival difficult. One wonders why the Minnesota conservation department doesn't declare a closed season on pheasants for a few years."

We think Suel answered his own question. Hunting isn't the problem in a reduced pheasant population and closing the season won't do anything to improve it. For those hunters who prefer to make the effort to look for pheasant roosters in spite of the reduced population, a closed season would deprive them of healthy and worthwhile activity.

On the opening weekend of the pheasant season we hunted in the Fairmont area near the Iowa border. We did a lot of walking, we used two dogs and we saw some pheasants. We didn't fire a shot in two days and still believe the trip was worth making.

Why? Because contrary to what anti-hunting zealots will tell you, hunting is more than killing. We came home with the self-satisfaction that we had given the hunt our best effort and the knowledge that we had been bested by a noble quarry. We saw birds—quite a few, actually—but they were runners rather than flyers and we chose not to jeopardize the safety of our dogs by shooting at runners.

We also reaffirmed our belief that the pheasant faces a tough survival test unless it can be taught to nest in trees on the boulevards of southern Minnesota towns. There just isn't any cover for springtime nesting or winter refuge.

Department of natural resources checks have consistently shown a high rate of fertility in pheasant eggs, indicating that annual harvest of roosters is not a factor in reducing pheasant numbers. And since hunting doesn't contribute to the decline while loss of habitat certainly does, wouldn't you say advocating closing the season to increase pheasant numbers is a little strange reasoning?

Talking In Circles

Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, long noted for his willingness to talk endlessly on any and all sides of an issue, now can't seem to make up his mind whether he favors selling American wheat to the USSR and whether the domestic price of grain should be held down, judging from his published statements.

In a period of about a month, Humphrey said he favored the sales and agreed with Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz; said he would watch Butz "like a suspected burglar" to keep him from supposedly selling the whole crop to the Soviets; then said he was willing to "sell anything to Russia."

Humphrey favored the sales in his home state of Minnesota, where agriculture is important; attacked Butz in Washington, where "Hump" is being spoken of as a possible candidate for President(yawn); and said he would sell anything to the Russians in Paris, where, perhaps, he thought no one was listening.

According to an Associated Press dispatch, Humphrey told the National Association of Development Organizations meeting in Duluth, Minn., that "for once I agree" with Butz, who had said the U.S. could easily afford to sell the Soviets millions of tons of wheat.

The Senator noted that the U.S. can export 900 million bushels of wheat, eat 800 million and still have 300 million left over. He admitted that the wheat sales would raise prices slightly, but went on to say: "They should be raised. It costs a farmer about $3 a bushel to raise wheat, so when prices drop to that level or below he is subsidizing the rest of us. The farmer deserves a fair return on his labor and investment."

The Associated Press story reporting his remarks in Duluth was printed in the morning papers. On the very same day, the Wall Street Journal quoted Humphrey as bitterly attacking Secretary Butz.

"The first duty of the government is to protect its own people by making sure they have enough food at reasonable prices," Humphrey said. "Instead we have an Agriculture Secretary whose philosophy is sell, sell, sell as long as there's gold on the Russians' plate."

"I'm going to watch the Secretary like a suspected burglar in these next few months to make sure he doesn't let our crop to the the Russians, jeopardizing our people and our humanitarian commitments," he told the Journal.

In yet another comment, this one made in Paris while he was on the way to Stockholm, Humphrey said he opposed the high-handed boycott slapped on grain shipments by Laobr baron George Meany.

The reason Humphrey crosses himself up so much is obvious, of course. They grow wheat in Minnesota. They don't grow it on Wall Street or in Washington.

It is one reason why people are fed up with politics in general...and why no one, in Washington, Minnesota or Paris believes much of what our government says.

Where Power Reigns

Following editorial is from the Hutchinson Leader:

Some two or three weeks ago several unemployed ex-convicts crossed picket lines to work in a chow mein noodle factory in Minneapolis. But now according to news reports they could find themselves in violation of their paroles if they don't quit work. That's because their halfway house sponsor risks losing its state funding, thanks to threats of union violence.

According to the Minneapolis Star, the situation reached showdown proportions Thursday morning when David Roe, president of the Minnesota AFL-CIO, met with Thomas Kelm, the governor's executive secretary, to express his concern "that people funded from corrections money and the governor's crime commission were being used as strikebreakers," as Kelm put it.

Roe also assured him that organized labor "wanted to do everything possible to see that no violence erupts," Kelm said. Which is another way of saying that if you don't do things our way, there will be violence.

At any rate, the director of the 189 Degrees halfway house got a call from a deputy state commissioner of corrections, warning him of "a potential for violence" at the strike site. Accordingly, the director told the half dozen ex-offenders who had been making noodles at the plant that "anybody who goes to work at that place is going to be evicted from the house."

Eviction from the rehabilitation program could mean revocation of the men's paroles, as could involvement in physical violence. So Thursday and Friday the men didn't go to work. About a third of the halfway house's annual budget comes from the state's Department of Corrections, and some comes from Law Enforcement Assistance Administration money, funneled through the Governor's Crime Commission.

Never mind that government is theoretically supposed to be a sort of impartial referee when labor and management are at each other in a strike situation. And never mind that part of the rehabilitation of ex-cons is finding jobs for them.

If you're powerful enough in the statehouse, you get the state government in on your side.

Vanishing Species

Following editorial is from the South Pasadena Review:.

The Watergate committee convicted Phillips Petroleum for making illegal contributions to Mr. Nixon's 1972 campaign. The corporation also admitted making illegal contributions to Lundon B. Johnson, the House campaigns of Gerald Ford and 39 other members of Congress including Speaker of the House Albert, House majority leader O'Neill, Waldie and Wilson of California, and Senator Baker. Naturally none of these contributions were mentioned in the Watergate conviction, possibly because some of the members of that committee were among the recipients.

At the same time that corporations are being questioned and fined, labor unions are openly admitting that they spent thousands and donated many hours of work to past political campaigns and plan to spend more in the future. They estimate that nearly 75 per cent of the candidates who won in 1974 carried their endorsement and received their help.

Only 20 per cent of the labor hired by private industry belongs to unions; add to that the union members in public jobs and less than 20 per cent of the citizens pretty well control the vote of the liberal legislators which are now in the majority.

Since corporations are prohibited from giving contributions or donating campaign workers while Unions apparently have a free hand, chances look pretty good for them to realize their announced goal through election of the "right men":

(1) Significant increases in government spending to reduce unemployment. (2) Higher wages and tighter controls over business profits. (3) Major tax reforms. (4) National health insurance programs and (5) (and most important) Elect a liberal president along with more pro-labor liberal congressmen, governors and mayors.

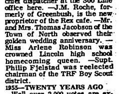
1955—TWENTY YEARS AGO

Well over 2,000 votes are expected to be cast in Tuesday's city election, with contests for four offices. —A snowfall on Halloween night canceled the traditional parade, but other festivities went off without a hitch. —The Prowlers beat Crookston 27-0, so Ralph Luhman won his hat from Crookston C of C president Dr. W.F. Mercil. —The Jaycees will conduct a drive next week to secure 1,000 new members for the Northern Blood Bank association, which now has only 760 members. —Mr. and Mrs. Knute Haugen observed their golden wedding anniversary.

1965—TEN YEARS AGO

Turning out in much larger numbers than expected, Thief River Falls voters gave a proposed $200,000 bond issue for swimming pool construction a resounding defeat by a margin of nearly two to one. —Redeemer Lutheran church voted in favor of a $201,550 project to construct a new building adjoining the church building for Sunday school and kitchen and fellowship hall. —Mr. and Mrs. George Carlson of Grygla observed their 50th wedding anniversary. —Mr. and Mrs. Eugene LaCoes of Thief River Falls celebrated their golden wedding anniversary.

Humphrey Reports



The Federal Reserve System, which establishes government policies affecting credit availability and interest rate levels in our country, needs reform and modernization.

The basic problem, to put it in simple terms, is that this institution, our central bank, all too often does not coordinate its decisions and actions with the economic policy of the rest of the Federal Government.

The FED, as it is called, operates as an independent body with all the mystery and majesty that the high priests of ancient Egypt exercised.

For example, it is the general consensus among economists that the 1972 actions of the FED to loosen the money supply fueled the inflation that remains with us today, and their 1972 policy of high interest rates worsened the recession from which we have suffered this past year.

To help resolve this problem, I introduced legislation on October 21 which would bring the Federal Reserve System into the fold of government and make it more responsive to the needs of our society, rather than to the commercial banks or to the particular economic and political philosophies of its members.

My bill would shorten the terms of Federal Reserve Board members from 14 to seven years, and the President would choose the chairman, with confirmation by the Senate.

This would permit the President to coordinate economic policy more effectively with the Board and thereby make it more responsive to the nation's economic goals.

To assure that the Board reflects various segments of the community, my bill also provides that one of its seven members have expertise and experience in labor, another in agriculture, a third in the area of consumer affairs and a fourth in small business. These are the sectors of our society that monetary policy often overlooks.

In addition, my bill would change the membership of the Federal Open Market Committee which controls the volume and cost of credit.

The new Federal Open Market Committee would be composed of the Federal Reserve Board of Governors, the Secretary of the Treasury and the chairman of the Council of Economic Advisors.

This fundamental open market power would then be vested where it belongs in a body appointed by the President and confirmed by the Congress.

In this way, the Federal Reserve System and the Administration could work together — and not at cross purposes as has recently been the case — to formulate economic policies which achieve full employment, stable prices and steady economic growth.

notes from the governor

Wendell R. Anderson

Last summer the flooding of the Red River Valley area in northwestern Minnesota produced severe economic damage to crops, roads, bridges, public facilities, and private property.

State, local, and federal agencies teamed up under a Presidential disaster declaration to help solve the immediate problems. But by late July, after a ten-fold increase in the mosquito population, it became apparent that an outbreak of equine encephalitis was a real possibility.

Increase in the number of mosquitoes that can transmit the dangerous encephalitis virus to human beings was particularly heavy. A three-fold increase in probable cases of encephalitis among horses in the area had been reported. The disease, known as "sleeping sickness," is particularly dangerous to humans, often causing brain damage and death.

State, federal, and local agencies hurriedly put together a joint effort to prevent an outbreak of this dread disease. Experts from the U.S. Public Health Service Center for Disease Control in Atlanta, Georgia came in to assist health officials from Minnesota and North Dakota. Local officials and doctors helped the State Department of Health monitor reported incidences of human and horse cases, and also helped collect mosquitoes for lab analysis. Monitoring helped identify "high risk" areas where insecticide spraying could be concentrated.

Within a matter of days ground and air spraying of insecticide began in the affected area. The Mosquito Control District from the Twin Cities, the Minnesota National Guard and the Center for Disease Control all contributed to the effort. In addition, an information program used the mass media and the Agricultural Extension Service to advise the public on the nature of the threat as well as on how to minimize their exposure to mosquitoes.

According to a recent report of the State Health Department there have been only eight clinically suspect cases and just one laboratory confirmed case among Minnesota residents in the area.

These activities appear to have been very successful in averting an outbreak among humans. The spraying together with cooler nighttime temperatures in mid-August significantly reduced the mosquito population.

While even one case is tragic, we can be thankful that the situation was not more serious. I agree with Dr. Warren Lawson, Commissioner of the Department of Health, that the events "prove that the public sector can, and will, respond to emergency situations both quickly and effectively, and that state, local and federal agencies can cooperate in time of emergency.

Strange Reasoning

After reading a column comment by Art Suel in the New Prague Times, we can't help but wonder a bit about the logic of his reasoning. Suel was writing about an apparent lack of pheasants in his area of the state where the birds had once been plentiful.

"Lack of feed and cover due mainly to fall plowing are said to be responsible for the dwindling pheasant population," he writes. "Inadequate and insufficient protection from the snows and storms of winter make survival difficult. One wonders why the Minnesota conservation department doesn't declare a closed season on pheasants for a few years."

We think Suel answered his own question. Hunting isn't the problem in a reduced pheasant population and closing the season won't do anything to improve it. For those hunters who prefer to make the effort to look for pheasant roosters in spite of the reduced population, a closed season would deprive them of healthy and worthwhile activity.

On the opening weekend of the pheasant season we hunted in the Fairmont area near the Iowa border. We did a lot of walking, we used two dogs and we saw some pheasants. We didn't fire a shot in two days and still believe the trip was worth making.

Why? Because contrary to what anti-hunting zealots will tell you, hunting is more than killing. We came home with the self-satisfaction that we had given the hunt our best effort and the knowledge that we had been bested by a noble quarry. We saw birds—quite a few, actually—but they were runners rather than flyers and we chose not to jeopardize the safety of our dogs by shooting at runners.

We also reaffirmed our belief that the pheasant faces a tough survival test unless it can be taught to nest in trees on the boulevards of southern Minnesota towns. There just isn't any cover for springtime nesting or winter refuge.

Department of natural resources checks have consistently shown a high rate of fertility in pheasant eggs, indicating that annual harvest of roosters is not a factor in reducing pheasant numbers. And since hunting doesn't contribute to the decline while loss of habitat certainly does, wouldn't you say advocating closing the season to increase pheasant numbers is a little strange reasoning?

Talking In Circles

Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, long noted for his willingness to talk endlessly on any and all sides of an issue, now can't seem to make up his mind whether he favors selling American wheat to the USSR and whether the domestic price of grain should be held down, judging from his published statements.

In a period of about a month, Humphrey said he favored the sales and agreed with Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz; said he would watch Butz "like a suspected burglar" to keep him from supposedly selling the whole crop to the Soviets; then said he was willing to "sell anything to Russia."

Humphrey favored the sales in his home state of Minnesota, where agriculture is important; attacked Butz in Washington, where "Hump" is being spoken of as a possible candidate for President(yawn); and said he would sell anything to the Russians in Paris, where, perhaps, he thought no one was listening.

According to an Associated Press dispatch, Humphrey told the National Association of Development Organizations meeting in Duluth, Minn., that "for once I agree" with Butz, who had said the U.S. could easily afford to sell the Soviets millions of tons of wheat.

The Senator noted that the U.S. can export 900 million bushels of wheat, eat 800 million and still have 300 million left over. He admitted that the wheat sales would raise prices slightly, but went on to say: "They should be raised. It costs a farmer about $3 a bushel to raise wheat, so when prices drop to that level or below he is subsidizing the rest of us. The farmer deserves a fair return on his labor and investment."

The Associated Press story reporting his remarks in Duluth was printed in the morning papers. On the very same day, the Wall Street Journal quoted Humphrey as bitterly attacking Secretary Butz.

"The first duty of the government is to protect its own people by making sure they have enough food at reasonable prices," Humphrey said. "Instead we have an Agriculture Secretary whose philosophy is sell, sell, sell as long as there's gold on the Russians' plate."

"I'm going to watch the Secretary like a suspected burglar in these next few months to make sure he doesn't let our crop to the the Russians, jeopardizing our people and our humanitarian commitments," he told the Journal.

In yet another comment, this one made in Paris while he was on the way to Stockholm, Humphrey said he opposed the high-handed boycott slapped on grain shipments by Laobr baron George Meany.

The reason Humphrey crosses himself up so much is obvious, of course. They grow wheat in Minnesota. They don't grow it on Wall Street or in Washington.

It is one reason why people are fed up with politics in general. . .and why no one, in Washington, Minnesota or Paris believes much of what our government says.

Where Power Reigns

Following editorial is from the Hutchinson Leader:

Some two or three weeks ago several unemployed ex-convicts crossed picket lines to work in a chow mein noodle factory in Minneapolis. But now according to news reports they could find themselves in violation of their paroles if they don't quit work. That's because their halfway house sponsor risks losing its state funding, thanks to threats of union violence.

According to the Minneapolis Star, the situation reached showdown proportions Thursday morning when David Roe, president of the Minnesota AFL-CIO, met with Thomas Kelm, the governor's executive secretary, to express his concern "that people funded from corrections money and the governor's crime commission were being used as strikebreakers," as Kelm put it.

Roe also assured him that organized labor "wanted to do everything possible to see that no violence erupts," Kelm said. Which is another way of saying that if you don't do things our way, there will be violence.

At any rate, the director of the 189 Degrees halfway house got a call from a deputy state commissioner of corrections, warning him of "a potential for violence" at the strike site. Accordingly, the director told the half dozen ex-offenders who had been making noodles at the plant that "anybody who goes to work at that place is going to be evicted from the house."

Eviction from the rehabilitation program could mean revocation of the men's paroles, as could involvement in physical violence. So Thursday and Friday the men didn't go to work. About a third of the halfway house's annual budget comes from the state's Department of Corrections, and some comes from Law Enforcement Assistance Administration money, funneled through the Governor's Crime Commission.

Never mind that government is theoretically supposed to be a sort of impartial referee when labor and management are at each other in a strike situation. And never mind that part of the rehabilitation of ex-cons is finding jobs for them.

If you're powerful enough in the statehouse, you get the state government in on your side.

Vanishing Species

Following editorial is from the South Pasadena Review:.

The Watergate committee convicted Phillips Petroleum for making illegal contributions to Mr. Nixon's 1972 campaign. The corporation also admitted making illegal contributions to Lundon B. Johnson, the House campaigns of Gerald Ford and 39 other members of Congress including Speaker of the House Albert, House majority leader O'Neill, Waldie and Wilson of California, and Senator Baker. Naturally none of these contributions were mentioned in the Watergate conviction, possibly because some of the members of that committee were among the recipients.

At the same time that corporations are being questioned and fined, labor unions are openly admitting that they spent thousands and donated many hours of work to past political campaigns and plan to spend more in the future. They estimate that nearly 75 per cent of the candidates who won in 1974 carried their endorsement and received their help.

Only 20 per cent of the labor hired by private industry belongs to unions; add to that the union members in public jobs and less than 20 per cent of the citizens pretty well control the vote of the liberal legislators which are now in the majority.

Since corporations are prohibited from giving contributions or donating campaign workers while Unions apparently have a free hand, chances look pretty good for them to realize their announced goal through election of the "right men":

(1) Significant increases in government spending to reduce unemployment. (2) Higher wages and tighter controls over business profits. (3) Major tax reforms. (4) National health insurance programs and (5) (and most important) Elect a liberal president along with more pro-labor liberal congressmen, governors and mayors.

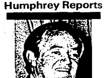
Humphrey Reports



The Federal Reserve System, which establishes government policies affecting credit availability and interest rate levels in our country, needs reform and modernization.

The basic problem, to put it in simple terms, is that this institution, our central bank, all too often does not coordinate its decisions and actions with the economic policy of the rest of the Federal Government.

The FED, as it is called, operates as an independent body with all the mystery and majesty that the high priests of ancient Egypt exercised.

For example, it is the general consensus among economists that the 1972 actions of the FED to loosen the money supply fueled the inflation that remains with us today, and their 1972 policy of high interest rates worsened the recession from which we have suffered this past year.

To help resolve this problem, I introduced legislation on October 21 which would bring the Federal Reserve System into the fold of government and make it more responsive to the needs of our society, rather than to the commercial banks or to the particular economic and political philosophies of its members.

My bill would shorten the terms of Federal Reserve Board members from 14 to seven years, and the President would choose the chairman, with confirmation by the Senate.

This would permit the President to coordinate economic policy more effectively with the Board and thereby make it more responsive to the nation's economic goals.

To assure that the Board reflects various segments of the community, my bill also provides that one of its seven members have expertise and experience in labor, another in agriculture, a third in the area of consumer affairs and a fourth in small business. These are the sectors of our society that monetary policy often overlooks.

In addition, my bill would change the membership of the Federal Open Market Committee which controls the volume and cost of credit.

The new Federal Open Market Committee would be composed of the Federal Reserve Board of Governors, the Secretary of the Treasury and the chairman of the Council of Economic Advisors.

This fundamental open market power would then be vested where it belongs in a body appointed by the President and confirmed by the Congress.

In this way, the Federal Reserve System and the Administration could work together – and not at cross purposes as has recently been the case – to formulate economic policies which achieve full employment, stable prices and steady economic growth.

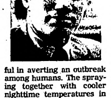
notes from the governor

Wendell R. Anderson



Last summer the flooding of the Red River Valley area in northwestern Minnesota produced severe economic damage to crops, roads, bridges, public facilities, and private property.

State, local, and federal agencies teamed up under a Presidential disaster declaration to help solve the immediate problems. But by late July, after a ten-fold increase in the mosquito population, it became apparent that an outbreak of equine encephalitis was a real possibility.

Increase in the number of mosquitoes that can transmit the dangerous encephalitis virus to human beings was particularly heavy. A three-fold increase in probable cases of encephalitis among horses in the area had been reported. The disease, known as "sleeping sickness," is particularly dangerous to humans, often causing brain damage and death.

State, federal, and local agencies hurriedly put together a joint effort to prevent an outbreak of this dread disease. Experts from the U.S. Public Health Service Center for Disease Control in Atlanta, Georgia came in to assist health officials from Minnesota and North Dakota. Local officials and doctors helped the State Department of Health monitor reported incidences of human and horse cases, and also helped collect mosquitoes for lab analysis. Monitoring helped identify "high risk" areas where insecticide spraying could be concentrated.

Within a matter of days ground and air spraying of insecticide began in the affected area. The Mosquito Control District from the Twin Cities, the Minnesota National Guard and the Center for Disease Control all contributed to the effort. In addition, an information program used the mass media and the Agricultural Extension Service to advise the public on the nature of the threat as well as on how to minimize their exposure to mosquitoes.

According to a recent report of the State Health Department there have been only eight clinically suspect cases and just one laboratory confirmed case among Minnesota residents in the area.

These activities appear to have been very successful in averting an outbreak among humans. The spraying together with cooler nighttime temperatures in mid-August significantly reduced the mosquito population.

While even one case is tragic, we can be thankful that the situation was not more serious. I agree with Dr. Warren Lawson, Commissioner of the Department of Health, that the events "prove that the public sector can, and will, respond to emergency situations both quickly and effectively, and that state, local and federal agencies can cooperate in time of emergency.

Toffee Crunch Cookies

A tasty new Holiday snack treat, just right for after school or fall and winter weekend parties, adds a surprise flavor . . . English toffee . . . to a delightfully crunchy, chewy cookie that is only moderately sweet.

The flavor comes from chopped chocolate-covered English toffee candy bars . . . easy to work with and ideal for baking. They chop up easily, and their distinctive taste blends perfectly with pecans.

Toffee crunch cookies are simple to bake, easy to pack, and ideal for travel. What a super way to surprise a college student, or those high-schoolers just back from football or hockey outings.

TOFFEE CRUNCH COOKIES

- 1¼ cups sifted flour
- ½ teaspoon baking soda
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ½ cup butter or margarine
- ¾ cup brown sugar, packed
- 1 egg
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1 cup* chopped Heath English toffee candy bars
- ½ cup coarsely chopped pecans

*1 cup chopped candy = 6 ounces in bar form, frozen then chopped in blender.

Combine and mix flour, soda and salt. Cream butter or margarine. Add sugar, egg and vanilla; mix until smooth and creamy. Stir in dry ingredients; blend in chopped candy bars and pecans. Drop tablespoonfuls 2 inches apart onto greased baking sheet. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 12 to 15 minutes. Remove from baking sheet; cool. Yield: about 3 dozen cookies.

Will the Bicentennial be Meaningful to You?

Although the past two centuries seem to have been pretty prosperous for America, this is not necessarily true for all Americans, nor for other people around the world.

Today in this country many people are forced to live in slums without proper food, without heat, and without hope for the future. Around the world, many people have difficulty living at all, such as the children slowly starving to death in Bangladesh.

Fortunately, we can change that by helping one another. Join with others at your church or synagogue and work to make this country, and this world, a better place to live for everyone.

This is the message of the Advertising Council's Religion in American Life public service campaign on behalf of 43 national religious groups (Catholic, Jewish, Orthodox, Protestant) who have joined to say:

"Welcome God to America's Bicentennial. Practice what you pray."

If you would like to know more about this program and what you can do to share this message more widely through your local media, write: Religion in American Life, 475 Fifth Avenue, Room 911 - New York, N.Y., 10017

OLD AND MODERN methods of cattle herding were put into action last Wednesday when approximately 200 head of cattle were moved from one pasture to another east of Goodridge. Saddle horses and motorcycles were both used during the nine-mile drive, with bystanders generally conceding that the horse had the edge over the motorized machine. This cow made the mistake of trying to double back and found herself the immediate attention of horse and cycle riders. The cattle were being moved by neighbors for Eugene Fiedler who was hospitalized with a heart attack.

After Heart Attack....

Neighbors Aid Gene Fiedler Fall Work

Neighbors of Eugene Fiedler responded to a need last week and turned out in large numbers to help with several large farming projects when Fiedler was hospitalized October 30 with a heart attack.

The volunteers spent two days clearing and hauling manure from a 40x120 pole building and 300x400 corral, hauling hay and finishing plowing. Then they joined in driving nearly 200 head of Fiedler's cattle from a rented pasture about nine miles to the newly-prepared corral and pasture area.

Heading the group of volunteers which included 27 men on Monday and 25 on Tuesday of last week were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Parnow, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Marquis and Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Johnsrud.

About 20 people helped with the cattle drive on Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Mitch Marquis and Arlen Marquis were on horses, Ron Stucy and Joel Fiedler on motorcycles. Alvin Fjeld headed the drive which took about three and one-half hours. The cattle were moved from northeast of Goodridge to the Fiedler farm southeast of Goodridge.

Helpers hauling manure and doing plowing on Monday and Tuesday were Mitch, Arlen, David and Gene Marquis; Jack, Clifford and LeRoy Johnsrud; Harry and Chester Solberg; Erling, Joel and Kelly Dahlen; Alvin Hyland; Stanley Skibicki; Wilbur Gallimore; Bernie and Leonard Johnson; Edward and Ronald Stucy; Jerry Jensen; Billy Critzer; John and Darwin Eidelbes; David, Howard and Edward Sjulestad; Hank Kuznia; Vernon Iverson; Jesse Anderson; Kenny Fiedler; Clarence Dahlen; Leslie Iverson; and Albert Kotrba.

Cenex gas truck from Thief River Falls provided fuel for all units on Monday. Goodridge creamery furnished ice cream for the workers and coffee was provided by the Sjulestad store located in the area.

Mrs. Parnow, Mrs. Dick Marquis and Mrs. Clayton Johnsrud helped serve the workers all three days. Others working all three days were Mrs. Edith Solberg, Mrs. Ed Stucy, Mrs. Clifford Johnsrud, Mrs. Mary Marquis and Mrs. Mildred Gallimore.

Those who brought food were Marlys Johnsrud, Adeline Parnow, Marion Marquis, Mary Marquis, Ella Dahlen, Claire Ann Liedberg, Agnes Eidelbes, Arlene Hyland, Ina Jensen, Edith Solberg, Oleen Kriel, Ruby Anderson, Theorda Anderson and Marcella Hanson.

"Our phones rang from early morning until late at night with concerned people asking how they could help or offering to bring food," Mrs. Parnow said. "They were really great and the cooperative spirit made the work enjoyable for all."

Fiedler was released from Northwestern hospital Saturday to return home and his recovery should be aided greatly by knowing unfinished fall work has now been completed. The Fiedlers moved to this area from southern Minnesota in 1968 and own 640 acres of land, renting an additional 600 acres.

ICC Board To Meet Nov. 19th

The Board of Directors of Inter-County Community Council, Inc. (Clearwater, East Polk, Pennington and Red Lake counties), will hold their regular monthly executive meeting at St. Mary's Catholic church in Fosston on November 19, at 6:30 p.m.

EPS Clinics For Well Children To Be Held In Area

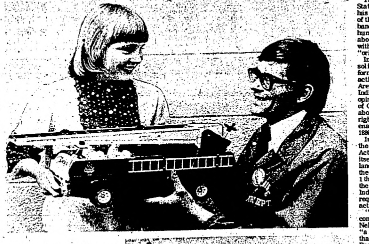
Early and periodic screening (EPS) clinics will be held in the Bethlehem Lutheran church in Newfolden on November 17; Our Savior's Lutheran church in Warren, November 20; and Grace Lutheran church in Grygla, November 24, according to Viola L. Rud, Marshall county public health nurse.

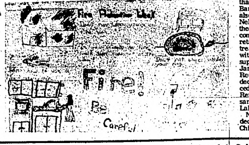
The clinic is for well children between the ages of six months and six years. It is a careful, simple check of the child's growth—physical, mental and emotional. The purpose is to identify children who need to see a doctor, psychologist or learning specialist. EPS seeks to find growth problems before they become serious and before they do lasting harm, said Mrs. Rud.

During screening, a trained staff will examine the child's vision, hearing, growth, nutritional status, learning development, emotional development and disease protection. The parent and family physician will get a full report of what was found during screening.

The fee for the full examination is $17.60. This can be adjusted according to income and family size. If the child has medical assistance, that will pay for the examination.

An appointment must be made in advance. For information or appointment, write of call the Marshall county public health nursing service, Warren, at 742-9631.





ACCEPTING HER PRIZE for winning a fire prevention week poster contest is Sheri Swanson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Swanson of Goodridge and a fifth grade student of Miss Reed at the Goodridge elementary school. Larry Golightly, assistant chief of the Goodridge fire department, made the presentation of the model fire truck. Sheri's poster is shown here, and will now be entered in state competition. There were 70 entries from grades 3, 4 and 5 at Goodridge. The fire truck prize was sponsored by Tonka Toy corporation.

Small Business Task Force Will Meet In T.R.F.

Small business men are invited to express their opinions on existing and proposed legislation affecting small business at two area meetings of the governor's advisory task force on small business.

The meetings will be held on November 12 at 2 p.m. at the city auditorium in Thief River Falls and November 13 at 9 a.m. at the Elks club, 116 4th street, Bemidji.

Individuals and groups are encouraged to present prepared testimony. Those wishing to schedule times for testimony should contact Todd Otis, coordinator, Governor's task force on small business was established by the 1975 legislature to study possible negative effects on state laws, rules and regulations on economic conduct and management of small businesses. The Task force, is authorized to study methods to improve the conditions of small businesses in Minnesota.

NCC Theatre To Present Comedy Friday, Saturday

Northland community college theatre, under the direction of Roger Vaughan, will present its fall quarter production, "The Imaginary Invalid", a comedy about a hypochondriac, at the college theatre on Friday and Saturday at 8 p.m.

Admission tickets, priced at $2 for adults and 50 cents for students, will be on sale at the door for persons attending. Northland students and faculty will be admitted by presenting their activity cards.

The play is a classic farce with the plot revolving around Argan (Hal Kelley of Thief River Falls), who wishes to marry off his daughter, Angelica (Kim McDaniels of Roseau), to Cleante, (Gary Heaton of Thief River Falls), the son of a famous doctor. By the marriage he thinks he will then have free medical care and save an enormous amount of money in his astronomical doctor and apothecary bills.

Angelica, however, is already smitten by the attention of the young lover, Cleante, and has no interest in a marriage to the young doctor. It is up to the inventive maid, Toinette (Lori Kaml of Warren), to show the young doctor and his father as the pair of charlatans they are.

FLAMES TOWERED high into the air early Thursday evening as gas escaping from a ruptured pipeline northwest of Viking was ignited by Lakehead Pipe Line company employees. A bulldozer which struck and broke the line while constructing a township road was lost in the fire. It can be seen in the center of the photo. No estimate was available from Lakehead officials this morning as to the amount of product lost as a result of the rupture and fire. The bulldozer, a Model 16-B Allis Chalmers which was only about a week old, was valued at about $100,000. Darrell Voytilla, driver of the tractor, escaped without injury but was given a medical check-up at Thief River Falls.

Bulldozer Hitting Pipeline Causes Spectacular Fire

Accidental rupture of an 18-inch pipeline being used to transport a natural gas liquid caused the loss of a $100,000 bulldozer and an undetermined amount of petroleum product about five miles northwest of Viking late last week. The line was ruptured about 2 p.m. Thursday and the escaping fuel was set on fire about 5:30 p.m., sending flames hundreds of feet into the air.

Repair crews were at work in the area on Friday and the fire was controlled by late that day. The segment of pipe ruptured was sleeved and later replaced and crews are presently at work with final clean-up efforts.

Darrell Voytilla, operating a bulldozer for his brother Earl Voytilla of Argyle, accidentally struck the pipeline Thursday afternoon while building a township road along the section line between sections 17 and 18 in Viking township. The escaping gas caused his tractor to stall but he scrambled to safety and was later given a medical check-up in Thief River Falls.

Lakehead Pipe Line company officials said that the break immediately became noticeable on gauges at the pumping station at Viking and on the computer located in Edmonton, Alberta, Canada. Darrell Voytilla also drove to the Viking station and reported the break. Valves were shut off at the Viking station and at the nearest point northwest—a distance of about 20 miles near the Tamarack river east of Stephen.

W. C. Cochrane, manager for Lakehead at Superior, Wis., told the Times that the product being transported through the line at the time of the break was a natural gas liquid at normal pressure, consisting of a mixture of condensate, propane and butane. He said a portion of the mixture vaporized immediately on escaping from the line.

Cochrane said the 18-inch line built in 1950 is used periodically for transport of the type of material being transported Thursday, although Lakehead is generally a transporter of crude oil rather than gas. Three other lines carrying crude oil were located next to the line which was ruptured.

Marshall county sheriff's department was contacted and assisted in notifying nearly a dozen farms downwind from the rupture, asking them to vacate their property temporarily. The sheriff's department also reportedly assisted in convincing Earl Voytilla that potential loss of life was more important than loss of property. Voytilla reportedly had a rifle in his possession and prevented Lakehead employees from starting the fire which destroyed the tractor. Sheriff Oscar Erickson of Marshall county said he did not see a rifle.

Lakehead officials said they were afraid that attempting to start an engine in the area of the escaping gas would touch off the fire and result in death or injury. The fire was started about 5:30 p.m. by lobbing a special flare into the area with a shotgun from about 100 yards away.

The fire raged throughout the night and had subsided somewhat by Friday morning. Officials said the gas tended to be heavier than air and settled in depressions in the immediate area of the break, but that a southwest wind helped in dispersing the fumes and preventing an expected explosion when the fire was ignited.

Earl Voytilla worked in the area of the fire Thursday night, moving a pickup truck and a smaller crawler tractor out of the fire area. He told the Times he singed his eyebrows in reaching the smaller tractor and that the levers on the machine were almost too hot to handle with gloved hands.

Cochrane, who said the escaping fuel was ignited for the purpose of public safety, praised employees of the company at Viking and the Marshall county sheriff's department for their efforts during the emergency. He also expressed appreciation to the Warren fire department which had a truck on the scene if needed.

Iver Blade, manager for Lakehead at Viking, said that stopples were placed on the line about 600 feet on either side of the break and shut off the supply of

(Editor's Note: The following article appeared in the November 5 issue of the Baudette Region:)

The field solicitor of the United States Department of the Interior has issued an opinion in support of the assertion by the Red Lake band of Chippewa concerning hunting, fishing and ricing aboriginal and treaty rights within the boundaries of the "original" Red Lake reservation.

In a Sept. 17, 1975, letter, field solicitor Elmer Nitzchke informed Bernard M. Granum, acting area director, Minneapolis Area Office of the Bureau of Indian Affairs, that, "... it is our opinion that the Red Lake Band of Chippewa Indians did possess aboriginal hunting and fishing rights on their land prior to enactment of the Nelson Act in 1889."

In his letter, Nitzchke traces the development of the Nelson Act, and states that the act "by itself did not cede any Chippewa land to the United States, since the act expressly stated in section 1 that the consent of two-thirds of the male adults of the Chippewa Indians of Minnesota would be required to give effect to this action."

"Despite what appears to be conclusive language within the Nelson Act," Nitzchke continued, "a recent court decision has held that even though the Leech Lake Band of Chippewa Indians was also a party to that act, the Nelson Act did not disestablish the Leech Lake Reservation, and consequently that group still retained their aboriginal and treaty rights to hunt and fish within that area which was supposedly ceded by the Act of January 14, 1889 ... Viewing the Red Lake situation in light of this decision, it would seem that the ceded portion of the Red Lake Reservation would fall into the same category as did the Leech Lake Reservation."

Nitzchke quoted the court decision in Leech Lake Band of Chippewa Indians vs. Herbst to back up his contention: "The Nelson Act, although authorizing the United States to pass legal title to certain reservation lands to outsiders, said nothing about the Indian treaty rights to hunt and fish. The United States Supreme Court has counseled us that the abrogation of treaty rights is not to be lightly in-

Tax Increment Finance NWRDC Workshop Topic

A workshop on tax increment financing will be held Wednesday at 7 p.m. in the Hallock city hall. The free workshop, sponsored by the Northwest Regional Development Commission and the state planning agency, is designed for communities interested in redeveloping areas withing their jurisdiction.

The state housing and redevelopment act established tax increment financing so that a local housing and redevelopment authority can conduct redevelopment activities on a locally financed basis without federal assistance. Communities can redevelop an area according to their own plans and pace, and avoid some of the red tape and time constraints commonly associated with federal assistance.

The tax increment method is implemented by a local housing authority created by the city council, which prepares a redevelopment plan for council adoption. Once the plan is adopted, permanent financing is

Art of creating cornhusk flowers and dolls, and fabric flowers was demonstrated by Mrs. Norma Hanson at a recent meeting of the Deer Park garden club held at the Elvon Hamilton home. Each member participated by making a chenille fabric flower and corn husk flower and some attempted a corn husk doll.

Vice president, Luella Peterson, called the meeting to order and the club creed was read. Roll call was answered by naming a Thanksgiving food. Evelyn Lundeen read the treasurer's report.

A limit of $2 for a homemade or purchased gift for the ladies' Christmas gift exchange was approved, and a committee was chosen to make arrangements for the December 13 Christmas supper party to be held at the home of Lavonne Radniecki. Committee members include: Helen Chervestad, Lavonne Radniecki, Luella Peterson and Evelyn Lundeen.

Following the meeting, Mrs. Gladyce Mae Hamilton assisted by her daughter, Evonne, served a dessert lunch.

Slow Cookery Is Studied By P.M. Homemakers Club

Members of the P.M. Country club met on Thursday evening at the George Panek home. The lesson on slow cookery was presented by Mrs. Dayle Kainz and Mrs. Obert Grovum, who also served baked beans made by the slow cookery method.

Following Ethel Wiseth's demonstration on making wall swags and wreaths from twine, artificial flowers and various other materials, Mrs. Gerald Wayne gave the home council report.

A market basket was discussed, and the decision was made for each attending member to bring canned goods valued from 25 to 59 cents to be awarded to a member at the close of the meeting. Awarding of the market basket will begin at the November meeting at the Roy Nelson home. Mrs. Dennis Kainz and Mrs. Harvey Troska will present the lesson, "Entertaining with Foods."

Joan Hagen-Richard Hruby Vows Spoken At Trinity

Miss Joan Annette Hagen became the bride of Richard Donald Hruby, Jr., at a recent double-ring ceremony at Trinity Lutheran church in this city.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Howard O. Hagen and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hruby, Sr., of rural Thief River Falls.

Rev. Berton Hushagen officiated at the afternoon ceremony. At the organ was Miss Cathy Barron, a friend of the bride. She played Bach's "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring," for the processional and the traditional wedding march for the recessional. JoAnn Bylin, a cousin of the bride, sang "Colour My World" John Hustad sang "We've Only Just Begun," and together with Julie Bylin, another cousin of the bride, they sang, "You Make Me Feel Brand New."

Creating a setting for the ceremony were arrangements of white gladioli, blue carnations and babies' breath, backed by lighted candelabra, foliage plants and bouquets of white gladioli. The bridal aisle, carpeted in white, was accented by pew rosettes featuring blue and white straw flowers and ribbon streamers on ruffled lace, made by the mother of the groom.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a floor-length gown of white polyester crepe with an overlay of lace. The gown made by the groom's mother, was designed with a U-neckline, long, sheer puffed sleeves, and a gracefully flared skirt that flowed back into a chapel-length train. Her triple-tiered veil of bridal illusion was held by a tiered headpiece featuring petals of netting, edged with seed pearls and lace motifs. She carried a cascade of miniature pink carnations, white daisy mums and yellow sweetheart roses, accented with babies' breath and clusters of blue straw flowers. For sentiment, the bride also carried an old blue handkerchief with white lace edging, a gift from her great-grandmother. Her jewelry included her mother's pearl necklace and the pearl earrings she received from the groom.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was her cousin, Julie Bylin of Adams, N.D. She was attired in a gown designed with a baby-blue polyester crepe floor-length skirt, topped by a short-puffed sleeve, empire bodice featuring an overlay of multi-colored floral sheer. A white floppy hat completed her attire.

Carrying the rings on a white satin heart-shaped pillow edged with lace, was Murray Melgaard of Thief River Falls, a friend of the bride's family. Like the men of the wedding party, he was attired in a baby blue tuxedo with navy blue trousers, baby blue bow tie, white ruffled shirt etched in blue and a white carnation, tipped in blue and accented with a cluster of deep blue starflowers. The groom wore a cluster of three yellow sweetheart roses and deep blue starflowers pinned on his all baby-blue tuxedo.

Best man was Mike Hruby, brother of the groom. Groomsmen were David Helt, Alan Holmgren and John Rouland, friends of the groom. Serving as ushers were Mark Hagen, brother of the bride, and Steve Skibicki, a friend of the couple.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Hagen wore a pale pink polyester floor-length gown topped by a matching long-sleeved jacket with ruffle trim. Her corsage was composed of deep pink carnations with white daisy mums and babies breath.

The mother of the groom was attired in a long sleeved floor-length gown in a patterned ivory and brown with orange flowers. Her corsage featured tangerine carnations, yellow daisy mums and white babies' breath.

Honor guests at the wedding were Mrs. A. L. Hagen of Dickinson, N.D., grandmother of the bride, Mrs. Olaf Quam of Pekin, N.D., great-grandmother of the bride, and Mrs. Casper Bondly of Harwood, N.D., grandmother of the groom. Each was presented with a corsage of white daisy mums and babies' breath.

Following the ceremony, the parents of the bride hosted a reception in the church parlors for approximately 175 relatives and friends. To correspond with the bride's chosen colors, the tables were centered with blue carnations in bud vases. Highlighting the serving table was a four-tiered wedding cake, iced in white and topped with a wedding bell ornament. Adding a touch of blue were the names of the couple inscribed on the third tier. The cake, baked and decorated by Mrs. Eugene Prestgaard, was cut and served by Mrs. Stanley Robson and Mrs. Roy Bondly, aunts of the groom.

At the silver service were the bride's aunts, Mrs. Doris Bylin and Mrs. Roland Berg. The bride's brother, David Hagen, registered the guests as friends of the couple, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Clow, served the punch. Waitresses were Carol Wilde, Mary Lane, Patty Swedenberg and Cory Swanson. Pam Hruby, a cousin of the groom, and Fay Sorenson, a friend of the couple, presided at the gift table.

A buffet supper for approximately 80 relatives and close friends was served at the Hagen home following the reception. During that time, the gifts were opened by the bride and groom. The evening, prior to the ceremony, the parents of the groom hosted a dinner at their home with 30 guests attending.

For traveling on a brief wedding trip to Fargo, N.D., the bride was attired in pale green slacks complemented by a green print blouse.

The couple is now at home in Thief River Falls at Basswood trailer court. The bride and groom are graduates of Lincoln high school and both are employed in this city. The bride is employed by Northwestern hospital and the groom by North Star transport. Photo, James Solsten.

Hospital Chaplain Speaks To C.N.C. Volunteer Group

In discussing the needs of the residents in CNC, Rev. Peterson stated that residents can be helped by a handshake, personal prayer, laughing with them or just taking a walk with them. He concluded by saying that a period of quiet is valuable as it is a means of worship and communion with God who is always present.

Also attending the meeting and introduced to the group was Pat Temple, the new social worker at Northwestern hospital.

The meeting concluded with readings by various members and group singing with Mrs. Harold Peterson as pianist.

The next meeting of the CNC Volunteers will be held November 25th. New members are welcome. For information call Angeline Breznay 681-2412.

Rosemaling Lessons Concluded By Zehlians

Final lesson on the art of Rosemaling was presented at the meeting of the Zehlian art group held Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Dee Wendt. Giving the instruction was Mrs. Ebba Sagmoen, who had also presented the previous lesson.

Members attending were Mrs. Mary Evans, Marge Hanson, Vonnie McHams, Ann Duckworth, Elaine Kayser, Carol Trandby, Jodi Williamson, Mim Pem, Lois Simons and Ina Thorsgard.

The meeting of the Zehlian book club will be held November 19 at the home of Mrs. Hank Ness. The meeting will begin at 9:30 a.m.

Moccasin Meet Cancelled Due To Botique Sale

At the October meeting of the Moccasin garden club, it was decided to cancel the regular November meeting due to the annual boutique sale set for Saturday afternoon, November 22, at Smiley hall. The regular December meeting was also canceled.

Officers for the coming year were also elected. Chosen to serve for 1976 were Mrs. Sidney Wilson, president; Mrs. James Nelson, vice-president; Mrs. Henry Anenson, treasurer; Mrs. Alton Carlson historian and Mrs. Ruben Nelson, reporter.

Mrs. James Nelson and Mrs. Albert Bacon were in charge of the program. They demonstrated various methods of drying flowers for arrangements and how to use the flower press. Salted pumpkin seeds were sampled and the recipe was distributed to the 12 members present.

KITCHEN KARNIVAL

by Ellen M. Spray

Thoughts while cleaning the flower gardens for winter. I can't remember a time when it has been possible to work in the gardens in November. It has been interesting to note that during the week, no one has complained about the weather. Especially thankful for our beautiful Indian summer are the parents who carefully chaperoned their children on the rounds of tricks-or-treats.

It is hard to imagine anyone sadistic enough to spoil this innocent Hallowe'en fun by inserting needles, pins, glass and poison into apples and candy. Yet, there are many people, even in this city, who strongly object to the annual tradition of tricks-or-treat. They feel that since the city provides various types of entertainment, that that is enough for the children. In other words, "Let the city provide happiness for the children, I don't want to be bothered."

Children are little tots such a short time. By leaving the outdoor light burning and by welcoming those little witches and goblins into our homes, we are actively contributing to the happiness of the children in this community. Their annual visits are by far less destructive than the tricks that the older folks played years ago. Evidence of that idea of fun (of upsetting outdoor buildings) was seen Saturday in a town not too far from here.

While on the subject of contributing to the happiness of others, consider the plight of the disabled or the senior citizens in nursing homes or at the CNC unit at our local hospital. Or is that subject too depressing?

Several are in their 50's. Some have been confined for months, several for years. Some have no families or their families, due to great distances, are able to visit them only once or twice a year. Depressing? Yes, it must be very depressing for them to witness the tender loving care received by some of their fellow residents, whose families visit daily.

One common excuse for not visiting nursing homes is the claim that so many of the residents are senile and can't converse intelligently. True many are senile, but in some cases, strokes or physical disabilities have caused that appearance. But regardless of their confused and bewildered condition, most respond to kindness. Although their conversations don't always make sense and although they can't always be understood when they revert back to their native language, they receive a certain tranquility in just talking to someone. Like most of us, they thrive on kindness.

Extending kindness is like working in the garden and getting too close to the thorns. The sting hurts; the fruits are not always what we expect. But disappointments are quickly forgotten when one is greeted with a warm smile or when one finds a rose blooming in November.

Today's recipe for Apple dessert was contributed by Mrs. Oliver Howland. Thanks.

Apple Dessert

1 cup brown sugar
1 cup white sugar
½ cup shortening
2 eggs
2 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon nutmeg
½ teaspoon salt
4 cups diced raw apples
½ cups nuts

Method: Combine sugar, shortening and eggs and cream well. Sift together the remaining dry ingredients. Add to creamed mixture and beat well. Add apples and nuts. Pour into a greased 11 x 15 pan and bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes. Serve with whipped cream.

Public Invited To Methodist Church Concert

On Friday evening, November 21, at 8 p.m., Charles Decker and Mrs. Lynda Pederson of Bemidji state university will present a trumpet and organ concert at the United Methodist church, Thief River Falls. The public is invited.

The concert will be "Great Music of the Christian Church". Music by J. S. Bach, J. Christian Bach, Krebs and Viviani will be played by Mrs. Pederson on the 40 rank organ of the church and by Decker on the trumpet and piccolo trumpet.

Decker has degrees from Northwestern university and Eastman conservatory. He has wide concert and church music experience and was formerly soloist with the U.S. Army Field band.

Mrs. Pederson graduated from the University of Denver in pipe organ and church music and is a student of Arthur Jennings, who for many years was instructor of organ at the University of Minnesota.

Admission is a one dollar donation for adults, with children 11 and under admitted free. Tickets may be obtained through the United Methodist church, 681-4386, or at the door. Preferential seating will be given to those who secure their tickets in advance.

Investment In Scouting Pays Big Dividends

Quality scouting for boys in this area does cost money, but the dividends are the more than 19,000 members who get a practical program of character development, citizenship training, and mental and physical fitness.

Robert Pile, finance chairman of the Northern Lights council explained recently that the total cost to bring the BSA program to boys in the council area covering seventy-four counties is shared by the boy himself, his unit, the organization that is chartered to use the program, and the local and national organizations.

Pile explained that the boy pays a national membership fee, buys his own uniform, books, and equipment, and pays dues into his unit treasury—preferably earning the money for these personal expenses.

His troop or pack pays its way from the boys' weekly dues and money earned through approved projects.

Even the chartered organization, which owns the unit, is responsible for a meeting place, competent volunteer leadership who pay their own expenses, and other resources.

The Northern Lights council prepares an operating budget to serve the units, and these funds come from United Ways and the annual sustaining membership enrollment among members, parents, and friends of Scouting.

Finally, Pile said, the national organization coordinates and stimulates the program nationally and develops program materials. These services are paid from the membership fees and other income that is put back into the program.

"Over 60 years of experience have shown that the five members of the BSA team—the boy, the unit, the chartered organization, the local council, and national office—all help to contribute to quality Scouting," Pile said.

Elections Held During Annual MMCDC Meeting

Leander Berberich of Brooks was re-elected president of the midwest Minnesota community development corporation at the group's annual meeting, held recently in Mahnomen.

Other new officers, elected by the board following the meeting, include: Charlene Lundin, Bagley, secretary; F. N. Moen, Erskine, vice-president; and David Brown, Goodridge, treasurer. Newly elected directors, besides Leander Berberich, were Phil Cuno, Red Lake Falls, representing Red Lake county, and Gunder Hanson, Detroit Lakes, representing Becky county.

Charles Mumford, economic development specialist from Washington, D.C., was main speaker at the meeting. The group of over 100 members present also heard staff reports on past year's activities and voted in favor of amendments to the corporation's by-laws and articles of incorporation.

50 Students In Area Named To Who's Who Book

A total of 50 area students have been selected for the ninth annual edition of "Who's Who Among American High School Students" published by Educational Communications Inc., Northbrook, Illinois.

Students are nominated for the volume by high school principals and guidance counselors, national youth groups and churches, or by the publishing company based upon the students' performance in scholarship or award contests. Final selection is determined on the basis of high achievement in academics and leadership in school acitivities, athletics and community service.

Local students selected for this year's volume are: Thief River Falls—Connie B. Aaseby, Keith Breiland, Gary Franson, David J. Houfek, Kevin M. Kompelien, Thomas C. Nelson, Cynthia Bedard, Timothy G. Dahlstrom, Carter B. Green, Richard M. Johnson, Shelly Langlie and James D. Olson;

Also Goodridge—Carolyn S. Dahlen, Nancy Ferguson, Frances Kotrba, Jane L. Prestebak, Ellen S. Sanders, Richard G. Vraa, Karen E. Easthouse, Dawn R. Hegge, Karen E. Race and Judy Srnsky; Newfolden—Vrenda L. Bengston, Wanda L. Holmaas, Randall S. Pyle, Julie S. Tunheim, Julie M. Wilcox, Lori L. Bjorgaard, Jerald Larson, Bruce W. Rokke and Joel B. Waterworth;

The ninth edition of "Who's Who", published on four regional volumes, features 235,000 students, or less than four per cent of the nation's 6,500,000 high school juniors and seniors. They represent 20,000 of the 24,000 public, private and parochial schools in the country.

These students also compete for over $25,000 in scholarship awards and participate in the publication's annual opinion poll of teen attitudes. The book is widely distributed on a complimentary basis to participating high schools, colleges and universities and public libraries throughout the country.

CATTLE DRIVE in an abbreviated version of the Old West trail drives took place last Wednesday east of Goodridge. Nearly 200 head of cattle owned by Eugene Fiedler were driven from rented pastureland northeast of Goodridge to the Fiedler corral and pasture southeast of Goodridge. Although the distance of the drive was only about nine miles, frequent rest stops were necessary and some of the calves had to be loaded in a trailer and transported in that manner. The top photo above shows the herd as it approached highway 1 from the north. The bottom photo was taken at a rest stop about half a mile past highway 1 on the road south. Neighbors took care of the drive for Fiedler who was hospitalized in Thief River Falls after a heart attack. The animals had originally been transported to the north pasture by truck.

Guest Speaker At Historical Meet Thursday

Albany Capistran of Crookston will be guest speaker at a meeting of the Pennington county historical society to be held Thursday at 8 p.m. in the basement meeting of the Thief River Falls city auditorium.

"Polk County, and How Other Counties Were Organized Into Smaller Counties" will be Capistran's topic at the meeting, according to Mrs. Inga Geving, president of the society. The public is invited to attend the meeting.

Capistran is an interested historian of area happenings and a member of the Polk county historical society. He is married to Rona Gullingsrud, a daughter of Andrew Gullingsrud who was a pioneer resident of Kratka township in Pennington county. She will accompany her husband to Thief River Falls for the meeting. The senior citizen kitchen band will also play at the program.

Mrs. Geving noted that approximately 700 histories have been received for the "Pioneer Tales" book to be published by the county historical society but that many more are wanted. Deadline has been extended but all families are urged to complete a brief history and submit it to the county society.

"We certainly hope that many more families will submit their histories," Mrs. Geving said. "We believe every Pennington county family should know that the book will not be complete without their stories.

"Please send them in as a typewritten manuscript on regular size paper or neatly written on lined paper," she said. "If you are unable to type or write, call us and we will come and get your story from you. If you can think of someone who has moved who should definitely be included in the book, please send us their name and address."

The county historical society can be reached by writing P.O. Box 127, Thief River Falls.

CORRECTION

In the Roxanne Langlie-Thomas Nepper wedding, published recently in the Times, the names of the bride's paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Hans Langlie of McGregor, were inadvertently omitted. The Langlies were special guests at the ceremony and reception, together with the bride's maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Busse, and the groom's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Miller and Mrs. Gertrude Nepper. Terminate NW Banco Proposal To Acquire Bank

Henry T. Rutledge, chairman of Northwest bancorporation, and Earl W. Nelson, president of Associated bank corporation, jointly announced recently the termination of discussions on the previously announced proposed acquisition of Associated bank corporation by Northwest bancorporation.

Northwest bancorporation, based in Minneapolis, owns the majority of stock in 81 affiliated banks and a number of bank-related financial service companies.

Associated bank corporation, based in Iowa City, owns the majority of stock in six Iowa banks and a leasing company.

Bingo Games In Minn. May Get New Regulations

The "bingo bill" under consideration in the Minnesota House of Representatives general legislation and veterans affairs committee, H.F. 1767, would place restrictions on bingo sessions, prizes, and advertising, to prevent commercial competition in bingo. The bill also restricts the types of organization that can hold bingo games and the persons who can conduct the games to stop the rise of professional bingo players and groups.

The purpose of H.F. 1767 (Fudro, D-Mpls.) is to assure that proceeds go for charitable purposes and to provide a standard set of statewide rules. It is a local-control bill that gives local authorities primary responsibility for licensing and rule enforcement.

Russell Green, commissioner of veterans affairs, said the committee "shouldn't worry about every single item in the bill." Green, a former Minneapolis city councilman, felt the point to consider was getting needed state bingo regulations right now instead of a perfect bill next year.

The committee decided to delay any final action on the bill until the November mini-session meeting. November mini-session dates are November 20-22.

Students From Northland Among BSU Enrollees

Transfer students from Northland community college who were among the enrollees at Bemidji state university this fall include: Susan Diane Adamson, Robert Alan Almquist, George F. Bregier, Bradley K. Homstad, Jon Ross Jensen, Sharon Rae Wnedel Johnson, Harry Duane Menk, Allen Lea Narverud, Marie Roadfeldt, Blaine Lance Rugland, Donald Michael Schindler, James Strandemo, Peter J. Sullivan, Stephen W. Taflin and Lee Lester Walseth.

According to E. J. Aalberts, director of admissions and records at BSU, the number of transfer students rose to 299 this year from the figure of 231 last fall. Incoming freshman statistics also increased to give a total on-campus headcount of 4,177, or a 2.8 per cent enrollment boost over 1974.

Brenna Accepted At Northland CC

Increase Noted In Minorities Attending AVTI

There has been a 50 per cent increase in the number of minority students enrolled in the state's area vocational-technical institutes, according to Arnt Aune, director of the Thief River Falls Area vocational-technical institute.

"According to figures released by the state department of education, vocational-technical division, all institutes have shown some increase in minority enrollments," he said.

Last year about two per cent of the institutes' total enrollments were minority students which is comparable to the state's ratio of minority people to the total population. This fall's figures show that about theee per cent of the students enrolling in vocational-technical programs were minorities.

At the Thief River Falls Institute, about two per cent of those enrolling in programs were minority students.

"There is an active minority recruitment program sponsored by the state vocational division and this may be the reason for the increase," Aune said.

Official figures show that there has been a 12 per cent increase (26,534) in the total enrollment this fall at the area vocational-technical institutes.

About 20 Visit Humphrey Office Day On Friday

Approximately 20 individuals or groups brought questions or comments for Sen. Hubert Humphrey at an office day held in Thief River Falls Friday, according to John R. Tunheim, field representative for the senator.

Tunheim, formerly of Newfolden and a Humphrey aide assigned to the Minneapolis office, said residents expressed a particular concern about fuel costs and availability, particularly the Canadian supply. He said other questions were concerned with primarily internal revenue service, welfare and social security cases.

Encouraged by the response to the visit, Tunheim said he expects to hold an office day here on a regular basis and probably will return in about two months. Advance notice will be given of the time and place.

Vital Organ Donor Program Starts Nov. 1

Starting November 1, persons 18 and over who wish to donate their vital organs for transplant after death may have this desire noted on their driver license or Public safety I.D. certificate.

The Driver license division announced that this is now possible because of enabling legislation passed during the 1975 session.

Those drivers whose driver license expire in December will be mailed a renewal application due for mailing after November 1. Included with the application will be a donor document. If the applicant wishes to participate in the donor program, he will bring the completed document to the examining station or clerk of court when he applies for the renewal of his driver license. When his new license is issued, the word DONOR will be placed on the license. The same procedure will apply to those renewing their non-qualification certificate (I.D. card). There will be no charge for this service beyond the normal renewal fee.

Those driver or ID certificate holders whose license or ID will not expire in the immediate future, but who wish to join the program immediately, may apply for a duplicate license or a new ID and have the word DONOR placed on the new document. In this case, the normal charge for a duplicate license or ID will be made.

If at any time a person who is in the program decides that he no longer wants to participate, he may again apply for a duplicate license or a new ID, pay the fee, and complete a written statement requesting removal.

Minnesota department of public safety commissioner Edward G. Novak pointed out that a person does not have the option of donating just a part of his body. Under this program, all transplantable organs are covered.

Novak also emphasized that the awareness and cooperation of all law enforcement, emergency medical services, and hospital personnel is necessary to the success of this program.

Questions concerning the implementation of the transplant aspect of this program may be referred to the Kidney foundation of the Upper Midwest, 1821 University avenue, St. Paul, 55104—telephone (612) 645-8605, and to all offices where driver license applications are accepted.

fuel to the fire. These were in place about 6:30 a.m. and 11 a.m. on Friday. By early Friday evening the fire was out and more permanent repairs could be made in the line. Blade said the bulldozer made a triangular hole in the pipe which measured 8x8x11 inches.

In talking with the Times Saturday, Earl Voytilla said the bulldozer operator believed the pipe to be buried deeper than it was. He also said that he had struck the pipe several times with plows and tool bar harrows while farming adjoining fields. He estimated the depth of the pipe at the point of the rupture at between 12 and 24 inches.

He also said that another employee, Wally Walz, was operating the smaller tractor about 150 to 200 feet away when the line was ruptured. The road was being built along the section line on contract for Viking township and the project had been underway for several days.

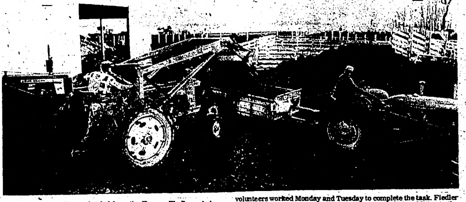
Brown Graduates From Course In Navy School

Navy airman Bruce W. Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Brown Jr. of 1022 LaBree Ave. N. was graduated from basic Aviation maintenance administration school at the Naval air station, Meridian, Miss.

The seven-week course includes instruction on the naval aircraft maintenance and accounting systems, typing, aeronautical technical publications, aircraft inspection procedures, material management and associated logbooks and records.

A 1973 graduate of Lincoln senior high school, Brown joined the navy in May 1975.



TONS OF MANURE were hauled from the Eugene Fiedler pole barn and feed lot when neighbors gathered at the farm southeast of Goodridge early last week. Seventeen tractors and manure spreaders, a bulldozer and a number of other loaders were put into use as the volunteers worked Monday and Tuesday to complete the task. Fiedler was hospitalized on October 30 with a heart attack. In addition to the manure hauling, volunteers hauled hay and finished up some plowing, then herded about 200 head of cattle for nine miles to the newly-cleaned corrals.

Joppru Returns To TRF As Area Army Recruier

His most recent assignment was in Fort Carson, Colo., where he was the operations seargent for the military police station. Joppru is married and has three children.

MSU Is Recipient Of Income From $175,000 Grant

Dr. Roland Dille, president of Moorhead state university, has announced that the university will be the recipient of the income from a bequest of $175,000 from the late Ada Comstock Notestein.

In her will, Mrs. Notestein, who died on Dec. 11, 1973, named the Minneapolis foundation as the beneficiary of her residuary estate, establishing with the foundation the S. G. Comstock memorial fund "in honor of my father and in memory of the part he played in the establishment of Moorhead state college."

The income of the fund is to be used for "improvement and enrichment of instruction in the college."

Mrs. Nostestein, who was president of Radcliffe college from 1923 to 1943, was the oldest child of Solomon Comstock, one of Moorhead's earliest settlers. As a state senator, he introduced, in 1885, the bill establishing Moorhead normal school. He then gave to the state six acres for the new campus.

Eddie Oftelie Services Held In TRF Friday

Funeral services for Eddie Oftelie, 84, of Thief River Falls were held Friday at 2 p.m., at the Green Funeral chapel. Oftelie died Tuesday at the Minnesota Veterans Soldiers home in Minneapolis where he had made his home for the past three years.

Rev. Lloyd Berger, pastor at Zion Lutheran church, officiated at the services. Mrs. Sherman Idso served as soloist and organist. Interment was in Greenwood cemetery.

Eddie Oftelie was born March 24, 1891, at Climax to Ole and Elsie Oftelie. In 1907, he came to Thief River Falls with his family and grew to manhood here. He served with the U.S. Army during World War I. Following his discharge, he returned to Thief River Falls. He later worked at Duluth and Detroit, Mich. After his retirement, he returned to this city and resided here until entering the Soldiers home in Minneapolis.

Surviving are two brothers: Guy Oftelie of St. Petersburg, Fla., and Walter of Allen Park, Mich.; and two sisters: Mrs. Ella Knaack of Seattle, Wash., and Annie Oftelie of Thief River Falls.

Three brothers and three sisters preceded him in death.

Anna Johnson Services Held At Moose Lake

Mrs. Anna Johnson, 79, of Moose Lake and formerly of Holt, died Wednesday at Mercy hospital in Moose Lake. She had been in failing health for the past three months.

Funeral services for Mrs. Anna Johnson, were held Saturday at 2 p.m., at the Hamlin Funeral chapel in Moose Lake. Rev. Harold Peterson officiated. Mrs. Robert Macaulay was the soloist and Mrs. Mabel Kjarum, the organist. Interment was in the Sunset Memorial cemetery at Moose Lake.

Mrs. Johnson, the former Anna Victoria Hedlund, was born March 20, 1896 at Holt. On Nov. 6, 1918, she was married in Thief River Falls to Carl O. Johnson. The couple farmed in the Ada area until 1928, when they moved to Duluth. In 1929, they bought a farm east of Moose Lake and farmed there until retiring in 1965. They then bought a home on Island Lake, just south of Moose Lake and Mrs. Johnson had since made her home there.

She is survived by two sons: Arnold Johnson of Minneapolis and Stuart of Moose Lake; a daughter, Mrs. Leonard (Arlyne) Olsen of Concord, Calif.; seven grandchildren and one great-granddaughter.

She was preceded in death by her husband who died on March 5th of this year.

Sophie Benoit Rites Held At Red Lake Falls

Mrs. Sophie Benoit, 87, of Crookston, sister of Sister Gabriel O.S.B., of Thief River Falls, died Tuesday afternoon at St. Vincent Rest home in Crookston where she had been a patient for the past two weeks.

The Liturgy of the funeral for Mrs. Sophie Benoit was offered Friday at 2 p.m., from St. Joseph's Catholic church in Red Lake Falls with Rev. Gerald Noesen officiating. Interment was in the church cemetery. The Petterson Funeral home of Red Lake Falls was in charge of arrangements.

Pallbearers were Louis Violette, Emery LaCoursiere, Raymond Vaudrin, Leonard Ford, Leonard Roy and James LaCoursiere.

Mrs. Benoit, the former Sophie LaCoursiere, was born Nov. 21, 1888 in Huot, in Louisville township, Red Lake county. She was united in marriage to Eugene Benoit on May 3, 1909. Following their marriage, the couple lived for a time at Red Lake Falls where Benoit was engaged in barbering. They later lived in various towns in Minnesota, including Minneapolis. In 1927, they moved to East Grand Forks where they resided for 10 years. Since then, she had made her home in Grand Forks, N.D.

She was employed for a number of years in Grand Forks in the alterations department at McShane's and Bray's Apparel. Later she was employed for 16 years as housekeeper at St. Mary's Rectory in Grand Forks.

She was a member of Catholic Daughters, Third Order of St. Francis, Ladies Catholic Foresters and St. Mary's Ladies Guild.

Survivors include one son, Lloyd Benoit of Port Angeles, Wash.; a daughter, Sister Amata O.S.B., of Crookston; one granddaughter, two great-grandchildren, three brothers: Paul LaCoursiere of Red Lake Falls, Theodore of Plummer and Ernest of Forest Lake; and five sisters: Mrs. Frank (Emma) Violette and Mrs. Agnes Violette of Red Lake Falls, Sister Baptist O.S.B. of Mahnomen, Sister Gabriel O.S.B. of Thief River Falls and Mrs. Clara Reopelle of Tacoma, Wash.

She was preceded in death by her husband in 1965, a son, and eight brothers and sisters.

Services Held Saturday For Harda Hagen, 81

Mrs. Harda Hagen, 81, of Thief River Falls, widow of Adolph Hagen, died Wednesday at Northwestern hospital.

Funeral services for Mrs. Harda Hagen were held Saturday at 2:30 p.m., at the Green Funeral chapel. Rev. Roy K. Malde, pastor at Trinity Lutheran church, officiated at the services. Serving as soloist and organist was Mrs. James Johnson. Interment was in the St. Pauli cemetery.

Pallbearers were Joe Vallet, Ed Hendrickson, Albert Swenson, Alvin Christofferson, Melvin Torkelson and Herman Rude.

Mrs. Hagen, the former Harda Josephine Anderson, was born Nov. 8, 1893 in Emerado, N.D., to Jacob and Hansina Anderson. As a child, she moved to Greenbush with her parents. There she attended school and grew to womanhood.

She came to Thief River Falls as a young woman and was employed at the Pennington Hotel. In 1918, she was married to Carl Hedlund. He was killed in a train accident the following year.

On Nov. 8, 1922, she was married in Thief River Falls to Adolph Hagen. Since then, she had made her home here.

The Hagens celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary in 1972.

Mrs. Hagen was a member of Trinity Lutheran church and its Lutheran Church Women.

She is survived by one son, Raymond (Arnold) Hagen of Manchester, N. Hamp.; three daughters: Mrs. Philip (Elizabeth) Mitchell of Atlanta, Ga.; Mrs. Richard (Adelyne) Bishop of Indianapolis, Ind., and Mrs. Wallace (Delores) Torkelson of Thief River Falls; 12 grandchildren, three great grandchildren; two brothers: Leonard Sather and Martin Anderson, both of Greenbush; and two sisters: Mrs. Ted Hagen of Thief River Falls and Mrs. Hilda Berglund of Willmar.

Her second husband preceded her in death of March 19th of this year. She was also preceded in death by eight brothers and one sister.

Wm. Sandeen, Once Of TRF, Dies At Crosby

Funeral services for William Sandeen are being held today (Monday) at 1:30 p.m., at the Koop Funeral home in Crosby with Rev. Charles Skaggs officiating. Interment will be in Lakewood cemetery in Crosby.

William Sandeen was born Dec. 19, 1892 at McIntosh and was a veteran of World War I. For a number of years, he lived in Thief River Falls where he was associated with the Ford Agency. He later operated a collection agency here. For the past 13 years, he had made his home at Crosby.

He is survived by one step-son, Robert Geske of Crosby; a step-grandson, and two sisters: Misses Helga and Viola Sandeen of Brainerd.

He was preceded in death by his wife, Margaret, in 1971.

Challenge Sexism In Scholarship Fund

Minnesota Civil Liberties union (MCLU) recently announced that it has filed suit in United States district court in Minneapolis, challenging the denial of a Williams scholarship by the University of Minnesota to varsity golfer Ingrid Gallo, solely on the basis of her sex.

The lawsuit, filed by MCLU volunteer attorney Judith Oakes, concerns a scholarship fund for varsity athletes at the University of Minnesota known as the Dr. Henry L. Williams memorial fund. The lawsuit, filed on behalf of Gallo and all other women similarly situated, contends that for the university to exclude women athletes from receiving the scholarship denies women equal protection of the laws as guaranteed by the Fourteenth amendment to the United States constitution.

Named as defendants in the lawsuit are the members of the University of Minnesota board of regents; University of Minnesota president C. Peter Magrath; University athletic director Paul Giel, who participates in the decision as to which athletes receive assistance from the fund; Williams scholarship fund chairman George Thomas; and Stanley Kegler, university vice president for institutional planning and the immediate supervisor of Giel.

According to the MCLU lawsuit, Gallo was nominated for a Williams scholarship in March of 1975, by Carol Isaacs, University of Minnesota golf coach.

The suit alleges that the Williams scholarship fund is administered by the university department of intercollegiate athletics and that the sole stated criteria for eligibility are that the student excel in academic work by maintaining a B-average and have varsity potential in a chosen sport.

The suit alleges that Gallo meets both qualifications in that she currently maintains a B-average and is a varsity member of the University of Minnesota golf team.

The suit alleges that despite the fact that Gallo meets all the stated qualifications, Giel told Isaacs that Gallo would not be eligible for consideration for a Williams scholarship, solely because she is a woman.

The MCLU's lawsuit further contends that Gallo has failed to receive scholarship funds for the school year 1975-76 and that no athletic scholarships are available at the University of Minnesota for women.

The MCLU lawsuit states, "that the regents, McGrath, Giel and Thomas have invidiously discriminated against Gallo and all other similarly situated in that they have failed and refused to grant her a Williams scholarship solely on the basis of sex, creating a classification in which all men with B- averages and varsity athletic potential received Williams scholarships and no women with those qualifications receive the scholarship."

The lawsuit further argues that failure to grant Gallo a scholarship because of her sex, violates Title IX of the 1972 Federal education act, which provides that no person in the United States shall on the basis of sex, be excluded from participation in or be denied the benefits of or be subject to discrimination under any educational program or activity receiving federal assistance.

The MCLU lawsuit asks the court to issue a declaratory judgment declaring that the practice, customs and policies of denying Williams scholarships to women are unconstitutional, in violation of the Fourteenth amendment to the United States constitution. The lawsuit further asks the court to issue a permanent injunction restraining the defendants from refusing to grant Williams scholarship fund assistance to women, and that the University of Minnesota not be allowed to receive any federal funds until Gallo and all women similarly situated are "are permitted to compete equally for scholarship assistance from the Williams fund."

Speaking for the MCLU, associate executive director Kathleen Hauser said, "Paul Giel, the university regents and other university officials have knowingly allowed and encouraged a University of Minnesota scholarship to be administered in a sexist and unconstitutional manner. We are asking the court to put an end to these reprehensible policies by ordering the university to make its athletic scholarships open to all qualified students, regardless of sex."

Need Production, Acreage Reports From Farmers

Annual cycle of crop estimates for the 1975 season will be completed with the mailing of some 21,000 acreage and production questionnaires to Minnesota farmers.

The Minnesota crop and livestock reporting service, headed by David N. Taylor, conducts a series of acreage surveys during the year. This last survey will seek acreage and production of fall harvested crops and will be the primary basis for establishing final estimates for 1975 on a state and county basis.

Taylor stated that acreage surveys covering three important time periods are conducted during the year. The first surveys are conducted in January and March to determine the acreage Minnesota farmers intend to plant. The second major survey effort is conducted in late May and early June to determine the actual acres planted. The third series is conducted in the fall immediately following harvest to measure actual crop production and acres harvested.

This fall harvested crops inquiry will ask questions on fall crops similar to the small grains acreage and production questionnaire mailed in late September.

Extreme weather conditions adversely affected crop production this year. A late spring along with wet weather delayed planting and early cultural practices. Heavy rains in late June caused extensive flooding and subsequent drownout in the Red River Valley. A prolonged dry spell from July through mid-August further reduced crop prospects in most areas.

Taylor urges each farmer receiving the questionnaire to fill it out carefully and return it promptly so that these extreme variations in production can be correctly measured and each county properly represented. He emphasized that individual reports are kept confidential and are used only for state and county estimates.

Taylor also stressed that each additional report received helps provide a more accurate unbiased picture of Minnesota's agriculture. Results of this survey will be published in the annual crop production report, which is scheduled for release in mid-January 1976.

Annual Fiddlers Contest Slated Jan. 10 At BSU

The third annual Bemidji State university fiddlers contest will be held January 10 in Memorial hall, according to associate professor of music Felix Spooner. All area old-time fiddlers are invited to enter the 8 p.m. competition.

As in years past, contestants are asked to play at least two numbers. One of the tunes must be a waltz, but the second may be any dance selection such as another waltz, a polka, reel schottische, hoedown, jig, etc. Trick fiddling and novelty tunes will not be considered. A house accompanist will be on hand, but participants are encouraged to bring their own. A maximum of two accompanists is permitted.

Judging will be done on the basis of timing, intonation and difficulty of the piece.

First, second and third place winners receive trophies, with all entrants geing given walnut plaques to commemorate their participation.

No fees will be charged to the contestants. Spectators will pay admission to help provide scholarships for BSU music students.

Following the contest, there will be an old-time dance with music provided by the fiddlers. The three top fiddlers will be expected to play for the dance and other contestants are also invited to perform.

For more information, contact Felix Spooner at the department of music, Bemidji state university; or by calling 218-755-2917.

Religious News Coverage Topic Of 'U' Meeting

News of religion faces an uphill fight for attention and coverage on most daily papers, according to John Finnegan, executive editor for the St. Paul Dispatch and Pioneer Press.

Speaking recently at a religious journalism conference at the University of Minnesota, Finnegan said that coverage of religion has not changed as much as it should have in the past few years.

"There are few full-time religion editors," he said, noting that while the Minneapolis Star has a full-time religion editor, religion news in St. Paul is the responsibility of a reporter with other general assignment duties.

According to Finnegan, the purpose of a religion page is to carry religious news of signifiance. Too often, he said, such pages are actually no more than "bulletin boards" of church suppers and church-related activities.

The religious reporter has the responsibility to cover all religious issues fairly, Finnegan said, and to avoid allowing his or her own religious standards to color the tone of the page. He quoted Pope John XXIII who addressed a group of Catholic editors in 1961 with these words: "You have a responsibility to defend truth, justice and honesty even before the Gospel."

He cited the abortion controversy as an area where an attempt at balanced reporting has elicited criticism from people and religious groups on both sides of the issue. That kind of feedback can show that a paper is coming close to presenting both sides of the issue fairly, he said.

Lewis Cope, Minneapolis Tribune science writer, said that it is important for religion reporters to keep in mind that Christianity is only part of the religion picture.

In response to a question from the audience, Cope said that it is not necessary for a person to be a Christian to be a good religion reporter. "Good newspaper people are fair, and it is not necessary to be religious to be a fair journalist," he said.

It is not surprising that many reporters consider themselves atheists, Cope said, because the demands on reporters' time make it difficult for them to participate in church activities.

Cope said that a religion reporter has to ask tough questions about a subject to do a thorough story, like any other reporter. Because of the nature of the job, it is easy for a reporter to become cynical.

As a science reporter, Cope said he has found that science explains why things happen, but leaves out the beginning and the end. A religion reporter can examine those things.

Proclaim Nov. 21 As Coffee Day For Easter Seals

Pizza Hut in Thief River Falls is among the restaurants throughout Minnesota that will be participating in Coffee day for Easter seals on November 21.

Governor Wendell Anderson has again proclaimed this day as such and urges the people of this state to support this joint project of the Minnesota restaurant association and the Minnesota Easter seal society. Funds raised will be used for special therapeutic and educational services for children and adults with speech and language disabilities.

In 1974, over 750 restaurants thtoughout the state raised over $26,000 for Easter seals. This year, approximately 1,000 restaurants have been selling Coffee day buttons for $1 each to their patrons from November 7 and will continue through the 21st. In return, each button holder will be entitled to drink free coffee at any participating restaurant on Coffee day, November 21. These restaurants are donating their time, coffee, cream and sugar for this event.

NWAC Invites Brainerd

Northwest Athletic Conference officials extended Brainerd an official invitation to join the NWAC Wednesday at the league's annual post-season meeting of football coaches and athletic directors.

Brainerd high school football coach-athletic director Ron Stolski was on hand at the meeting at Detroit Lakes. Stolski made no commitment to the NWAC, but his presence at the meeting obviously meant a sincere Warrior interest in the organization.

Stolski and the rest of the Brainerd officials are currently mulling over the Northwest Conference offer. The Warriors are expected to respond to the NWAC invitation in the near future.

Meanwhile, Thief River Falls coach Jim Sims and Crookston coach Les Drechsel were named members of a conference "expansion committee" to look into the possibility of adding new members into the NWAC fold.

It's apparent Northwest Conference officials want to expand. Scheduling has been tough for NWAC members who gain only four games with the current conference ties. Additional teams would alleviate most of those scheduling problems.

North Tri County Votes Down Change

North Tri County Conference football coaches once again voted down a proposal that would have made the 10-team conference a nine-man football league in 1976.

Although conference superintendents evenly split their votes 5-5 on the question of changing from 11 to nine-man football, league coaches voted the measure down 7-3.

Ken Ewertz of Goodridge, Joe Dimaggio of Mentor and Ron Johnson of Gonvick were the conference coaches hoping for a transition to nine-man play because of the acute lack of number among several league member schools.

Milaca Field Dedicated To LHS Graduate

Milaca high school athletic field was dedicated this fall to Herbert G. Claffy, a 1945 graduate of Lincoln high school. His father served as superintendent of schools in Thief River Falls at one time.

The plaque dedicating the Milaca field to Claffy reads:

"We, the students of Milaca senior high school proudly present this plaque to commemorate the dedication of the Milaca athletic field to Herbert G. Claffy in recognition of his 20 years as football coach and in honor of his great enthusiasm and faith in the youth of our school."

The plaque was presented October 24, 1975.

Arntson Plays Well For NDSU JV

Arntson, a defensive end, was credited with seven unassisted tackles, 19 assisted stops, two tackles behind the line of scrimmage and one fumble recovery.

The former Cardinal star enjoyed his finest game in the season finale, a 50-20 win over the University of North Dakota junior varsity, when he was credited with two unassisted tackles for losses totaling 19 yards.

NDSU completed its first undefeated junior varsity season this fall with a 4-0 record.

Emerson Resigns As Warren Coach

Howard Emerson, Warren high school football coach for 13 years, asked to be relieved of his coaching duties at the latest meeting of the Warren school board.

Emerson began coaching the Ponies in 1963 after a three-year stay at Plummer. Emerson's Warren teams posted an 89-50-5 accumulative record.

Emerson plans to remain at the school as Warren athletic director.

Karlstad Trips McIntosh-Winger 18-6 In State Class C Playoff Game

Top of the State Conference champion Karlstad won its way into the championship game of the 1975 Minnesota State High School League state Class C football playoffs Friday with a thrilling 18-6 first round win over McIntosh-Winger on the Prowler athletic field in Thief River Falls.

The undefeated Rabbits will meet Esko in a 7:30 p.m. game Friday at Walker in the Class C championship game. Esko crushed Blooming Prairie 32-0 in its first Class C round test.

The Rabbits and Scots lived up to pre-game expectations by providing the large crowd with a steady supply of excitement and good football as the two evenly matched ball clubs slugged it out on even terms throughout most of the game. Only a late Karlstad touchdown with less than two minutes remaining in the game made the final score appear somewhat out of proportion.

Karlstad stunned the defensively-strong McIntosh-Winger squad by marching the game's opening kickoff downfield in startling fashion for an early 6-0 lead.

Steady gains by Rabbit ball carriers Todd Carlson and Rick Olson sparked the drive that was also aided by a 15 yard personal foul penalty against the Scots on a fourth-and-inches play from midfield. Another big first down was supplied by quarterback Dan Sele who completed an 11-yard roll-out pass to Carlson on a third and long yardage play from the McIntosh-Winger 33.

It was the hard-running Olson who finally scored for the Rabbits, as he bulled his way through the middle from six yards out with 6:24 elapsed. Olson was stopped on the two-point conversion run, though.

Karlstad scored what proved to be the games's winning touchdown with just seconds remaining in the first half after a pair of questionable decisions from the McIntosh-Winger bench.

Facing a second-and-14 situation from their own 17-yard-line with 1:35 remaining in the first half, McIntosh-Winger sophomore quarterback Larry Haugen's deep pass into the middle of the field was an easy interception for Karlstad's Wayne Lutz at the Scots' 45.

Moments later Karlstad found itself facing a fourth-and-two call from the McIntosh-Winger 37. The Rabbits were apparently content with a 6-0 halftime lead and were intent upon running out the clock. However, the Scots surprisingly called time-out with 22 seconds left.

Karlstad took advantage of the unusual opportunity to double its lead to 12-0 when Mike Kuznia passed to Todd Carlson from punt formation. Carlson was side open over the middle, accompanied only by a pair of Rabbit teammates as McIntosh-Winger pressed 10 men into the line in an attempt to block the supposed punt.

Chad Burslie, recently voted the most valuable player in the North Tri County Conference, was the one McIntosh-Winger safety on the play. And although he had a clean open-field tackle opportunity, he missed Carlson who stumbled, but regained his balance and stepped into the end zone with just 14 seconds left. Carlson's try for the two-point conversion was stopped.

McIntosh-Winger put together several impressive drives in the third quarter, but wasn't able to produce any points against the bend-but-don't break-type Karlstad defense. The Scots kept the ball in Rabbit territory for nearly all of the third stanza, but had strong drives fizzle out at the Karlstad 10 and 38 yard lines.

The North Tri County Conference champion Scots eventually scored 3:28 into the fourth quarter when yet another impressive march finally got some scoreboard results.

Power-running fullback Mike Dietrich, the Scots' best offensive weapon with 108 yards on 22 carries, spearheaded the 13-play, 60-yard drive. Although Dietrich carried seven times and gained 24 yards on the march, it was a big 33-yard burst on an inside counter play by speedy Carey Burslie that set up the touchdown. Burslie's run carried all the way to the Karlstad six before Lutz brought him down from behind.

Two plays later Dietrich rammed his way through the middle from four yards. The ball w2as fumbled away on the two-point conversion attempt.

McIntosh-Winger's final opportunity to tie or go ahead met with failure at midfield when the Scots were ever-so-close to a first down on a six-yard second down run by Dietrich. However, successive third and fourth down runs by Dietrich with just inches to go for the first down went nowhere and Karlstad took over possession at the McIntosh-Winger 49 with 4:43 left.

Karlstad built its lead to an uncatchable 18-6 margin in seven plays, with Carlson, the game's most productive offensive player with 112 yards in 25 carries, carrying the ball five straight times for 39 yards and a touchdown. He went up and over the middle for the game-clinching touchdown from the one-yard-line with 1:36 to go. Kuznia's placement sailed wide to the left.

Karlstad followed its touchdown with a successful onside kick to run out the clock.

After the game, Karlstad coach Phil Johnson praised the play of his team's offensive line. "Luther Germundson, Neil Germundson and Dan Clark did a real good job for us up front," he said.

The Rabbits also did a good job shutting down the potentially-explosive McIntosh-Winger offense. Except for the strong running of Dietrich, the Scots' offense generally did not threaten the Rabbits. "Luther Germundson, John Downhaur and Clark played well for us defensively," noted Johnson.

TODD CARLSON of Karlstad cradled the ball as he hauled in an 11-yard first down pass from quarterback Dan Sele in the first quarter of Friday night's state Class C football playoff game in Thief River Falls. McIntosh-Winger defensive back Gary Hedlund trailed on the play. The pass reception helped keep the game's opening drive alive for the Rabbits who scored five plays later enroute to an 18-6 win.

1975 NWAC Squad

Olson, Sullivan All-Conference

Olson

Sullivan

Bemidji and Crookston led the ballotting for positions on the 1975 Northwest Conference all-conference football team selected Wednesday as the Lumberjacks and Pirates each landed six players on the honor squad.

Fergus Falls and East Grand Forks were represented by four players each and Thief River Falls was represented by two all-conference picks.

Prowler seniors Bryan Olson and Terry Sullivan were the only Thief River Falls players on the 22-man team. Olson was named as an offensive runningback while Sullivan made the team as an offensive lineman.

Bemidji all-conference ball players, included offensive linemen Ron Gangeness, Brian Mayotte and Jack Schwartz, along with runningback Wayne Marty, defensive back Lee Hanson and defensive lineman Mark Wilcox.

Crookston choices included runningback Bob Ranum, offensive linemen Tim Coautte and Joel Friederichs, defensive backs Brad LaFriniere and Joel Rood and defensive linemen Steve Kirchoffner.

Fergus Falls was represented on the all-conference squad by runningback Mike Thomas, offensive lineman Jeff Leitcher, defensive back Mike Haroldson and defensive lineman Steve Blondeau.

East Grand Forks all-conference selections included defensive backs Todd Mishler and Scott Selk and defensive lineman Rick Beck and John Mero.

For the second consecutive year, there were no repeat selections in the all-conference voting by the conference coaches.

Crookston Wins Sub Region 8 Volleyball

Host Crookston captured championship honors Saturday in the three-team Sub Region Eight AA girls' volleyball tournament.

Crookston blanked Thief River Falls 2-0 in the tournament championship match, claiming 18-13 and 18-11 wins.

Thief River Falls edged East Grand Forks 2-1 in the meet's first round match while the top-seeded Crookston squad received a bye. East Grand Forks won the first game 18-14 before the Prowlers rebounded with back-to-back wins.

Coach Cindy Vennes' Prowlers finished the 1975 season with a 7-9 overall record.

Thief River Falls regular season wins were posted over Crookston Cathedral 2-1, East Grand Forks 2-1 and 2-1, Stephen 2-0, Alvarado 2-0 and Climax 2-0.

Prowler regular season losses came at the hands of Moorhead 2-0, Fisher 2-1, Crookston 2-0 and 2-1, Red Lake Falls 2-1, Goodridge 2-1 and Fosston 2-0.

Crookston, by virtue of its Sub Region championship, will advance to the 1975 Region Eight AA volleyball tournament scheduled to be held Saturday at Moorhead.

NCC Volleyball Team Completes Regular Season

Northland community college women's volleyball team finished its 1975 regular season schedule Friday by competing in a quadrangular meet at Vermilion.

Coach Deb Jacobson's Northland squad beat Rainy River 2-0, but fell to Vermilion 2-1 and lost to Brainerd 2-0.

The rest of the day's action found Brainerd dominating play as the Raiders blanked Rainy River, Vermilion and Northland by identical 2-0 scores. Vermilion edged Rainy River 2-1 in the meet's other match.

KARLSTAD HALFBACK Todd Carlson struggled to gain additional yardage while being brought down by a McIntosh-Winger defender during Friday night's state Class C football playoff game in Thief River Falls. Carey Burslie of the Scots is about to help out on the stop. Carlson starred for the Rabbits by scoring two touchdowns and rushing for 112 yards to spark Karlstad's 18-6 win.

Brian Johnston Of TRF Second In Vikings PPK

Brian Johnston of Thief River Falls was a runner-up finisher in the nine-year-old division Sunday in the Vikings' area Punt, Pass and Kick football competition.

Brian, son of Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Johnston of Thief River Falls, was the nine-year-old leader after the place kicking and punting events, but slipped in the passing finale held at halftime of the Vikings-Atlanta Falcons NFL football game at Metropolitan Stadium in Bloomington.

Steady rain made passing difficult, reported Wally Tunberg, representative of Tunberg Motor company, local sponsor of the nation-wide Ford motor company event. Brian's strong suit had been passing when he won the Thief River Falls area, the Grand Forks district and the Moorhead zone Punt, Pass and Kick events.

Cross Country Captains Named For 1976 Season

Tony Brosseau and John Albrecht were elected co-captains of the 1976 Lincoln high school cross country team Thursday at the squad's annual post-season awards banquet.

Several individual awards were presented by Prowler coach Russ Smith who named Dan Heleren as the team's most valuable runner; Paul Phelps, most improved; Dave Giaque, most improved junior varsity runner; Kevin Murphy, most valuable junior high school runner; and Dan Kezar, recipient of the coach's award.

Bob Fitzgerald and Greg Brosseau were elected co-captains of the 1976 junior high school cross country squad.

Bill McGann addressed the overflow crowd of players, parents and friends as the banquet guest speaker.

Smith presented 1975 letters to 10 runners, including seniors Ron Erickson, Mike Nessen, Giaque, Heleren and Kezar; juniors Brosseau and Culkins; and sophomores Albrecht, Phelps and Steve Geatz.

NCC Basketball, Hockey Season Tickets On Sale

Northland community college athletic director Al Adams announced that Northland basketball and hockey season tickets are now on sale for the upcoming 1975-76 season.

Torkelson, Gustafson Are Named Plummer Football Co-Captains

Plummer high school football coach Gary Brantl has announced that Carl Torkelson and Todd Gustafson, a pair of 1975 juniors, have been named co-captains of the 1976 Cardinal football team.

Torkelson was named winner of several post-season awards as the Cardinals put the finishing touches on their fine 6-3 1975 football season. Torkelson was named the team's most valuable player and was also selected as the squad's best defensive player in addition to being named co-captain of the 1976 squad.

Junior Tom Martell was named the team's outstanding offensive ball player this fall. Sophomores Jerry Fisher and Dan Willett were named co-winners of the team's most improved player award, making it a clean sweep of the awards for Plummer underclassmen.

Plummer won its first six ball games to start the 1975 season in impressive fashion. The Cardinals beat Clearbrook 20-18, Gonvick 8-0, Goodridge 25-16, Grygla 27-0, Erskine 14-0 and Mentor 27-0.

However, three straight season-ending losses to McIntosh-Winger 32-6, Middle River 20-12 and Oklee 24-0 cost the Cardinals the North Tri County Conference North Division pennant.

Martell was the sparkplug of the Plummer offense as the hard-running back carried the ball 150 times for 809 yards and nine touchdowns. He averaged 5.1 yards per carry.

John Greenwald, yet another sophomore for the youthful Cardinals, rushed for 503 yards. The speedy halfback carried the ball 84 times for a healthy six-yard average. He scored four touchdowns.

Torkelson, who played both as a backfield performer and a lineman, rushed for 287 yards and sported an impressive 10.6 yard average. Fisher, the Cardinal quarterback, added 118 yards on the ground.

Other Cardinal ball carriers included senior Dave Walter with 78 yeards, sophomore Kyle Adolphson with 72 yards and sophomore Martin Hess with 36 yards. Plummer totaled 1,904 yards on the ground averaging an eye-opening 5.9 yards per carry. The Cardinals scored 14 touchdowns by rushing.

Fisher completed 43 of 120 pass attempts for 555 yards and four touchdowns. Martell tried five passes and completed two of them for 35 yards to hike the Cardinal team totals to 45 completions in 125 attempts for 590 yards.

Walter did most of the pass catching for the Cardinals as he hauled in 17 passes for 240 yards and one touchdown. He averaged 14.1 yards per catch.

Sophomore Stan Tvedt caught eight passes for 91 yards and two touchdowns to rank second to Walter in the receiving charts. Martell caught six passes for 84 yards, Adolphson hauled in six for 72, Greenwald four for 66, sophomore Martin Hesse three for 17 and Fisher one for 20.

Martell led the Plummer scoring charts with 11 touchdowns and 66 points. Greenwald totaled 26 points, Tvedt 14, Walter and Adolphson eight each, Torkelson and Fisher six each, senior Mark Genereux three (conversion kicks) and Hesse two.

Plummer out-scored nine opponents 139-110. The Cardinals averaged 15.4 points per game while giving up an average of 12.2 points per contest.

Torkelson finished atop the Plummer defensive point scoring charts with 64 unassisted tackles, 57 assisted stops and two interceptions (one for a touchdown) for 209 defensive points.

Willett ranked second to Torkelson in the defensive charts with 64 unassisted tackles and 69 assisted stops for 200 points.

Other high-scoring Plummer defenders included Martell with 51 unassisted tackles, 35 assisted tackles, one fumble recovery, one interception and one touchdown for 157 points; Gustafson with 41 unassisted tackles, 52 assisted stops, two fumble recoveries and two interceptions for 150 points; senior Steve Rosten with 34 unassisted tackles, 22 assisted stops and five blocked kicks for 116 points; junior Erwin Marty with 28 unassisted tackles, 31 assisted stops and five recoveries for 110 points; and senior Neil Konickson with 33 unassisted tackles, 29 assisted stops and two fumble recoveries for 103 points.

The rest of the Cardinal defensive point scorers include Hesse with 79, Walter 71, Greenwald 52, Adolphson 42, Tvedt 39, senior Dean Hesse 26, junior Tom Willett 20, sophomore Bob Brekke 19, junior Jim Lundy 13, sophomore Randy Konickson 13, freshman Craig Pahlen 11 and Fisher with 11.

Larry Coltom . . .

Team Arctic's Most Consistent Winner

(Third in a five-part series dealing with the individuals involved with the 1975-76 Team Arctic snowmobile racing team.)

Larry Coltom

As he enters his eighth season, 31-year-old Larry Coltom is the most consistent winner in the history of Arctic Enterprises and is among snowmobile racing's top two all-time for total first, seconds and thirds.

Larry's name invariably comes up in discussions about racing and it's usually accompanied by superlatives.

Says former teammate Charlie Lofton: "Larry's pre-race concentration is incredible. He watches the track like a hawk to see how snow conditions are changing. If he thinks it's necessary to change something just minutes before a race, he will."

"If Larry gets a good starting position, a good hole, then gets to the corner first, he'll have the race. Then he drives his own race. He's sharp enough they ain't gonna go by him," says Lofton.

Coltom is known for his best work in the corners, a sure sign of a veteran sledder. If he's not out in front he'll be sure the guy in front of him sees him, just to get a psychological edge.

If he doesn't get a good hole shot, Coltom "will lay back in the weeds," says one opponent. He'll come up on your tail when you're in a corner hoping you'll make a mistake. Coltom watches an opponent take two or three turns, study any weaknesses and then waits for a mistake or makes a move that'll cause a mistake in a less-experienced driver.

Coltom enjoys solitude on the day of the big race. He'll draw inward, hardly saying a thing to anyone. When the flag drops, off goes one of the sport's most tactical, accomplished drivers. In over 100 races, he's never missed a race since starting the sport in the 1967-68 season.

Coming into the last race of the 1974-75 season, Coltom was 24 points behind the leader for top point getter of the year. But Larry blew a belt and fell short of the coveted snowmobile race driver of the year award. His 1975 Eagle River performance stole the show. He won the Grand Slam in the 340 and 440 and 440X classes, but he fell a belt short of the world championship when his fourth machine, a 650, blew a belt.

When he won the 340, he had barely qualified in the heat race. But a tightened track and suspension and—whoosh—Coltom was gone, winning the finals by a big margin.

Although it's not hard to get those around Larry Coltom to talk about him, it's hard to get Larry to talk about himself. A native of Strathcona, Coltom is very soft-spoken under penetrating, thoughtful eyes. He sums himself up with two basic philosophies:

"I guess I'd like to consider myself as being in the ball game all the time. You gotta be in there all the time.

But you can't win the whole ball game by yourself. You've got to rely on the engineers. It's a team effort."

Coltom and the rest of the Team Arctic race unit will open the 1975-76 season December 13-14 at Ironwood, Mich.

Onamia Takes 21-14 Win Over Indians

Onamia built a 14-0 first quarter lead and held on to outlast Mahnomen 21-14 in a Minnesota state Class B football playoff game Friday at Walker.

Juel Thompson and Jim Scott scored first quarter touchdowns for the Great River Conference champion Warriors. Thompson scored on a 21-yard pass from quarterback Bob Bloomquist and Scott added a one-yard touchdown plunge. Bloomquist place kicked both conversion tries.

Mahnomen, winner of the Pine to Prairie Conference, sliced the difference to 14-6 by halftime and quarterback Paul Muckenhirn went in from a yard out in the second quarter.

Onamia built its lead back to 21-6 when Scott scored on a two-yard run in the fourth quarter, followed by a Bloomquist kick.

Mahnomen was then held at bay until just 40 seconds remained in the ball game when Tom Kaste hauled in a 25-yard touchdown pass from Muckenhirn. John Otto caught the two-point conversion pass from Muckenhirn to narrow the gap to 21-14, but an onside kick on the ensuing kickoff was controlled by Onamia who ran out the clock.

Onamia enjoyed a statistical advantage as the Warriors out-rushed Mahnomen 162-42 and out-passed the Indians 144-133. Onamia held a 13-11 first down edge.

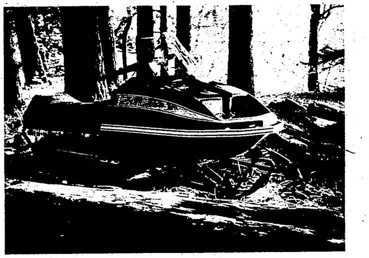
Mahnomen finished its season with a 10-1 record.

MSHSL Football Title Pairings, Sites Announced

Championship game pairings and sites have been announced by the Minnesota State High School League for the fourth annual MSHSL state football playoffs.

First round playoff results last week found Richfield beating Rochester John Marshall 14-6 while Stillwater crushed St. Paul Harding 31-7 in Class AA; St. Thomas Academy blanked Hibbing 17-0 and St. Peter ripped Montevideo 41-8 in Class A; Onamia edged Mahnomen 21-14 and Gaylord stopped Granite Falls 23-12 in Class B; Karlstad tripped McIntosh-Winger 18-6 and Esko shutout Blooming Prairie 32-0 in Class C; and Ruthton downed Welcome 29-20 and Audubon outlasted LaPorte 44-40 in nine-man play.

Championship games scheduled to be played Friday at 7:30 p.m. will send Richfield against Stillwater in Class AA at Parade Stadium in St. Paul; St. Peter faces St. Thomas Academy in Class A at the college of St. Thomas in St. Paul; Gaylord plays Onamia in Class B at St. Cloud Apollo; Karlstad meets Esko in Class C at Walker; and Ruthton takes on Audubon in nine-man at Cottonwood.



IF YOU CAN'T WAIT TO HIT THE TRAIL,
WE CAN'T WAIT TO TELL YOU ABOUT THE JAG.

Yep, if you're into trail riding, we can't wait to get you out on a Jag. It's the new trail-happy Cat.

Built short and wide and light – so you can really throw your weight around.

Built quick and nimble, with the kind of easy maneuverability that darn near seems to straighten out a twisting trail.

Built responsive, too. With a choice of two trail-ready Spirit engines: A Series 2000 or 3000. Both with hot CD ignitions.

And we can't wait to tell you about Jag's dollar-stretchin' economy, either. The kind of gas mileage that gives you a trail range of up to [illegible] good time miles.

And the kind of penny-pinchin' purchase price that makes Jag a perfect starter sled. Or second machine.

Hey, but Jag's no nickel-dimer when it comes to [illegible] counting goodies. It's loaded with great Arctic features. Like classic Cat styling, an adjustable slide rail suspension, a beefed-up [illegible] cleated track, disc brakes and a hexagon drive clutch.

So listen, if you can't wait to hit the trail, don't wait to see your Arctic Cat dealer. Tell him you want to go on a good time, trail ridin' Jag.

Card of Thanks

In this way I want to thank all those who were so nice to me while I was a patient at the Northwestern hospital in Thief River Falls a few months back.

I especially want to thank Dr. Bray and the nurses for their kindness and wonderful care of me.

Thanks to all those who brought flowers, to those who came to visit me, to all who sent cards, letters and good wishes, and to the many who prayed in my behalf.

Also a special thanks to Rev. Merle Knutson for his visits and his prayers. My sincerest thanks!

LEGAL NOTICE

Nov. 10, 17, 24, 1975
Order for Hearing on Petition for General Administration
State of Minnesota,
County of Pennington—ss.
IN COUNTY COURT
PROBATE DIVISION
IN THE MATTER OF THE ESTATE OF Sophie Howick, Decedent.

IT IS ORDERED that the petition for general administration filed herein and any objections filed thereto be heard on December 2, 1975, at 10:30 o'clock A.M. by this court in the courthouse in Thief River Falls, Minnesota. That, if proper, at said time and place a representative will be appointed to administer the estate, who shall collect all assets and file an inventory thereof, pay all legal debts, claims, and taxes, and expenses of administration, and sell such real and personal property as may be necessary and for the best interests of the estate. Upon completion of administration, the representative shall file a final account for allowance and shall distribute the estate to the persons thereunto entitled as ordered by the court and do all other acts to close the estate.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, that creditors of decedent file their claims in this court within sixty (60) days from the date hereof and that said claims be heard on January 7, 1976, at 10:00 o'clock A.M. by this court in the courthouse in Thief River Falls, Minnesota.

Dated November 5, 1975.

Card of Thanks

In this way I want to thank all those who were so nice to me while I was a patient at the Northwestern hospital in Thief River Falls a few months back. I especially want to thank Dr. Bray and the nurses for their kindness and wonderful care of me.

Thanks to all those who brought flowers, to those who came to visit me, to all who sent cards, letters and good wishes, and to the many who prayed in my behalf.

Also a special thanks to Rev. Merle Knutson for his visits and his prayers. My sincerest thanks!

7th District DFL Announces Mock Caucus Workshop

Seventh district DFL affirmative action commission has scheduled a workshop on precinct caucus procedure and a special media training session for Friday beginning at 1 p.m., at the Viking motel in Alexandria.

The workshop is designed to provide the public with the skills necessary to participate effectively in the 1976 political process from the precinct caucuses through the national convention where the Democratic presidential candidate will be nominated.

The caucus procedure training will offer information and materials on parliamentary procedure, the DFL proportional voting system, and the function of party officers and committees.

The media training session will offer useful tips on the writing of press releases, letters to the editor and uses of the electronic media.

The workshop is open to the public at no charge as a part of the Minnesota DFL affirmative action effort to increase attendance and participation in the 1976 precinct caucuses; especially among those who have been under-represented in the party in the past. Community organizations are extended a special invitation to participate.

32 Area Students Enrolled At 'U' Of North Dakota

A total of 32 students from Pennington county are among the 961 Minnesotans enrolled at the Grand Forks campus of the University of North Dakota for the first semester of the 1975-76 year.

One student from St. Hilaire, Donn Myhrer, was listed among those students whose parents reside in this county, while the remainder are from Thief River Falls, including: Randy Amundgaard, Sheila Anderson, Elaine Bergem, Heidi Bornholdt, Margaret Buck, Sheldon Buck, Berna Engelman, Richard Farmes and Sherry Hjelle.

Also, David Horken, Bruce Howick, Thomas Jones, Marshall Kays, Thomas Kays, LaVonne Knutson, Shelly Langlie, Vicki Matthey, Kenneth Moen, Steven Mosbeck and Mary Nelson.

Also, Allen Nichols, Jeffrey Olson, Mark Ostgarden, Gordon Prichard, LouAnn Rondorf, Arlo Rude, Jerroll Sillerud, Pamela Smith, Jeff Tunberg, Stuart Waltonen and Douglas Williams.

University officials say they expect even larger numbers of Minnesota students to enroll at UND as the full impact of tuition reciprocity is felt. Under the new reciprocity agreement, students in the two states may attend college in their neighboring state at resident rates. At UND, for example, undergraduate students from Minnesota pay $264 per semester, compared to $628 paid by students from other states.

ENGULFED IN FLAMES is this $100,000 bulldozer which struck and ruptured a pipeline about five miles northwest of Viking on Thursday afternoon. The machine was owned by Earl Voytilla and being operated by his brother Darrell when it hit the 18-inch Lakehead Pipe Line company line carrying a natural gas liquid. Darrell Voytilla escaped from the machine without injury and the escaping fuel from the pipeline was later ignited, causing loss of the tractor.

Dates Set For Conference On Rural America

July 15, 16 and 17, 1976, have been chosen as the dates for a Crookston-based conference on rural America—self determination and policy development. The three-day conference is a project of the Crookston Bicentennial commission, announced Jacqueline Bergan and Audrey Eickhof, conference co-chairpersons.

Local attendance and participation is necessary for the conference to be successful, states Bergan. All facets of the Crookston community were represented in choosing the July dates—Ray Ecklund from city government, John Wosepka from the Crookston Bicentennial commission, Lyle Kiel from agriculture, Provost S.D. Sahlstrom and Steve Kraatz from education, Sr. Mary Magdelene from the ministerial association, and Bergan from the conference committee.

In addition to this major conference, the overall conference format includes eight mini conferences, Eickhof explained. Each will define and examine the issues to be presented at July's major conference. The area mini conferences involving agricultural and community organizations will combine presentations by specialists in areas of concern with local discussions and further educational efforts. The first of these mini conferences will be on November 24 and will deal with education.

Local farmers and rural community residents, as well as concerned professionals from around this country and Canada, will be invited to participate throughout the conference. Speakers and participants will seriously look at the past, present and future of rural America by studying the Red River Valley, the chairpersons add.

Those attending will also develop recommendations for legislative action and serve as a rural platform for policy determination.

Local Man In NATO Exercise In Germany

First lieutenant Ronald B. Runger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Runger of this city recently took part in "Crested Cap 75", a North Atlantic treaty organization (NATO) training exercise in Germany.

Lieutenant Runger is a pilot at Holloman AFB, N.M., with the dual based 49th tactical fighter wing whose units deployed to the European continent for the month-long maneuvers.

Flying non-stop from Holloman, 96 Nato-committed F-4 Phantom fighter-bombers were refueled en route by Strategic air command KC-135 stratotankers. Airlift of maintenance and support specialists was provided by Military airlift command C-130 Hercules and C-141 Starlifter aircraft.

The exercise was designed to maintain aircrew proficiency in instrument flying and radar bombing in support of allied forces in Europe.

Lieutenant Runger, a 1969 graduate of Lincoln high school, received a B.S. degree in 1973 from the University of North Dakota where he was commissioned through the Air force reserve officers training corps program.

His wife, Sandra, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Ness, also of Thief River Falls.

NWCA Receives Grant For Home Winterization

Northwest community action, Inc. has received a grant from the community service administration to be used exclusively for the energy saver program. Bulk of the funds will be spent for supplies to provide the elderly, handicapped and people on fixed incomes with assistance in winterizing their homes.

The energy saver program has been in existence for seven months and has thus far helped 63 low income families winterize their homes. In an effort to save energy, local carpenter helpers have been hired by the agency are insulating, sealing and repairing homes.

You can help the energy saver program at Northwest community action, inc. with donations such as labor, materials, tools and storage space.

The use of donated materials will help lower the cost of repairs and more area homes can then be winterized.

Anyone in the three and one-half counties of Northwest community action, Inc. which includes Kittson, East Marshall, Roseau and Lake of the Woods county wanting to help or applying for this program should contact the Outreach coordinator and the Outreach aides in your area or the Energy coordinator, Ray L. Beauchamp at Badger, MN, phone 528-3258.

Kidney Transplant Innovations Help 'U' To Save Lives

by Jeannie Hanson
U of M News Service

University of Minnesota's kidney transplant program, through which hundreds of operations are performed each year, is an innovative operation.

Rural people are being helped in greater numbers than ever before. Pioneering work is being done with diabetics. Consistent nursing and careful coordination of patient services are being provided and anti-rejection drugs and inoculations are being developed.

The result: more lives are being saved through kidney transplantation.

As recently as 1972, rural Americans received fewer kidney transplants than urban patients, according to Roberta Simmons, associate professor of sociology at the University of Minnesota. Now, the University is treating more rural Minnesotans than any other geographic group.

Rural areas also provide 25 to 30 per cent of the donor kidneys received at the University via the kidney "transport system," according to Dr. Richard Howard, medical fellow in the department of surgery.

Rural Minnesotans who need dialysis (use of an artificial kidney machine) rather than a kidney transplant can now be referred to chronic dialysis centers near their homes. There are five rural and four urban dialysis centers in Minnesota, according to Jo Bertram, volunteer service coordinator for the Kidney Foundation of the upper midwest. Rural centers are in Willmar, Hibbing, Duluth, Albert Lea and Little Falls.

Diabetics are another group well served by the University. Potential kidney transplant recipients with diabetes have additional problems with vascular disease, potential blindness and viral infections that make kidney transplantation more difficult for them.

"Until last year we were the only place in the country that would even do kidney transplants on diabetics," said Dr. John Najarian, professor and chairman of the department of surgery and head of the transplant unit at the University. "We're in the process of proving that it actually is not harder. Our success rates are only five to 10 per cent lower than with nondiabetic transplant recipients."

Diabetics come thousands of miles for transplants at Minnesota. More than 30 have received the life-sustaining operation this year.

Both before and after kidney transplant operations, the nursing service at the University is consistent. Many institutions rotate nurses through the transplant station, but University of Minnesota nurses remain there, becoming expert in the care of kidney transplant patients.

To further ensure the best possible service to patients, the University's transplant coordination office, directed by Justine Willmert, organizes all aspects of patient care from dialysis through follow-up. A kidney transplant patient sees the same doctor during the entire process, for example.

Perhaps the most dramatic benefit to patients results from the new "anti-rejection" drugs developed at the University. These work to control the body's tendency to reject a new kidney as "foreign tissue."

University kidney experts have been working since 1967 on a purified serum that uses horse blood plasma. Now near final evaluation, ALG (anti-lymphocyte globulin) kills the blood cells that produce the antibodies that attack the new kidney's cells. Yet ALG does not damage other cells.

"The University began serious work on the serum when Dr. Najarian arrived—he was committed to its use," said Dr. Richard Condie, director of the ALG program. "No transplant patient has ever died during the time ALG was being administered."

The University's ALG is original, using a different antigen than is used at other institutions. The serum is more potent, and it is pure enough to be given intravenously in the large doses necessary to protect the new kidney. Only five per cent of the kidney recipients develop allergic reactions to it, in contrast to the 40 to 50 per cent who develop allergies to serums used elsewhere.

As many other institutions use the University's serum as can afford to make or buy it, according to Dr. Richard Simmons, professor of surgery and microbioloby. A year's supply for the University itself costs about $100,000 and involves the work of 20 people. Development of ALG was funded by the National institutes of health.

Another new drug, perlactin, is currently being investigated to determine its effectiveness in minimizing the action of the antibodies that harm the new kidney.

Also being studied is injection of blood platelets from a kidney donor into potential recipient before the transplant operation. Like an inoculation or vaccination, this may enable the recipient to become accustomed to the "foreign" cells gradually.

Kidney transplantation has improved dramatically since the first successful operation in Boston in 1961. The University of Minnesota began transplanting kidneys in 1963 and has been innovating ever since.

Why is Minnesota so well known for the number and success of its kidney transplants? Richard Simmons may have said it best: "It's because of a million small things."

Trees And Vines Help Conserve Energy Supplies

Americans have often been described as people who regard nature as a "mother" who, scooping from the depths of a bottomless reservoir, unfailingly pours out riches upon her insatiable children. Today we, the children, are "orphans," someone has suggested, because there no longer exists a boundless "mother" who beckons to our every need. We are, so to speak, on our own and we must make do with the resources at hand if we are to survive.

If the image is apt, it is especially so in regard to our use of fossil fuels—coal, oil, gas—whose limited and irreplaceable supplies we are consuming at an ever-increasing rate.

Fortunately, however, there are other resources in nature available to us which can be our allies in conserving the exhaustible energy supplies. The most useful of these resources is one which is available in almost unlimited quantity, providing we are prudent and patient stewards of it.

That resource, of course, is plant life—especially trees, shrubs and vines. According to the American Association of Nurserymen, these abundant gifts of nature are among the most effective energy conservers at our disposal.

Take heat conservation, for example. Tests conducted in South Dakota demonstrated that a house bordered on the north, east and west sides by trees which functioned as windbreaks consumed 40-per cent less fuel than a fully exposed house—a truly remarkable savings.

A related discovery is that a hedge or tree windbreak is far more effective than a solid wall of masonry or wood. This surprising fact was proven in tests which showed that the solid wall lifts the wind up over itself and causes turbulence on the lee side, whereas the shrubs let enough wind pass through to dissipate the force of the down draft.

Conserving air conditioning energy is another important function plant life can perform. One need only walk into a forest on a hot day to realize that trees are nature's air conditioners.

Properly shaded houses have less need for costly air-conditioning. Even where air conditioners have been installed, they need work only half as much to do their job in a shaded house in comparison to one on which the sun beats down unimpeded upon walls and roof. Differences of eight degrees have been recorded between shaded and unshaded outdoor surfaces.

The best shade trees are the deciduous ones whose leaves appear in spring in time for the hot season and are shed before winter so that the sun can get through to aid in heating the house. For most effective cooling, trees should be planted on the south and west sides of the house.

For cooling effect in summer, deciduous vines are another useful insulator. Among the best are such species as Boston ivy and Virginia creeper whose broad leaves intercept the sun's rays, while behind them a current carries the warm air up and away from the wall. Those vines grown on south and west walls bring maximum cooling results. For winter heat insulation, English ivy, whose leaves are not shed, is a good specie and should be grown on the north wall.

Vines can be grown safely on brick walls but are destructive to frame buildings because the vines tend to hold moisture in favoring rot. However, a cooling effect can be obtained by twining vines like wisteria or climbing roses on trellises which are attached to the house.

For advice on the best plants to install in your yard, consult your local nursery garden center. They can suggest the proper greenery to enable you to effect long range economic savings and, at the same time, aid in conserving our world's precious energy resources.

Making Tracks For 20th World Tractor Pull

Clouds of dust and diesel smoke are thick in Lake Crystal as preparations get underway for a prime farmfest 76 attraction at Lake Crystal.

Farm tractors, giant earth-moving equipment and even farmfest's own semi truck are hard at it, loading, hauling, leveling and packing 3,600 yards of clay into a three-foot thick base for the 20th world championship tractor pull next fall.

Director Ed Hart and field operations chief Doug Leith have staked out twin tracks below Farmfest's big hillside ampitheater. Trucking in yellow clay from a mile away, crews hope to finish the football-field sized operation before the snow flies this year.

More than 300 entries and several hundred thousand spectators from across the nation are expected for the pull. Slated for the first four of Farmfest 76's seven big days, Sept. 13-19, 1976, it will feature four classes each of superstock and modified tractors. Gate charge for the exhibition includes admission to the pull and to all other "World Series of Agriculture" events and entertainment.

Farm credit banks of St. Paul and Midland cooperatives are co-sponsoring the meet, which is sanctioned by the National tractor pullers assn. Rights were provided by the M & W gear co. of Gibson City, Ill., whose founder, Elmo Meiners, was the originator of the world pull and its sole sponsor for 19 years.

Soil movers, inc., of Columbus Neb., provided leveling and scraping rigs. Allis Chalmers recently donated a tractor, which is also at work on the pull track project.

Prove Smoking "Pot" Affects Driving Ability

For a long time, "Feeling high? Don't drive!" has been good advice to people who drink alcoholic beverages. It's equally good advice to people who smoke marihuana.

Most "pot" smokers, like most people who drink, will probably acknowledge that their reflexes and coordination slow down when they use the drug.

Some, however, may maintain that getting "high" has no effect on their driving ability. New scientific tests show that they are wrong.

In simulated driving tests in laboratories, people who take doses of marihuana are notably slower at braking and starting and shift gears less often than they would normally. The bigger the dose, the slower their performance becomes.

Similar results have now been reported from tests of marihuana smokers' performance on a driving course and in actual city traffic. These tests are part of an extensive marihuana research program being conducted by the National institute on drug abuse, a component of HEW's alcohol, drug abuse, and mental health administration.

On the driving course, participants first had the chance to get to know the route—and its pitfalls—through repeated road tests. After they smoked marihuana, their learning and their scores declined nearly one-third for those who smoked mild cigarettes and more than one-half for those getting stronger doses.

In actual traffic situations, not all drivers were affected, but there was a significant decline in performance among those who smoked the most potent marihuana cigarettes.

Unusual behavior noted by observers at the cars' dual controls included: Missing of traffic lights and stop signs, careless passing, little notice paid to pedestrians or stationary vehicles.

Furthermore, marihuana use increased the drivers' heart rates, thus adding to stress while driving.

The scientists conducting the driving study concluded: "Driving under the influence of marihuana should be avoided as much as driving under the influence of alcohol."

There are at present no means similar to the "breathalizer" test, used to examine the level of alcohol in a driver's system, to determine at roadside if a marihuana smoker is too "high" to drive safely. However, there may be in the future. Research is underway to develop methods of detecting and measuring the level of marihuana in a person's body, possibly through an instant saliva test, a variation of the breathalizer, or some other technique.

Students May Apply For Mason Scholarships

Eight cash scholarships totaling $5,000 again will be offered by the Grand Lodge of Masons in Minnesota to 1976 graduates of Minnesota public high schools, it was announced by grand master Archibald Duncan of Mahtomedi.

Deadline for receipt of applications through Minnesota high schools has been set for Feb. 1, 1976, with the presentation to take place during the Grand Lodge annual meeting next April in St. Paul.

This is the fourteenth year for the Minnesota Masonic scholarship award which is a grant and not a loan.

For 1976 there will again be two scholarships in the amount of $1,000 each and six others for $500. The funds are to be used for the winner's advanced education expense.

The scholarships are offered to seniors graduating next year from public high schools in Minnesota. Each school is asked to select one boy and one girl who will be the school's nominees. Officers of the local Masinc lodge will assist the school if called upon.

Application forms already have been sent to the schools, and they may be obtained from the school principal or counselor. The seniors are asked to submit brief statements on what their plans (short-range and long-range) are.

The local high school screening commiteee with select one boy and one girl whose application is to be forwarded to the Masonic public school scholarship committee, St. Paul Masonic center, 200 east Plato blvd., St. Paul, MN 55107, by the February 1 deadline for review and evaluation by the committee.

It was emphasized that students intending to enroll at technical and vocational institutes, vocational schools and community colleges are as eligible as those who plan to attend a state university or traditional liberal arts college.

Grand master Duncan stated, "In a program of this nature Minnesota Masons are able to assist not only the verbally articulate and those who are gifted with a literary flair, but those who talents lead toward a variety of goals.

"At the last session of our Grand lodge we presented scholarships to a prospective accountant, doctor, dental hygienist, engineer, sociologist, psychologist (with an interest in those with learning disabilities) and a student of agriculture."

PTSA Hires Its 1st Director Of Field Services

Minnesota PTA, now PTSA, has hired a director of field services. Not only new in Minnesota, this kind of position is a first across the nation.

Phil Gustafson, the new director, has served Minnesota schools for 16 years as a teacher, coach, counselor and administrator. He is certified with majors in science, physical education, history, secondary school administration and the superintendency.

The past two years he served the Minnesota association of secondary school principals as assistant executive secretary. In this capacity he coordinated and conducted workshops, seminars, programs and conventions as well as being a registered lobbyist, and executive secretary for the Minnesota association of student councils. Gustafson has voluntarily served PTA as an officer at the local and district level for the past eleven years.

KCs Begin 75th Year In Minn. With Initiation

State deputy Gayne Maloney of Fridley has announced the beginning of the Knights of Columbus state council diamond jubilee year celebration with the initiation of 579 new members into the Knights of Columbus throughout the state over the past two weekends.

Although St. Paul council 397 and Minneapolis council 435 were chartered earlier, the state council received its charter in 1901. At present, there are 168 local councils with a total statewide membership of over 44,000 members.

Farm Prosperity Decides Rural America Future

"Rural America will have no future unless agriculture receives its full share of prosperity," declared Minnesota commissioner of agriculture Jon Wefald at the kick-off for the Conference on rural America.

The news conference and informational meeting was held last week at Crookston Central high school auditorium. Speakers included U.S. Rep. Bob Bergland, Minnesota Sen. Roger Moe, Minnesota Rep. Bill Kelly, along with Wefald.

Rep. Bergland, one of the keynote speakers, stated, "If any program is going to work, local leadership must take charge. If you don't, who will? Either no one or someone who doesn't understand your problems," Bergland added.

"The future of the Red River Valley is extremely dependent on the future prosperity of the farmers and ranchers in it," the other keynote speaker, Wefald, continued. Wefald charged farmers to begin thinking of themselves as businessmen. "You hold raw materials (Red River Valley farmland) more valuable than oil."

"Purpose of the conference," according to Jacqueline Bergan, who is co-chairperson along with Audrey Eickhof, "is to achieve closer contact and on-going communication between rural residents and the legislature."

"The program, hopefully, will provide state and federal legislatures with recommendations from the growing rural sector as more people return to rural areas," added Eickhof.

Rep. Kelly commented, "The conference is another vehicle, and I hope a productive one, for us to hear from the people we happen to represent."

Purpose of the kick-off conference was to introduce the year-long program and the issues it will deal with to the public. Legislators were on hand to help define the issues and show their support of the program.

Among issues to be dealt with during the six mini-sessions and a major conference in July are: Who forms policy for rural America? Is rural America represented fairly in the legislative process? Can rural people present a unified vote? Rural America's share of the economic pie.

The public information forum was attended by more the 150 area residents. All interested parties are urged to attend future meetings and paritcipate, Eickhof encouraged. "The conference is people working together."

Sen. Moe concluded his comments, stating that "planning and participation are the important things. You are the people who have to do it."

"We were exceptionally pleased with our kick-off event. Attendance was good—legislators support was terrific—we're off to a great start," expressed Bergan.

"Interest shown by press representatives at the news conference was also good," commented publicity coordinator Jim Hodgson. Print and broadcast media came from the Red River Valley—even from Manitoba—and Minneapolis. "The news media will play a large role in informing rural residents about the issues. This expression of interest by the press is encouraging," he added.

The next mini-conference is planned for November 20 in Crookston. The major topic is education.

Program On Pension Reform Act Offered

A video-cassette program on the provisions of the employee retirement income security act of 1974, (ERISA) is now being scheduled for showing at regular and special meetings of community service, social, fraternal and labor organizations.

R.C. DeMarco, assistant regional director for Labor management services, announced that the program is being presented as a part of the department's technical assistance and public information efforts. Employees and their dependents will learn what the new law attempts to do to provide protections and guarantees for those rights and benefits that have been established by their private welfare and pension plans. The law assigns responsibility to the secretary of labor for the establishment of adminstrative and enforcement programs to protect such rights.

In addition to the slide-cassette presentation, an ERISA compliance officer is being assigned to answer specific questions, and to distribute Department of labor ERISA information material that participants can take home to discuss with their families.

Scheduling information can be obtained by writing to the Chicago regional office of the labor management services administration, room 1033-B, Federal office building, 230 South Dearborn street, Chicago, Ill. 60604.

FANCY THAT!
SOME SAY THAT GRADUATES WEAR FOUR-CORNERED HATS -- OR MORTARBOARDS -- BECAUSE FRENCH STUDENTS 600 YEARS AGO STUDIED FOUR SUBJECTS -- ARITHMETIC, GEOMETRY, ASTRONOMY AND MUSIC. OTHERS SAY THE HAT WAS DESIGNED TO PROTECT ENGLISH GRADUATES FROM THE RAIN!
THERE WAS A TIME WHEN GRADUATES HAD TO DEFEND A THESIS THEY HAD WRITTEN IN A PUBLIC SPEECH -- RECITED IN LATIN!
GOOD NEWS AT GRADUATION: NOW HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS CAN STUDY BASIC MARINE TRAINING AT MONTHLY MEETINGS WHEN THEY ARE IN HIGH SCHOOL... AND BECOME FULL-TIME MARINES WITHIN SIX MONTHS AFTER GRADUATION. THERE IS PAY DURING SCHOOL-TIME DUTY AND THE ADDED REWARD OF KNOWING THEY'RE PREPARING FOR ENTRY INTO BOOT CAMP.
